—To recur to the Jubilee once more. On Thursday afternoon, so dense was the crowd in the building, in some portions, and so eager still the greater crowds without, that the doors were peremptorily and remorselessly closed to all—even many who had tickets, and some of them season tickets, though probably most who were so late had bought tickets second-hand, of the speculators. Then was there swearing, both loud and deep, pushing against doors, drumming on windows, &c., and for a while it looked as if there might be a row; but all was soon quieted, perhaps in part by the glorious music's influence. And of the fault found, a Boston friend thought most of it came from those who were inimical to the project from its first inception,—carping against it as a humbug in a national sense, and predicting its utter failure as viewed from a musical standpoint. Too late they realized their error, and when conviction was crowded home upon them, they had neither candour nor manliness enough to acknowledge their error, but, like whipped curs, sought to cover their discomfiture by loud yelping.

—I close with a couple of mots,—if you think them good enough for print. A reporter at the Coliseum, coming to a table where frigidus aqua was the only beverage, asked, "What is this I see?" "Icy water," was the reply.—And at the track, when the judge had rung the bell till he was tired, to call up the ever-tardy horses, he struck it two or three tolling strokes; when a wag remarked that he wished to "tole them in." P.

☞ The most remarkable game of base ball for close play on record came off in New York last week, between the Mutuals and the Cincinnati "Red Stockings," the latter winning by a score of four to two. The Mutuals made nothing in seven innings and one each in the eighth and ninth, when the betting became even. Cincinnati made runs in the first and second and two runs in the ninth. About four thousand persons were present.

☞ The influx of the Chinese race into this country is regarded by many with anxiety, and their status is one of the most serious problems to be submitted to the people within a few years.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart new life and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without it in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Corks, Windgalls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All and Every Owner or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Flat bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York jel7

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is prevalent, it is used with great success and PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, jel9

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, at length has been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It combines two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and disguised in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than One thousand experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

General Debility is Nature's Appeal for Help.

Thousands of persons, without any specific ailment, are the victims of languor and lassitude.—The unthinking are apt to confound this species of inertia, with laziness; whereas it usually arises from a want of organic energy, for which the subjects of it are no more responsible than the near-sighted are for their defective vision. Such persons, although they may be free from pain, are as truly invalids, and as much in need of medical aid, as if they were tormented with the pangs of acute disease. They require a TONIC and ALTERATIVE, that will rouse and regulate their torpid organizations. In cases of this kind, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS produce an immediate and most favorable effect.

The debilitated and desponding valetudinarian, who feels as if he were but half alive; who shuns company, and has no relish either for business or pleasure, is metamorphosed, by a brief course of this most potent vegetable invigorant, into quite a different being. The change effected by the BITTERS, in his bodily and mental condition, is a surprise to himself and to his friends. He mopes no longer; the active principle of life, which seemed to have died out of him, is re-awakened, and he feels like a new man. Remembering that debility is not only an affliction itself, but an invitation to disease, no time should be lost in recruiting the broken-down system with this chalicest and most potent of all TONICS AND NERVINES.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no appetite. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-five boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At first her bad symptoms left her; she slept, and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. jel7

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty varieties have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who try it. Ample testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon himself etc.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the blush of health. But alas! the decrease of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked on by Pain, the parent's heart-rending sigh is anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Specs Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more Distressing to these Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is active, intelligent and quite distinct—neither Mind nor Grief ever visits it. "Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beatified."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented, except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own that the cure has begun. You will find your appetite improved, your stomach less uneasy, your head clearer, your spirits lighter, your nerves firmer, your body stronger. Patience, and all the distressing symptoms of your complaint will vanish. There are some rules without exceptions. This is one of them. Sold by all Druggists.

CITY COUNCIL, June 22d.—In the Board of Aldermen, at the special meeting Tuesday evening,—on the petition of Wm. F. Fernald and others, for extension of Freeman's Point Road to Cushing Street, so called, it was voted that said highway be laid out, 50 feet wide, taking the line of fence between land of Messrs. Hough, McKenney, Hammond, Fernald and Jones for the middle of the street, and $1 damages be awarded to each abuttor.

The subjects of the acceptance of So. Summer Street,—from last year; and of a drain from Washington St. to Puddle Dock,—were referred to Com. on Streets, to report.

A petition numerously signed, by all the women residing near The Creek, stated that drinking and gambling are greatly increasing in that vicinity, especially on Sundays, and asked that measures be taken to abate the same. Referred to Com. on Police, to examine and report. The City Marshal was also directed to strictly enforce the Sunday Ordinance, and that for closing Saloons, &c., at 11 o'clock at night.

Com. on Sts. reported in favor of accepting McDonough Street, on petition of Ira C. Dickson and others, when it shall be made of uniform width throughout. And the same Com. were requested to examine whether any parties have encroached on said Street.

The Com. on Sts. reported that Mr. Benson had removed his fence back from Water St. as ordered.

Complaints were made at the last meeting, that the Concord Railroad had raised their Bridge on Greenland highway, at an abrupt angle with the road—and the Com. on Streets were directed to require the Co. to restore the grade by filling up the highway.

The Board voted to widen Sagamore Road according to Mr. Hoyt's plan,—Mr. Fuller offering to give his land taken and move his fences himself, Mr F. Marden to give his land and be paid $2 per rod for moving his wall, and the Wardell estate to be paid $2 per rod for wall, $25 for well taken, and $300 per acre for land.

Petition of John Hodgdon 2d for sidewalk on Deer Street was granted. The Elm St. concrete walk was laid over.

Next meeting Thursday Evening, July 1st.

☞ We notice that our old friend, the veteran Insurance Agent, Mr. John S. Harvey, has returned from a visit to Hartford and New York, having been absent a couple of weeks, to visit the Companies he represents; and is well satisfied that they are all good, reliable and safe, but have not made any money from their business in this State of late years; for the Insurance Commissioner's Report for 1867 shows that the thirty-one Fire Ins. Companies then represented, collected premiums that year in New Hampshire amounting in gross to $223,404.69; from which should be deducted Agents' Commissions, Government stamps, postages, advertising &c., $67,021.20; showing for the year net premiums $156,383.49; during which time the losses paid were $213,868.49, showing a net loss to the Companies of $57,485.00. The result was not much better in 1868. This showing hardly warrants additional burden in the form of State taxes.

☞ On account of the rain of Tuesday, the excursion to the Shoals in Steamer Appledore was postponed to Friday evening. The disappointed ones, being determined to have some fun out of the affair, hopped it out at Irving Hall, Tuesday evening, and have their other good time in anticipation.

☞ A number of blacksmiths were discharged from the Navy Yard on Tuesday, and we hear that a discharge of workmen will take place speedily in the Constructor's Department. There are too many rebel sympathizers remaining on the Yard, whose places should be filled by loyal men.

☞ Mr. Wendell announces a large sale of Furniture, Horses and Carriages, &c., at House No. 58 State St., this morning.

☞ The third Concert by the Band will be given on Haymarket Square this (Wednesday) evening, at 8 o'clock.

☞ Mr. Thomas H. Philbrick of Rye Beach, is to name his enlarged Boarding House the "Seaside House," after all and not Franklin. He has now good accommodations for 60 or more people, and claims that his home is a little nearer the water than any other in the vicinity. It is said the first Rye Beach boarders were accommodated here, more than thirty years ago.

New Hampshire Legislature.

In the House, on Monday, Mr. Hackett, from the Committee on National Affairs, reported, on sundry petitions for Woman's Suffrage, a resolution referring the subject to the select committee appointed to consider the expediency of calling a convention for a Constitutional Convention. Passed.

Mr. Robinson, of Portsmouth, from the Reform School Committee, reported that it is inexpedient, at the present time, to legislate in regard to making that institution self-sustaining. Agreed to.

The Senate gave notice that they had passed the House bill for the relief of the town of Newcastle.

In the House on Tuesday, Mr. Bedel of Bath introduced a bill abolishing the office of Adjutant General of the State.

On Tuesday, bills were introduced by Mr. Ballou of Weare, prohibiting those who do not pay their taxes from voting, and by Mr. Ray, relating to parades and encampments of the active militia, suspending the law after July 1st, 1869; and by Mr. Jones, to establish a State Board of Agriculture.

NORTH HAMPTON, June 22.

In your paper of Friday, I notice a mistake in relation to the time occupied in the raising of the Congregational church in North Hampton. The facts are these, we had engaged the services of Mr. (——) of Salem, Mass., a man understood to be skilled in the business of raising buildings, to do the job for us, expecting it to occupy a week or more of time, at a cost of not less than fifty dollars per day; but he failing twice to meet his appointment, our Building Committee became impatient, whereupon their chairman, Mr. J. W. F. Hobbs, immediately engaged your energetic and plucky townsman, Mr. Moses Yeaton, who has charge of the carpenter work, to boss the raising also,—and the enterprise has gone forward like clock-work ever since, and with rapidity that surprised us all.

Under his supervision the whole job of preparation and raising was completed in three days, and mainly by such assistance as could be procured in the Parish alone. Although a busy season and help very scarce, our people left their hoeing, and our minister his study, and came forward in sufficient numbers to man every screw, and adjust every block, thereby saving no small amount in money cost. Not to speak boastfully, we have concluded that "some things can be done as well as others," and that Portsmouth is far enough to go for good help. Our furnaces, stairs, and plastering are also in charge of Portsmouth men. We recommend those who have buildings to raise, or chapels to build, to call on Mr. Moses Yeaton of your city, who will show them how to do it, and do it quick.

NORTH HAMPTON.

Our correspondent will see that we had corrected the error, before we received his note. The error was one of those so easily made, where the MS. said two, (not being very plainly written,) it was a very natural thing for a compositor to make it read ten.

☞ The Norwich Daily Advertiser is informed that Messrs. Job Jenness & Son, have taken a ten years' lease of a fine estate on Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington City, D. C., and propose to open a first class hotel to accommodate 250 guests, November next.—To all the large class of visitors, who have been at their Ocean House at Rye Beach, nothing need be said as to the manner in which the Messrs. Jenness will keep the House at Washington.

☞ The trots at Lawrence are postponed until Friday and Saturday on account of the rain. The races at the Narragansett Park were postponed from Tuesday to Wednesday, for the same reason.

NAVAL.—Paymaster C. J. Emery has been ordered to settle his accounts as naval storekeeper at Hong Kong, turning the post over to Paymaster C. H. Eldridge.

QUICK TIME.—Our New York exchanges of Monday arrived here by the 8 o'clock mail, the same evening.

MARRIAGES.

CATS, DOGS, AND ROBINS.

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

I have been sitting on the veranda listening to my robins. I call them my robins, because I have taken them under my special care. I will not allow a gun to be fired on the premises. No cat is to be permitted to hunt them, although I recognize the "natural rights" of cats, among which is the right to vary a diet of mice and rats with an occasional bird or chicken. But I prefer to compound for the birds by giving my cats an extra allowance of other food.

You will perceive the need of an understanding between me and my cats, when I tell you that I have five, with a constant tendency to have more. First is the matron, Bessy by name, a famous mouser, black, with a white breast and belly, and the mother of two half Maltese boys, and one gray, with white breast; all virile and, like their productive mother, good ratters. To these add another, which I brought up last year from Brooklyn as a kitten, and which was ignorantly named the "city lady." But calling one a lady does not make one so. Facts compelled a change of titles, and now he is known as "the city cat." A splended fellow he is; the pride of my heart! A very light gray, with darker stripes, of a spare habit, large, flat-sided, with a dash of wildness and fierceness which give spirit to his demeanor. A very hunter he is, fearless of dogs and despotic among cats, whom he knocks over as if he were an Oriental king.

That all my cats are honest is shown, among other ways, by the fact that though there are some two hundred little chickens all around the barn, on a daily count of each hen and her brood, none are missing except such as were known to have had a right to die, a sort of ticket of leave. Nor have I ever seen them hunting birds. It is true that I have seen them watching intently near shrubberies where birds were hopping about. But is it a sign that one steals, that he seen looking wistfully in in at a shop window? Is a boy going to steal the bananas because he looks at them? I do not doubt that cats have savory thoughts while watching these birds, but I have never seen them touch one, nor does there seem to be any lack of birds, as there would be if they were hunted by five cats.

The education of cats, and the establishment of proper discipline, is no task. But all this belongs to Mr. Turner, who is one of those men that control the whole animal kingdom by kindness, and under whose hand every beast becomes a cosset and pet. But in every well regulated family there must be a rod somewhere, either expressed or elegantly understood, as the Latin grammar used to say. Although his discipline is in general very mild, and almost indulgent, yet there are certain things that will bring down on cat or dog the salutary switch.

We have just passed through one of these seasons of discipline. Be it known, that I have three black-and-tan terriers—pure, not a white hair about them. One is a dog, the others are not; but they are all a like shape, nimble, nervous, and plucky. Only consider what amiable times were likely to ensue between three terriers and five cats! Great is the Rod! Already the General Assembly of Cats and the General Assembly of Dogs have agreed to make a common cause. I do not think that either side quite believes in the other. I have noticed a sudden rising of the back and spitting, when the dogs came suddenly on the cats from around the corner. I have seen a cat bolt from the shrubbery with three little terriers after her. Yet these are but the remains of old hostilities, when such conduct was esteemed a duty. On the whole they get on together remarkably well, considering how recently the union has been agreed upon, and what is the inherent nature of cats and dogs.

If one is fond of early rising, he may see Mr. Turner going up the hill after a salad with four or five cats trotting at his heels, purring and rubbing themselves against his legs whenever he stops a moment. At a later period three little black tails may be seen whirling about the grass, each looking like a letter S cut in two. But never have I seen both cats and dogs in procession together after the master. Only when they come up to feed can they be made mutually respectful.

How humanizing is food! What a moral power has the table! Dinner cures enmities, cools jealousies, reconciles conflicts, allays prejudices, and even overmasters conscience! Here are my cats and dogs, late implacable enemies, now, unless greatly tempted, moderate friends. Taken alone, neither of them believes much in the other. Cats regards the dogs as rash and dangerous. Dogs look upon cats as forever guilty of not being dogs! Yet, upon the flesh-pots, call these respective and mutual heretics together, and for the sake of a bit of meat they consent, in softened growl, to call each other brother and sister!

But what has all this to do with robins? I have been watching them from my veranda, and they have been watching me. What opinion they have formed of me I cannot tell. But I regard them with admiraton increasing every year.

Sweet as is the note of his cousin the woodthrush, I must pronounce the common robin not only his superior, but on the whole, the finest of all our northern singers. I cannot imagine how such praises, out of proportion and extravagant, have been heaped on the wood-thrush. The bird by quite its note is fine; but it lacks vigor, continuity and variety. It is refined, sad and even sorrowful. I should say that the wood-robin had met a great sorrow in early life, and had never got over it. But the common robin is the very emblem of joyous and robust bird-manhood. It seeks no seclusion. It sings out of no leafy cell.

At morning and at night from some near open tree, it pours out a continuous song full of tenderness, yet sprightly, ringing and jubilant. The range of note is very considerable. It is not a soft breathing song, like the sparrow's, (whose quality is second to no other bird's.) The robin gushes.

He never tires. He sings by the half-hour and fills all the region around with melody; and when two or three in emulous strife are singing near together the whole air seems full and overflowing.

He shall have strawberries and cherries. The cedar bird is a thief, in spite of his fine apparel and the jaunty tuft on his head. He does me no good, eats none of my insects, sings me no song, pays me no visit, until peas and strawberries come; but then, ah how familiar? He silently hovers in my pea brush, slits open the tender pods and swallows the contents. Away the painted glutton goes to my cherry-trees and gorges the sweetest and ripest of the fruit. Then to my strawberry-bed goes he, and like a very prodigal he wastes more than he eats: returns no thanks, flies away, and no more is heard of him till next year.

Not so that gentleman, the robin. He comes early, builds close by you, sings you morning and night his best chorals, digs grubs in your garden, clears worms from your trees, and only asks a mouthful of that fruit in return which he has helped to preserve for you. Let any cat make his will before he concludes to touch my robins.—N. Y. Ledger.

APPLES FOR MILCH COWS.—One of our exchanges states, on the authority of some unknown person, that his cows gave a large quantity of milk and cream and produced butter nearly equal to that from good fresh pasture, when fed on apples in winter. The apples were cut with a root-slicer, and exposed a few hours to the air. He also fed them to his other animals with very satisfactory results—believing them nearly or quite equal to potatoes. If we mistake not, experiments made many years ago prove that apples were as much better than potatoes for feeding hogs as seven is to five. These experiments and statements are however too loosely made, and make no distinction between rich apples, which possess the highest flavor, and poor, thin, watery ones. Some persons misjudge the value of apples, from their cattle breaking into an orchard and injuring themselves by overeating—which is very different from a constant regular supply, begun by moderate quantities and gradually increased.—Country Gentleman.

BUY THE BEST!

THE RELIANCE Clothes Wringer. No Clothes Wringer can be durable with the double friction of Cogs at Both Ends, which can play out of gear and not truck together when most needed. The Reliance has not these fatal objections and is warranted Durable, but has a spiral gear which prevents the rolls from being disconnected. Try this before purchasing any other, and decide for yourself which is the best.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.
The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,
PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1866.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; at very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.
But a short time before we were inquired of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very class of people to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.
The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but feel grateful for the system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the number now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.
We have always found your agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.
Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:
Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.
We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and throughnearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

SCIENCE AND THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—We understand that our State Geologist has been obliged hitherto to send out of the State all his mineral specimens requiring chemical analysis. This is not for the want of a suitable chemist, since Prof. Dimond of Hanover has been appointed to take charge of this important department of the survey; but because the Agricultural College has no Laboratory where this work may be performed.

We also understand that Professors Hitchcock and Dimond are preparing to issue a circular asking for samples of peat for both geological and chemical examination. It is a fact that if a small per cent. of ashes, plaster and similar materials easily obtained be added to peat the latter substance will be converted into a fertilizer equally valuable with stable manure. Peat varies so much in composition that no general rule can be laid down for universal application. It is proposed by these gentlemen to analyze each of these samples, and report exactly how many pounds of those other materials must be added to make the peat valuable as a fertilizer.

Suppose thirty farmers should respond to this circular, and that thirty samples of peat should be examined and reported upon before next spring; and suppose further that the information given would be worth $50 to each peat proprietor, in improved crops. The result would be that a sum of fifteen thousand dollars would be added to the next years' income, or just the amount asked by the Trustees of the Agricultural College for the purpose of providing the community with a place where these scientific experiment may be made for the public benefit.

Inasmuch as the Legislature contains a large proportion of farmers, it is to be presumed that they understand their own interest too well to allow a measure intended for their benefit, like the petition introduced by the Trustees of the Agricultural College, to fail of passage, through their indifference.

WORDS FOR BOYS TO REMEMBER.—Liberty is the right to do whatever you wish, without interfering with the rights of others.

Save your money and you will find it one of the most useful friends.

Never give trouble to your father or mother.

Take care of your pennies and they will grow to be dollars.

Intemperance is the cause of nearly all the trouble in this world; beware of strong drink.

Never be cruel to a dumb animal; remember that it has no power to tell how much it suffers.

—A Spanish engineer, J. Ruiz Leon, has patented in this country what is called a Kinastheue, or, as the word implies, an invention for using the power of sea waves for mill and manufacturing purposes. This arrangement has been tried very successfully in Cuba. By means of a sloping sea-wall, on which the tides and wind-waves may roll up, pierced with numerous passage ways, allowing the water to flow through, with vales to prevent its return, he accumulates his power. In the reservoir thus filled, the water will rise to the height of the higher waves of full tide, to say nothing of the action of wind and waves in time of storm. Then this water can be allowed to flow back and mingle with the sea at the ordinary level, or still better, down to the time of low tide.

—Old farmer Smith was somewhat lacking in literary culture, but did not know it; and his attempts at long words was sometimes quite amusing. Having several daughters of a marriageable age, he sold his farm and moved into the village to live with the "aristocracy." An acquaintance meeting him a short time after, cried out: "Hello, Smith! sold your farm?" "Yes," was the reply, "I kinder got tired of farming, so moved into the village to live with the 'Aristotles!'"

—M. C. was in the habit of asking his children to repeat the text, on their return from church, to prove that they gave attention. One Sabbath the text was, "Why stand ye here all the day idle? Go into my vineyard and work, and whatever is right I will pay thee." Charlie came home, and was asked to repeat the text. He hesitated a moment, and then, as if it just came to him after much thought, he said: "What are you standing 'round here doing nothin' for? Go into my barn-yard and go to work, and I'll make it all right with you."

—A certain paterfamilias residing near Winsted, Conn., and who is in the habit of exacting of his household a strict fulfilment of all devotional duties, recently heard a terrible racket among the youngsters in their dormitory. Going to the staircase, he sternly demanded to know what was the matter up there. The following was the explicit reply; "Harry won't let me say my prayers, d——him!"

—A Texas exchange says The Southern Enterprise comes wrapped in $30 coupons attached to $1000 Confederate bonds, due in 1867.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use. Yet I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [je15 6w] Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir, a Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every paroxysm of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $3 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Your Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Disease, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particular. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success.
DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Saturday morning Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Brick Church, and in twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fresh Fruit and Confectionery store on Main Street, near the public square.

Sworn and subscribed before me the 5th of May, 1869. Wilkesbarre, Penn.
E. B. HARVY, Justice of the Peace.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all quackery, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1869.

The News.

The Massachusetts Legislature adjourned on Wednesday, after the longest session on record—169 days.

Dorchester and Boston have voted in favor of annexation. In Boston, 8420 votes were cast in favor of it, and 565 against. In Dorchester, 998 voted yea, and 726 nay. Dorchester is the 16th Ward of Boston.

5000 emigrants left Liverpool last week, for America.

The Supreme Court of Georgia has declared that marriages between whites and blacks are illegal, and that all such unions are annulled.

The Canadian Parliament was prorogued on Tuesday.

The five members of the Cuban Junta arrested in New York on Monday have been admitted to bail.

The Cincinnatis won a game of base ball on Tuesday with the Philadelphia Keystones, but the scores were so large that the figures are not worth mentioning.

Republican demonstrations are frequent in Spain, and create some uneasiness; the clergy, it is said, have refused to a body to take the oath in support of the new constitution.

Gov. Geary of Pennsylvania has been renominated by the Republicans of that State.

☞ Politically speaking, Tennessee is agitated just now. Two Republicans (Senter supported by the whites, and Stokes by the blacks) are running for Governor. At Nashville, the new Stokes organ published a lively political article on Tuesday. Attorney Gen. Tuthell called on Mr. Gresham, the editor, and would like to know if he was responsible for the objectionable article. "To be certainly," says G. Mr. T. remonstrated with a revolver, but Mr. G. wouldn't be shot, and directed the ball to the ceiling by an upward blow of the hand. He then walloped the unlucky T., kicked him down stairs and wrote a leader, which he published in the evening edition of the paper, charging T. with an attempt to assassinate him.—We presume Tuthell has received satisfaction!

☞ The complimentary benefit concert to P. S. Gilmore, the projector of the Peace Jubilee, is assigned for Tuesday afternoon, June 29, at 3 o'clock, at the Coliseum in Boston. The programme is nearly the same as that of the 17th inst., and includes the "Anvil Chorus" and "Star Spangled Banner" with cannon accompaniment. The tickets admitting to seats are $3 and $5 each, as before.

☞ A singular and mournful instance of fatality in a family has recently occurred in Cincinnati: General J. I. Dobmeyer, for some time a prominent Democrat, and his entire family, died within a very few weeks. The wife died first, then all of the children, and last the husband and father. The death of the children was caused by scarlet fever.

☞ A former soldier friend in Boston, writing a private letter, refers to the Jubilee, and says, "the sight of 13,000 cavalry in rapid motion, with drawn sabres and a determined foe in front, is something to see; but 50,000 men, women and children, dressed in their best, sitting still, is quite as interesting,—quite as inspiring a sight."

The audiences gathered at the Boston Coliseum, 50,000 or so, were doubtless the largest ever seen beneath one roof. The old Roman Coliseum, of which only the ruins now exist, accommodated 300,000 people, but it was only a hollow amphitheatre of stone seats, without cover.

☞ James Watson Webb informs the Secretary of State that he had the satisfaction of seeing the Brazilian government "back down," after he had received his passports and embarked for home. J. W. W. was in haste to be angry, being of choleric temper.

☞ No wonder President Grant thought the cannon were the best part of the music at the Coliseum, for Gen. Sherman says he has no music in his soul, and can't tell the difference between Old Zip Coon and Yankee Doodle.

☞ Judge Woodward, Democratic member of Congress from Pennsylvania, thinks England would pay all the damages of the Alabama and give us the Canadas to boot, rather than have a year's war with us.

—California produced last year nearly fifteen million pounds of wool, which was larger by almost two million pounds than the production of any other State.

New Hampshire Items.

On a recent fishing expedition made by Henry Fellows and Oliver Noyes of Henniker to Long Pond in that place, an eel of ponderous proportions was hooked by the former, and secured with the aid of the latter. It weighed four pounds and a half, but was only three feet long.

Since January 1 about forty hens, belonging to Samuel B. Hall of Millville, Concord, have laid three hundred dozen eggs. The hens are mostly Bolton Grays, which breed Mr. Hall thinks are about as good layers as can be found. Judging from the egg crop since January, we should say they were.

At Fisherville, on Saturday, Mr. John Elkins, aged 92 years, fell down a flight of cellar stairs head foremost, and injured himself, so badly that he is not expected to recover.

Mrs. Hannah F. Perry of Henniker, aged 67 years, has spun 200 skeins of yarn and woven 91 yards of cloth by a hand-loom, since the first of January, in addition to her other household work.

The in-coming class of Freshmen at Dartmouth promises to be larger than any before matriculated. Twenty-five have already entered from Kimball Union Academy at Meriden.

F. F. Hodgman of Littleton had his cheek bone fractured by a base ball, on the 12th inst.

There were three sisters at the recent Londonderry celebration, each over eighty years old.

Mr. Azro B. Hurlburt, clerk of Dennison's Hotel, Littleton, recently walked from the Mount Washington depot to the Tip Top House in an hour and a quarter, the distance being about three miles and a half, over one of the most difficult routes in the world. The cars on the railway are usually nearly two hours in making the ascent.

Mrs. John Young, of Salem, fell down a flight of stairs on the 10th inst., and injured her head so severely that she lingered in an unconscious state until the 18th inst., when death ensued. She was the only sister of Mayor Otterson, of Nashua, and 60 years of age.

New Hampshire Legislature.

On Tuesday afternoon, in the House of Representatives there was a debate upon a bill to practically abolish town poor farms and have all paupers, excepting those who have gained a settlement within the past fifteen years, transferred to the county poor houses. The bill was ably discussed upon both sides. After a dozen speeches the bill was lost on the second reading, but perhaps the vote will be reconsidered.

Additional petitions for a State Normal school were presented.

The House has passed a bill from the Finance Committee assessing $600,000 for the State tax of the coming year.

The bills and petitions in favor of the equalization of soldiers' bounties have been indefinitely postponed.

The House has passed a bill appropriating $2000 for the support of the indigent blind, and $1000 for indigent idiots.

Mr. Batchelder of Hampton Falls presented a petition from E. J. Tilton for a law to protect game from destruction and land owners from the depredations of sportsmen, especially along the Massachusetts line. Referred to Committee on Agriculture.

A bill authorizing the building of a gun house and armory at Reed's Ferry was ordered to a third reading.

The matter of taxing bees was indefinitely postponed.

The subject of creating two new counties (Amoskeag and Monadnock,) was postponed to the next Legislature, and the legal voters in Rockingham, Hillsborough and Carroll counties are to vote for or against these measures at the next (March) election.

Mr. Hackett introduced a bill relative to drunkenness.

The barn of Dr. F. J. Moore, of Laconia, was burned a few nights ago. The insurance was only $200.

Hon. George C. Peavey, senator from the fifth district, long a sufferer from an affection of the eyes, is aided by his wife, who sits by him in the Senate chamber and acts as his amanuensis.

On Wednesday, the House debated the bill abolishing the present militia laws. Mr. Ray moved a substitute, suspending the militia laws for five years. On motion of Mr. Kent, the House went into Committee of the Whole, with Mr. Hackett in the Chair. Adj. Gen. Head appeared and made a statement showing the necessity of the continuation of the office of Adjutant General, and stated that it had saved the State $50,000.

SPONGE GINGERBREAD.—One cup of molasses, one cup of boiling water, one table-spoonful of butter, three even cups of flour, one tea-spoonful of saleratus, ginger and spices according to taste. LIZZIE.

The Blacksmith's Pretty Daughter.

Why do the horses come always at noon
To be shod at the blacksmith's shop?
At noon time, when the sun is still,
When the blacksmith is forced against his will
To rest, and his work to stop?

Just at noon, from his house on the hill,
A girl with a pail comes thence;
Smiles come on her lips, on her cheeks a glow,
As she sees the horses tied in a row,
Along by the blacksmith's fence.

Oh, but the blacksmith's daughter is fair!
And the horses all look at each other,
As much as to say, "Now isn't she sweet?
We know why our masters say that our feet
Are giving them so much bother."

The bell rings one and the blacksmith cries,
"Now, then, for work right away!"
But most of them say that it's growing late,
And they really think they'd better wait,
And come on some other day.

Oh, blacksmith's daughter, your mother, too,
Was fair when your father sought her.
You're going the way that she has trod,
You'll be a wife o'er those horses are shod—
Oh! blacksmith's pretty daughter.

—A Virginian, desiring to have certain doubts cleared up as to the unity of the race, applied to his friend, Colonel S——, "Tell me," said he, "something of this question which Professor T——is discussing." "I know but little," was the reply, "of the unity of the races, but I can tell you a good deal of their duplicity." This was not the conundrum for which solution was desired.

—A Mrs. Park celebrated her 105th birthday on Thursday, in Cleveland, Ohio. She has raised seventeen children. The last was born when she was 65 years old. She now enjoys good health, attends church regularly, is active, has good teeth and improved sight, and her hair is turning black.

— Rev. Dr. Bushnell calls the demand for female suffrage "an attempt to make trumpets out of flutes and sunflowers out of violets."

—Grasshoppers are at their old tricks in Utah, roosting on the railroad tracks and stopping trains.

—Mr. Beecher returned $21,000 income this year.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Caks, Spavins, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

We beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskillful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most celebrated physicians. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates. je19

A SURE REMEDY.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels. Sold by druggists generally.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in a pint bottle, and sells it at 50 cents, or a quart bottle for $1.00. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and Alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feeble sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the vitiated stomach, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering has been spared the sex, if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

Holloway's Pills.—Indigestion is at the bottom of a large proportion of human ailments, and it is complicated, more or less, with all of them. Happily, there is a positive specific for it in HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Whether its presence is manifested by loss of appetite, debility, flatulence, irregularity of the bowels, sickness at the stomach, oppression after eating, headache, uneasy sleep, vertigo, or by all these combined, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the one thing needful—the remedy that never fails. Sold by all Druggists.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chollo followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the cry of joy to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty millions have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value. Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid face, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is shocking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much confined to give vent to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which the vitality of the vital flowing power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase depending on the growth of what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Loss of Memory, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; to Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which too frequently follows inevitably remediless—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred in two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts so the gall can be able to flow freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel, which is deadly poison (and yet dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much. They give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they destroy the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. These move the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, Cankered, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and if the disease, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only thing left is the liver. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, digest the food and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, and physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the adoption of medicine, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday. Patients at a distance must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 33 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 39 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ya4

AMERICAN

BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING,

—AND—

SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (No other Sewing MACHINE.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against albogus advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

☞ The International Telegraph Company has been doing a large business in this city during the past year, and C. E. Shedd & Co.'s store on Congress Street, where the headquarters of the Company are, in this city, has been lately ornamented by new fittings for the convenience of the Operator and the public. The fine specimen of carving is the handy work of Mr. John A. Haraden, and would be creditable to any mechanic, in or out of Portsmouth. By the new arrangement the battery is located in the window, which allows Mr. A. W. Bancroft, the gentlemanly Operator, to see things in their proper light without incurring the risk of breaking his neck. Besides, it allows election crowds to gaze on his manly features for the first symptoms of the reception of scattering returns, while waiting outside.

MASONIC.—St. John's Lodge, No. 1, of this city, S. S. Fletcher, W. M., accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, go to Newburyport, this (Thursday) morning in the 8:30 train, to take part in the celebration of St. John's Day, there. They will return this evening at 7 o'clock.

We understand that Bethany Commandery, Knights Templar of Lawrence, Mass., who are to take part in the Newburyport celebration, are expected to arrive here at 7 o'clock, this evening. They will be the guests of De Witt Clinton Commandery, and will remain until Friday afternoon, when they are to leave for home via Newmarket Junction, in the 4:40 train.

DIVIDENDS.—The Concord & Portsmouth semi annual dividend will be paid on Monday, June 28th, at the office of William H. Hackett, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., only, after that, at office of Treasurer of Concord R. R. in Manchester. Stockholders, in Eastern R. R. in New Hampshire residing in this vicinity, will be paid at the First National Bank, on and after July 6th.

☞ Judge Odell fined Mary Carroll $5 and costs—in all $8.76, on Wednesday, in the Police Court. Mary went up in default of the cash she had spent for rum, and will carol in Superintendent Scott's mansion 'till she works out her fine. Poor Mary! the rum seller adds the little cash she earns to his hoarded gains, and in the hereafter will he get his reward?

THE BAND gave their Third Concert, Wednesday evening, on Middle Street, at the head of Richards Avenue. It was intended to have the Concert on Haymarket Square, but owing to the illness of a lady residing in that vicinity it was deemed best to go farther off.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ Mr. Mumler the celebrated Spirit Photographer, will lecture here on his favorite subject, next Tuesday evening, —as see advertisement. He has been pretty well advertised by his trial in New York.

☞ That moonlight Excursion, tomorrow evening, on Steamer Appledore, should be remembered by all lovers of a good time. All who go will get their money's worth.

☞ The Hair Dressers are delighted with the new arrangement, by which they are off duty, after 6 o'clock, P. M., Tuesdays; and its just as well for customers.

☞ E. A. Batchelder, at his store in Congress Block, has a new Circulating Library to which he is constantly adding the freshest works of popular authors.

NOT a proper place to deposit peanut shells—on the steps of the North Church.

☞ The Rockingham County Representatives in the Legislature, made a visit to the new County Farm at Brentwood, on Wednesday—being furnished with Railroad transportation from Concord by the Railroad corporation—and conveyed from the Epping depot to the Farm, by Supt. Philbrick.

☞ Over 2,500,000 emigrants have arrived in this country since 1855—13 years.

HOW THE WOMEN CAN HEAD OFF THE RUM SELLERS.—In Kohomo, Ind., for the last six or eight weeks, a religious revival has been in progress. It began in the M. E. Church, but was participated in by all the Evangelical denominations. It took in all classes, even lawyers, to whom it was said of old: "Woe unto you," etc. Last Sabbath evening one of the legal converts occupied a pulpit, and next Sunday evening another is to officiate in the same capacity.

Not the least important feature of the work was the raid made by the ladies on the whiskey and beer sellers. Their modus operandi was to congregate in the bar-rooms of the beverage vender and haze the tipplers and loafers out with prayers. The saloon keepers finally refused to admit them into their dens, but that did not put a stop to the missionary work. The indomitable ladies would hold their meetings on the pavement outside the saloons and pray without ceasing.

Some of the beer men were at last worried out by this means, and induced to quit the business, but quite a number are still holding out against the efforts of the fair reformers. The ladies now propose to take their knitting and establish their headquarters in front of these saloons. With their presence they hope to drive away customers. Aside from this practical temperance movement there are temperance meetings held on the streets every Sunday afternoon. These are well attended and seemingly effective of good.

HOW THE CONSULS DISAGREE.—Mr. Consul Donahoe, representing the British government at New Orleans, writes to the Foreign Office in his last annual trade report that there are few planters in the southern States who would now wish to return to the old system of working their plantations by slave labor.

"There are some," he adds, "who complain more or less of the unreliability of the negro in keeping up his contract; but there is a marked improvement from year to year in this particular, and ultimately I have little doubt that a very efficient negro laboring population will exist through the southern States. Many people expect to see a large white laboring population through the southern States, but I do not believe that, with the exception of the State of Texas, it will be possible to attract a white laboring population to either Louisiana or Mississippi as long as the far more salubrious climate of the western States invites the emigrant from abroad."

The British consul at Savannah (Mr. Bennett,) on the other hand, tells his government nothing can be expected from the freed negro. "For the most part useless to the community in which they live, as well as to themselves, their race in all probability will gradually become extinct."

THE WAY TO WIN IS TO WORK.—Luck is nothing, and never perches on banners that are not lifted aloft by your steady workers. Winning people are invariably industrious. If you want to make way straight to poverty, rags, and nudity, just hang round expecting you are to get a lively win at some good luck. About the time you get it rivers will be running up hill, young women will have given up flirting and a love of dress, and the North pole will be used for fishing smelts out of the Polar sea.

—Messrs. Stokes and Senter, the rival candidates for Governor of Tennessee, are stumping in concert. In a recent speech, the former said that he would give the latter ten dollars if he would state whether or not he stood on the Chicago republican platform. Mr. Senter answered that he did, and put the ten dollars in his pocket. Mr. Stokes does not think his money well invested.

—A Maine paper relates that a country member of the Legislature, seeing a quantity of boxes in the rotunda of the State House at Augusta to be used in sending away documents, asked an old stager what they were. "Shoe boxes, I presume." "What," said the member from Cranberry Center, "we don't draw shoes, do we?"

—General Rosecrans will probably be the democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

—The apple yield of Pennsylvania is expected to be the largest for many years.

CASPER ATHWOLD'S STORY.

I am Casper Athwold. I was born in the old Athwold mansion, on the Thames, where I live to day. Shall I tell you how many years ago? I think not. A man may keep that for his own secret, and be young or old, as Providence gives him the heart. Some are young all their lives.

They say he made me beautiful; but one day a gipsy nurse dropped me from her arms down the whole length of the steep oak stair-case. Shall I say any more? I had rather not; I think there is no need.

Yet I was a happy child; a hurt child always is its mother's darling—dearer than fairer children—and I was her only one—my mother's.

As I grew up, I built such castles in the air as other youths built; oftener when my dear parents were gone from me to Heaven, and the world was very lonely. Then, in my castle, I began to see Kate Norman's figure.

Kate Norman's dark-eyed, crimson cheeked face smiled on me from visionary firesides there, and I heard her voice singing children's lullabies in the far-off future; the lullabies of my children. We met often. She was always kind and friendly. I had fancied something more.

One day, at the time I thought much of her, I went in the heat of the afternoon to a shady spot by the river-side—my own ground—though it was so pleasant for the neighbors' children that I never had had the heart to fence it in. I lay upon the grass, reading a rare old book, a poet's dream, with love for its text—a book to read in such a place—when, behind the glossy leaves of some shrubs, I heard the sparrow-like twitter of young girls' voices, chatting with each other.

"She'll have him," said one.

"She fancy such a bridegroom!" said the other. "All his money couldn't buy me!"

"He doesn't want you, but Kate Norman," said the first.

"As if I envied her! One must be at one's last prayer, to want such an admirer! No one could like Casper Athwold!"

"Of course not," said the first. But then he's rich, and Kate poor enough."

"You are right; no woman could love him; but money will marry anybody. It will turn out as I say. Hush!"

"What?" cried the other.

"I heard steps, I'm sure," said the first; "fancy his coming upon us! These are his grounds, you know. Come—come away."

There was a rustle—a sound of feet on the grass. The chirping voices died away in the distance. I stood up and looked over the bushes where they had been. I saw a couple of orange rinds and a paper sticky with sugar candy. They were boarding-school girls from the establishment on the hill; the confectioner's chief patrons—silly, vapid creatures enough, but girls still; and is this the way girls talk of me?

I stopped all my other thoughts, to think that over. I was not vain or blind; but we are to ourselves what we know ourselves to be—that which goes on into eternity, not the claymold at which people look from afar off, and to which they bid adieu, as it lies in the coffin—and I, to myself, was a man with more tenderness and passion, more power and will to love, than most men; and I was never to be loved!

Just for ten minutes I hated the world; hated the jolly, broad-shouldered farmer, tramping along, with his clear, shrill whistle; hated the jolly boatman on the river; hated the yellow-haired child in the bottom of the boat, at his feet; hated all who lived and breathed, and walked tall and straight under the sky. Then my heart softened, and I wept. I had loved Kate Norman and I loved her still. The night before, never thinking of myself at all, I had thought of her as some time to be mine. The girl's chatter had awakened me to the truth.

Just as I lived now, alone in the old homestead among the maples, so I must live, unless I bought my wife with gold—a wife who could not love me.

That ended my brief wooing time. I went no more to the cottage in the lane. I met Kate no more, "by chance," in quiet places. I did no more of those foolish things that lovers have done since lovers were; but I loved on all the same.

I shut myself up in the old house, among my books, and shunned the sight of fair faces, and the sound of sweet voices. It was the best thing that a man, whom no one could love, could do.

So the months wore away. Sometimes I had to meet her, but I always looked another way; and our pleasant greetings had come to an end. I had seen a flush of annoyance on her face, but took no heed of it. I had never been discourteous—but I had loved her just as I had loved her all along. Pride kept me from showing it. But, when I was dead—when I could no longer blush for shame of such a hopeless love, then I should not care to have the dreams I once cherished hidden any longer. Then when she would not laugh at me—for all are tender of the dead—I should like her to know exactly how I felt toward her. So, one day, I went to the good old lawyer who had charge of our estate for forty years, and bade him draw me up a will, in which I left all the wealth I possessed to Kate Norman, with a letter which only her hands were to unseal, only her eyes to read, after I was gone to my churchyard home.

"KATE NORMAN; You never cared for me—you could not—once I heard a woman say no woman could; but I love you better than my life. Had I cherished one faint ray of hope, I would have striven to win your heart as a man never strove before, but I learned, in time, what folly mine was; and, in pity for myself, I kept aloof from you. Had I been as other men are, you should have possessed all that I possess with me. As it is, it gives me some pleasure to think that you will dwell under this roof, and tread these garden walks, when I am gone; and, surely if spirits ever revisit this world, mine will return, at times, to look upon you, Kate Norman, in this home where my sad life has passed.

Adieu. When you read this, the hand that writes these words will have mouldered into dust— and you will pity not deride, the love of

CASPER ATWOLD.

This note lay sealed and directed, "To be given to Kate Norman after my death;" and the will was also signed and sealed, and I walked home in the still twilight. The burden of my life was heavy upon me that night; the heavier, as I caught a glimpse of Kate Norman at the window of her pretty cottage home, and heard a thrill of the song she was singing as she rocked her sister's youngest child upon her knee.

At my door the elm-shadows lay thick; and in them stood a bent, crooked figure, clothed in rags; that of a beggar, who began his dolorous whine as I came up.

"A little help, yer honor, just a little; a few old clothes, yer honor; these are dropping off me. I am not a strong man, yer honor; I can't work like another. Yer honor isn't that strong yerself, ye'll be knowin what that is. A wakely ould craytther, that would be thankful for anything—a penny or an ould coat, or a sup or a bite, yer honor."

I looked at him, feeling no pity, only anger. I tossed him a coin.

"Go," I said, "don't loiter here.—That will buy food for you."

The man looked at me curiously, as though he had expected more pity from me. The coin had fallen at his feet. He stooped and picked it up.

"Yes, it'll buy a bite," he said; "Good luck to ye. It's not always that I ate before I slape. Thank God, there's a long slape comin' some time."

I turned and looked at the beggar. He echoed my own thoughts. He was miserable.

"Come in," I said more kindly. "I'll give you some clothes; you need them sadly."

"It's nothing but needing with me, your honor," said the beggar. "The likes of me can't work."

"You have had an accident?" I said.

"Long ago," said the beggar. "My father threw me out of a window for a joke when he was not sober. I just mind it, and mother screaming."

I stood looking at him, dreamily wondering if he were like me, for a while. Then I took from my wardrobe some garments I had worn, and bade him put them on. Then I gave him food. I called no servant in; no one saw him come and go but myself. He departed blessing me. I watched him out of sight. Then I burst out into a laugh—a wild kind of scream.

"He had best go and offer his hand and heart to Miss Kate Norman," I said, "they would make a well-matched couple. Does he look like me in my clothes, I wonder? They fit him well."

Then I remember going out of the door and down toward the water's edge. A boat lay there with the oars in it. I think I was mad when I stepped into it. If not, I went mad as I rowed up the river. I talked to myself, I laughed, I sneered. I fancied that mermaids floated about the boat, mocking me. Some had faces like that of Kate Norman; their sneers were most bitter. The twilight faded, night came on; a dark, moonless night. I had dropped the oars and was drifting sea-ward, lying at the bottom of the little boat. I knew that I was in danger, but that knowledge did not affect me. It was not so much that I sought death, as that I had given up all care for life.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,

PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:

Gentlemen.—Two years ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time afterwards we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were inquirers of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce our patent Ax.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you another still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the number altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and through nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

HAY MAKING.—Hay is the most valuable crop in New England, and farmers should adopt the best method of mowing, curing and drying it. The amount of hay in New England this summer, it is stated, will probably exceed five millions of tons, and its cash value will be more than fifty millions of dollars! We will lay down some rules, adopted and approved by many of the most intelligent, practical farmers.

All agree that grass mowed just in the flower is the most nutritious,—that when grass is allowed to ripen its seed, the straw is converted into wooden fibre, its saccharine juices are lost, and its value greatly lessened. Animals fed upon hay or grass cut in the flower are more thrifty and hearty.

In the first place, it is perfectly evident that grass ought not to be mowed till the dew is off.

2d. The grass ought not to be turned in the swath, or if mowed by a machine, the day it is cut, but should be cocked up in the afternoon before sunset, so that should rain fall the next day it would wet only the outside. Should it be rainy a number of days, the grass would not be injured, because evaporation is a cooling process. The object is to "cure the grass in the cock." Turning and spreading the first and second days dries the hay too much, converting it into straw.

3d. Should the second day be a good "hay-day," the cocks should be opened as soon as the dew is gone, and spread. Evaporation then is rapid, after the grass has sweat in the cock. In one or two hours it should be turned, and again turned before noon. It will be sufficiently dry to be conveyed to the barn in the afternoon, and will then have a greenish look, and a fillip of the smell of green tea.

The hay cured in this way is worth several dollars a ton more than when dried up in the old method. The late Judge Buell, of Albany, N. H., a learned farmer, adopted the new method, which is, in some degree, drying grass in the shade, and put the question, which all can understand, "Why do you dry your herbs in the shade?" If there be any exception to the above mode, it is when grass is cut so late that the seed is matured, and the grass converted into straw, and then it may be dried a little more, and mould the day it is cut.

At the New York State Fair, there was a discussion by some of the best farmers in the country, upon this subject, and they all agreed upon two points, viz.; "that early cut grass makes the best hay, and that it is better dried mainly in the shade." Professor Way, a distinguished chemist, "found that grass mowed just in the flower was the most nutritious. When grass is allowed to ripen its seed, the straw is converted into wooden fibre. The best way to make hay is to cut the grass when the dew is off, and allow it to wilt, which in a hot sun requires four hours; then towards evening rake and cock, and next day, if the weather is fine, open, dry, and haul into the barn."

Mr. Alstyne said he cut 100 to 125 acres annually. "I commence mowing in the morning, after the dew is off; start the rake after dinner, and get all in cock before 5 o'clock. Get it in the next day, if the weather is favorable. Ripe timothy is no better than straw. I make it a rule to cut my grass as early as possible, most of it the first week in July."

Cotton caps are of no value, except on the second day, when a rain shower is coming on before there is time to get the hay hauled to the barn.

The best farmers, who have from 50 to 100 tons of hay to make, are now doing nearly the whole work by newly invented machinery. Thereby the cost per ton, instead of being about $5, as formerly, is now reduced to about $2 per ton, not counting the cost of machinery. A FARMER.

EXPAND THE LUNGS.—God intended all women to be beautiful, as much as he did the roses and the morning glories; and what he intended they should become, they would, if they should obey his laws, and cut indolence and corset strings, and indulge in freedom and fresh air. For a girl to expect to be handsome with the action of her lungs dependent on the expansive nature of a cent's worth of tape, is as absurd as to look for turnips in a snow bank; or a full grown oak in a little flower pot.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [je15 3w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. Wolcott.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
He was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittsmouth a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1868.
On Friday April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of PAIN Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.
SAMUEL BUZINE.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 5, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before
me this 6th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVY, Justice of the Peace,
Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of this Chartered Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Such Diseases as Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of expense, charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. Jo15 6w

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 24th.

On Wednesday morning, the Representatives from the various towns in Rockingham County, to the number of 40 or more, (there are 54 in all, you will remember,) paid a visit to the new County Farm at Brentwood, for examination of the premises, relative to further appropriations for completing the same. Taking the morning train down to Epping, the County Commissioners (Leavitt, Norris and Pillsbury) met the party, and conveyed them in large open wagons, for three or four miles—a large portion of the way through woods—to the Farm at Brentwood.

The ride was pleasant, with a full load of good fellows in each carriage, and on this moist and growing June morning,—although the seats in some of the wagons without springs, or when the springs were bumped down on an axle by an overload, were, like these in the House of Representatives,a leetle hard. But never mind; "Uneasy is the head that wears a crown," and why not uncomfortable the seat in a chair of State, or when among the first delegation conveyed to the new County Almshouse? Rattle their bones over the stones, you know—but this time it was mostly sand.

The new institution was almost unanimously voted a success—that is it was generally thought that the Building Committee have expended the $20,000 allowed to them, in the main judiciously and have secured a good farm, very well located, and erected a building perhaps as good as could be expected for the money.

To be sure, sound policy would seem to dictate that all public institutions like this should have solid brick structures, as near fire-proof as possible; but this would demand a much larger appropriation—and Mr. Reding the chairman of the building committee, was too strict a constructionist, and too much of an immediate economist, to expend all the money on the land and in laying the foundation for a suitable building, and then call for more at this session, as many say should have been done.

So here is the farm,—plenty of land, well enough adapted for the purpose, and capable of great improvement under the very efficient Superintendence of Mr. W. L. Philbrick; and a building, large, light and airy, and tolerably well constructed. The two leading complaints,—and which will we think be remedied before occupancy,—are, that the Steam boiler for washing, cooking, heating the building by pipes, &c., is located in the basement of the main structure, instead of a separate building as it should be, for safety at all times and comfort in warm weather, and to add to the very limited kitchen room; while instead of water closets, or better, the new earth closets, connected with every story in the house, as should be constructed, there are no suitable accommodations of the sort, especially for the old, the very young, or the infirm, in the poor apology of little buildings in the rear, entirely detached and reached only by passing out of-doors, no matter what the weather.

There is an abundance of good water, which is to be lifted into the building by a ram. The Commissioners have partially stocked the farm, and procured some furniture for the house, and will complete the same as soon as authorized by the County Convention. Then large barns and other buildings are needed.

With the dispute between the Building Committee and the County Commissioners, on a conflict of authority, we do not propose to meddle,—although Mr. Reding saw fit to distribute to the party, copies of his rejoinder in the suit of injunction, which has already been decided, and against him, by the Courts. The placing of a Copperhead on a committee like this, especially as chairman, no matter how suitable and worthy a man, by the strongly Republican County Convention of 1868, is only equalled in absurdity, if not outrage on the people, by the act of the same body in building a County House, after the people's overwhelming vote against it!

Superintendent Philbrick, by authority and with the personal aid of the Commissioners, especially Mr. J. J. Leavitt, spread an excellent and bountiful collation for the visitors,—including among other good things an abundance of strawberries and cream,—and after three cheers for the overseer and matron the party left the premises, unanimously declaring that if the boarders at that Rockingham House find fault with such fare as that served on this occasion, they deserve to be returned to the old Town Farms again, or to be let out to the lowest bidder.

Another wagon ride to the depot, where Conductor Maynard had a special train, and conveyed us all to Manchester in good season for the noon train up,—finished the very pleasant and not unprofitable excursion, with three cheers to Superintendent Hendrick, for his compliment of Railroad conveyance.

—On Wednesday afternoon, the bill appropriating money in aid of the N. H. Agricultural College, (which we believe gives $13,000 to erect or improve buildings at Dartmouth,) passed without discussion—to the surprise of its friends.

A new and sort of compromise Military Bill was also introduced, which retains the Adjutant General, but abolishes Trainings and the Militia system altogether. It will probably pass.

—It is thought strange that the bill passed last week forbidding the marriage of first cousins, received not a single negative vote in the House. Yet, notwithstanding the general popular notion against the practice,—the scientific, statistical argument is said to be by no means conclusive in condemning the double relationship. And it is claimed the bill should go farther, if made at all, and cut off the inheritance of property by descent to the issue of such marriages.

—A special meeting of the House was held Wednesday evening, to debate the passage of the Fifteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, which provides that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." The meeting was understood to be only for the purpose of giving the spouters opportunity to air their eloquence, which they did in the most prolix and tiresome manner, on both sides, and no vote was taken. The amendment will be passed this afternoon, no doubt by a strict party vote.

The question is as old as humanity; shall every man have the opportunity to be equal to every other man?—and there is absolutely no argument in it.—This is, or is to be a free country, a conglomeration of all races, creeds and classes—and every man should be equal before the law. So "Come along, come along, and don't be alarmed,

For Uncle Sam is rich enough to give you all a farm,"

—be ye negro, Chinaman, or what not—and we don't see, after all, that any of them, not even the Catholics, can prove much more dangerous or disagreeable than the Copperheads have, who alone oppose the Amendment.

And speaking of Catholics, there are at least three in the House, one Republican from South Newmarket, and two Copperheads from Manchester—which is clearly against the Constitution of the State. Yours always, F.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The House, on Wednesday, passed a bill suspending the militia laws for five years. A motion to repeal them was lost 118 to 141.

The bill prohibiting the bringing of paupers into the State was passed.

The bill appropriating $15,000 for the N. H. College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts was passed.

A bill was passed exempting alms houses and county houses from taxation was passed, under suspension of the rules, on motion of Mr. Hackett.

The joint resolution relative to bounties advanced by towns was indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Langdon presented a petition of Samuel W. Moses and 32 others, of Portsmouth, against the division of Rockingham County.

On motion of Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, the bill relating to a State Constabulary was taken from the table and referred to special committee on that subject.

On Thursday, Mr. Reding of Portsmouth gave notice that he would move a reconsideration of the vote appropriating $15,000 for the Agricultural College.

"F." telegraphs us from Concord, Thursday evening, that the House ratified the 15th Constitutional Amendment,—183 yeas, 130 nays.

☞ The Knight Templars and Masonic Lodges assembled in Newburyport on Thursday the 24th, (St John's Day,) in large numbers, and with the elegant uniform of the Templars, and the various badges of the masons, formed an imposing procession. They moved through several of the principal streets, to the inspiring music of numerous bands, amid crowds of spectators, who were enjoying the spectacle, the music, and the fine(day. The streets were decorated with a profusion of flags, shields and mottoes; and these, with the banners in the procession, gave the city quite a holiday aspect.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the fastest stock in America. It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all it not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Flat bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. T. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 20 Park Place, New York je17

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the pernicious pills and boluses of which the most active cathartic is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general cathartic, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a pill, powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, JOHN F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared the sex, if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

Holloway's Pills.—Indigestion is at the bottom of a large proportion of human ailments, and it is complicated, more or less, with all of them. Happily, there is a positive specific for it in HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Whether its presence is manifested by loss of appetite, debility, flatulence, irregularity of the bowels, sickness at the stomach, oppression after eating, headache, uneasy sleep, vertigo, or by all these combined, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the one thing needful—the remedy that never fails. Sold by all Druggists.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. Therefore I produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

Mr. A. Cook, "publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says he was cured of the worst form of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but he says Dr. Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she consulted to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes,—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally; and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty articles have been foisted upon the public. Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED,

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declares it to be perfectly wholesome.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR RESTORATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. Try it.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It ceases the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d26

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often then the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary influences of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are increased, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fearfulness a change from childhood to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Cold Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Pimples, Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for fear of themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Paralysis, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy death by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is merely articulate,

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, naturally throws it off by easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has gained the victory over the disease.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the tonic will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel to deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care, for it will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, with the gastric juice in the stomach, melts the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and, so doing, they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and tubercles.—In such cases what must be done? It is not enough that the lungs are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver are the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients desire their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday; there all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 25 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1a6

In The Coliseum, Boston.

By universal request, the Executive Committee have perfected arrangements to repeat, in the fullest manner, on

TUESDAY NEXT, JUNE 29,

at 8 o'clock, P. M.

THE LEADING FEATURES OF THE UNEQUALLED PROGRAMME OF THE 17TH OF JUNE, including the famous

ANVIL CHORUS,

with Cannon Accompaniment, One Hundred Anvils, Bells, &c., and

"The Star-Spangled Banner,"

together with some of the choicest morceaux of the grand performances, with

Grand Orchestra and Chorus,

for the special benefit of him to whose genius uncounted thousands have been indebted during the recent Jubilee for the most Sublime and Inspiring Musical Performances ever realized.

☞ It will be remembered that when this splendid combination of popular and classical music was originally given, thousands upon thousands of persons were unable to effect an entrance to the Coliseum.

The Committee feel that they have only to announce a repetition of the grandest successes of the Jubilee week, and for so worthy a purpose, to insure one of the most brilliant demonstrations of respect and gratitude ever tendered to a public servant.

Prices same as during Jubilee week, viz.—Reserved Seats $5 and $3, according to location. To be obtained after Thursday up to the day of performance at the Ticket Offices of Music Hall and the Coliseum.

HENRY G. PARKER, Secretary.

Railroad Notice.

SPECIAL TRAINS will be run on all the roads, at half fare,—the managers having generously tendered this accommodation to insure Mr. Gilmore a benefit commensurate with the magnificent success of his recent great undertaking.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND— SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, & better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against all bogus advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine wishe to exchange for any other.

DANCING.—On Wednesday afternoon we spent a pleasant hour at the Dancing Academy of Mr. S. Lamprey, in Congress Hall, watching the graceful motions and happy faces of the young people, and the interest and care in teaching of the instructor. The school numbers about seventy pupils of both sexes, and, considering their youth, and that this is the first term for the majority of them, their proficiency in this elegant accomplishment speaks highly for Mr. Lamprey's ability as a teacher. Some of the figures they went through appeared to us to be very difficult, but the lads and lasses evidently knew what they were about, and very generally came out all right, just when we expected them to get involved in inextricable confusion. How in the world they managed to untangle themselves is beyond our comprehension; but then we lay no claim to any particular brilliancy as a dancist.

Mr. Lamprey not only possesses the faculty of imparting his art (for it is an art—one of the fine ones,) to those under his tuition, but has both patience and perseverance in his calling; two qualities eminently desirable in the teacher of a juvenile class. He pays particular attention to the deportment of the pupils, and if they become men and women without having acquired that polish which assists the atoms of society to move smoothly about without rubbing each other's sharp corners off, it will certainly not be owing to any lack of interest and care on the part of their teacher.

Perhaps two-thirds of the class were girls, and a very pretty spectacle they made. We don't intend to particularize any of their number, and put vanity in their little heads by telling them how pretty they looked,—"the fellows" will do that fast enough, one of these days—but the bright eyes, red cheeks and happy smiles of many of them made us fancy that nothing was required to make them into seraphs but the distribution of nice wings. However, we like them best just as they are.

The boys (horrible creatures—boys) showed the advantages of their training even more than did their female companions. It seemed hardly possible that the quiet, well-behaved youths who handed their partners gracefully to their seats, could be the same boys who toss peanut-shells and whistle for encores—a concerts, pelt each other with stones in the street, and play truant from school to go down on the wharves to try to catch impracticable cunners and absurd flounders. If they derive no other benefit from this school, it is not a small one that they will grow up without being oppressed with the painful shyness which a fear of being awkward often gives to young men in presence of the refined of the other sex.

The only visitors at the ball were the parents and friends of the scholars, as the class would be straitened for room were too many to be admitted, as it was, more space would have crowded no one. But when the term closes, after three more lessons, an Exhibition is to be given,—to which Mr. Lamprey may just as well invite us; for go we certainly will, even if we have to smuggle ourself in, or assume the honors of paternity "for this occasion only," and present ourself as the ancestor of one or two of the youthful quadrille sets.

MASONIC.—Newburyport celebrated St. John's Day (June 24th,) and St. John's Lodge, No. 1, of this city, were in attendance, with the Portsmouth Cornet Band, returning in the evening.

Bethany Encampment of Knights Templar from Lawrence, Mass., arrived in this city from Newburyport, Thursday evening, and were received by De Witt Clinton Commandery. The visitors number about 100, besides the ladies who accompany them. They are quartered at the Rockingham, Kearsarge, Franklin, National and Piscataqua Houses. This morning they go to Sagamore, where they will be taken in and done for by the Messrs. Peirce, the landlords of one of the most popular resorts in New England. The Messrs. Peirce have secured the services of a famous cook for the summer campaign, (formerly of the Union Club, Boston,) and the visiting Knights will have the first opportunity of testing and tasting his viands. The Knights return to Lawrence this evening, leaving this city per the Concord train at 4.40.

☞ The steamer Appledore will make the moonlight trip which didn't come off last Tuesday, this (Friday) evening, if fair weather. A good time may be expected by those who go. For particulars see advertisement.

U. S. STEAMER NANTASKET.—The work on the U. S. S. Nantasket, which has been at the Navy Yard for the past eighteen months receiving her machinery, is completed, and she left for Boston on Thursday.

At the recent trials of the engines at the wharf, everything proved satisfactory; they started easily on the first introduction of steam, their operation being almost noiseless, and free from any jar or pounding whatever. On the second trial the engines made 65 revolutions with 27 lbs. of steam, the condenser maintaining a vacuum of 27 3-4 inches. The boilers proved tight and free from leaks, steaming very freely, and consuming but little coal. They are of the vertical water tubular type, known as the Martin Boiler, and were used in nearly all of the vessels in the Navy during the rebellion.

The engines were designed in 1864, by R. F. Isherwood, late Chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, and are of the most approved pattern. They consist of two horizontal back acting engines, of 36 inches diameter of cylinder, and three feet stroke of piston, fitted with a double-ported slide valve, and the common link motion. There is also a surface condenser, for supplying the boilers with fresh water,—containing over 1700 tubes.

These engines were built under the superintendence of Chief Engineers Wm. Roberts and David B. Macomb, U. S. N., and are of the best quality of material. They were erected in the ship under the supervision of Mr. John Smith, of the Woodruff & Beach Iron Works, Hartford, Conn., who was employed especially for the purpose.

This is the first marine engine ever built in the State of New Hampshire, and judging from the workmanship and its operation while running, it certainly reflects great credit upon all concerned in its construction, both upon the workmen as well as those who superintended their operation. The dimensions of the Nantasket are as follows; Length between perpendiculars 216 feet; breadth of beam 31 feet; depth 13 feet 6 inches. She will be of 523 tons burden according to the new law of measurement. Her armament will consist of one 100 pound rifle, pivot; four 32 pounders; one 20 pounder; and two 24 pounders. She is one of the sharpest ships in the Navy, will be ship-rigged, and will rate third class. Upon her arrival at Boston she will be immediately fitted for sea, for duty in the East India Squadron. It is expected that she will make 14 knots an hour easily under steam alone.

The mechanics of the Portsmouth Navy Yard may well feel proud of their handiwork, and we venture to say that no more satisfactory or creditable work can be turned out in this country than this first specimen of engine building at this Naval Station.

Our Navy Yard Correspondence.

June 24.

The U. S. Steamer Nantasket steamed from the Navy Yard wharf at 7.45 o'clock, Thursday morning for Charlestown Navy Yard accompanied by the U. S. Tug Cohasset.

Josiah Lewis of Kittery has bought out the Kittery Trade Association, which is settling up its affairs.

Nearly all the workmen in the Bureau of Construction were discharged on Thursday, viz; 24 Blacksmiths, 8 Laborers, 3 Painters, 40 Carpenters.

The M. E. Sewing Society had a very successful Strawberry Festival, Thursday evening. The Quilt was drawn by a youngster from Amesbury, Mass., who a short time ago drew a good horse, in a lottery. The music by the Sabbath school children was very fine. "Waiting for Thee," and "Three Angel Visitants," by Misses Nellie and Eva Pettigrew elicited much praise.

☞ Steamer Fairy, Capt. Ridgeway, commenced her daily trips between Portsmouth and Dover, on Wednesday.

Morning Chronicle.

CASPER ATHWOLD'S STORY.

Concluded.

Suddenly a red glare of light flashed over my face. I heard a heavy, steady throb of machinery, then a shrieking whistle and a shout of voices; a steamer was hard upon my little boat.

After that I knew nothing until I came to myself in a strange room, in a strange hotel. The captain of the steamer which had run my boat down fancied that to his account lay the fever and delirium which had come upon me, and had me taken care of. He had landed me at Blackwell. It was two weeks since the day last in my memory. I read that in the morning paper. There, also, I read this paragraph: "The body found in the woods at Belvidere has been indentified by the garments and some personal peculiarities, as that of Mr. Casper Athwold of Athwold Park, Kent, who has been missing many days.—His funeral takes place this morning."

I dropped the paper in amazement. My own name—the record of my own death! Then I burst into a bitter laugh. I understood it all. The beggar, in form so like myself, whom I had clothed in my own garments, had died upon the road. He it was—none other—who was that day to be buried under my name. At first, it seemed merely a cruel sort of joke. Then, the memory of my will, and of the letter written to Kate Norman flashed upon me. I must reach home and prove myself a living man before it was too late. Weak as I was, I arose, and dressed myself; and giving my address the landlord, crossed in a boat to Woolwich, and sped to the railway station; but I reached it only in time to find the train gone. Another hour or two must pass. They were ages to me. She should not read that letter while I lived—she should not!

At last I was fairly off—fairly on my way to the Park. In the dark of the evening I arrived at the station, and hurried homeward.

There I should find my servants, and probably, the lawyer, who would find it his duty to secure everything for the future heiress. They would not, I hoped, read the will so soon—yet it was customary. If this had been done, how should I act? how speak? Could I face those who would know my secret? It seemed not. Only a little space lay between the station and my house. The railroad encroachments had been my mother's greatest troubles in the last years of her life. Now this fact enabled me, ill as I was, to reach the house without delay. It was dark, and I met no one. No servant loitered about the garden. In a moment I knew why. They had assembled in the parlor to hear my will read—for, through the Venetian shutters, long bars of light fell across the porch; and looking in unseen myself, I saw Kate Norman with a letter in her hand, glide through the opposite door. The will had been read. Before I could interpose, she would have read the letter also.

I clasped my hands upon my brow. What should I do?—return as I had come?—change my name?—dwell where no one knew me?—and toiling for my bread, let those who thought me dead still cherish their belief? It seemed that this were better than to return to be the gaping town's-folks' nine days' wonder. Worst of all, to meet Kate Norman. I turned from the window and hurried away—but I was still very, very weak, and my strength gave way just as I reached the church-yard. The road was bare and barren, with no resting place upon it; but within the gates soft green grass tempted me, and the willow blossoms seemed to nod a welcome. I accepted it.

The nearest grave was that which bore upon its stone my name.

"Would that I really lay beneath!" I sighed.

I cast myself down in the long grass, damp with dew. A night-bird somewhere gave a wild shriek now and then, like a lost soul in pain.

"What if the graves were to open now," I thought, "and those within stalk forth in their shrouds; should I be terrified?"

I believe not. That agony of living love was too strong upon me for any frozen church-yard fears.

No—I should not meet her. I could never see her again. I must go some where by chance; I could not cross her pathway. I never loved her so. Would she ever come to this, that seemed my grave, and, for pity's sake, plant flowers upon it? Would she ever say, "Though no woman could ever love him, yet he loved well?"

These thoughts whirled through my brain, and fancies wilder than they. I felt my blood on fire; I could not help thinking; I could not give tired nature her way and drop asleep amid those grave-yard damps, though I was wearied and worn beyond all description. I heard the church clock strike nine. It startled me to think an hour had flown when the clock struck ten. I lifted up my head to listen, and saw a figure gliding up the church-yard path—a woman's figure, muffled in a dark shawl. It came straight on, and cast itself on the grave by which I sat—the grave beneath which the beggar lay whom they had taken for myself—cast herself upon it, kissing the turf, covering it with soft, white, woman's palms, and sobbing wildly. The shadows hid me. I gazed unseen upon the mourner. Who was it? Some one who had mistaken the spot, no doubt. She lifted up her head, then—that mourner—and the muffling shawl fell back. In the moonlight I saw her face. It was Kate Norman.

Had pity brought her there so soon? Could pity make one weep so? I drew nearer; I listened; she spoke; it was my name she uttered; she coupled it with all fond words that lovers use, and then she lifted her clasped hands to heaven.

"Oh! Casper, Casper," she cried, "shall I never look in your sweet eyes again? Never hear your dear voice? Can I never tell you how I loved you? You who loved me also; whom I shall love, and no other, until I die! Oh, Casper, Casper!"

* * * * * *

Silence, with the wild bird's scream—silence, in which, amid the midnight of the grave-yard, dawn broke upon my soul, and a new life filled my heart. Then I stood beside her, holding her close and fast.

"Do not fear me! Do not tremble so!" I cried. "It is a living Casper Athwold who comes to you, and no ghost. Oh, Kate—Kate Norman, you gave tender words to the dead clay you thought mine; will you bless me with them living? Speak Kate—look at me."

But she hid her face in my bosom, and would not look up—would only cling to me with her soft, white hands, and sob, over and over again, my name—nothing more, just my name.

And there we stood alone together amid the graves, I content to stand there, her hand in mine, her cheek upon my bosom, until the blessed evening lengthened itself into eternity.

But at last she told me this: that of all men, I was to her the best; and when, knowing myself so well, I wonderingly asked her how I might dare dream that this could be, she made only the woman's answer, "because I love you."

Could any answer give me more content? So, in the moonlight, on that happy night, we went forth from the old graveyard into the world of life, hand in hand, as we have gone together ever since. I and that dearest woman who has been my wife so many happy years.

CHURCH BELLES.

Coming in couples,
Smiling so sweetly,
Up the long aisle
Tripping so neatly.

Envying bonnets—
Envying laces,
Nodding at neighbors,
Peering in faces.

Whispering softly,
Heeding no sermon;
What they go there for—
Hard to determine.

On all around them
Gazing benignly,
Wholly unconscious,
Singing divinely.

Prosy discoursing
Don't suit their whims,
Plain they assemble
Just for the "hims."

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.
The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that those "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,
PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.
But a short time elapsed before we were inquired of on every part of Columbus's Egg and Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce our goods.
The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the order now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.
The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.
Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:
Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.
We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and through nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

The Chronicle.

—The following verses, entitled, "Only the Clothes that she Wore," are by the late Mr. N. G. Shepard, and are his last literary production. He left the manuscript at the office of Appletons' Journal, received the money for it, and a few hours afterward died from the effect of intoxication. The poem is founded on an actual incident, the clothes only of a drowned woman remaining at the Morgue for identification:—

There is the hat
With the blue veil thrown round it, [just as they found it,] Spotted and soiled, stained and all spoiled—
Do you recognize that?
The gloves, too, lie there,
And in them still lingers the shape of her fingers,
That some one has pressed, perhaps, and caressed,
So slender and fair.
There are the shoes,
With their long silken laces, still bearing traces,
To the toe's dainty tip, of the mud of the slip,
The slime and the ooze.
There is the dress,
[Like the blue veil, all dabbled, discolored, and drabbled—]
This you should know, without doubt, and is so,
All else you may guess!
There is the shawl,
With the striped border, hung near the door,
Soiled hardly less than the light muslin dress,
And—that is all.
Ah, here's a ring
We were forgetting, with a pearl setting;
There was only this one—name or date?—none!
A frail, pretty thing;
A keepsake, maybe,
The gift of another, perhaps a brother,
Or lover, who knows? him her heart chose,
Or, was she heart-free?
Does the hat there,
With the blue veil around it, [the same as they found it,]
Summon up a fair face with just a trace
Of gold in the hair?
Or does the shawl,
Mutely appealing to some hidden feeling,
A form, young and slight, to your mind's sight
Clearly recall?
A month now has passed
And her sad history remains yet a mystery,
But these we keep, still, and shall keep them until Hope dies at last.
Was she the prey
Of some deep sorrow clouding the morrow,
Hiding from view the sky's happy blue?
Or was there foul play?
Alas! who may tell?
Some one or other, perhaps a fond mother,
May recognize these [when her child's clothes she sees;]
Then—will it be well?

DECREASE OF HORSES, CATTLE AND SHEEP IN NEW HAMPSHIRE FROM 1840 TO 1850.—Messrs. Editors.—In recently looking over the census returns of 1850, I find the reduction in the number of horses, mules, cattle and sheep from 1840 to 1850, equivalent to over 21,000 cows, and a still very much larger reduction in the number of swine. The reduction in the number of swine was due, doubtless, to the cheapness and facility with which pork is made in the great corn-growing regions of the West. With the usual high price of corn in this State, we cannot successfully compete with the farmers of the prairie regions in producing pork, lard and bacon for market.

But we can account for the great falling off in the numbers of horses, cattle and sheep only upon the supposition of a similar or corresponding decrease of hay and pasturage. What the forthcoming census (1870) will exhibit in contrast with that of 1850, "we can not forward see, but guess and fear." "It is the scarcity of a commercial article that makes it dear. Judging from the above rule, there is a deficiency in our farm stock and hay, for both about tripled in value within the past two years and we know for a certainty, even in this age of greenbacks, that the rearing of horses and cattle, and growing of hay, pays a fair and sure profit wherever and whenever the business is rightly managed.

The hay crop of New England is not only of the most pecuniary consequence but it is in other respects, perhaps, the most important throughout the Eastern States. All farm stock must be "kept up," for about one hundred and fifty days, and fed with harvested food, the bulk of which must be hay. There is an old Dutch proverb, "No hay, no cattle; no cattle, no manure; no manure, no crops." We must have the manure and we must have the cattle, and hay is the only staple food we can have, for with our soil, climate, habits and established notions, we could not successfully feed with straw, roots and oilcake, as is largely done in England.

The method of farm culture pursued in the hilly and rocky regions of New-England, has been too much of what Prof. Liebig calls "spoliation," which has resulted in the abandonment of thousand of what were once considered good and productive farms. The boundaries of the walled-in field, the remains of old orchards and cellars, mark the place where once was the farmstead, with all its fixtures and surroundings, but now thrown out to pasture and the renewal of the forest growth. The annual decrease of hay, and consequently corresponding decrease of farm stock, eventually led to the abandonment of these thousands of farms, and other thousands will sooner or later share the same fate, unless a different system of farm culture is speedily adopted.—Levi Bartlett in Cultivator.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:—I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it at the big sacrificed account. [je15 8w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT:
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been speechless
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another THING for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has prescribed for her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Wash Tub. In her case I used but a few PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk to longer breathe than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittsburgh a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and have seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.
SAMUEL BUZINE.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 5, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before
me this 6th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVEY, Justice of the Peace,
Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1869.

The News.

The second game of base ball on Thursday, between the Lowells and Harvards resulted in victory to the latter. Score, 39 to 15.

The Massachusetts Legislature didn't adjourn on Tuesday but held on until Thursday.

Portland, Oregon, has elected the Republican municipal ticket.

Washington Territory has been indulging in a series of earthquake shocks.

Arroya, in Porto Rico, has a for midable rebellion.

Gov. Chamberlain of Maine was renominated by the Republicans, on Thursday. Chamberlain had 594 votes, Perham 375, Scattering 36. The nomination was made unanimous.

Gen. Sickles does not forfeit his rank in the army by accepting the Spanish mission.

A Conservative Republican State Convention met at Jackson, Mississippi, on Thursday, and organized the Union Republican party. Its aim and object will be to secure the reconstruction of the State on the congressional plan.

Dispatches from Gen. McMahon state that he has not been imprisoned by Lopez.

The citizens of Sinclair and the adjoining counties in Kentucky, with the assistance of a small squadron of cavalry, are engaged in a crusade against the numerous bands of marauders which have long infested that locality.

The Indian troubles in Arizona continue.

There are 300 more whites than blacks registered in Richmond, Va.

The fare from Boston to Chicago has been reduced to eighteen dollars; and thirteen dollars more will carry the passenger to Omaha.

Fremont is in Paris.

310 miles of the French Atlantic Cable have been successfully laid.

Katatasi is the new Russian Minister to the United States.

Genoa is getting seditious.

Col. Ryan, the Cuban fillibuster, has been rescued from a New York sheriff, and cannot be found. The expedition which had been waiting for him sailed in a few hours after his escape.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The Senate passed the bill for the establishment of a State Normal School, on Thursday.

The house refused aid to Dartmouth College, and passed the bill for the division of Sanbornton.

The Senate passed the Agricultural College bill (appropriating $15,000,) on Friday.

New Hampshire Items.

The temperance women of Manchester have been talking to the people who sell intoxicating drinks there. The sellers, in some cases, plead that physicians prescribe Beer, Whiskey, &c., as medicines, which is probably true to some extent. But very generally the remedy is worse than the disease.

A thief stole two watches from a watch maker's store in Dover, last week, in the day time.

Judge Roberts of Rollinsford, has a cow, that, during the second week in May and before pasturing, averaged 19 quarts of milk per day, from which was made 18 pounds and 12 ounces of butter. On one of the days she gave 22 1-2 quarts of milk.

The Trustees of Robinson Female Seminary at Exeter have elected Mr. Eben S. Stearns as Principal of that institution.

Mr. Nathan R. Edmonds, of Chichester Pine Grounds, last week, sheared from a sheep of the native breed, one year old, 8 lbs. of wool.

A valuable horse, four years old, was found dead in a pasture in Gilmanton, last week. A long stick, with two feet of it in his body, caused his death It was probably got in while the colt was running.

Measles are very prevalent among small children in Newmarket. Nearly every family has been visited, and several cases have proved fatal.

About ten day ago a party of five persons, whose united ages were 385 years, spent the day together at the house of R. B. Neal, in Tuftonborough. Two of the number, one aged 80, and the other 72, had traveled more than two hundred miles by railroad to be present.

Mrs. Sally G. Pollard, of Canaan, who died last January, aged eighty-one years and eight months, was the mother of eighteen children, twelve of whom are still living. She had fifty grandchildren, seventeen of whom have died, and thirteen great-grand-children.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 24th.

Dear Chronicle:—The House on Thursday forenoon passed Mr. Hackett's bill, for a survey and report of the unused Water Power in New Hampshire—which is a good and important move, tending to develope our great resources in this direction.

Mr. Reding gave notice that he should move a reconsideration of the vote for aid to the Agricultural College—but it is not likely he will succeed.

The question of the division of the Town of Sanbornton, and the creation of a new township of Tilton from the manufacturing or city part, occupied all the very long morning session. This vexed and long-mooted question was decided, after a full discussion, in favor of the division, and making the new town.

The Legislative Committee on Elections are to give the petitioners for Woman Suffrage a hearing at Eagle Hall this evening, when Lucy Stone Blackwell and others will argue their cause, and of course argue it well. But it is hardly to be expected that they will carry it this year. Mrs. Blackwell is a guest at the elegant residence of Mr. Nathl. White, who with his wife are prime movers in the affair, and who enter into it with much spirit, as they do into other reforms which they regard as promotive of the public welfare.

—Concord is very comfortable, during this season. We had a very heavy shower here Wednesday evening, and Main Street is muddy at this writing, instead of dusty, as it is very prone to be. This is a wide, straight and handsome thoroughfare; on which almost all the business in the city is done, instead of being distributed all over town as in Portsmouth and other old places. And, by the way, an observant Portsmouth lady visitor here, thinks Concord much superior to our city, in the absence of the numerous high and close fences which disfigure old Strawberry Bank—and which we could never justify, excuse or palliate, and can only explain or understand on the supposition that they must have been originally built by our forefathers two hundred years ago, to keep out the Indians, and that the fashion has come down to this time as an inheritance, traditionally but mistakenly respected by too many citizens. Why not down with State Prison fences, except around that institution?

—It is thought by many that the Session cannot be brought to a close next week, but must continue after the Fourth of July.—The annual Printer's Convention, at Plymouth this year, which was appointed for the 8th of July, will probably be postponed for one week.

Yours, F.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Mary S. Wheeler, aged 67 years, was found dead on her bed, in Newburyport on Wednesday morning. From appearances she had risen as usual, and perhaps feeling unwell or faint would lie down, when she fell as she reached the bed and died. She had before had an attack of the heart complaint, and it was by that disease she died. She was the widow of Rev. Abraham Wheeler, an Episcopal minister, formerly settled in Wheeling, Virginia, and afterwards in Ohio.

CORRECTION.—Our statement last week in regard to the accidental death by shooting of John P. Austin at Dover was not entirely correct. He did not put a cap upon the pistol, as fixed ammunition is used in it, he did not tell Miss Gage to shoot him, and she did not point the pistol at him. Two of the party had been discharging the pistol, and after all the barrels had been discharged as they supposed, he had been snapping it. Miss Gage, who was very much afraid of the pistol, was requested by Austin to take it and snap it, he telling her it was not loaded, which she declined to do. He then attempted to make her take it, and in the squabble that followed the pistol was discharged, the ball entering his forehead. The accident occurred at about 8 o'clock in the evening, and he lived about an hour, remarking among other things, that Miss Gage was not in the least to blame. Parties who witnessed the affair state that she tried to avoid taking the pistol or having anything to do with it.—Enquirer.

☞ Rev. Moses Gerould, who lately retired from the pastoral care of the Congregational Society at Langdon, had been there only three years; not 40, as stated. Forty was the sum total of all the years of his ministry.

☞ Rev. Day K. Lee, D. D., a Universalist minister of some note, and a man of deep religious spirit and fervent piety, died recently in New York, aged 53.

—Sue Rurke, a fast woman, and keeper of a drinking saloon in Gloucester, was thrown from a carriage while drunk on Monday, and broke her neck.

—The sentence of Samuel Sutton, who was to be executed last Friday at Hackensack, N. J., has been commuted to imprisonment for life.

BENEFIT TO MR. P. S. GILMORE.—The Executive Committee of the Great National Peace Festival announce in our advertising columns to-day the programme of a Testimonial Benefit to Mr. P. S. Gilmore, the originator of the greatest musical event in the history of "the science of sweet sounds." Reference to the advertisement will show that the pieces which proved the most popular during Jubilee week will be repeated; and we cannot for a moment doubt that public gratitude toward the beneficiary will prompt a general determination to make the event in every respect, pecuniarily and otherwise, worthy his merits, so far as they can be substantially recognized.

The beneficiary concert will take place on the afternoon of Tuesday of next week—the 29th instant—when we trust the Coliseum, immense as it is, will be insufficient to contain the friends and admirers of the talented Gilmore.

SECRETARY BORIE resigned, his position at the head of the Navy Department on Friday, and Geo. M. Robeson of New Jersey has been appointed in his stead. Mr. Borie gives failing health and private cares as his reasons for retiring. The President has been aware of his intention for some time, and Mr. Robeson was summoned. He arrived in Washington Thursday evening, and on Friday was sworn in by Judge Cartter. He seems to be as little known as was his predecessor. He is a lawyer, and has never held any public office except that of Attorney General of his State.

☞ The Lawrence visiting Masons returned home, Thursday evening, after spending a delightful day at Sagamore. Their fine Band furnished splendid music while here.

☞ The Western States are rapidly paying off their war debts. The great increase of population and new enterprises makes the payment of these debts an easy matter.

☞ Spangler, the released conspirator, publishes a statement denying that he was in any way connected with the assassination of President Lincoln.

☞ Rev. Pliny B. Day, D. D., an eminent Congregational Minister in this state, is said by the Concord Monitor to be dangerously ill.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Rush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to Cure Spavins, Ringbones, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlery and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, je19

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and Alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the Familler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an anthilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

The proprietor is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drought or pill.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared to the sex if they placed implicit faith in this whole-some vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

Holloway's Pills.—Indigestion is at the bottom of a large proportion of human ailments, and it is complicated, more or less, with all of them. Happily, there is a positive specific for it in HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Whether its presence is manifested by loss of appetite, debility, flatulence, irregularity of the bowels, sickness at the stomach, oppression after eating, headache, uneasy sleep, vertigo, or by all these combined, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the one thing needful—the remedy that never fails. Sold by all Druggists.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she grew fat and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty varieties have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. Try it.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agent where the medicine is for sale. d25

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school, and deemed into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the overwhelming sense of loneliness, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the period of puberty is marked with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the rosy mantling cheek of health. But the contrast of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful portion of which body and mind unite so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and finds the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Pallid Face, Eruptions, Dryness of the Skin, Pale Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Confusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such persons than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the feeble, and a balm to the wounded; this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To the pills, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use when with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and tore ripening. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. It is the stomach which gives the liver power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ya4

THE SAUKIE-SHORE ROAD.—To the Editors of the Dover Enquirer:—Gentlemen, I beg the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle to introduce me to you. I hope it will assure you that I am a first-rate fellow, seldom minding (in the papers) my own business, which concerns one, but caring for the thousands that are, and are to be, affected for weal or woe by our good or bad management. I have been much interested in the letter of your correspondent "Dover." He is anxious to have Portsmouth double teams with Dover to get the Saukie-Shore Road through; and, some time or other, the road would be extended to Portsmouth! It seems not to have occurred to him that if once linked to Dover by a straight railroad, Portsmouth would not need to be urged to push the road to the Montreal. "Dover's" plan reminds me of a fable, which I think is not from Æsop, for its only merit seems to me to be its aptness. I don't know that I can tell it very well, but I will do my best. It is called

THE FOX AND THE MAGPIE.

In the same pile of rocks
Dwelt a Magpie and Fox,—

No, that will never do; I must content myself with prose. Well, then; in the same ledge lived a fox and a magpie. Her ladyship had a little private parlor of her own, of which, fortunately for her, the door was too narrow for honest Reynard to squeeze through. Her numerous windows were all smaller still, and here she found a safe retreat for such treasures as broken nails, bits of glass, and even a brass ring filched from a washerwoman's cottage. The fox had a deeper and darker hole.

One day the worthy pair started out on a tour of observation together. They soon came to a basket of oysters.

"A fine thing," said the the fox, "all oysters and no knife."

"The cobbler has a dozen knives in his box," said the magpie, "and there he goes to the woods now with his gun on his shoulder. Half a pane is gone from his window. I stole a knife there yesterday, but I saw a bit of brass two rods from his stall, and so I dropped the knife."

"Go bring a knife then," said the fox, "and pr'ythee be quick."

"Nay," replied she, "here is no place to open oysters. If you will carry the basket to the rocks I will bring the knife."

"I will not be such a fool," said she to herself in going, "as to give Reynard the knife. He is stronger than I, and not an oyster shall I have if once he gets the knife."

But she was soon back to the fox, disappointed. The cobbler, who had taken a lesson from her, had laid his cutting-board on the box, and on that his lapstone. The front door was locked, and against the other one he had leaned a slender stick to prevent its being opened from without. She must let the fox in at the back door or they could have no knife.

"We will go at once," said Reynard.

"Not so fast," said the wily spinster; "we will first divide the oysters."

"Be not distrustful, neighbor magpie; let us first secure the knife. On the faith of a fox you shall have two-thirds of every oyster. The knife first, division afterwards."

"Brother" quoth the magpie, "I feel hurt. I do not blame you for your intending to overreach me, seeing that I would gladly do as much for you, any day; but can you think me so simple as not to know that you are meaning to put me off with shells only?"

"But what is to become of the world when neighbors cease to trust each other?"

"Trust," replied the bird, "is a good thing, when necessary and well founded. But unnecessary trust is an outrage on the first principles of trade. When I have my half of the oysters in my pantry I shall need a knife. Just now I do not. I can not get a knife without helping you to one: that is your security. But I think I see you getting a knife with my help before I get my oysters!"

"So you ask me to trust you, after all this!"

"Not at all, friend Reynard. You do not deny that half of these bivalves are mine. Let me drop them down my chimney,—then I shall want the lapstone lifted as much as you want to lift it."

So the fox groaned in his heart as he saw the oysters disappear one after another down a crevice in the rocks.—"But after all," said he to himself as the lapstone went with a bounce on the floor, "I have in reality lost nothing except a capital opportunity to cheat my neighbor."

Let "Dover" lay this to heart. The natural way to build a railroad is towards the interior. Plant its root in the deep water of a good harbor and lay out its trunk straight and level, and it will not fail to grow. But it has been Boston's misfortune that its roads stop a few rods short of "deep water." The Cocheco stops a few miles short. I fear that the same feeling that tried in vain to preserve a break of gauge at Erie and to maintain a discontinuity of track at Portland is one cause. The Chronicle can assure "Dover" that the writer of this has no other interest in the matter than the welfare of friends, along the Montreal road and elsewhere. Boston harbor is wanted for something else than landing coal for St. Johnsbury.

FIRE INSURANCE.—Messrs. Editors.—In an article in your paper of the 23d you stated that the Insurance Report for 1867 showed a net loss to Fire Insurance Companies doing business in this State, for that year, with the statement that the result was not much better in 1868. The Insurance Commissioner's Report for 1868 says the amount received from premiums during the year was $316,773,45; amount of losses paid in the State was $121,201,36; showing the excess of premiums to be $195,572,08, thereby indicating that the year was a very favorable one for Companies represented in this State. C—.

IS IT EPIDEMIC?—From the abundant crop of weddings that have take, are taking and are about to takee place in this vicinity, one would naturally suppose that matrimonially inclined people had become alarmed at the passage of the act by the Legislature forbidding the marriage of first cousins, and were fearful lest the provisions of the law should be extended so as to include all who are lineally descended from Adam and Eve, after the pleasant month of June shall have expired; the mania seems to be spreading, and is reported to be "catching."

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Friday, at the Navy Yard, while assisting to moor one of the Government Steamers, Mr. Matthew Earing, an elderly man, was thrown heavily against a plank by a hawser, which slipped from the capstan while being hauled by two yoke of oxen. He was much injured about the head, and was picked up insensible.

THE DEATH OF A REMARKABLE INVENTOR.—Joseph Dixon, who died in Jersey City on Monday, aged 71, was a most remarkable, not to say extraordinary man. He made a machine to cut files before he attained his majority, learned the printer's trade, afterward that of wood engraving, then lithography, and afterward studied medicine, and in that connection became interested in chemistry, becoming finally one of the most accomplished and comprehensive chemists in the country. He was a thorough optician, and had no equal in his knowledge of photography. He took up the experiments of Daguerre in 1839, and was probably the first person to take a portrait by the camera. He showed Prof. Morse how to take portraits by means of a reflector, so that the subjects should not appear reversed. Morse tried to get the plan patented in Europe. Mr. Dixon built the first Locomotive, with wooden wheels, but with the same double crank now used. He originated the process of photo-lithography, and published it years before it was believed to be useful. By his process of transferring, the old bank notes were easily counterfeited, and it was to guard against the abuse of his own process that he brought out the system of printing in colors on the bills, and had the method patented, but never received any benefit from the patent, all the banks having used it without pay. He perfected the system of making collodion for the photographers, and assisted Mr. Harrison in getting a true system for grinding the lenses for camera tubes. He originated the anti-friction metal, that has been for a great many years known as "Babbitt metal;" and he is the father of the steel melting business in this country.

☞ Richard Fletcher, Esq., who died recently in Boston, aged 81, read law in Portsmouth with Daniel Webster, who was his brother-in-law. At a late period, Mr. F. was connected with Mr. W. in his office in Boston, and was as systematic and exact as Mr. Webster was careless and improvident.

SEASIDE HOUSE,

RYE BEACH, N. H.
By THOS. H. PHILBRICK.

The Subscriber having greatly enlarged and improved his well-known Boarding House, which is situated a few rods from the Ocean House at Rye, and nearer the Sea than any other House in this vicinity, and in full view of the Bathing Houses and the great Riding Beach—will be ready for permanent or transient company about July 1st. The terms at the Seaside House will be as reasonable as good accommodations can be afforded. While acknowledging the liberal patronage bestowed on this, the pioneer Boarding House of Rye, for more than thirty years, the subscriber would hope a continuance of the same, with his enlarged and now excellent accommodations.

Address T. H. PHILBRICK,
June 24. RYE, New Hampshire.

THE WORTH OF WOMAN.

FROM THE GERMAN OF SCHILLER.

Honor the woman! she beams on the sight,
Graceful and fair, like a being of light;
Higgledom, haggledom, hoggledom bite,
Giggledom, gaggledom, goggledom gite.

Scatters around her wherever she strays,
Roses of bliss on our thorn-covered ways:
Sniggledom, snaggledom, smoggledom, snays,
Rigggledom, ragggledom, roggledom rays.

Roses of Paradise, sent from above,
To be gathered and twined in a garland of Love;
Noodledom, boodledom, poodledom, puv,
Tweedledom, twaddledom, twiddledom twav.

New Publications.

Good Health, for July, is number two of a very useful monthly, published by Alexander Moore, Boston, and sold by the New England News Co. This number has a curious article on Taking Cold: and is accompanied by a neat pamphlet Supplement, giving the proper Treatment of persons apparently Drowned,—with illustrating cuts.

Once a Month,—for July, by T. S. Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia.—Send 50 cents, and you will get this beautiful magazine from January to June of this year, containing 576 pages of choice reading.

☞ Rev. Dr. Jonas King died at Athens, Greece, on the 22d of May. He graduated at Williams College in 1816, and left the Andover Theological Seminary in 1819. Most of his life since that time has been passed as a missionary in Greece. He married a Greek wife, who proved to be an exellent woman. Mr. King is remembered here by the elders, with affectionate respect.

—A remarkable litter of pigs is mentioned by an Illinois paper. The seven pigs have in all thirty-four legs. Two have six each, two have five each, and the other three will be obliged to waddle about on the usual number. The mother of this family has five legs.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "Lists" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,

NO. 118 WATER STREET,

PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:

Gentlemen:—On taking pen in hand with hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were inquiring of one of your agents for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new article.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the fourth now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully,

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:

Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent better than any other way. Respectfully,

OUR CHURCHES.

BY OBADIAH.

The Church Bells are chiming sweet notes from each dome, [some:
And calling on those who have "bank notes" to
For the preacher there God's Truth will proclaim
To those who have money to pay for the same.

How pleasant it is on a bright Sabbath morn,
To see thus the rich and the well-dressed throng,
Wending their way to the "House of the Lord,"
For this is a luxury they can afford.

'Tis blessed devoting one day of the seven,
In learning the way which leadeth to Heaven,
And blessed to be of the privileged few,
Who can pay the tax on a nice, cushioned pew.

The minister invokes God's Spirit there,
He pleads with an earnest eloquent prayer;
The Gospel he preaches, may it o'er prove a dart
That shall leave its impressions deep on the heart.

But where are the multitude, they are not near,
The glorious tidings of salvation to hear?
And why are the poor, God's poor, kept at home,
While in our churches there is plenty of room?

They cannot afford the church taxes to pay,
Compelled by poverty they must stay away;
Their children deprived of what should be given
As free as the air and the sunlight of Heaven.

Oh hasten the time when our churches shall be
To the rich and the poor alike—ever free.
When all shall unite in worshiping there,
Bowing as one at the "Altar of Prayer."

PRESIDENT GRANT.—The Boston Recorder of June 24, pays the following neat tribute to the modesty of Gen. Grant as President.

It is wonderful—the modest, unassuming, retiring aspect of our noble Chief Magistrate. Hundreds of people who saw him in this city for the first time, last week, in spite of all his likeness to the current pictures and engravings of him, found themselves, at the instant of their vision, almost unable to believe that that little diffident, undistinguished looking man could possibly be he. And when, yielding to the popular desire, he allowed Hon. A. H. Rice to lead him to the platform of the Coliseum, and introduce him to the thousands assembled there, it was very hard for those previously unfamiliar with his face and figure, to realize that the greatest general of the age, and the Chief Magistrate having more power, than any other, however named, stood before them. If he is, in this, the most un-American of potentates, we feel like thanking God for that, and praying that the reign of bluster and fuss and feathers may go out, and expire, under the calm common sense, and simple honesty of his dispensation. The Lord bless him, and keep him, and make His face to shine upon him, and be gracious unto him: The Lord lift up His countenance upon him, and give him peace!

ON FAILURES.—Twenty years ago the severest disaster that could befall a business man, excepting, of course serious physical injury or family bereavement, was "failure." To have it whispered on the street or published in the papers that "So-and-So" has failed, was an affliction for which there was no effectual consolation.

In these modern days, however, failure is merely an incident of business life which agreeably relieves its monotony. Formerly, failure revolutionized a man's mode of life, transferred him from an expensive house to an humble one, dismissed his servants, sold his horses, moderated his personal expenditures for dress and recreation, and made him seem what he was—a poor man. Now, if any change at all is effected by failure, it is generally a change for the better; the less money he has, ordinarily, the more extravagantly he lives.

There is not one of our readers, probably, who does not make or hear the remark almost daily, "where does such-a-one get his money.—he failed only a few months ago?" These social mysteries are multiplying constantly, and the number of men who live in luxury, hold high positions in society, and fairly glitter with the favors of fortune, having no visible source of revenue, is daily growing larger. By and by it will be established as a business maxim that the number of a man's failures is cumulative evidence of his sagacity and ability, and it will be said —not to have failed argues yourself a failure.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

MR. LINCOLN'S HORSE TRADE.—When Abraham Lincoln was a lawyer in Illinois, he and a judge once got to bantering each other about trading horses, and it was agreed that the next morning at nine o'clock they should make a trade, the horses to be unseen up to that hour, and no backing out under a forfeiture of twenty-five dollars. At the hour appointed, the judge came up leading the sorriest looking specimen of a horse ever seen in those parts. In a few minutes, Mr. Lincoln was seen approaching with a wooden saw-horse on his shoulder. Great were the shouts and laughter of the crowd, and both were greatly increased when Mr. Lincoln, on surveying the judge's animal, sat down his saw-horse and exclaimed—'Well, judge, this is the first time I ever got the worst of it in a horse trade."

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the door. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give me relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [jel5 5w] Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. Wolcott,
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers.
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came, who was wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The bottle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. Her name is Mrs. Dorcas Bailey, and she is the wife of Ex-Governor Bailey. Her disease is Dropsy, and she is tapped every week. Her friends say she cannot live long. Yours truly,* DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back. In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Depot House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen every day at the Grocery Store, one door on Main Street, near the public square.

Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all doses; he only removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JUNE 28, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 25th.

Dear Chronicle:—The Sanbornton division case caused the warmest debate and the largest sitting of the Session, on Thursday forenoon. It was the old divergence of interest and difference of taste between the city and country,—between the agricultural and manufacturing communities. It has been before different Legislatures several times, and was granted in some part no doubt because of the importunity with which it had been and is likely to be pushed. But the decision would seem to be a just and proper one, (although strongly opposed, and deeply regretted by many not directly concerned,) and we think probably both sections will prosper the more for the severence. Sanbornton was incorporated in 1770, and this division will just spoil any Centennial celebration they might have had.

The decision by the House, to reduce the measure of Milk in New Hampshire, to that used by the other States, seems at just to our own farmers. It received strong vote, and will no doubt pass the Senate and become a law.

The House had more talk for buncombe, in speeches on both sides, regarding the Constitutional Amendment, on Thursday afternoon. It was tiresome enough, with the bright sunlight inviting all out of doors—to sit and listen for two mortal hours, to political and partisan platitude, stupid and tame, irrelevant and irreverent, from the opposition of liberty, progress and free suffrage. After ten times too much talk on the subject, Mr. Hackett closed the debate and summed up the argument in a few brief and pertinent remarks, of course favoring the Amendment, and the vote was taken by yeas and nays, and carried, 183 to 130,—the divisions strictly defined by party lines. Mr. Hackett's speech was earnest and logically sound, and generally pronounced the neatest and best of all—and he ended by saying that in closing his service in the Legislature, he was thankful for the honor of raising his voice and the opportunity of recording his vote in favor of this vitally-important change in the organic law of the nation.

On Friday morning, most of the time was spent in discussing a bill to increase the amount of property to be exempt from taxation, (which is proposed now to be $40 in provisions, instead of $20, and 3 tons of hay instead of 1 1-2,) and the everlasting flowage question—the first being recommitted to the Com. for a new draft, and the other indefinitely postponed.

In the afternoon, the mileage of members was discussed, and the Speaker stated that the Session must close with the fourth week, ending July 2d or 3d.

—One matter which I desire to make a note of is, the Speakership—and I do it all the more readily, because the incumbent was not my own candidate. Mr. Wheeler makes a very prompt, efficient and dignified presiding officer, and so far as we can observe gives general satisfaction. His decisions are quickly and fairly given, without any party bias, and his ruling is seldom or never appealed from; and his evident and earnest desire and endeavor to promote harmony, preserve order and decorum, and dispatch business, are appreciated by all members of his numerous household, whatever be their political persuasion. His insisting on good order, and ordering the doors closed repeatedly, that members may not leave the Hall, and sometimes sending the Sergeant-at-Arms to bring back those who are leaving, or report their names to the Chair — would be amusing, if there was not public business to transact which demands their attention. On Thursday he privately ordered a lady removed from the gallery, for persistent talking and disturbance; and when the members begin to start from their seats, like a flock of sheep, when the motion for adjournment is being put, he obliges them to stop and "stand upon the order of their going, and not go at once."

—Hon. C. H. Bell delivered in Representatives' Hall, on Thursday evening, an excellent Address on the character and labors of the N. H. Historical Society, the works in the Library, New Hampshire authors, and other matters of historical interest; and closed with a sketch of the late Samuel D. Bell.

—Hoping and expecting the Session to finish with the week before the Fourth, as usual, I remain Yours truly, F.

☞ Ripe cherries from San Francisco, via the Pacific Railroad, have arrived in New York.

New Hampshire Legislature.

On Friday the Special Committee on the State Constabulary reported a bill, which was read twice, establishing the office of State Constable, at a salary of $1500; to hold office two years, and to have his travelling expenses paid.

The subject of reconsidering the vote passing the State Agricultural College bill, was assigned for Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Hackett introduced a resolution to adjourn on Saturday, July 3d.

The Senate passed the bill to establish the town of Tilton.

☞ Tickets for the monster Benefit Concert to Mr. Gilmore, at the Boston Coliseum on Tuesday, are selling like hot cakes—and the thing is an assured success now. The ride on the Eastern and other Railroads will be reduced, to half fare for the occasion,—to go up in regular trains, but an extra train for accomodation, will leave Boston on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for Portsmouth. Tickets from Portsmouth $3.70, for the round trip. These Tickets admit the holder to the Coliseum, only; seats can be obtained upon presentation of these tickets at the Coliseum office for $1.00 and $3.00 additional. These Tickets are good to Boston and return on any train that day, including the Extra Train which will leave Boston for Portsmouth at 8 o'clock.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

RYE, June 22.

The rain which has been falling so copiously for the past twenty-four hours will help the growing crops very much; —and grass especially, which on high ground began to feel the effects of the recent dry weather, will take a start, which can not fail to increase the crop materially. That it will be fully an average crop, is not certain. Haying, which many last week thought would have to commence by next week, will be postponed until after the 4th. The farmers have got their first hoeing done and have commenced on the second. Vegetation of all kinds look very flourishing, and the prospect for fine crops appears good at this time.

The canker worms have commenced their ravages, but have not as yet done so much mischief as they had last year at this time. Their operations seem to be principally confined to "Breakfast Hill" and on the road leading from Wm. C. Garland's to Chesley's store. The orchard of Mr. Calvin Garland looks as though fire had run through it. The application of tar to the body of the tree, about midway between the ground and the branches seems to be a preventive in some cases.

There is a prospect of a celebration on the 4th. A notice has been posted calling for 100 recruits for the purpose of forming a company of Antiques and Fantastics, to parade on that day. Last year, they celebrated, and for a first attempt made a very good display. The town never appropriated anything for celebrating "Independence Day," not even for ringing the bell, and perhaps it is not at all necessary, when there are plenty of patriotic Young Americans perfectly willing to do it from midnight until a good while into daylight for nothing; and in fact that is all they get, except the benedictions of the good folks within the circuit of a couple of miles of the Meeting House, who, if it could be so, would prefer to sleep until daylight. But it only comes once a year and the boys ought to have the privilege of ringing the bell, then, if they enjoy the exercise so much.

The preparations for the summer season at the beaches are nearly completed, and in a few weeks there will probably be an addition of a thousand people to our population, which will have the effect of producing a marked change in the general appearance of things in our usually quiet town. Some few parties have already arrived, but as a general thing matters do not assume a very lively aspect until about the middle of July. Incredible as it may appear, still it is a fact that there are a good many folks in Rye who say that they said twenty years ago when the boarding business was just commencing here, that it would prove a curse to Rye, and they "say so still," but there are quite a number of the natives, including no doubt most of those who are fortunate enough to be so situated that they can take boarders, who don't see where the curse comes in.

Everybody didn't go to the "Jubilee" last week from here. The few that did, were not sorry that they went, and came home, very enthusiastic over the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Anvil Chorus," which did please everybody, and that can not be said of some other of the selections. R.

CLAREMONT RAILROAD.—The work of marking out culverts and estimating their cost began the 24th, on the road between the "Summit" and Bradford. The office work of the road between Sunapee Lake and Bradford is now being done.

The News.

The National Intelligencer of Washington has suspended publication at the age of 69.

Advices from Port au Prince report that on the 12th instant President Salnave, after bombarding Aux Cayes forty-eight hours, landed 800 men and assaulted the fortifications. He carried the forts, but the insurgents rallied, recaptured their works, and killed or captured one half of Salnave's force.

An English boy, 19 years of age, has been executed by the Spanish troops in Cuba.

400 miles of the French Atlantic Cable have been successfully laid.

THE FARMERS' COLLEGE.—The proposition between Dartmouth and the Legislature is this; the former gives $25,000 toward erecting and furnishing a building for the Agricultural College, and the State appropriates $15,000. If the State sees fit to remove its College in 1874, Dartmouth will refund the $15,000 and take the building.

HARDLY FAIR.—The News Letter learns that Nath'l Gordon, Esq., alone sends over sixty copies of the Concord Monitor to different persons in Exeter. An Exeter man suggests that it is hardly fair for the Hon. Senator to leave out of his list an Exeter delegate, who was one of his staunchest supporters in the Senatorial Convention.

SINGULAR OCCURRENCE.—A singular occurrence, yet one that is liable to happen to any person who has a tooth extracted, took place in a dentist's office in Concord the 23d. Mrs. Eliza J. Wood, wife of Daniel Wood, had had the second molar on the left lower jaw removed and having expelled her breath in the usual exclamation of pain, drew in so strong an inspiration that the tooth, having slipped from the forceps, was drawn down into the right lobe of her lungs and afterwards settled as far as its size would admit. In such a dangerous situation, Dr. Moore, was called, and afterwards Drs Crosby and Gage. The lady was removed to her home on Pleasant Street, and to-day the tooth has been raised by coughing to the base of the throat, where an operation by incision for its removal will probably prove successful.—Pat.

—It is said that while at St. Paul, Minnesota, the other day, Gen. Breckinridge witnessed a parade of the First Regiment, and as the band played "Hail Columbia" raised his hat from his head, waved it toward the Stars and Stripes, and exclaimed, "That is the old flag, after all; thank God for it!"

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TWENTY DOLLARS A YEAR is a small sum to pay for a sense of security against loss by fire or theft of those valuables so large a proportion of mankind possess, such as bonds deeds, mortgages, plate, laces, jewelry, diamonds, &c., and yet that sum will rent a safe in the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, which are as perfect as human ingenuity can devise. Larger safes range from $25 to $100 a year. The managers also receive at low rates, for safe keeping, valuable paintings, rare books, choice works of art, family plate, town records, &c. The Manager, Henry Lee, will furnish circulars with full information.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have one of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machines, which has been in constant use for the past fifteen (15) years. It has never been repaired and to-day is in perfect order, and is equal for all kinds of work to any machine I have yet seen. It has been used in making heavy clothing, beside doing all manner of family sewing, and I think it gets better every day. TORONTO, Ontario. MRS. JOAB SCALES. jel2

—A highly intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., says that she was afflicted nearly a year, periodically, with derangement of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh. 23

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared to the sex, if they would but have faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

Holloway's Pills.—Indigestion is at the bottom of a large proportion of human ailments, and it is complicated, more or less, with all of them. Happily, there is a positive specific for it in HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Whether its presence is manifested by loss of appetite, debility, flatulence, irregularity of the bowels, sickness at the stomach, oppression after eating, headache, uneasy sleep, vertigo, or by all these combined, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the one thing needful—the remedy that never fails. Sold by all Druggists.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chelic followed by slimy, bilious stools. Therelief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, gave benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over six years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, two hundred and fifty feet of worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty volumes have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates. 1je19

A SURE REMEDY.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his great success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, loosens it from them and throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxes the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, and to heal the lungs, doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient starves and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are in a state of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by a aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Thursday, and at No. 25 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

POLICE COURT, Odell, J., Saturday, June 26th.—Edward B. Stover was arraigned on the charge of assaulting Wm. Fitzgerald, a lad of about ten years of age. Fitzgerald was gathering chips at Marcy's ship-yard, and Stover, who worked there, ordered him off. As the boy refused to go, Stover kicked him. This occured about two weeks ago, since which time the boy has been about town, although complaining of being unwell. From the Journal.

SUMMER FRUITS.—Upon the corner of the street where Daniel and Penhallow meet, the basket sign of products sweet, suggests the things we like to eat, when summer sun pours down its heat and drives us to a cool retreat. There Gilbert does with busy feet prepare his customers to greet, with all the luscious things and sweet with which we mortals seek to treat ourselves and friends with whom we meet. There are strawberries in boxes neat, (price—30 cents, he says, will be it,) bananas 6 cts. ripe and sweet, gooseberries, new apples good to eat, each 16 cents per quart; and see, it's just the store that is replete with lemons, dates, and figs complete, pineapples, and a goodly treat of many things we want repeat.

THE ROCKINGHAM TEN CENTS SAVINGS BANK has depositors residing in twenty-two cities and towns in New Hampshire, and in the following states—Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Colorado, California, North Carolina, Canada. It will be seen that a semi-annual dividend has just been declared. The amount deposited is upwards of $150,000.

PORTSMOUTH BAPTIST SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION met at Deerfield, June 9. The Baptist Sabbath schools embraced in this District were well represented—five delegates going from Portsmouth. The meeting was interesting and much enjoyed on the part of the visitors. An essay was read by Rev. A. Sherwin of Manchester on the duties of the Teacher. The officers elected were T. B. Garland of Dover, President, and Geo. H. Stevens of Deerfield, Secretary. The next year's session will be held in this city.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—We are informed that the gross earnings of the Eastern Railroad for the year ending May 31, 1869 were little over $200,000 larger than those of the year ending May 31, 1868.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—J. Hamilton Shapley Esq., agent for Mrs. M. P. Jones, sold on Saturday, to Jonathan Dearborn Esq., for $6000, store No. 29 Market street, now occupied by S. B. Plumer as a shoe store.

PORTSMOUTH BOYS.—Our former schoolboys turn up everywhere, and almost invariably with credit to themselves and their birthplace. Among the class of young men who graduated recently from the Law School of Columbia College, New York city, we notice the name of Lewis W. Frost.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION.—By advertisement in another column it will be seen that a "Normal Singing School," with instruction in singing, piano, organ, violin, guitar, notation and harmony, is to open at Dover, July 12th, and to continue six weeks. The board of instruction is a good one, and the school cannot fail to attract the aspirants for musical instruction.

MARRIAGE OF COUSINS PROHIBITED.—Both branches of our Legislature have passed a bill making it unlawful for first cousins to marry. In order not to break up any matrimonial engagements of that kind that might now be existing, the act will not be in force until six months after its passage. Whether all "the ills that flesh is heir to" can be cured by legislation, is a question in the discussion of which we should take the negative.

—Great fears of a revolution are entertained by the government of Italy, and preparations have been made in the chief cities to suppress any outbreak.

—There are now 2217 assistant assessors in the internal revenue service, or nearly 1000 less than in November of last year.

CHOICE COD FISH!
A FEW Very Nicely Cured Cod Fish at No. 44 Market St. L. LEIGHTON.

Morning Chronicle.

The Merchant Service.—No. XVIII.

A few days ago a friend handed me a book, entitled "Secrets of the Great City," one chapter of which, on Sailors Boarding-houses, is of very great interest, as showing how seamen are protected by law in the great commercial centre of the nation; but its principal importance to me is in a report made by Hon. W. F. G. Shanks to a New York journal, on the general condition of seamen, and the causes of that condition. Who or what Mr. Shanks may be I do not know; but his report is proof that he speaks truly in saying that he "has devoted much time and attention to the subject,"—and that he knows well of what he is treating. His conclusions are drawn from his own observations in New York city, and from study of the laws of the United States; mine are drawn from my own experience at sea and in foreign ports—all my knowledge of our maritime laws being deduced from their practical working in various parts of the world, having never seen a copy of any regulation bearing upon the subject. Yet, though studying under such widely dissimilar circumstances, Mr. Shanks has arrived at similar conclusions with myself, corroborating my statements and supporting my arguments in every essential particular. Speaking of seamen, he says:—

* * * They are discharged from ships without the wages due them, and have no alternative but to go to the men* whom they know will rob them; and the United States laws authorize the owners of vessels to deny them their pay until ten days after the cargo is discharged—much longer than the owners usually withhold it. It is these laws which throw the sailor under the control of the "land sharks." * * * The owners submit to this indirect control of their great interests for fear of giving offence to the men who furnish and control the crews. The United States has not a single law which would protect owners in an effort to change the system of shipping seamen, improving their condition, or protecting them in their rights. * The United States laws do not require, as they should, that every ship leaving an American port, under the United States flag, should carry its compliment of apprentices. * * Generally speaking, the very worst enemies of sailors in all ports are the consuls who are sent to protect them. Practically, they are the aiders and abettors of landlords. There may be exceptional cases, but I cannot venture to name them. A special investigation of consulate abuses would reveal the sailor as the most frequent victim.

The summing up of the report is as follows:—

To be brief, I have seen that the sailor is without protection from Government laws, Government agents, or the owners whose interests he serves. He is systematically robbed, imprisoned, and sold into the hardest of servitude, as openly as negroes were sold a few years ago in the South. If he complains of the robbery, judges, who hold their positions by the favor of the landlords who commit the robbery, release the culprit on bail, and send the sailor to the House of Detention, where he is forgotten, or finally turned penniless into the street, to wander back to the man who robbed him, to beg for assistance and work. * * After Jack has been on a packet-ship for two months, he is glad to escape, by any means, to the ills of the boarding-houses, and after enduring that slavery for a fortnight, he is only too glad to rush back to the hardships of the ocean he lately thought so terrible. His life is one desperate effort to escape the ills he has, and fly to others that he knows well enough. The sailor has no respect for Hamlet's philosophy.

When I commenced this series of articles, and asserted that the American sailor is a slave, I was not aware that any one else had ever said the same thing, or discovered what it appears only the wilfully blind could fail to see,—that our sailor-enslaving and non-protecting laws are the primary cause of the sailor's social and moral degradation. But Mr. Shanks has seen and said this, after "devoting much time and research" to the United States laws relating to seamen, and to their operation in domestic and foreign seaports; and any person who will enquire into the matter must inevitably arrive at the same conclusions. I have little hope that these laws will ever be so altered as to give to the sailor that which has been given to the negro, (a "right to the enjoyment of his life, liberty and property,") and enable Americans to boast that "the stars and stripes wave only over freemen," without being liars.

The sailor is not, and from the nature of his occupation cannot be, a political power; so there is no need to bother about him. The Democratic party found him a slave, and very carefully "let him alone." What good would it have done to have liberated him? We have added nothing to the strength of the party.—The Republicans took the helm, and found the sailor where the Democrats left him,—in the most degrading, cruel servitude; and they have "let him alone" just as thoroughly as did their predecessors. Well! what matter? Let him toil and chafe under the yoke, and groan, and rot, and die; drive him by law to the lowest dens of drunkenness and iniquity; rob and beat him, and if the dog dare complain, off with him to prison; throw him in the gutter and then sneer at and despise him for his filth; treat him as he has been treated, but do not treat him with justice. Who ever heard of justice for an old sailor?

It does no harm to keep him in slavery. He can't get up big meetings, make a row in the newspapers, and vote against the "regular candidate" in favor of some bolter who will promise him freedom. If he could do all this he would have been a freedman years ago. But he is as helpless as the Southern negro was ten years since, and far worse off; for the negro's owner was prompted by avarice to care for his property, whereas the sailor's owners in paid for being cruel; and a bold and aggressive society, powerful in the justice of their cause and their determination to uphold it, demanded the negro's freedom, but no such society advocates the sailor's right to liberty. His friends have not yet been discovered.

PAKEHA.

†From this it seems that my information as to the exis ence of such a law was incorrect.

—It is stated that petroleum oil possesses the highest efficacy as a destroyer of all kinds of insects injurious to plants or animals, and the less purified and, consequently, the cheaper it is the better. Thirty parts should be mixed with 1,000 of water, and applied where required. The Medical Times states that vermin of houses may be destroyed by introducing into the holes or cracks a few drops of petroleum.

—A correspondent of a Philadelphia paper now travelling in South America has found at Cartago, State of Cauca, some of the prettiest women in the world. He speaks of their long, silky, dark hair, which they wear in two pendants, braided for one third of the length, then loose one third, and ending in a curl.

The New Yorkers are alarmed at discovering that the water of Croton River, which supplies them, is poisoned by filth and material from slaughter houses, gas factories and other establishments.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,

No. 113 WATER STREET,

PITTSBURGH, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:

Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your lists of One Hundred papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were inquired of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making, we now add, nearly four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has led many to ask us, if we had a great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished more in a month than we could have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully,

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:

Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and through nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

GILMORE'S DREAM.

BY B. P. SHILLABER.

During the thunder storm the other night, the following singular thing occurred:

Conductor Gilmore lay in sleep,
Calmly lay in slumber deep,
When, rattling through the concave high,
Broke the thunder of the sky.
Gilmore in his dreaming heard,
And his inmost soul was stirred,
For he saw before him stand,
Choristers from every land,
With fiddlers, trumpeters, here come,
And ophicleide and kettle drum,
Shouting and sounding of 'em all
In the great Peace Festival.
His soul to the occasion rose,
His baton moved with rapid blows,
His blazing eye with fervor burned
As this and t'other way it turned,
When, as there came a heavier crash,
He shouted with an eager face,
"Don't bear so heavy on the bass!"

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.
EXETER, June 25.

The regular communication of Star in the East Lodge, No. 59, occurred last evening. At the close of the business meeting, the lady friends of the brethren of the mystic tie, to the number of 75 or 80, assembled in Masonic Hall, and a beautiful silk banner, procured by the ladies, was presented to the Lodge. The banner is elaborately emblazoned with symbolic designs on the obverse side, and inscribed on the reverse side with the words, "Presented to the Star in the East Lodge, F. A. M., by the ladies of Exeter." The presentation speech was terse and appropriate to the occasion, and was delivered in a most happy manner by Miss S. Jennie Perkins, whose remarks were feelingly responded to by the Master of the Lodge, Chas. G. Conner.

At the conclusion of the exercises at Masonic Hall, the company repaired to the Town Hall, where a splendid collation, prepared by our popular caterer, F. H. Hervey, awaited them. To this ample justice was rendered, the enjoyment of the good things provided being greatly enhanced by the "feast of reason and the flow of soul."

At the conclusion of the repast the hall was cleared for dancing, and the light fantastic toe was tripped merrily for an hour or two, to the enlivening strains of a fine band. The entire affair was one of a most pleasing nature, and heartily enjoyed by all present, both old and young.

I read in several papers that President Grant intends to visit this State next month. Among other reasons assigned for this visit, is the fact that his son, Ulysses S., is a student at Phillip's Exeter Academy (don't, Messrs. Editors, put the "Exeter" in parenthesis, as many editors do.) Now as the Academy closed for the long recreation on the 22d inst., and as Ulysses, Jr., can spend the holiday at home, it is more than probable that our noble President won't have to visit Exeter next month to see his son.

A horse belonging to one of the numerous Wiggin family of Stratham, while hitched to a post near Masonic Block, last evening, became frightened at the fire of a cigar which was carelessly thrown in front of him, and breaking his bridle, ran down Water street at a fearful rate, narrowly escaping the sidewalk and several teams, took the Newmarket road, and is probably in Bangor by this time, as I have heard nothing from him since.

The Fair by the ladies of the Baptist Society, on Thursday evening, in aid of the projected new church, was well attended, the receipts amounting to upwards of $200.

Three exhibitions of that splendid work of art, the "Pilgrim," were given last week. The audiences were small, (Jubilee week, you know,) but all who saw it are loud in its praise. Yours, H.

—A curious story is told of the rescue of a blind horse in Indianapolis by another horse gifted with vision. The sightless beast had wandered into the river and lost his bearings. He was swimming helplessly in a circle, when his companion discovered him, and having failed to lead him in the right direction by neighing, went into the water and guided the horse in total eclipse safely to land. The sight was witnessed and cheered by a large number of spectators on the banks.

☞ The Boston Coliseum building cost $125,000. The receipts from the Jubilee were over $350,000, and about cover the expenses.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.

NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [Je15 5w] Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. Wolcott.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her;
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $1 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Everything Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Dying As And succeeded would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could take in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Disease, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittsfonin a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, addressed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I was done and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain, and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Rockwell House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of your Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.
SAMUEL BUZINE.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 5, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before me the 5th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVY, Justice of the Peace,
Wilkesbarre, Pa.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. Je15 4w

To Be or Not to be Dissected.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice that one Portsmouth Editor berates our legislature for attempting to legalize dissections of those who have no friends to claim their bodies and have made no request not to be dissected; and also criminals who have been executed.

It seems very strange at this late day, that any person of intelligence should raise the least objection to a law of the kind, when the skilful practice of Surgery and Medicine depends so much upon the knowledge of Anatomy. And of course there is no other way of learning Anatomy except by dissections.

Take the knowledge of Anatomy obtained by dissections for the last two hundred years from Physicians and Surgeons, and the community, with its present knowledge of what can be done, would be astounded at the inability of the profession to relieve sufferings of the community.

The community require the medical profession to perform wonders in their profession, and yet tie their hands by prejudice. Many persons object to have a post mortem examination of a near friend; they say in a feeling manner, let them rest,— as though it would prevent rest. And yet all admit that when we are dead we are as a lump of clay, return to dust by decomposition, and enter into the growth of vegetation,—man and beasts. How can there be the slightest objection then, to legalizing dissections of those who have no friends to claim them and have made no request not to be dissected.

It would seem that the subject is so plain, rational, and useful, that it needed no argument. A hundred years ago, little or no dissections were done except in secret and on stolen Subjects. The community say that the Doctors wish dissections that they may be benefited.

Without the knowledge of Anatomy the physician gets quite as much practice and does less good; then who is really benefitted by dissections? Certainly the community. Then throw aside prejudice and let post mortem examinations occur in every particularly interesting and obscure case, and give every facility to the medical student for dissection, that he may be prepared in the best possible manner for serving Mankind. F**.

Our correspondent is a well informed Physician of extended practice and great experience. He states the views of the profession very succinctly, and his arguments are certainly worthy of careful consideration. The subject is a most important one in all its bearings and should not be decided upon without due deliberation.

That subjects for dissection are absolutely necessary, in order that the millions of living human beings may be benefitted by the discovery of the direct causes that hasten mankind to the grave, is self evident. The science of Surgery has advanced rapidly within the past 200 years, yet it seems to have hardly kept pace with the age, and it is in consequence of the difficulty of procuring proper subjects to operate upon, no doubt, that many complex diseases baffle the best efforts of our most skillful practitioners.

Without proper understanding of the "ills that flesh is heir to," it cannot be expected that their cure can be assured or that preventives can be found which shall decrease mortality. The dissection of the dead furnishes the secret of the cause of their death. The physicians who most thoroughly understand the anatomy of the human body, and have the privilege of the dissecting room, are best qualified to treat diseases of the living; and unless subjects for dissection are furnished them their operations can be in a great measure but blind experiment.

The want of the age is knowledge, and the knowledge that Surgery brings is beyond price or calculation. If the cold clay of man can be made to subserve the interests of the living, it is but natural that they whose profession is the art of healing should not only request but demand the opportunity for acquiring this most necessary information,—which can be derived in no other way.

Granted that dissections are necessary, it naturally follows that criminals should be first selected as subjects. But the demand is greater than the supply, and our legislators have hit on paupers as being the next available class; why, we know not, except under the cowardly old rule that he who has no friends is the most available man to abuse!

We have given a fair statement of the argument which necessity uses, while not favoring in any way the indiscriminate delivery of people to the surgeons, for the only reason that they are poor. Opposed to the practice of dissection is the feeling of repulsion that most people have at the bare thought of being exposed to the gaze of even the respected and trusted class of physicians. With men this delicacy is felt keenly, but with how much more feeling when women are the subjects wanted (and are the most desired,) we leave our readers to judge! Many men do not hesitate to declare their willingness to allow the dissection of their bodies after death, yet how few of the opposite sex would care to be used in that manner, even for the benefit of the living! And how repulsive it is to any one to know that there is the least possibility that a loved and respected wife, mother or sister may be the subject of the dissecting knive.

A subject more prolific in argument than this can hardly be found, and it is an all-important one to the people of New Hampshire, whose legislature is called on to provide for dissections. The party that favors the passage of the bill now before the Legislature can but lose popularity on account of it, while no member of the Legislature has the moral right to support the bill unless he is willing that not only his own body but those of his dearest friends, as well, should be placed at the disposal of the surgeons.

Our own idea of the matter is, assuming that but very few women would willingly become subjects for dissection, that such subjects should be taken only from criminals, men who consent to such a disposition of their bodies after death, and the degraded class of women who have lost all feelings of delicacy and have led a shameless life, whose only practical benefit to womankind would result from knowledge gained by surgeons after their decease.

Two men connected with Stone & Murray's circus raised a row at the Franklin House in Dover, on the 19th, brutally assaulted two men in the hotel, and resisted the officers who came to arrest them. They are now in jail, where they will stay till the September term of the Supreme Court.

Charles McDaniel, Esq., of Springfield while at work on his barn, last Monday, fell from a ladder to the ground, a distance of 15 feet, striking on his left shoulder, badly injuring his spine and otherwise injuring him.

Mr. A. A. Hall, of West Lebanon, had his skull badly factured on Wednesday, by the falling of a board upon his head, from a staging. He was at work on the Seminary. The scalp was torn off from a space five inches long and two inches wide. He is doing well.

Mr. Moses Pike, extensively known as a merchant, drover and auctioneer, died in his pasture at Groton, whither he had gone to look to cattle on the 17th. Mr. P. had evidently sat down upon the ground—whether for the purpose of rest, or by reason of feeling unusual symptoms, must be conjecture. His position and features indicated that he died without a struggle. He was 60 years of age, of great energy of purpose, and will be greatly missed in the various departments of business in which he has so long been engaged.

Messrs. Baker and Noyes, of Manchester, have invented a machine for sawing laths. It will cut 100 laths per minute.

A ladder factory in Rumney, owned by John Peppard, got out 8000 ladder poles last week. This large supply of ladders will come handy in case the Bull Mountain volcano makes things uncomfortable in that region. With about three or four ladders apeice, the Rumney people ought to be able to keep above the burning lava.

Augustus Plympton, who was arrested in Manchester the other day, for stealing a horse from Woburn, Mass., is now in Cambridge jail; and it has been discovered that he has stolen very many things, from spoons and forks, up to horses, carriages and harnesses, in New Hampshire. A lot of spoons, and one of the horses, have been recovered.

Mr. Jonathan Folsom of Laconia was recently invited to spend his 99th birth day with a son residing there. Going, he expected to meet only his son and his family, but was suprised to meet six children, ten grand-children, and some great-grand-children, who had assembled to meet him.

The State Historical Society held a meeting at Concord on Thursday evening, and unanimously passed a resolution censuring the Secretary of the Navy for changing the names of certain government vessels. The resolution in effect claims that it was a wrong act to take from vessels American names and substitute others of European and mythological origin, thus dissociating the vessels from objects calculated to perpetuate their glory.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medicines.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and desimed in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of the peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in the numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared to the sex, if they would but make trial with this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

Holloway's Pills.—Indigestion is at the bottom of a large proportion of human ailments, and it is complicated, more or less, with all of them. Happily, there is a positive specific for it in HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Whether its presence is manifested by loss of appetite, debility, flatulence, irregularity of the bowels, sickness at the stomach, oppression after eating, headache, unnsy sleep, vertigo, or by all these combined, HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the one thing needful—the remedy that never fails. Sold by all Druggists.

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, VT., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible, but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she consented to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes. They brought away, according to her computation, which she kept accurate account of, full length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty volumes have been filled upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, j1e19

A SURE REMEDY.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This digest preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his great success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, loosens the phlegm, and lays the expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or soaring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient dies of starvation.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but its the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a healthy action of the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since, has restored many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 88 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. His advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1ed

THIS DAY.

NATIONAL PEACE JUBILEE.

GRAND TESTIMONIAL BENEFIT TO P. S. GILMORE.

In The Coliseum, Boston.

By universal request, the Executive Committee have perfected arrangements to repeat, in the fullest manner, on

TUESDAY NEXT, JUNE 29,

at 3 o'clock, P. M.

THE LEADING FEATURES OF THE UNEQUALLED PROGRAMME OF THE 4TH OF JUNE, including the famous

ANVIL CHORUS,

with Cannon Accompaniment, One Hundred Anvils, Bells, &c., and

"The Star-Spangled Banner,"

together with some of the choicest morceaux of the other performances, with

Grand Orchestra and Chorus,

for the special benefit of him to whose genius uncounted thousands have been indebted during the recent Jubilee for the most Sublime and Inspiring Musical Performances ever realized.

☞ It will be remembered that when this splendid combination of popular and classical music was originally given, thousands upon thousands of persons were unable to effect an entrance to the Coliseum.

The Committee feel that they have only to announce a repetition of the grandest successes of the Jubilee week, and for so worthy a purpose, to insure one of the most brilliant demonstrations of respect and gratitude ever tendered to a public servant.

Prices same as during Jubilee week, viz.,—Reserved Seats $5 and $3, according to location. To be obtained after Thursday up to the day of performance at the Ticket Offices of Music Hall and the Coliseum.

HENRY G. PARKER, Secretary.

Railroad Notice.

SPECIAL TRAINS will be run on all the roads, at half fare,—the managers having generously tendered this concession to insure Mr. Gilmore a benefit commensurate with the magnificent success of his recent great undertaking.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

STOP GHOST!—Messrs. Editors:—Can you inform me whether or no Mr. Mumler can photograph my ghost? I don't mean the ghost that I've got inside, somewhere, but the ghost that lives up at our house, and bangs the gate and tramps up the yard with sea-boots on, and when we rush out to catch him, isn't there at all. I should like to feast my gaze on his venerable countenance once—just once. I'll tell you what he does, and how I have not caught him.

The first time he manifested himself after I had domiciled myself in his quarters was one evening when I was sitting at a table with a lady and gentleman,—I heard the gate open, close with a bang, and then regular, heavy footsteps, sounding clear and distinct on the flag-stone pavement, came up the yard and stopped just beneath the window of the room in which we were sitting. "Who's that modest fellow?" I asked. "Oh! that's only our ghost," said the lady; "there's nobody out there at all." "Nobody out there!" said I; "why, I hear him walking about now." "I know," was the answer; "that's our private ghost,—belongs to our family. 'Tisn't every family that have got a ghost of their own."

My faith in that ghost was weak, and, as I still heard him moving about under the window, I determined to make a rapid advance and capture him. So I crept to the door, flung it suddenly wide open, and rushed out bare-headed, brimful of courage and ferocity,—fell over an empty wash-boiler, landed on my hands and knees amongst a lot of flower-pots, breaking three, and blotting a splendid geranium from the face of the earth with my chin, — demoralized a soprano cat that was just commencing an aria on the cellar-case, causing that animal to develope the caudal appendage in a most astounding manner, and make a staccato fortissimo accelerando movement over the fence, —and injured my trowsers in their most sensitive point; but no ghost did I see, though a full moon made the yard almost as light as day. It won't do to mention that cat in connection with the noise,—cats don't bang our gate, and walk up our yard with sea-boots on.

I have heard him often since, and tried hard to circumvent him. I have sat out in the yard until half-frozen, but he never comes when I am out there. I set a steel trap for him one night, and found a lot of feathers in it next day. Shortly after one of my neighbors told me that the abominable boys had pulled his rooster's tail all out, whereat I sympathized with him sincerely, and offered to lend him a steel trap to catch 'em. I have sat in my chamber window and smoked, until I have drawn down anathemas upon my head from the occupants of the room next above, who detest smoke; and I have stopped out so late at night (especially Sunday nights,) that I hav'n't got home till next morning.

But all to no purpose. The mystery is a mystery still, and has preyed upon my mind until I have become emaciated,—frightful to behold. My laugh is hollow, and is seldom heard. My natural modesty, once my brightest ornament, has degenerated into bashfulness. I have become absent minded,—so much so that no longer ago than yesterday I overlooked the hash at dinner, and ate seven custards; and I have worn my room-mate's best clothes for more than a week. I cannot stand it much longer.

What is to be done? I have but one hope left. If I once had the ghost's photograph I might manage to catch him, and get his sea-boots, to wear when I go down river, fishing. I want a pair badly, but can hardly afford to buy them for that purpose only,—and the ghost's boots would fit me,—I can tell from the sound they make on the stones. If any of your readers should happen to get the photograph of a ghost with sea-boots on, I hope they will forward the same to me. It will be the likeness of our private ghost. PAKEHA.

☞ Mr. Mumler, who figured so prominently in New York lately as a photographer of departed spirits, will give an interesting lecture this (Tuesday) evening at the Temple, and his illustrations will be of great interest, and no doubt not that those who attend will be well entertained.

☞ The two young ladies from this city who have been teaching freedmen's schools at Raleigh, N. C., and one from Richmond, Va, arrived here on Monday—bringing also three colored girls with them, for servants in families.

REAL ESTATE IN ROCKINGHAM COUNTY. Conveyances for week ending June 26. (Reported for Chronicle & Gazette.)

PORTSMOUTH. — Olive L. White to Sampson L. Russell for $400. Land and building on Water street.

Joseph Grace to Charles H. Hutchings for $850. Estate on Gates St.

Thos. H. Odion to Robert Drew for $800. Land and buildings on Union street.

Benjamin Cheever to Peter Pray for $900. Land and buildings on Hanover street.

RYE.—James W. Marden to Emery C. Jenness, land for $500.

NORTH HAMPTON.—Sperry French to Sarah F. Abbott, land and part of buildings for $1200.

HAMPTON.—James L. Batchelder to Saml. F. Godfrey, land for $287.

NEWMARKET. — Nathl. Robinson to Perley W. Tenney, land and buildings for $1100.

EXETER.—Saml. Palmer to Town of Exeter, land for $50.

Sarah G. Ranlet to Town of Exeter, land for $53.

KENSINGTON. — Joseph Hilliard to James P. Bartlett, land for $400.

EAST KINGSTON.—Harry Downing to Albert Bachelder, land and buildings for $2,500.

DEERFIELD.—Elihu F. Chase to E. A. J. Sawyer, land for $250.

SPORT.—On Monday afternoon July 5th, there are to be two Trots at the Rockingham Park near this city, which bid fair to afford some good sport. For the green purse a large field of horses are promised, and the other will doubtless fill well. The Velocipeders will also make some fun. The Track has recently been thoroughly graded, built up at the turns, scraped, rolled, and a "pole" or guard built all around on the inside of the course; so that the whole beautiful enclosure, including the buildings, (which will hereafter be known as the Piscataqua Fair Grounds,) is now in fine condition, and the track, after all the late heavy rains, is thought to be well settled, and better and faster than ever before. There will be a Band of Music to make things lively. A special train will run to the Grounds, leaving the C. & P. Depot in Portsmouth at half past 1—return at 6.

☞ Very liberal arrangements are made by the Eastern Railroad, for persons desiring to attend the grand Gilmore Benefit Concert to-day. Tickets, which may be had at the Station ticket office, are put at the low price of $3.70, for the round trip. These Tickets admit the holder to the Coliseum, also; seats can be obtained upon presentation of these tickets at the Coliseum office for $1.00 and $3.00 additional. These Tickets are good to Boston and return on any train this day, including the Extra Train which will leave Boston for Portsmouth at 8 o'clock.

☞ Three more of the yellow fever patients taken from the United States school ship Saratoga have died at New York. The transfer of her officers and crew to the Frolic has been attended with the best results, no cases of yellow fever having so far occurred on the latter vessel.

The United States steamer Narragansett arrived at Key West on Sunday with six officers and three men sick with yellow fever, but all doing well. She was to sail for this Naval Station on Monday. It is also reported that the flagship Contoocook will also go North.

☞ The enforcement of the Sunday law on the 29th created quite a sensation, as well as the closing up of the saloons at 11 o'clock, Saturday night. On Monday Mr. Albert Peirce of the American House, Vaughan Street, was fined $5 for violating the Sunday law, and appealed.

QUICK PASSAGE!—The clipper "Jennie Cushman," P. Hurley, Commander, made voyage from Boston to three ports in Africa and back to Boston in 67 days, full cargo both ways, and lay twenty days in port out of that time.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.
☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.
☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.
☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.
Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

SEASIDE HOUSE,
RYE BEACH, N. H.
By THOS. H. PHILBRICK.
The Subscriber having greatly enlarged and improved his well-known Boarding House, which is situated a few rods from the Ocean House at Rye, and nearer the Sea than any other House in this vicinity, and in full view of the Bathing Houses and the great Riding Beach—will be ready for permanent or transient company about July 1st.
The terms at the Seaside House will be as reasonable as good accommodations can be afforded.
While acknowledging the liberal patronage bestowed on this, the pioneer Boarding House of Rye, for more than thirty years, the subscriber would hope a continuance and increase, with his enlarged and now excellent accommodations.
Address T. H. PHILBRICK,

Morning Chronicle.

AN AGRICULTURAL ODE.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

This day, two hundred years ago,
The wild grapes by the river side,
The tasteless ground-nut, trailing low,
The tables of the woods supplied.

Unknown the apple's red and gold,
The blushing rind of the peach and pear,
The mirror of the pow-wow cold
No tale of orchards ripe and rare.

Wild as the fruits he scorned to till,
These vales the idle Indian trod;
Nor knew the glad creative skill,
The joy of him who tills with God.

O! Painter of the fruit and flowers!
We thank Thee for Thy wise design,
Whereby these human hands of ours
In Nature's garden work with Thine.

And thanks that from our daily need,
The joy of a simple faith is born,
That he who smites the summer weed
May trust Thee for the autumn corn.

Give fools their gold and knaves their power;
Let fortune's bubbles rise and fall;
Who sows a field or trains a flower,
Or plants a tree, is more than all.

For he who blesses most is blest;
And God and man shall love his worth,
Who tills to leave as a bequest
An added beauty to the earth.

And soon or late to all who sow,
The time of harvest shall be given:
The flowers shall bloom, the fruit shall grow,
If not on earth, at last in heaven.

N. H. STATE REFORM SCHOOL.—The annual report of the officers of this Institution is just issued, and we condense its most prominent features. The annual status of the household as given by the Superintendent has been as follows.

	Boys	Girls	Total
Number May 1st, 1868,	62	14	76
Committed during the year,	68	10	78
Whole number,	130	24	154
Discharged,	29	8	37
Remaining May 1, 1869,	91	16	106

The terms of commitment vary from one to ten years, according to the nature of offence and character of the party, and the ages range from seven to sixteen years. Of the fifty-eight committed the past year, thirty-seven were natives of this State.

The authority under which commitments were made as follows:

	1869	Prev'sly	Total
By U. S. Circuit Court,		3	3
Supreme Judicial "	9	68	77
Concord Police "	8	29	34
Dover " "	1	24	25
Nashua " "	6	39	45
Manchester " "	11	115	126
Portsmouth " "	3	33	36
Somersworth " "		4	4
Justices of Peace,	17	163	180
State Prison, commuted,	—	1	1
	55	483	538

The receipts and expenses of the Institution for the year are given in the subjoined summary:

Total expenses,		$17,360.30
Less receipts,—board,	$5,327.71
Labor of children,	1,327.44
Sales of produce,	503.10
		$7,158.25
Balance,		$10,402.05

But of this balance, the sum of $2,419.25 is claimed as not belonging to regular expenses, leaving the sum of $7,982.80 as the actual deficit in the operation of the school. An appropriation of $12,000 was made from the State Treasury, which has been nearly absorbed by this deficit in expenses, and in liquidation of a very considerable indebtness existing at the commencement of the year. The outstanding claims, at the date of the report were $1,878.77 and the amount due $2,781.18; balance in favor of the Institution $907.41; with a cash balance in the hands of the Treasurer of $212.31.

The sanitary condition of the School has been good, but one death having occurred, and that from consumption. The physician reports an epidemic skin disease (?) during the winter which threatened an extensive "spread," but was readily suppressed by prompt action.

The Report of Joseph Kidder, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Trustees is a very interesting paper, and the Institution is largely indebted to this gentleman for his devotion to its interests and prosperity. The Superintendent, Isaac H. Jones, and the Matron, Mrs. Jones, are commended for their ability and assiduity in the discharge of their duties, which have been attended with most gratifying results.

OUTGROWN RECOLLECTION. — The New Orleans Picayune relates that a member of the Louisiana Legislature, who carries a pair of gigantic feet, which he slings about as he walks like a pair of flails, recently accosted a well-known member of the bar with, "Mr. M—— you know me, don't you?" M——, suprised at the question, drew himself at full length, and scanning his interlocutor from head to foot, remarked, "Well, sir, your face is a familiar one to me, but assuredly your feet have outgrown my recollection."

A Boston policeman killed a young alligator just from the South, on Saturday. It was three months old and a foot long.

The new Secretary of the Navy is said to be the best looking man in the Cabinet.

Andrew Johnson is in Washington.

American Girl trotted a mile in 2.19 at Narragansett Park on Saturday.

Secretary Robeson declares it to be his intention to improve the Navy. Good for him!

Western Kansas had the severest storm of the season on Friday.

We learn from the Commonwealth that a colored gentleman—Maj. Morris Chester, aid-de-camp of the President of the negro Republic of Liberia, and who fought in our recent war on the side of the Union, at the head of a black regiment—was the guest, a few weeks ago, of the Democratic Union, of Frankfort, Germany, which contains among its members the chief political notibilities of the town. Major Chester had been introduced to them by a letter of Karl Blind, and was received with all honors. The "black guest," as he is called, made a speech in English, on the state of civilization in Liberia, and its capital, Monrovia, in special, which afterward was interpreted by Mr. Sonnemann, and greeted with prolonged applause. At the conclusion of the speech the meeting voted its thanks to Major Chester.

Ex-Gov. Washburne, Mayor Putnam, Hon. F. G. Messer, and Gen. Anderson, of Portland, visited Concord on Friday of last week,—looking after the interests of the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad. On their return through this city, they stopped over a train to consult with ex-Gov. Goodwin, putting up at the Rockingham House. The Portsmouth & Ogdensburg route would be more than fifty miles shorter than the Portland or any other possible route—and if our citizens were as wide awake as the Portlanders, this would have been built long ago, and our excellent harbor put to some use.

It will cost Great Britain six and a half million pounds sterling to purchase the telegraph lines of the country as contemplated.

—The Missouri Pacific Railroad is to suspend business for ten days, and change the gauge from five feet six inches to four feet eight inches.

—A lady teacher of a negro school in Americus, Georgia, has been appointed deputy collector of internal revenue for the district in which she lives.

—The Missouri Democrat speaks of that part of this continent which England temporarily occupies.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,
PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave your an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.
But a short time elapsed before we were inquired of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.
The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you another list of about 100 more List of One Hundred papers, making the number now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.
The success we have had with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the "Lists" must, then, something like this with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished much more than we would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.
Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:
Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.
We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

AN OLD STORY.

NOTHING AT ALL IN THE PAPERS TO-DAY.

Nothing at all in the papers to-day!
Only a murder somewhere or other—
A girl who has put her child away,
Not being a wife as well as a mother.
Or a drunken husband beating a wife,
With the neighbors lying awake to listen;
Scarce aware he has taken a life,
Till in at the window the dawn-rays glisten.
But that is all in the regular way—
There's nothing at all in the paper to-day.

Nothing at all in the paper to-day!
To be sure there's a woman died of starvation,
Fell down in the street—as so many may,
In this very prosperous Christian nation.
Or two young girls with some inward grief,
Maddened, have plunged in the inky waters,
Or a father has learned that his son's a thief—
Or a mother been robbed of one of her daughters.
Things that occur in the regular way—
There's nothing at all in the paper to-day.

There's nothing at all in the paper to-day,
Unless you care about things in the city—
How great rich rogues for their crimes must pay
(Though all gentility cries out "pity!")
Like the meanest shopboy that robs a till—
There's a case to-day if I'm not forgetting,
The lad only "borrowed" as such lads will,
To pay some money he lost in betting,
But there's nothing in that that's out of the way—
There's nothing at all in the paper to-day.

Nothing at all in the paper to-day—
But the births and bankruptcies, deaths and marriages,
But life's event in the old survey,
With virtue begging and vice in carriages,
And kindly hearts under ermine gowns,
And wicked breasts under hodden grey;
For goodness belongs not only to clowns,
And o'er other than lords does sin bear sway.
But what do I read?—"Drowned! wrecked!" Did I say
There was nothing at all in the paper to-day?

GROW CORN FODDER.—A correspondent writing to the Canada Farmer, says he keeps a dairy of twenty-six cows, the milk being disposed of at a cheese factory; that last June he sowed an acre of corn in drills, and began cutting and feeding to the cows daily the first of July. When September rains came, he omitted the corn feeding four days, and the result was a diminution of fifty-two pounds of milk a day. The corn feeding was again resumed, and in four days the cows gave their customary quantity of milk. The increased flow of milk doubly paid the cost of feed given.

This is an important fact, and should induce dairymen to provide this kind of feed for their cows at a season when pasturage is short. In fact it would seem that the former may be profitably substituted for the latter under any or all circumstances, as the yield of green fodder to the acre is very great, and the cost of producing it comparatively light. Let dairymen heed this and provide for fodder corn to supplement the season of short pasturage.

—A Boston paper says that the Jubilee folks there have throughly scraped the country for catgut, for the mammoth peace festival, and aspired to secure the lunar bow, but found it too "high strung."

—A Western paper says: "Wanted at this office, an editor who can please everybody. Also a foreman who can so arrange the paper as to allow every man's advertisment to head the column."

—A New York paper says that a leading politician in that city had his "spirit photograph" taken by Mumler, and a "being with horns appeared in the background as his protecting spirit."

—The New York Express says that in the incomes of business men of that city, "those who advertise make the largest returns."

—A New York paper supposes that during the Peace Jubilee the Boston landlords furnished their tables with tuning forks.

—A man's wife is his best lawyer, his best counsel, his best judge, his best adviser, and also the cheapest and most reasonable.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND;
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [je15 8w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NOTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. Wolcott.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me in the night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Chills. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Drugs she had accumulated would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the time application of the Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the Public Square.

Boston Correspondence.

BY REV. I. P. HOLTON, SO. MALDEN, MASS.

A STATE POLICE.—A letter to the Legislature of New Hampshire. — Gentlemen: allow one, who, though long absent from the Granite State, still rejoices in her prosperity, to speak to you of one great want of the State for long years,—an increasing want, easily supplied. Your predecessors have enacted good laws, and have wished (apparently) to enable them to enforce themselves. They do not do it. The hand of the feeblest woman could start their ponderous machinery, and sometimes a malefactor would be crushed by it. But the friends of law have barns that will burn, harness that can be cut, and they are open to a thousand vexations from lawless men. Shall the execution of the State laws be made a profession, or shall it be done at odd hours by farmers, mechanics, and citizens in other business? The whole land is infested with rogues who make law-breaking a life-business. Shall the State employ men whose sole business shall be to make the State too hot for them? Scarcely one says "No" to this, except because there is a certain law that he wishes unexecuted. Every legislature has in it numerous friends of a Certain Law who are opposed to its execution. Men of this sort in Massachusetts refused again and again the peremptory challenge of jurors by the prosecution, solely for fear that certain law breakers would be challenged off juries in which they were wanted to impede the execution of law. Such a course smells of perjury and treason.

Last year men like these reached the legislature in such numbers that the hated Law was repealed. What was the consequence? A sudden crowding of all the jails of the State. A prison so full that the people are to be taxed for its enlargement. And what misery is gauged by each square foot of its area? An increase of criminals implies an increase of victims. A casual looker-on in the metropolis would have noticed the difference. The State Constable had demonstrated his ability to suppress illegal traffic. The trade was desperate. Tipplers carried with them a latch-key to a groggery, or learned pass-words and a free-masonry that made them ashamed of themselves. The trade could not have lived another year under Major Jones' persecutions. What it cost to elect that unparalleled legislature can never be known.

Nor was this one trade the only one to suffer. Iron doors were built to gamblers' dens. They employ detectors of detectives. No owner of the establishment can be found, and no small skill is needed to find a game in progress. Coffles of mingled gentlemen and blacklegs are marched through the streets at unseasonable hours, and all fines assessed to "Smith," "Jones" and "Brown" are instantly paid from some mysterious fund. Once this interest raised a mob which resisted unto blood and unto death, but in vain. In Massachusetts (perhaps alone of all the world) the proprietor of the gaming saloon is as much an outlaw as the coiner.

Nor is this all. Burglars and incendiaries have more to fear from the State Constable than from all other men, except the police of one or two large cities. The only security in the suburbs of Boston is from the State Police.

One thing more. There are men who are a terror to their respective neighborhoods. No local magistracy chooses to meddle with them. No other citizen can afford to incur their enmity. But the Deputy quietly comes along, talks the neighborhood over, and the nuisance is abated. The agency supplies a definite, long-felt, growing want. There is no known substitute for the State Constable.

It would be very strange if there were no great opposition to so efficient a contrivance. It is in the way of men who suck the blood of our improvident laborers, our hardy seamen, and our flush young men. And there are men of better standing than black-legs and the knights of the toddy-stick, who are incommoded by it. The college professor who was kindly allowed to pay his fine in the name of "Jefferson Davis," ungratefully turns on the power that has befriended him in the discharge of a disagreeable duty, and objects to the institution "on purely theoretical grounds." And the man who is driven to resort to perjury to escape the law, declaims forever after his acquittal against the irresponsible tyrant, not nominated at any town caucus, and who has no respect for a voter.

But as to the charge of wanton tyranny, it is absurd. The Massachusetts Deputy-Constables are zealous for the reputation of the body. A blunder, if not "worse than a crime," is no trifle. To search a scoundrel's premises in vain is no joke; to search with no reasonable prospect of finding is like attempting to rob the Banks of Newfoundland.

The theoretical objection is more foolish still. The State is bound to execute its own laws. The town of Greenland has no claim to the right to nominate a man by whom only the State shall discharge its duties. There might be some little Barnegat somewhere, whose justice, doctor, merchant, lawyer, and minister even, are interested in wrecking ships; or, still worse, the town may keep up its balance of trade by wrecking souls. That theory will not work.

It is right for the State, like an indulgent parent, to consult the wishes of localities in the appointment of officers.

But the Irish rule is a good one for Ireland. Their constables are all natives, taken from Catholics and Protestants indifferently, and of the most ignorant, too. But they must study, and must become ambitious for the honor of the corps, or they will be dismissed. And no man must be stationed in a county in which a cousin lives. And Ireland is one of the best-governed spots on the face of the earth. I am not prepared to say that its people are in no great need of being governed, or that they are an easy people to govern.

It was proposed to give Boston a new system of police. It was to consist of citizens of Boston, paid by Boston, but appointed by State authority and removable for cause only. Such a system is necessary in New York, where the outlaws elect the officers, even to the judges. I should be loath to force such a system upon Boston just yet, though the keepers of houses of ill-fame, gaming and drinking, have nothing to fear from the Boston police while they keep within certain very wide bounds. The State police, as constituted last year and at present, with necessary amendments of law, would in time clear off the worst of the crime. I am not sorry therefore to add (after my letter has long rested at this point,) that the bill has been thrown out.

I believe that a large majority in Massachusetts are in favor of a vigorous enforcement of the prohibitory law. And almost all the prohibitionists vote with the Republican party. But in nearly every town the party is managed by a clique of a few of the worst of them, I suspect,—and that these men are generally opposed to prohibition. These men our good Governor might well be excused for fearing a little. He has but to say the word and our new law will become a dead letter, but if he dare execute it he can.

It is a disgrace to a people to have dead laws above ground. They demoralize, and the cowardly good man becomes an accomplice in crimes that he dare not suppress. Legislators, to you they look not only for laws but for adequate provision for the execution of them. Shall they look in vain?

FINE CARRIAGES.—Next to purchasing a Carriage at home, so far as an assortment of vehicles can be had here,—we know and can recommend no better place to make selection from a very large and excellent stock, or two stocks at different Depositories, than the establishment of Messrs. Wm. P. Sargent & Co., of Boston, as advertised in this paper. Their large assortment comprises every variety of Carriage, whether of moderate cost or the most pretentious and expensive equipage.

There are scores of Sargent & Co.'s carriages running in Portsmouth, which always give satisfaction, as they are found to be just what is recommended, or the guaranty made good. A few days since, we chanced to see sitting side by side, two carryalls, both from this establishment,—one entirely new, and just from their mint, the other having been in family use for six years; and the latter having recently had a coat of varnish, it was very difficult to tell, except on close inspection, that it had been worn more than the other, so well made was it and so firmly had it stood a great deal of wear, — mostly with a pair of horses, too, and heavy loads.

And at the reception of the President in Boston, the other day, the elegant barouche in which he rode, a vehicle of novel and symmetrical construction, drawn by six bay horses, was furnished from the establishment of Wm. P. Sargent & Co. for the grand occasion—and there is no question but all tastes and any purse can be suited here. Let all interested read their advertisement, and when in Boston, look in at their two nice establishments, on Sudbury and Tremont Streets, and we feel safe in promising them courteous reception whether they purchase or not, and fair treatment if they do.

The News.

Bogart, the defaulting paymaster's clerk of the U. S. receiving ship Vermont, at the Brooklyn navy yard, has been arrested at Houston, Texas.

Perry, the objectionable Secretary of Legation in Spain, has been removed at the request of Minister Sickles, and Maj. John Hay, formerly Private Secretary to President Lincoln, is appointed in his place.

Boston wants to borrow a million and a quarter of dollars for widening and grading the streets on Fort Hill, and half a million for the construction of the Chestnut Hill reservoir.

The Emperor of Russia has sent a small field piece to President Grant, on which are inscribed the names of his various victories.

Removals of clerks in the Departments at Washington continue.

The French Atlantic Cable is to be landed at the island of St. Pierre, near the south coast of Newfoundland, and from that point will be laid to Duxbury, Mass. 775 miles have been laid, and the Great Eastern is expected to be on the Banks in the first week of July. It is thought the whole line will be in working order on the first of August.

The Maine State Temperance Convention met in Portland on Tuesday, and had a stormy session.

There is now no U. S. vessel in Cuban waters.

NAVAL.—Surgeon William M. Wood has been appointed Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Navy Department, in place of Surgeon P. F. Horwitz, from July 1.

—Two hundred girls answered an advertisement in the Chicago papers by the manager who is to exhibit forty thieves.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. Sold by all Druggists. my18eod3m

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and virtuous exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in the shape of a healthy flush upon the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attendant with Nervous or Spinal Complaints, Loss of Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Trembling, Dreams, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Emissions, Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restless Nights, Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this and results occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"Wild woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief begulled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient; and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared the sex, if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

Holloway's Pills.—BOWEL COMPLAINTS. The waste pipes of the system—which, like the sewers of a great city, are intended to carry off all refuse matter—must be kept unobstructed, otherwise health is out of the question. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS effect this object. Gently, but swiftly and surely, they correct all impediments; free from important channels when clogged with impurity, and restore their natural tone and natural action. Sold by all Druggists. je30

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a dose followed by copious bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cock, (publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. jel7

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty varieties have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as sets like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. Try it.

To Remove Moth Patches, Freckles, and Tan from the face, use PERRY'S MOTH AND FRECKLE LOTION. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY, 49 Bond Street, New York. Sold everywhere.—The trade supplied by wholesale Druggists. mh3daw6m

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM R. PRESTON; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh29m6md

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this unguent will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine has signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, China, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, je15

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has no sweat and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the Pills will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon healthy and healthy. Mandrake Pills are safe; they do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to take,) that will do the work but will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed. Taken with this preparation is made to assist the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and in a short time they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy. je

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and ulcerating. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach cannot digest food, and power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring a change in the stomach; the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y|a4

☞ Mr. Sewell W. Webber has a Fearnaught colt, for which he has just refused $2000. The Fearnaught is in training at the Piscataqua Fair Grounds, and is wise beyond her (y)ears. She readily unties her fastenings, and one night recently was left untied in a stall, with the door ajar and fastened with a rope, allowing a small open space for fresh air from the outside. In the morning Miss Fearnaught was found at Newington, four miles away, all muzzled and blanketed as she had been left the night before in her quarters. It is supposed that being wearied of confinement she braced herself back against the door and went out, nicely pleased with her success in breaking and not entering.

☞ The lecture on Spirit Photography, by Mr. Mumler, was delivered on Tuesday evening to a very small congregation indeed. The regular number of boys climbed up to the windows facing the stage, and, as usual, were driven away before they had made half the noise they wanted to. Some likenesses of spirits were exhibited, but no originals appeared. Those who were pleased with the exhibition probably considered it very good. A few pictures of Portsmouth ghosts would have added much to its interest.

☞ Mr. W. I. Trafton, the projector of the late excursion to the Shoals, being dissatisfied with the conduct of some of those who attended, has secured the steamer Appledore for another trip, which will come off about July 25th, and will have a select party this time, none of the objectionable characters who spoiled the amusement before being allowed to go, whether ten or two hundred respectable people purchase tickets.

☞ Mr. C. A. Oehl of this city has disposed of his patent lozenge machine to parties in New York for a small fortune, and is now engaged on a new patent. Mr. Oehl is one of the most ingenious mechanics in the country, and we heartily congratulate him on his success.

BASE BALL.—On Monday the Yales beat the Williams College club, 26 to 8; the Cincinnati's won a game with the Washington Olympics, 16 to 5; and the best game ever played for the championship between the Atlantics and Mutuals (present champions) was won by the former, in six innings, the game being closed on account of the rain. The score was, Atlantics two, Mutuals one!

An exciting foot race came off on Monday, from Great Falls to Dover, a distance of five miles, between Mac Austin of the Ben Franklin House, and Charley Taylor of Effingham. At the Annual Meeting of the Great Falls Manufacturing Company the following officers were unanimously chosen.—George W. Burleigh, Clerk; Samuel Hooper, John L. Gardiner, S. R. Payson, Patrick T. Jackson, Nathaniel Hooper, Daniel N. Spooner, Charles W. Freeland, Directors.

The opening of the new Great Falls Riding Park will take place on Thursday and Friday, July 15th and 16th, with several grand Trots. The Directors of the Strafford County Agricultural Society have decided to hold the next County Fair, on the 14th, 15th and 16th of September, in this same Park.

The salary of the Principal of Robinson Female Seminary at Exeter is $3500 per year, and house. A nice new house has been purchased for the purpose at a cost of $9,500.

The store of Mr. Asa Thurston, in Lyme, was destroyed by fire on Thursday last. Loss $12,000; no insurance.

THE GIRL WHO SANG,
AND
The Girl Who Was Silent.

The girl who was silent sat close by the window, her profile clearly against the sunset light. Mark Akenside wondered, as he watched her, whether it was "in her" to be anything else—whether any man's voice could deepen that delicate rose flush on her cheeks, or make the long lashes quiver, which shut to those quiet eyes, blue as blue seas, or stir the lips to a thrill of longing. She was like a morning sky, all rose, and azure, and pearl, with hair golden as sunlight. Who could prophecy of her high noon, her crimson sunset?

Of the other one's capacity for emotion, Akenside never doubted. She was a blonde too; but then she was intensified in every particular. Her eyes were not blue, but amber; her golden hair had red lights in it—real guinea gold you know; and then the color on her cheeks came and went like a breath of flickering flame. She was more petite than the tall stately girl who sat by the window—a little firefly, a flash humming-bird—anything else tiny and tropical. She sat now in the waning light and sang to a dreamy air—

"I'm weary of rowing,
Let me drift—let me drift!"

They fancied they knew each other well, these Desmonds, as sisters who have lived all their lives together are apt to fancy; but they were often puzzled about each other, notwithstanding. Maud used secretly to wonder whether Blanche had any heart, and Blanche gravely questioned in her own mind whether Maud had any soul.

As for Akenside, he had been near neighbor to them all the early part of his life; but his last six years had been passed in college and in foreign travel, and now he was getting acquainted with the girls afresh—really acquainted for the first time, he fancied.

Whenever Maud's ignis fatuus light beguiled him away, Blanche's eyes, clear-shining as stars, brought him back again; and between them both he felt like a pendulum. He sat and watched Blanche now—the cool, clear-cut face coming between him and the sky, looking as if in the whole range of surprises there were not one which could change her calm sweetness by a shade. Truly she was a beautiful woman. But, could she ever love?

What a triumph it would be he thought to deepen by ever so little, the rose on those cheeks, to make those level frouting eyelids droop. Then he looked at Maud.

"Titania?" he said.

The girl heard him, and rising, faced him like a queen, the silken sheen of her robes trailing around her, the golden hair crowning her small, stately head, which she bowed slightly.

"I left you a child when I went away to college, Titania, you and Blanche both. After six years I came to find you—yourselves. Out of the incongruity between what you are, and my recollection of you, has arisen a singular mistake. I packed a portmanteau with gifts for you during my travels; some for you and some for Blanche; a relic from every spot where I pitched my tent. If you had been grown up when I went away, I should not have ventured on the audacity. As it is, what am I to do with the things I brought home for two little girls? My mother wears black, and I have neither sisters nor sweethearts."

Miss Desmond did not speak, but Maud's curiosity passed the bounds of her will.

"What were Blanche's and what were mine?" she asked.

A little gleam of triumph shot from Akenside's hazel eyes.

"So you condescend to be curious? May I show you the trifles? If I bring them over in the morning can you answer for your sister as well as for yourself that they will be inspected, and fair judgement passed upon them, as to how my taste and your peculiarities accorded?"

Miss Desmond began to utter a protest, but Maud put her hands over her lips."

"Yes," she said, "I am curious. You shall bring them, and we will look at them—I answer for both of us. It is something to have been remembered among the beguilements of the fair, fair, foreign lands. We shall be grateful for the memory, at least."

"Thank you."

Akenside made his adieu then, and started to walk down the path, and Maud, who had not finished something she had to say, walked to the gate with him. He looked back once, and saw Miss Desmond sitting still where he had left her, in her glistening white robe, and thought that she suggested an angel. Might she not be destined to be the good angel of his life? And then a moment after, as Maud's syren sweet tones stole to his ear and he looked into her flushed, changeful face—did he want an angel after all? Would not a woman, a warm, radiant woman suit him better? There was little of the celestial in him, Heaven knew.

Do you complain of Akenside already? You are fortunate if the majority of men you have met in your life have not been of this kind. It is not the heroic type certainly. Once in a while one finds a man whose life is pitched above the level of the common place—for whom once is forever, the beloved woman the only possible woman—but we shall wait perhaps, till the millenium before their number is legion.

The next day was warm, with the tender brooding warmth of perfect June. The sky was deep blue, flecked here and there with fleecy white, and over the shining fields, canseless, uncertain shadows, of those white clouds, perhaps, wavered and went out. All the roses were in bloom, and the climbing vines around the verandah glowed with crimson hearted blossom.

Miss Desmond had gathered some of the palest, and put them in her hair. They drooped low and their perfect pink heightened a little, the softer bloom of her cheeks. She wore them also in the belt of her white dress, and other ornament she had none. Akenside, coming up from the gate and seeing her lean against a pillar, thought that so Miranda might have looked when Ferdinand saw her for the first time. The fancy was inconsequent and idle as most of his fancies were, for there was a speculation in Miss Desmond's eyes, an insight into men and things, which was never caught in Prospero's enchanted isle.

Just as he reached her side, Maud flashed out, a perfect Fay Vivien, in brilliant green. Her beauty was of that piquant and fascinating kind which is constantly changing, and seems, with every change, to have taken out new radiance. Akenside had been poetizing to himself about Blanche just before; but somehow Maud, all glint and grace and sparkle, put his fancies to flight with the first gleam of her presence.

A man had followed him with a portmanteau, which, at a sign from his master, he put upon a chair on the verandah, and vanished. Akenside took out a key and flourished it.

"Now ladies," he said "imagine me a magician. I can give you, being so, whatever you may wish. What will you have—silks, laces, cashmeres or jewels?"

"A heart," Maud answered sanctily.

He turned the key, and lifted the cover off the portmanteau. Then he drew out the daintiest of inlaid boxes, in which he touched a little spring and revealed an Etruscan chain of the most exquisite workmanship. From this he silently took off and replaced in the box a coral hand, carved with the daintiest art of the Neapolitans and left on the chain, sole pendant, a heart of the most perfect shade of pink coral, wrought also with the exquisiteness your find nowhere outside of Naples. Then, with the utmost gravity, he hung the chain round Maud's neck.

"Its your turn," now, he said to Blanche. "What will you have?"

"A lily," Miss Desmond answered smiling. "You used to call me by my symbol."

She thought that now she had put the magician to his trumps; but there was a curious light in his eyes. He bent over his casket, and said over some foreign words which might have been an incantation. Then he took something from it, and laid the something in her hand. It was a little casket of carved ivory, which opened and disclosed a brooch and earrings of pearls—each ring the loveliest drooping lily bell, the brooch a cluster of them.

"The poor magician did not forget the lily of home," he said, not venturing to put on Miss Desmond's ornaments as he had her sister's, but looked at her entreatingly. She had meant to take none of his gifts; but this one, so exquisite in itself, so delicately suggestive of the remembrance in which he had held her, she could not refuse. So she hung the rings in her ears, and clasped the brooch at her throat, and there was, or Akenside thought so, a shade more of bloom on her cheeks, a gleam more of brightness in her eyes.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,

PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were ingivited of an entry of orders for "Coburn's Grain Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the number now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred local papers.

The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is unknown to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the good results we have had, but we believe that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:
Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

STATE CONSTABLES.—The following is the Act to establish a New Hampshire State Police in certain cases:

SECTION 1. There shall be an officer to be called the Constable of the State, who shall be commissioned to hold office for the term of two years, unless sooner removed. He shall be appointed by the Governor and Council, and receive an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500), to be paid from the state treasury in equal quarterly payments, and the same travelling expenses allowed to sheriffs and their deputies for like service. He shall reside in Concord, or some place approved by the Governor and Council, and keep a suitable office therein.

SEC. 2. The said constable shall be satisfied from personal observation or upon application of ten or more legal voters in any city or town in this state, that the local authorities fail to enforce any law of this state therein, shall appoint one or more deputies, resident in the county in which such city or town is situated. But the number of deputies in any one county shall in no case be more than five. And the number shall not exceed twenty at any one time in the whole state. And any deputy may at any time be removed by said constable or by the Governor and Council.

SEC. 3. The said constable and his deputies, severally, shall have and exercise throughout the state all the common law and statutory power of constables, except the power to serve civil processes and also, in all the cities of this state, all the powers given therein to city marshals, police officers and watchmen, by the statutes of this state, and by the ordinances of said cities. It shall be the duty of said constables and his deputies to see that the laws are enforced and observed in all parts of the state, and to cooperate with the county solicitors, sheriffs and their deputies in the several counties, and with the city marshals and police officers of the several cities, and the selectmen of the several towns, in securing that result; and they shall especially use their utmost endeavors to repress and prevent crime, by the suppression of liquor shops, gambling places and houses of ill-fame; but it shall not be their duty to act in any case unless there shall be a failure, neglect or inability on the part of the local authorities to enforce the laws of this state, or to cause persons violating any such laws to be prosecuted and punished.

SEC. 4. The deputies of said constable shall be paid at the rate of three dollars ($3.00) per day when on duty, and when required to travel in the discharge of their duties, from one city or town to another, they shall be allowed, in addition, the same compensation allowed to sheriffs and their deputies for like service. And their accounts shall, from time to time, be audited by the constable, and, if approved by the Governor and Council, shall, upon their warrant, be paid from the treasury of the state.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!
THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!
BENJAMIN NORTON,
Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of
THE BEST PAINT!
ever offered in this city.
It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.
This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.
It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.
It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.
Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the
GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,
Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,
which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.
In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.
These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.
Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of
MEATS AND GROCERIES!
AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
It thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken had failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. (je15 5w) Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. Wolcott.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the house,
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.

She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Pretty stuff had evidently been used to fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the most thinking ever known. I shall go to Pittstown in a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.

Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 184 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $3 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

The Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 29.

Dear Chronicle:—Business drags, and there is a good deal of it—important and otherwise. It really begins to look as though the Legislature would not adjourn until after the Fourth—although a large majority no doubt desire to get through this week. Nearly the whole of Tuesday morning, was consumed in debating the raising of the price of board at the Reform School, from $1 to $2.50 or $3 per week, for towns to pay for each inmate sent therefrom—and after two hours' discussion, the matter was not decided, but is laid over to waste Wednesday morning over.

The House Usury Bill did not pass the Senate, but was amended so that the legal rate shall be 6 per cent. unless special contract be made, when the rate is unlimited. This bill goes to the people for decision, if the House agree to it. The friends of the bill see no reason why the trade in money should not be regulated like any other commodity, by supply and demand; but it is held that most of the towns and many individuals who are hiring money, would be injuriously affected. True, perhaps, to some extent, but free trade in money has not been found to work thus in other States.

The case of the tariffs for freight and passengers on the C. & P. Railroad, introduced by Mr. Reding last week, does not seem to excite much interest. Nor do we think Portsmouth has any reason to complain, at any rate; inasmuch as the arrangements are now good for business, and the rates much more favorable for the lower end of the route than formerly. Yours ever, F.

CONCORD, June 30.

Tuesday afternoon was spent in the House mainly in debating Mr. Hackett's resolution to appropriate $500 for a preliminary examination of the unused Water Power of New Hampshire, relative to a scientific survey of the same—which is bound to pass by a large majority; and the bill to increase the tax on deposits in Savings Banks which is bound not to pass, with equal strength. This last question was not decided by a party vote, many Democrats voting with the Republicans not to overtax and thus kill the Institutions for Savings—which are coming to be also among the most available and useful discount and loan Banks—and others not voting at all, Messrs. Reding and Langdon among them, though the latter we believe was not in the House at the time. The Opposition leaders urged and insisted on the passage of the bill, but the rank and file refused to follow—and the Savings Banks were saved by a vote of 213 to 66. Right, again. The vote may yet pass to increase the tax to 1 per cent., but not to make it the full rate as proposed.

Oh dear, there is so much work, and so much more talk—yes, that's what takes all the time, the talk of those who like to hear themselves better than anybody else does—that the suspicion that the Legislature may not rise on Saturday, grows and strengthens. Reason, common sense, economy and good policy forbid, and we hope may succeed in preventing this waste of time, and the $9000 of the people's money, which at least a week's session of the Legislature costs. The House adopted a rule allowing no speaker more than ten minutes, except by special permission—but we couldn't see that it shortened things much, for all the talkers felt bound to use up their allowance of ten minutes, just as the money-letters it is said would all demand the 9 per cent if that sum were named as the maximum rate of interest.

The bill authorizing County Conventions to appoint Auditors of Commissioners' Accounts, was also talked over a good deal, and will pass.

In the evening, a Republican Caucus was held, and Warden Mayo of the State Prison re-nominated,—who will be re-elected in Convention of the two Houses to-day. Capt. John Clark of Portsmouth having declined the office of Commissary General on account of ill-health, Mr. John F. Shillaber, also of Portsmouth, was nominated, and will of course be elected.

The Lake Shore Railroad is going to waste a day, probably, and we think hopelessly too.

There is much Committee work to be done, to be sure, which takes time; but really this Republican Legislature does not seem to be any too fond of work—else would they assemble earlier in the morning, and hold evening sessions, to close up their business this week. Their regular hours are from 10 to 12 and 3 to 4, though they do usually stay till about 1 and 6 of late. But there does not seem to be any snap or dispatch in the body; and as an old and experienced farmer member remarked to us yesterday, they are always ready to adjourn, except finally.

Impatiently yours, F.

June 30, Evening.

Shillaber was elected Commissary General without opposition. Mayo was re-elected Warden of State Prison, 174 to 118.

The House will probably vote to tax Savings Banks deposits 1 per cent, but the Senate may not concur.

The House refused to concur in the Senate's amendments to the Usury Bill, referring it to the people.

The Committee on National Affairs reported a resolution representing that the people of New Hampshire regret that the Secretary of the Navy has stricken from the list the original names of United States vessels. The resolution was passed. F.

THE NEW YORK BANK ROBBERY.—A despatch of Wednesday states that while patrolling Elizabeth street, the attention of a police officer was attracted to a small trunk which lay on the sidewalk. The officer found nailed to the cover a card with the following writing:

"For Captain Jordan, of the Sixth Precinct."

The officer at once shouldered the trunk and took it to the station house for the inspection of Captain Jordan.

The cover being forced open, the trunk was found to contain a large number of papers, which upon examination were found, to the amazement of the officers, to be the bonds and certificates stolen from the Ocean Bank last Monday.

They were then counted, and the value of the discovery was found to amount to upwards of six hundred thousand dollars—one of the bonds of the value of $75,000 was made payable to-day.

Others bore a new date.

The police think they may find a clue to the perpetrators of this bold robbery.

☞ Tuesday was Commencement Day at Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass., and the exercises were, as usual, varied and interesting. Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, acting President of the College, conferred the degrees on the graduating class. Josiah Calef Bartlett of Exeter received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, his portion of the exercises being a Thesis on "A Famine in India." The same degree was conferred on Wm. Henry French of Laconia. The following Overseers were elected for five years:—Rev. E. E. Hale, Hon. Wm. A. Richardson, Hon. Waldo Higginson, Hon. Chas. Francis Adams, Dr. Samuel A. Green and W. G. Russell. Robert M. Morse, Jr., was chosen to fill a vacancy in place of Prof. Chas. W. Eliot, elected President.

☞ A Paris letter says that Mr. Washburne, our minister to France, had succeeded in obtaining the release from prison of Mr. Warren of Boston, and two other Americans, who were arrested and most brutally treated by the police of Paris while they were looking on at the recent riots. Mr. Warren has formally demanded reparation from the French government.

☞ Discoveries of rich silver mines between White Pine and the head of navigation on the Colorado river are announced. One ledge is described as of very rich ore, 30 feet wide. Wood, water and grass are abundant in the neighborhood of the new mines, which are situated not far from the line of the survey of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

☞ Hon. Isaac N. Morris, one of the Commissioners appointed by President Grant to inspect the Pacific Railroad, has published a lengthy report in advance of the other members of the Commission (Gen. Warren and Hon. Jas. F. Wilson,) declaring the road unsafe and not finished in a first class manner.

THE GILMORE TESTIMONIAL CONCERT at the Boston Coliseum, on Tuesday, was attended by an audience of 15,000 to 20,000. The expenses were about $15,000, and Mr. Gilmore must have netted a handsome amount. He has commenced a series of promenade concerts, with an orchestra of 100 performers.

☞ Our Deerfield correspondent states that in that vicinity the late rains have greatly improved the appearance of grass and grain. Grass on old fields is short and thin, badly winterkilled; but on many new pieces is becoming quite heavy.

☞ It is said that Secretary Robeson is rapidly acquainting himself with the details of the Navy Department business, and will run the machine himself. We like Robeson, and think his accession to the Department means business.

The News.

The State Temperance Convention of Maine repudiated the Republican nominations and nominated Hon. N. G. Hichborn of Stockton for Governor. Resolutions were passed favoring the payment of the public debt and a State Constabulary for the enforcement of the prohibitory law.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 42 CHEMICAL WHARF, BOSTON. Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental efforts, betray the hidden mischief. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Nothing can so invigorate the mind as the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body are much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and cheerful emotions, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the vitalization and vivifying cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergoes so fascinating a change from childhood to woman, is for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Sight, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Head, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, Want of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Exposure. No Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Futuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

Morning the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum states that reminiscence of two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and almost twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sitting, sigh'd out grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are pleased to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the causes—HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY in Medicines.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous caustic is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been effectually disguised by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the fairer sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more efficacious than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general alterative, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

The Season of Exhaustion.

No matter how vigorous by nature the system and the constitution may be, there must come a time when it must inevitably suffer more or less from depleting effects of the temperature of midsummer, unless strengthened and assisted by wholesome tonic treatment. The extra pressure upon the vital force must be met and counterbalanced by an extra resistant power; the unusual and rapid consumption of animal fluids by profuse perspiration, must be compensated for by the digestion and assimilation of food taken into the stomach, from which both the fluids and the solids of the body are derived.

Otherwise the physical strength declines, and the mind, sympathizing with the machinery through which it acts, becomes depressed and enervated. A STIMULANT is therefore absolutely requisite at this season: not a violent one, calculated to produce febrile excitement, but one that which will recruit and reinforce the whole organization in proportion to the extraordinary drain to which the torrid heat is subjecting it.

This desideratum is supplied in a palatable and efficient form in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which the people of this country, after more than twenty-five years of experience, have accepted and endorsed as the best tonic, alterative and antibilious preparation which medical chemistry has yet succeeded in obtaining from the strength-sustaining, healing and purifying products of the vegetable kingdom.

Every ingredient of this famous compound has its own specific virtue, and the result of their combination is the most genial invigorant, aperient, and regulated medicine ever administered, either as a preventive or cure of the disorders most common in our variable climate. Among these may be enumerated dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, fever and ague, nervous debility, and all the ailments proceeding from imperfect digestion. The power of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS to resist malarious influences, is perhaps the best possible safeguard against the dangers which menace persons of both sexes, and all ages, during the heated term. jy1

Holloway's Pills.—BOWEL COMPLAINTS. The waste pipes of the system—which, like the sewers of a great city, are intended to carry off all refuse matter—must be kept unobstructed, otherwise health is out of the question. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS effect this object. Gently, but swiftly and surely, they carry off all impediments from these important channels, which are choked with impurity, and restore their natural tone and natural action. Sold by all Druggists. je30

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purging, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents sickness, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

L. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it for years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had to rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty patients have been poisoned, and the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is a most certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is over more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, je19

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure Consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by the act of expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest, and the healing process begins to cure.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile enters the bowels, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel is deadly poison which is very dangerous to use in connection with great care; that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made from, enables the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood, without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop the fever, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will stop themselves, of course. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcers of the Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, phlegm, ulceration, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but in the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physician having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, for which purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 33 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $3. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1a4

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—If there is a time when patience (and silence) ceases to be a virtue, surely that period has arrived in my experience.

I am especially fond of the "rose-buds" of humanity; but when, instead of rose-buds(?) there are thistles and weeds, we beg that they may be subjected to a salutary course of cultivation and pruning.

If the schoolrooms in the city are filled, we would enquire if there may not be other rooms secured for the purpose of teaching these "young ideas?" Why wouldn't a series of ragged schools be beneficial, — anything that would bring about a better state of affairs. There is a surplus of children, who are roving about, seemingly uncared for; children saucy and wild, who are rapidly sowing seed that by and by will bring forth bitter fruit, for themselves and for the city which allows them in truancy.

If citizens wish to see an illustration of this matter, let them come out of their good city a short distance,—especially at the "west end,"—come any day of the week, and during school hours, and if each one does not say that something ought to be done, and that speedily,—why, then, I'll acknowledge that jails are more to be desired than school-houses. C. A.

☞ On Wednesday, Mr. E. D. Hartson, (who is Agent for a water and heat-proof cement called Glu-ene, of which, not having seen any, we can only say that if it performs half that is claimed for it, it will be invaluable,) exhibited in our office the first real Mermaid we ever saw. It is a small creature, not more than eighteen inches in length, with the head, arms and bust of a woman, (not a very handsome one, certainly,) and the tail of a fish. We examined this Mermaid closely, but failed to discover any deception. If the creature ever really lived,—and we are rather inclined to think it did,—it gives a foundation for the old sailor's yarns about mermen and maids,—and a small foundation of fact enables Jack Tar to rear a huge superstructure of fancy. If a work of art, made for this occasion only, the Mermaid is still a curiosity.

☞ Dr. David Kimball has associated with him in the apothecary business, Mr. N. Dana Whipple, well and favorably known to our citizens. Flourish the new firm, and may the new partner attain a like respect and confidence with that reposed in the senior after his long and faithful ministering to the public welfare for nearly half a century!

☞ Mr. Geo. G. Kimball, formerly of this city, is one of the publishers and editors of the Savannah (Ga.) Advertiser, and we notice in a late number a jug-handled game of base ball between the Savannahs and a Picked Nine, in which Br. Kimball led the score (only 45 to 14) and the defeated nine drew blanks in six innings.

BASE BALL.—A gathering of all interested in the game will take place at the Plains this (Thursday) afternoon at 3.30. All past and present members of the Granite State, Rockingham, Minnehaha and Belton Clubs are requested to be present. The sport promised is immense.

☞ Our thanks to our attentive correspondents abroad. Their favors will appear more readily if they make their communications short—condense what they have to say and write nothing except of general interest.

☞ Passed Assistant Paymaster H. Trumbull Stancliff, who has been on duty at this Naval Station for the past year, has been detached and placed on waiting orders.

☞ Painted—the Band stand which has ornamented Market Square for weeks. The cattle mistook it for a hay rack on Saturday, and will be amazed at the change.

☞ Profitable — the weather of Wednesday,—to the Street Sprinkler.

☞ In the Right Place—Capt. Baker, commander of Steamer Appledore.

☞ Thundering Squally—the wind and weather of Wednesday.

☞ Inexcusable—keeping that umbrella, this weather!

☞ The Boston Advertiser publishes the following comparative table which shows the tonnage of American vessels engaged in foreign trade for the past nine years, together with the increase and decrease during the same period, as compiled from the consular returns:

1860	5,963,780.02	Decrease.
1861	5,020,099.90	883,680.12
1862	4,305,808.38	714,294.62
1863	4,148,360.40	156,944.18
1864	3,000,342.73	1,148,317.67
			2,903,437.59
		Increase.
1865	3,554,990.94	554,648.21
1866	4,414,393.95	859,403.01
1867	5,881,363.60	466,969.05
1868	5,724,766.15	843,402.55
			2,724,424.01

Total decrease in tons for nine years.....179,013.87

These figures show that the recovery has been almost as rapid as the depression; and if the tonnage of American vessels sailing under foreign flags were added, they might appear much more favorable. The great increase in population and in all the products of a rich and growing country has created the necessity for a still more expansive commerce; so that the prevalence of peace for another decade should make the carrying trade of the United States rival that of the most prosperous commercial nations on the globe.

FRENCH LIBERTY OF THE PRESS.—Henri Rochefort, editor of the Paris Lanterne, has been convicted of the charge of illegally introducing his journal into France. He had been sentenced to three years imprisonment and to pay a fine of 3000 francs. To these penalties are added the forfeiture of his right of citizenship for three years, including the right to vote in any election or to occupy a seat in the Corps Legislatif. MM. Simonson and Jourden, the editors of the Siecle, have been fined 500 francs, and each editor of the Opinion Nationale has been condemned to one month imprisonment with a fine of 500 francs—all for violations of the press law.

MOUNT DESERT.—This summer resort is enjoying a growing reputation and the prospect this season is that the crowd will be large. The Eastern Railroad has published a gratuitous guide for tourists, which presents an attractive picture of the natural and historic features of the place.

☞ The month of roses just closed, we think, has been less lovely, and given us fewer perfect days, than any June we ever knew. Let us hope better things of July.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2, per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

THE GIRL WHO SANG,

AND

The Girl Who Was Silent.

For Maud, there were ornaments of the carven coral to match her heart—roses exquisite, over one of which a bee hovered, fastened by art so delicate that it seemed poised in the air. Maud had been the rose of the old time, as Blanche the lily, and now in her turn, a gay triumph glanced in her eyes. He gave her sandal wood, also, for she liked powerful odors, and otto of roses, each drop holding the distilled sweetness of an eastern garden; but Blanche would take nothing more. In vain he chook out oriental silks, shawls heavy with patent stitches, laces like cobwebs. Even Maud protested that she should care nothing for her choral roses, and carved sandal wood, if she had to be weighed down like a Chinese idol. So silks, and shawls and laces were packed up, and Maud told him they must be kept for the only woman who could wear them with propriety—his wife.

"And if she never comes?" uttering a last remonstrance, as he turned the key.

"Then you may leave them to me in your will."

"What a satire it is on our belief in immortality," Blanche said, "that we can take gifts so much more readily from the dead than from the living. We are all heathen in our instincts, and fancy those who have died out of our sight are mere dust and ashes, done with forever."

"Perhaps you women shrink from the gifts of the living lest the giver should claim too much in return," Akenside ventured, bending toward Blanche, and sending his eyes downward through hers into her soul to search out if he might, its secret thrills.

Maud had not noticed this by-play. She had brought out her hand-mirror, and was looking into it at herself and her coral roses.

"What could you ask that I would not give in return for these, even to the half of my kingdom?" she cried, gaily.

Akenside turned to her then, and saw the amber eyes which some new radiance kindled, the cheeks flushed with soft bloom, the gold-red hair tumbled out of its silken net, such as Titan painted for his bella-donna, ages ago, and if Blanche had swayed him a moment before, a yet more powerful magnetism drew him now to Maud.

Was soul or sense strongest in this man? This was the question the Fates were trying to solve, using these two women as tests. But he did not know it. He was conscious of a strange confusion of ideas. If only he could be in the world with one of these two, without the other!

The Fates smiled, and gave him, in effect, this opportunity also. Maud was sent for by her godmother; not a fairy godmother, but a rich old aunt of her father's who had named her, and from whom she had great expectations. The girl cared little for money, having never known the want of it. She would willingly have thrown up the whole affair, let the great aunt nurse her rheumatism and her wrath in solitude, and make her will in favor of the other branch of the family, for the sake of remaining herself in the neighborhood which the presence of Akenside had begun to make profoundly interesting to her.

But her father and mother had more worldly wisdom, and insisted on her obeying the summons which had been sent her. She was whirled away, therefore, as fast as nineteenth century steam witchcraft could hurry her, and Miss Desmond, in her white robes, and her calm graciousness, was the only one to speak Mr. Akenside's welcome when he went over to Woodside that night as usual.

There had been for him something about Maud—a gleam too bright for clear seeing; but now that the sun was withdrawn for a time, the calm moonlight stole into his soul, till he wished that it might never be high moon again.

In those days and nights he thought he had found the gate to a new Paradise.

One day—the last of July—he told this to Miss Desmond. She heard him at first with a shadow of doubt in her eyes. Maud was expected the next day. She wished he had waited and said these things after he had seen Maud again. At last seeing no escape she told him so.

"Do you think I do not know myself?" he asked her proudly. "I am no boy, and I have never yet been tempted to say to any woman what I say to you now. The only question is, can you love me?"

"It is not the only question," she answered, mournfully. "I love you well enough; but what if I should fail to satisfy you?"

"And I swear to you, that if you love me enough, you will not fail."

So, urged by his pleading and her own hope, Blanche gave up the point, and allowed herself to be happy. She seemed to be re-created. Even Maud would never have questioned, seeing her now, whether she had any heart. The deep calm of her nature was broken up at last. Now light was in her eyes, more bloom upon her cheeks. She was pure as pearl still, but radiant as moonstone.

A telegram came that Maud would stay away a week longer—a sen'night which was long enough for Blanche to drain the bubbles from this to sparkling cup which her lover was holding to her lips.

He came over the next morning after he had won Miss Desmond's confession that she loved him, with triumph in his eyes, with the mien of a king who has been crowned, a hero who has won a victory. He brought with him the little exquisitely wrought hand he had detached from the chain which he gave to Maud.

"I kept this back," he said, "because I could give my hand to but one. It seems to be symbolic. Will you wear it?"

"Your heart did not seem symbolic, I suppose, as the gift of that could be multiplied infinitely," she retorted, softening the words with a smile, however; and bending over for him to fasten the gift round her neck.

But she thought with sharp and sudden pang—"He gives his heart to Maud, and his hand to me."

Still she banished the prophetic pain, which seemed to her at once morbid and ungenerous; and perhaps she was happy enough in the seven days which followed, to balance fairly some sad hours to come. Is there not an alchemy in young true love, which can distil into a week bliss enough for a life? After Egypt had melted her pearl and drank it, she would have been inconsistent indeed to expect to see it shining clear upon her bosom.

The second week in August brought Maud back at its beginning. The understanding between Akenside and Miss Desmond was so new, he was so careless, and she so delicate, that it had not yet been talked about as an engagement, or even come to the understanding of the father and mother on either side. Miss Desmond was an invalid, and of necessity left her girls so much to their own devices that she had utterly failed to discern as much as was patent to clear-seeing Maud at once.

"He either loves her or thinks he does," she said to herself the first night.

The thought was bitter to her. She had begun to care for him before she went away, and the tedium of her absence had nursed the fancy into something she believed to be the love of her lifetime. Had she lost him by that absence? She determined to watch them both narrowly. She went to the piano in pursuance of this thought, and sat down at it. It fronted the wall, so that as she sat before it she could see the face of the room. She commenced playing a dreamy nocturne, in which she seemed absorbed; and, so sitting and watching, she saw some looks, heard some tones, which told her their own story. At last she began to sing.

Her voice had no wonderful power or wonderful sweetness, but it had a curious, prevailing individuality of its own. With singular pathos in her tones, she sang a song, in itself full of despair:

"We're all alone, we're all alone!
The moon and stars are dead and gone;
The night, at deep, the world's asleep,
And you and I are all alone!

What care have we, though life there be?
Tumult and life are not for me!
Silence and sleep about us creep;
Tumult and life are not for thee!
How late it is since such as this
Had topped the height of breathing bliss?
And now we keep an iron sleep—
In that grave then, and I in thee!"

Before the first verse was over, a power he was not strong enough to resist, had drawn Akenside to the piano. Listening with his soul, he looked with his eyes. This girl was beautiful, surely, with the red glint in her golden hair, the full tide of light in her great amber eyes, the lips that sang and the voice that charmed. Was there anything as satisfying, any such fullness of emotion in his quiet Blanche? The next moment he looked at her, pearl white and pure, as she sat silently by the window, and hated himself that he had asked the question.

Concluded To-morrow.

A NEW STOVE!

THE UNION RANGE!
MADE BY BARSTOW STOVE CO.
A very Neat, Smooth, Heavy and Convenient
COOK STOVE.
It has Six Boiling Places, and A Large and Quick Baking Oven.

A customer who purchased one, a few weeks ago, has baked four biscuit in it in Eight Minutes!

The Stove can be used for Wood or Coal, and is Economical with either. It has the Good Qualities of the high-priced Stoves of the day, and yet is sold for 10 or 12 dollars less, which makes it very desirable in these days when money is scarce.

The fact that this Stove meets the wants of the community, is abundantly proved by its Rapid Sale.

To all persons desiring to obtain a very excellent Stove for a little money, we say "Buy a UNION RANGE." And we shall be pleased to show the Stove to any one, whether intending to purchase or not.

Call and See it at the Stove and Furnishing Establishment 46 Market Street.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.
The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,
PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we sent you a supply added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.
But a short time elapsed before we were inquired of on every side for "Rowell's Hundred Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.
The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the number now in use altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.
The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors of agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement you have made with you is profitable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great success we have had, but we believe that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.
Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1868.
MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:
Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.
We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully,

The Chronicle.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

PORTLAND, ME., June 28.

Eds. Chronicle:—Gen. J. L. Chamberlain was renominated on the 24th at Bangor. The grand Comedy of "Hownot-to-do-it," was capitally played. "Who's to be U. S. Senator" is the next conundrum! The Republican convention, or rather Chamberlain's friends, were compelled to insert a Prohibition plank in the platform, which they have not done before, and the Temperance men are jubilant. After all the boasting of superior strength and the majority (sic) being on their side, they show that it was buncombe by catering for the very Temperance vote they affected to despise. If this had not been done, there would not have been any choice by the people, and Chamberlain would have been shown to be a very weak candidate. Stormy times ahead! The conservative—good-drinking Republicans don't like it.

Gov. Chamberlain has appointed Gen. John Marshal Brown as Inspector General of the State Militia—a good selection.

The U. S. Government have decided to build a light house on Half Way Rock. The light house will be similar to that of Minot's Ledge. The tower will be 60 feet high, 22 1-2 feet in diameter at the base and 17 feet at the top. It is expected to be finished in 1870.

The votes in the Methodist Churches in Maine largely favor Lay Delegations.

A quarantine is to be established outside this harbor by the city government.

The 5th of July will be celebrated with Regatta, Base Ball, Company Q, Floral Procession, Salutes, Bell Ringing, &c.,—a home affair.

Trowbridge & Hart from the Howard Athenæum are coming here at the City Hall, July 10 and 12, with Budworth, Cavanaugh, Engel and others besides their own individual selves—a fine vaudeville company, and as they appear in the City Hall, they will have crowded houses. May many myriads move Momus-ward making money move muchly. Mirth, music, melody may merry moments make. SANCHO.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

PLAISTOW, June 29.

The farmer, who, a few days ago, was fearful of but a small yield of hay, to day rejoices over a plentiful fall of rain, and what was apparently almost a failure, to day appears to warrant nearly an average yield.

The small amount of snow which fell last winter in this part of the state, covering the ground at times only a few inches, all of the time quite light, did not prevent it from freezing very hard, which nearly killed many of the grass roots; and had it not been for the recent timely aid of the rains, must have proved far more hurtful than it will now to the hay crop.

The apple crop promises but light; many farmers who last fall sent apples to market will hardly be able to supply the home demand.

There are quite a number of fine orchards in this part of the country, Newton, perhaps, claiming the greatest number of productive trees. And going through Plaistow, Hampstead and Danville, a fine orchard is seen in every half dozen miles. Many of these are young, some just commencing, others nearly large enough, to yield their fruits.

Hon. Wm. H. Hill of Plaistow is interesting himself considerably in laying out and adorning his grounds. He has under cultivation quite a large number of fine grape vines, and last year produced some fine clusters of Black Hamburgs in his green house. This Spring he grew a fine lot of tomato plants, and has a fine orchard of young trees directly along the railroad track of the B. & M., under fine cultivation.

J. C. Bradley of Danville has some of the finest strawberry plants in the County: a single plant being large enough to fill a half bushel measure,—and some of them are still larger than this. The strawberries are green yet; the ground being late but they promise great things. Wild strawberries are very plenty and a few hours pic king fills large baskets to overflowing.

Pickerel are plenty in our ponds, although since the time the law allows catching them they have been caught fast. Almost every one goes fishing and most catch something. Y.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and do daily work. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [je15 3w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. Wolcott.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman.
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a livery stable came called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Malaria. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained my medicine she had consumed amount to a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday morning PAIN PAINT was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I was able to dress myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of PAIN Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen at my shop, in the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.

DR. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He prescribes all diseases, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person the Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 30.

On Wednesday, the bill for a State Board of Agriculture passed the House. It provides for a Secretary with an office in Concord—salary not to exceed $500, and one member from each County; and appropriates $1500 in all to forward the cause. The idea is good,—and it ought to pass the Senate.

A bill to punish Baggage Smashing was passed, and should be enforced, and the outrageous practice stopped.

Mr. Hackett, for the Special Committee on National Affairs, to whom was referred the Joint Resolution entitled a Resolution relative to New Hampshire names of Naval vessels of the United States, reported in favor of the following, which were adopted by the House, and sent to the Senate, where they will of course pass:

Resolved, (by the N. H. Legislature,) that the people of New Hampshire have seen with regret, the recent action of the late Secretary of the Navy, in striking the New Hampshire names of Passaconaway, Suncook, Piscataqua, Ammonoosuc, Contoocook, and Pompanoosuc, from the Naval vessels of the United States,—because it removes cherished local associations with the common glory of the Navy, by which these sons, in all branches of the Service, have contributed their full share.

Resolved, that the Secretary of the Navy be respectfully requested to restore the above recited names to the Vessels which formerly bore them.

Resolved, that His Excellency the Governor be requested to cause a copy of this joint resolution to be forwarded to the President of the United States and to the Secretary of the Navy.

The bill to increase the price of Board of the State Reform School, from $1 to $2 per week, for the Towns to pay, was passed,—after much, very much, discussion. It will go through the Senate also, I suppose.

The Afternoon was wasted in discussing the Saving's Banks tax bill, and passing an Act which the Senate must kill or it will kill the Banks,—which provides to tax the deposits and accumulations 1 per cent, and that these institutions shall keep one-half their capital in the State. Mr. Hackett spoke earnestly and well against it, and Speaker Wheeler left the chair and did likewise; but the House seems bound on financial suicide for New Hampshire, and the bill went through, by a large majority. I give the Senate and the Governor credit for too much sense to concur in it.

And as the Senate adheres to their amendments to the Usury Bill, I do not think there will really be any change made in the Interest law this year.

Come to find out, the law of 1867 merged the office of Commissary General in that of Adjutant General—so the former office, with its $30, in bonds, and only $10 salary, should not have been filled last year or this. The done brown incumbent of last year brings a bill for (unordered) services of nearly $200, but the Com. on Military Accounts have not yet reported in favor of paying it. When they do, I will let you know.

The House on Thursday passed a bill submitting the bill for a State Constabulary to the people at a Special Election ext November.

The question is, shall we adjourn this week? Doubtful.

Yours, whether or no, F.

☞ Chief Engineer James W. King, Chief of Bureau of Steam Engineering, is on a visit to this Naval Station and the workmen think it means work.

The only thing that agitates the minds of the Navy Yard workmen now, is the question of more work. We have as good mechanics as can be found in the country, and the pay is less than at any other Station, and the work can certainly be done as cheap and as well here as elsewhere, as that on the Nantasket and other vessels will show; and we trust the new Secretary of the Navy will soon send more work to this Station.

Our correspondent at the Navy Yard urges that some action may be taken to secure the desired work, and thinks those who do so will receive the gratitude and hearty support of the laboring men.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.—Spending the last Sunday in June with the Universalist Church, in Roxbury, (or Boston Highlands,) of which Rev. A. J. Patterson is pastor, it was our privilege and pleasure to hear, in the afternoon, a fine occasional Sermon from Rev. Mr. Herron, of the Methodist E. Church.

The occasion was this. When the Methodist church in that neighborhood was destroyed by fire, the Universalist Society and their pastor offered the use of their house to the suffering society, and the offer was accepted, in preference to several others, as being the most eligible. The expectation then was that a new house for the Methodist Society would be ready for use in about eight months; but by various misfortunes and disappointments it has turned out to be sixteen;—and the service on Sunday afternoon, was an appriate Farewell to the Universalist House, and a grateful acknowledgement of the kindness, liberality, and Christian courtesy of the Universalist Society and their pastor.

The text was that well remembered sentence of the Psalmist, Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.

The preacher showed that the unity of spirit in the bonds of peace, had been thoroughly preserved between and among the members of the two societies, during all these months, and he kindly attributed this result to the generous spirit of the Universalist Society and especially of their pastor, who, when the Methodists felt as if their welcome might be worn out, renewed the grant with such expressions of pleasure and fraternity as made them feel quite at home.

He stated, also, that a United Prayer Meeting of these two churches had been held weekly during the whole time, in the Chapel of the Universalists, in which members of both took parts indiscriminately.

From these statements, and more of the same sort for which we have not room, he remarked that several important lessons had been learned; one of which was, that it was possible for two churches to worship together in Christian love, differing at the same time very widely in some points of doctrine.

Another was, that each had learned to understand the other better, and consequently their charity was strengthened; and a third was, among the many, that even in theological and doctrinal views, while on some important points they were opposite, yet there was a very large region in which they accorded perfectly; and as to moral, social and Christian effort generally, they felt, and spoke, and acted, very much alike.

At the Prayer Meeting in the evening, also the closing service of that kind, an assembly of four or five hundred were edified by the repetition of similar sentiments from a score of persons of both churches, and by the mutual wishes for each others' prosperity, and the mutual prayer God speed you. It was good to be there. T. H. M.

Dr. Haas's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It is a vegetable preparation and when taken, the matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

The elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure a refreshing sleep. All this and much more we ask is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 43 CENTRE WHARF, BOSTON. Sold by all Druggists. my13eod3m

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is sent from school, and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon the disease.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the malady is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in differing from the condition and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! Increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole nervous system is in a state of irritation, and a fearful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the bloom of health is in anxiety, and buries the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following distressing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Wind Rumbling, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Head, Nervous Irritation, Wakefulness, with Horrors, Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Want of Mobility, Want of Confidence, Want of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Exposure; Timidity, Want of Manhood, Nervousness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this unfortunate nervous condition follows—Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample testimony to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief seem to be thought a moment of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequence. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no toxic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and combined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous agent form a part of the old treatment. Price three shillings and six pence.

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more efficacious than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

The Season of Exhaustion.

No matter how vigorous by nature the system and the constitution may be, they must necessarily suffer more or less from depicting effects of the temperature of midsummer, unless strengthened and sustained by wholesome tonic treatment. The extra pressure upon the vital forces must be met and counterbalanced by an extra resistant power; the unusual and rapid consumption of the animal fluids by profuse perspiration, must be compensated for by the digestion and assimilation of food taken into the stomach, from which both the fluids and the solids of the body are derived.

Otherwise the physical strength declines, and the mind, sympathizing with the machinery through which it acts, becomes depressed and enervated. A STIMULANT is therefore absolutely required at this season: not a violent one, calculated to produce febrile excitement, but one that which will recruit and reinforce the whole organization in proportion to the extraordinary drain to which the invalid has been the

This desideratum is supplied in a palatable and efficient form in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which the people of this country, after more than twenty-five years of experience, have accepted and endorsed as the best tonic, alterative and antibilious preparation which medical science has yet succeeded in obtaining. Fortify the strength-sustaining, healing and purifying products of the vegetable kingdom.

Every ingredient of this famous compound has its own specific virtue, and the result of their combination is the most genial invigorant, aperient, and regulated medicine ever administered, whether as a preventive or cure of the disorders most common in our variable climate. Among those may be enumerated dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, fever and ague, nervous debility, and all the ailments proceeding from imperfect digestion.

A course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is the best possible safeguard against the dangers which menace persons of both sexes, and all ages, during the heated term. jy1

Holloway's Pills.—BOWEL COMPLAINTS. The waste pipes of the system—which, like the sewers of a great city, are intended to carry off all refuse matter—must be kept unobstructed, otherwise health is out of the question. Gently, but swiftly and surely, they carry off all impediments from these important channels, which are clogged with impurity, and restore their natural tone and natural action. Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chole followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgatives, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, Publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being troubled with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she could not find the worm. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and there is no doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA;

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates. je19

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—These are the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup, after being coughed up from the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has no pain in the side or lungs.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely and the liver is thoroughly relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, neutralizes the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to dry up the body, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, leaking the lungs, consume, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcers, Scrofula, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial inflammation, or ulceration of the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not to by the lungs that are wasting but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 236 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 33 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

APPLEDORE.—I have just made my fourth voyage at sea. My first was taken in a boat, owned by a harmless old genius who used to write poetry for the newspapers over the signature of "Boiling Rock." One day I got into his boat, and he was going to take me up river to where he lived; but before we started he read a piece of his poetry and asked me what I thought of it. I scoffed, and called it "bosh;" the result of which was that I didn't go up river that day. On the contrary, I got out of Boiling Rock's boat pretty quick—Boiling Rock were very large boots. That was my first voyage. My second was to catch a whale, and it took me three years to catch him as much as was required. For the third, eleven years and as many different ships were needed; and the last, and much the most pleasant, was a trip to the Shoals and back in the steam-yacht "Appledore."

The Appledore was built for the Messrs. Laighton of Appledore Island, by Messrs. Pryor & Plummer of this city; and if all the vessels they build are as well constructed as this one, they need not fear any inspection of their handiwork; for as far as model, timbering and fastening are concerned, she would do to go round the Horn, or anywhere else. She has unusual breadth of beam for a screw propeller, which greatly increases her passenger accommodation, and makes her very steady in a sea-way; a spacious and neat cabin, and a very smooth-running engine.

Every precaution is taken for the safety of passengers. The life preservers are handy, and a good boat, fitted with oars and rullocks, hangs at the davits, and can be lowered away at a moment's notice. Her commander, Capt. Edw. M. Baker, is an experienced, careful seaman, who faithfully performs his duty in attending to the comfort and security of passengers, and, in common with all the employees of the boat, willingly imparts any information in his power, in an agreeable and gentlemanly manner. The engineer, Mr. Woodbury Lord, is always at his post, (not a small item to be considered in calculating the security of a passenger-steamer,) and looks after his engine as a hungry man does after a baker's cart. The idea of danger on a trip to the Shoals is absurd,—and of seasickness too, almost. You hav'nt time to get comfortably seasick before you are out there.

Modest people—I mean those too modest to eat as much as they want when they are hungry, and can get enough to eat—had better not visit Appledore. The cool sea breeze, and an hour's ramble over the island with a lady friend,—no honest man would go anywhere without a lady companion,—gets up an appetite that can only be appeased by stowing a lot of cargo under hatches. [That's a sea phrase—I learned that from Capt. Baker.] But years ago I outgrew the moral insanity that makes a man leave a table hungry while there is anything left to eat,—and they have plenty of provision at the Appledore House, and know how to cook and serve it up in appetizing style. I have an infallible test of hotel cookery. I always go for a potato the first thing, and if that is well cooked all the rest may be taken on trust. Many people think they can boil a potato, but only a select few can really do it. They can cook potatoes out there,—and their chowder would make a New Zealander laugh pickaninny soup to scorn, and hesitate to pass his plate for the boiled missionary. Everything was neat, clean and attractive,—especially that pretty little waitress, looking at whom was the cause of my putting salt in my lady companion's cup of tea,—and the sweetmeats, if they were not good, tasted very good. I ate enough of them,—I ought to know.

Of course, we had a shower; there's always a shower when I go anywhere. But it was a good shower,—twice as good as the one Portsmouth had at the same time,—and invigorated me so much that I could have remained out there for a week, doing nothing; but I was obliged to return. In an hour and ten minutes from the time the buoy was slipped at Appledore, we were on the wharf in Portsmouth,—not bad running against a head wind, with twenty pounds less steam on than the boat is allowed to carry,—after the most comfortable voyage I ever made. What with the moderate fare and pleasant rides on the boat, and the good air, walk and dinner on the island, I know of no more enjoyable and economical method of securing a day's pleasure, than by taking a trip to the Shoals; and feel quite safe in promising those who try it, courtesy and attention from Messrs. Laighton at the elderly Appledore, and from Capt. Baker on board the young one. PAKEHA.

☞ The wretches who steal the flags and beautiful bouquets from Soldiers' graves in our cemeteries deserve to be hung up by the heels, and have their hair pulled out by the roots. The friends of the departed heroes go to much expense and trouble to adorn the graves and are grieved to find them robbed of these mementoes of remembrance. The sacrilegious thieves should be brought to justice, and for that purpose it might be well to detail a policeman for duty at the South cemeteries. Among those whose graves are ruthlessly desecrated, we regret to learn, is that of an old and respected schoolmate, Lieut. C. Cushman Haven, who laid down his life in defence of the country, which can repay the sacrifice by tender remembrance. If the depredators are caught by the friends of those who rest in these graves so wantonly robbed, their scalps will be in danger.

BASE BALL.—The Mutuals of this city go to Newburyport, Monday, to play with the Independents of that city. The Mutuals are the challenging nine.

A game of five innings was played at the Plains on Thursday, the players being chosen from members and former members of the Granite States and Picked nine. The former won by a score of 13 to 9.

☞ It will be seen by Mr. Montgomery's Advertisement that his Writing School is to be re-opened immediately. We learn that a number of the scholars of New Hampton Institute, (who have been his pupils there,) are to spend their vacation here, for the purpose of perfecting their hand-writing under his tuition.

☞ The second clerkship to the Commandant at the Navy Yard has been abolished. Mr. Geo. H. Abbott, who has held the position for the past two years, engages in business elsewhere, we hear. His friends in this vicinity will regret his departure.

☞ We learn that Mr. Daniel B. Stiles of this city died suddenly a day or two since and a post mortem examination resulted in finding a cancer on the kidneys weighing three pounds. The deceased had been unwell for three years.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ The fourth public concert by the Cornet Band comes of this (Friday) evening, weather permitting, on Market Square.

☞ Nevada chickens feast on grasshoppers.

☞ Not Settled Satisfactorily yet—the umprella question.

DEATHS.

In New York, of yellow fever, on Saturday, June 26th, Mr. HIRAM L. DICKSON, of Eliot, Me., aged 36.

In York, June 25th, GRACE MERROW, daughter of Almon H. Merrow, aged 6 years. She attended school on the previous Friday.—June 26th, of inflammation of the bowels. Mr. GEORGE E. MOULTON, aged 20 years. This young man, in full health, a very robust, athletic person, was out on Thursday morning, about 36 hours before he died. This is a sad loss, as he was a steady young man, and was loved and respected by all who knew him, and his sudden death casts a gloom over the whole hommunity and more especially among his many young associates.—June 28, Mrs. MARY MOULTON, wife of Capt. George Moulton, aged 70 years. This lady was taken suddenly ill on Thursday evening—had been in good health prior.

THE GIRL WHO SANG, AND The Girl Who Was Silent.

Concluded.

"But the days and the nights went by, and Maud glittered forever before his eyes, or sang her way into his heart; and he felt himself growing helpless; beseiged in his stronghold by Fate.

One day, in a mood of desperation, he proposed to Blanche to make their engagement known, and ask her parent's consent to an early marriage. He thought that this disclosure would serve to bind him—to impress upon him his obligations, and strengthen him in his conflict with himself. But to his surprise, Blanche determinedly refused. They would wait a few weeks, she said. This gave him an opportunity to reproach her with want of love. She only smiled. She said to herself—"Let him think I do not love him, if he can. It may help him to forgive himself more readily when the time comes."

By which you will perceive that she loved him so well, she was ready to lay heart and life alike under his feet. If Maud had quite understood her quiet silent sister, she might have been more merciful, though she had never yet much regarded any law save her own will: but there were some riddles she would never guess, and youth and love were strong within her. So she glittered on, and after a while Mark Akenside's eyes were dazzled, and he saw nothing clearly.

"I wish I had stayed away from you," she said one day, petulantly—she was often petulant to Akenside now.

"By heaven! I wish you had never gone!" he cried, in sudden passion, and then he turned and met the steady, calm gaze of Blanche, who was just coming into the room. He was not too brave to quiver in every nerve. Had she heard him? What had he done?

Maud shrugged her pretty shoulders with an air of ennui, and went through the low window, down a walk set with pine needles below, dusky with pine boughs above.

Akenside waited for Blanche to speak. She was above all pettiness or dissimulation. She looked at him with sad, kind eyes, and a patient smile, which pierced him like a sword.

"You see I was wiser than you," she said. "I always feared that I knew you better than you knew yourself. But you must not think I blame you; I know you have been fighting a battle."

By this time she had taken off the little carved hand, and now she laid it in his palm.

"You see that it was more truly a symbol than you knew. It belongs where the heart had gone before. Heart and hand are joined by divine right, I think."

Mark Akenside had never loved any woman as passionately as he had hated himself just now. He believed that in giving up Blanche, he gave up the good angel of his life; and he longed to catch her escaping robes; to kneel in dust of humiliation at her feet, and force his way into her heart again by the very force and passion of his supplication. But something in her look forbade him, and made him sure that it would be worse than useless.

"You are too good for me, he said slowly; "and yet, if you had had patience enough you might have made a better man of me than I ever shall be now."

She did not answer him save with a gleam of tender pity in the clear, kind eyes, which shed more bitter tears for him than he would ever guess or know."

"He really thinks now, with Maud out of his sight, that he is in earnest," she thought, as she went away with a look of gentle compassion for his weakness which only the strong sweetness of her own nature saved from being touched with scorn.

"Poor fellow, how ungrateful he would be some day if I would take him at his word!"

He went away from her, but he did not follow Maud to her shady path. In bitterness of spirit he went home, with self-contempt stinging him sorely. When he laid up the little coral hand which he had brought with him, he persuaded himself that it was forever, unless in time, his remorse and his constancy should win for him Blanche Desmond's pardon.

He stayed away from Woodside a whole week nursing the aforesaid constancy and remorse; but when he went back there again Blanche was gone.

She had chosen this epoch to make a long delayed visit, and leave the field clear for Maud. That young lady received him coldly. He wondered whether his absence had piqued her, or whether her sister had told her any secrets; showing by this latter conjecture how little he knew of Blanche after all. Like a man (not like a hero) he wanted to solve this mystery, and so set himself at work to break down the barrier of Maud's coolness, and again she wove around him her subtle, glittering meshes. In two weeks he was more hopelessly her captive than he had ever been her sister's.

One day moved by some superstition, he carried to her the hand of carven coral, and hung it on her chain. "When heart and hand have gone together, all must be right," he said to himself.

This time his engagement was made known at once, and received the parental sanction. It saved his pride that these ruling powers had never been notified of the other one.

He asked his betrothed, after she was his betrothed, what had been the strong fixed purpose in her life which she had once so earnestly asserted, and so resolutely refused to tell him.

She smiled archly in his face with her answer—"to make you love me, dear."

Blanche came home in time to help with the wedding preparations. Akenside had wondered once whether it was "in her" to love. It was not in her, certainly, to parade her woes, or hang out any signal of distress. She was calm, and stately, and gentle—mistress of herself, through all. Maud, who has not one-twentieth her capacity for unselfish loving, will probably go on to the end, doubting if her sister has any heart.

As for Akenside, he will see sometimes from afar, the calm and stately lily he had not discernment enough to gather, with a pang of regret and longing; just as doubtless he would have sighed now and then for Maud's butterfly beauty and glittering grace, if he married her sister.

The one who was best and noblest among the three suffered most, but that is the way of the world. Would you, rather for that reason, be Maud than Blanche?

DEATH SUPPOSED FROM EATING COLORED CANDIES.—George Neal of Tuftonsborough, employed in the blacksmith shop of Mr. Jesse D. Hall of Wolfeboro', twenty years of age, came to his father's, Mr. Nath'l. Neal of Tuftonsborough, on Saturday night last. At about nine o'clock in the evening he was taken vomiting, which continued until about twelve. Doctors were called, but no relief obtained. The young man continued to sink until about 4 o'clock, A. M., when he died. We learn that it is the opinion of the physicians that he was poisoned by the coloring matter in colored peppermints, of which he ate quite freely on his way to Taftonborough.—Wolfeboro' News.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for the City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON,

Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,

No. 118 WATER STREET,

PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:

Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave your agreement for insertion of your lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were inquiried of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but express our surprise at receiving by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the number now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The more we talk with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have entered into. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully,

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent better than any other way. Respectfully,

FALL RIVER LINE

FOR New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all principal points West, South and South-west.

VIA TAUNTON FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin, $5.00; Deck, $4.00.

Baggage checked through and transferred in New York free of charge.

New York trains leave the Old Colony and Newport Railway Depot, corner of South and Kneeland Streets, daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows: at 4.30 P. M., arriving in Newport 40 minutes in advance of the regular Steamboat Train, which leaves Boston at 5.30 P. M., connecting at Newport with the new and magnificent steamers PROVIDENCE, Capt. E. Simmons, and BRISTOL, Capt. Benj. Brayton. These steamers are the fastest and most reliable boats on the Sound, built expressly for speed, safety and comfort. This Line connects with all the Southern Boats and Railroad Lines from New York going West and South, and convenient to the California Steamers.

"To Shippers of Freight," this Line, with its new and extensive depot accommodations in Boston, and large pier in New York, (exclusively for the business of the Line,) is supplied with facilities for freight and passenger business which cannot be surpassed. Freight always taken at low rates, and forwarded with despatch.

New York Express Freight Train leaves Boston at 1.30 P. M., goods delivered in New York next morning about 8 A. M. Freight leaving New York reaches Boston on the following day, at 9.45 A. M.

For further information, inquire of agents at the Company's office at No. 3 Old State House, corner of Washington and State Streets, and at old Colony and Newport Railroad Depot, corner of South and Kneeland Streets, Boston.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.—The New Hampshire Temperance Alliance presented the following "Ten Facts for the Legislature to Consider:—"

1. It is a fact that the Prohibitory Liquor Law of New Hampshire is not enforced in a considerable portion of the State.

2. It is a fact that it is not enforced because of the local influences, political in their nature, that largely control County Solicitors, Mayors, Sheriffs, and Selectmen.

3. It is a fact that a Constabulary Law will greatly tend to secure the enforcement of existing criminal laws. The State Constable will be appointed by the Governor and Council, and thus be independent of all local and party influences. There is a manifest propriety in the State providing means to secure the enforcement of State laws, and no valid objection can possibly be urged against the measure.

4. It is a fact that the Christian and Temperance people of New Hampshire, irrespective of party distractions, demand just such a law, and if the Legislature does not grant it, they will appeal to the ballot-box for redress of their grievances.

5. It is a fact that, wherever fairly tried, the State Police measure has proved a wonderful success. In Massachusetts, in three years, it compelled 3000 rumsellers to abandon the traffic, and drove the nefarious business into dark cellars, unfrequented by-ways, and the club-rooms of its victims. Temptation was thus removed from the young, and the unlawful traffic was driven out of sight.

6. It is a fact, that, in all human probability, the measure will be one of economy to the State. It is the only scheme that has ever been devised that compels the violator of law to pay the expense of his prosecution and conviction. The receipt of the Massachusetts State Police for three years, as shown by the recent report of the Chief of the department, was $72,000 in excess of the entire expense of the force, including salaries. And when it is remembered that the city policemen of Boston cost $495,000 annually, and pay into the treasury less than $25,000, while the 65 State Policemen collect in fines and prosecutions more than enough to cover their entire expenses, the efficiency of a Constabulary Law, viewed from a financial stand-point, cannot reasonably be questioned.

7. It is a fact that a Constabulary Law will diminish crime, add to the happiness of the people, prolong life, and largely contribute to save our State from the evils that threaten her. New Hampshire has been long enough ruled by rum and considerations of party expediency, rather than by the dictates of principle. We propose to do our part toward rescuing her from the downward course, and we look for help from the representatives of the people. If, ultimately, we are driven to the conclusion that our only safety lies in the way of political action, we will not hesitate to strike in that direction.

8. It is a fact that the wives and mothers of New Hampshire want this law. Blasted hopes, scalding tears, broken hearts, appeal in solemn words for its enactment. The present generation need it as a shield; coming generations will recognize it as a benefactor.

9. It is a fact that this is the most important measure that, has been presented to the Legislature this session. In the name of the people of the State we protest against such action as was taken in 1867, when we asked for a similar law. We respectfully, but firmly, urged that discussion should be allowed, and that the bill should receive the careful and conscientious examination of every member of the House.

10. It is a fact that it is always safe to do right! Our request is reasonable and just. We ask it in the interests of suffering humanity. In their behalf we plead, and into your hands, with its tremendous consequences and responsibilities, we leave the matter, earnestly trusting that party considerations may be laid aside, and that all good men in the Legislature may unite in securing the result we are aiming to reach.

—At the dedication of Rev. Robert Collyer's new church at Chicago on Wednesday week, an attempt was made to "lift" part of the immense debt upon the edifice, no less than $113,000. Dr. Bellows and Mr. Collyer both made brief appeals, after which the hat was passed around, and the contribution reached the unparalleled sum of $70,000.

—Vermont and New Hampshire people are to have a musical camp meeting at Lyndonville in the former State in August when the Jubilee is to be repeated on a smaller scale. All the participants are to camp out for the four days of the festival and a tent capable of holding two thousand persons will be erected for the concert.

—It costs ten dollars in Natchez, Mississippi, to get drunk and indulge in the pleasing sport of shooting down citizens indiscriminately.

—Chicago parties have made contracts for the regular delivery in that city of fresh grapes from California by the Pacific Railroad.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even better than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [jel5 6w] Very truly, MRS. J. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
TO DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir:—A little
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had lost her confines
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.

She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her mouth was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint. She had got a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Doctor in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. She said that consulting the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR. In a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so bad that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; I suffered great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him. Patent in hand, in less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness. I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.
SAMUEL BUZINE.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 5, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before
me this 5th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVEY, Justice of the Peace,
Wilkesbarre, Penn.

Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Physician in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. [jel5 4w

SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 2.

Dear Chronicle:—It is a little irksome to yours truly, (who was only able or satisfied to leave his own business at home, by doing office duty—printing-"office" duty, from 2 o'clock A. M. to car-time on Tuesday,) to see the public business going so slow, and yet nobody seemingly able to push it any faster. In fact, although every member that I meet seems desirous to get through, yet nobody can really aid much in that direction. Things must and will take their course—Committees do not and cannot report bills requiring consideration, in a minute,—and the everlasting, always-beginning, never-ending speech-makers cannot be easily stopped or choked off. And then the delay of the Lobby's influence is more than all.

So I have made up my mind, that red-tape in official matters, and the routine and formal deliberation in City, State and National Councils, are necessary and inevitable,—just as is the always vexatious delay in getting the horses started at a horse-trot. Pshaw! says some reader, here is horse-racing again. Well, hold your horses, wait for the wagon, don't kick over the track, and let us see why not a—good horses are certainly as valuable and useful animals as bad politicians, and even jockeyism on the trotting-course as honorable and respectable as the political fugling and wire-pulling, especially by the third house, by which much of the Government is affected or effected. Shakespeare says, you remember, that all the world's a stage, and if so, of course there must be somebody to drive,—and the drivers are the people who are looked to now-a-days, in business or pleasure. The main precaution needed is, that you don't get a-going too fast, in either respect, so as to endanger yourself or others.

I find very pleasant quarters at the Phenix Hotel, where under one landlord or another, your correspondent has been very comfortably provided for during many years, when visiting Concord,—and which is the acknowledged head-quarters of travellers and Members from our section,—several of the Portsmouth delegation always stopping here. More "members" than usual we think are at the numerous boarding-houses this year, so the hotels are not crowded so uncomfortably. Mr. J. L. Seavey, an experienced landlord from Maine, now has the Phenix in charge, and with his competent clerks, gives good general satisfaction.

The House voted to recall the Agricultural College bill, on Thursday, and debated the bill taxing foreign Insurance Companies, without taking action thereon.

The bill forbidding Clams to be dug on Hampton flats in June, July and August, was passed in the House on Thursday, after quite a clamorous discussion of the matter, in which several of the members from Clam-Shell Corner took part. It provides $10 fine for each offence, half to the prosecutor and half to the Town Treasury.

On Friday, after a lengthy debate, the House passed the Military Bill. It appropriates $3000 or $4000 only in all for Military matters. Mr. Vaughan of Portsmouth defended the Adjutant, and was opposed to all the amendments and to the bill itself. He had listened with mortification to the attacks made on a faithful officer, the parade made of small bills for clerk hire, &c. He believed the Adjutant-General had uniformly done his whole duty. Adj'd to Monday evening at 9 o'clock. The Legislature will probably sit all next week.

I think the Lake Shore Railroad Bill will pass next week, with a proviso attaching the Portsmouth & Dover R. R. thereto,—or in fact, about the same as the Portsmouth & Ogdensburg.

☞ In the Providence Board of Aldermen, recently, a resolution was adopted, by the casting vote of the Mayor, declaring that no licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors be granted during the ensuing year. This action will give much encouragement to the friends of temperance in Rhode Island.

—Rev. P. H. Greenleaf, Rector of the Emanuel Church, in New York, recently died of apoplexy, while writing in his vestry. On the note paper was written a portion of the memoranda in the diary, showing that he had left off writing at the letter "u" in the word "house"—having been overtaken by death before the work was finished. The body was sitting in the chair, feet and limbs partially under it, the hands hanging listlessly by the sides, the head thrown back, with mouth and eyes open—he being dead, but not cold.

The News.

The amount of the bonds, checks and coupons stolen from the Ocean Bank of New York and returned is $268,021,29.

The Cuban fillibusters were returning to New York when they were captured by the revenue cutter.

A convention is to be held at Memphis, Tenn., on the 13th inst., for the encouragement of Chinese immigration to the Southern States.

The Bon-Lowell base ball match at Boston on Thursday resulted in the success of the Lowells in five innings by a score of 35 to 12.

The iron brig Novelty has arrived at Boston from Matanzas with 84,075 gallons of molasses in bulk. The saving by the use of tanks instead of hogsheads was $2000 on this cargo.

The prohibitory law in Massachusetts is being strictly (?) enforced.

The holders of confederate bonds in England have had another meeting. Mutual sympathy was the only result.

Seward is in San Francisco.

Two men were killed by an explosion at Dupont's powder works in Wilmington, Delaware, on Thursday.

At the Gettysburg dedication, on Thursday, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher made the Prayer. Gen. Meade made an Address, Senator Morton of Indiana delivered an eloquent oration and Bayard Taylor read an original Poem.

The decrease of the public debt in June was $16,410,132.54. The decrease since March 1, 1869, is $36,460,569.43.

Gen. Sickles sailed for Spain on Thursday.

New Hampshire Items.

The city of Dover has purchased a stone-crusher and a steam-engine, to break stone for repairs of highways, especially on hillsides.

One Frank Rogers has been arrested in Dover, for stealing two watches from a shop.

The factory of J. B. Folsom of Dover, turns out nearly three thousand yards of floor oil cloths weekly, when in full operation.

A Manchester lad, named Edward Baldwin, is his anxiety to be admitted to the High School, made a perfect owl of himself, in addition to his day studies. His mind became so much affected that he was sent to the Insane Asylum.

A "widdy" named Mrs. Mary Murray tried to drown herself in a canal at Manchester, on the 29th. She was fished out, and when asked her reason for attempting the act, told the policeman that as he was not a priest she would not confess to him.

The tomb of James Buchanan is built of New Hampshire granite.

GRANITE STATE MILITARY AND COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.—The Commencement exercises of this institution, located at Kreef's Ferry, N. H., closed on Thursday last. The examination of the classes took place on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday last, and the students acquitted themselves in a most creditable manner, leaving no doubt of their own industry or the thoroughness of their instructors. The military exercises were equally satisfactory, and whether on dress parade, in the bayonet exercise, the skirmish, or the artillery drill, the cadets showed admirable proficiency and discipline. Senator Sprague of Rhode Island delivered the oration, in which he expressed the opinion that military instruction is the best system of education. Many distinguished visitors were present, and the opinion generally prevails that the school is in a flourishing condition.

☞ In the U. S. patent office at Washington, there were three vacancies in the grade of second assistant examiner of patents, for which seventeen candidates presented themselves for examination, each being required, without leaving the room in which it took place, to give written answers in one hundred questions. The selection was made wholly on the fitness as shown by these answers, and the successful men were M. B. Phillips of Cincinnati, J. G. Parkinson of New Hampshire, and W. R. Singleton of Virginia. It is worth noting that Mr. Parkinson is one of the young men who graduated last week from the Deaf Mute College.

—There was a fierce riot in a lager beer garden at Baltimore on Sunday. The belligerents locked the gates so that the police could not enter, and then went at it with pistols, bowie-knives, stones, and other weapons. Finally the police obtained entrance and put a stop to the fight, but not till several persons were badly cut and otherwise wounded.

[It seems to be hardly worth while for police to interfere in such a case; but perhaps there might be a few innocent persons there, whose heads were worth saving.]

—Three New York brokers, John Ross, Jr., C. B. L. Bazen and S. V. French, were arrested on Monday on the charge of having been concerned in the robbery of the Park Bank in February last. Some of the bonds stolen from the Bank were found at the office of one of these men.

—It is believed by the ex-President of the Royal Astronomical Society of England that the length of our day has been and still is increasing, and that it may be expected ultimately to become as long as a year.

—Bismark has really refused to recognize as United States consul at Barmen, Prussia, Mr. Emil Hoechster of Chicago, lately appointed by the President to that position.

—"How does that look, eh?" said Mr. Cramp, holding out his brawny hand.

"That," said Amos, "looks as if you were out of soap."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

—A highly intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., says that she was afflicted nearly a year, periodically, with derangement of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh. 23

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have one of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machines, which has been in constant use for the past fifteen (15) years. It has never been repaired and to-day is in perfect order, and is equal for all kinds of work to any machine I have yet seen. It has been used in making heavy clothing, besides doing all manner of family sewing, and I think it gets better every day.

TWENTY DOLLARS A YEAR is a small sum to pay for a source of security against loss by fire or theft of those valuables so large a proportion of mankind possess, such as bonds, deeds, mortgages, plate, laces, jewelry, diamonds, &c., and yet that sum will rent a safe in the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, which are as perfect as human ingenuity can devise. Larger safes range from $25 to $100 a year. The vaults are also receive at low rates, for safe keeping, valuable paintings, rare books, choice works of art, family plate, town records, &c. The Manager, Henry Lee, will furnish circulars with full information.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and languishing mien betray the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. But if one of the weaker sex is removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned towards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom of puberty. Nature is to show her power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has powers by what it fed on; the stomach and system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change, from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Pimples on the Face, Loss of Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance, Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such persons than Society, but nothing then more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Mind, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

Confusion of Ideas allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample testimony to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is seldom vivified with quite destitute—neither Mirth, nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low utter sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above disease and symptoms, we are prepared by all to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obtained. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medical novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It combines two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and is recommended in the depressed state of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh. 23

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy; and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible nauseous and dangerous compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among vegetable or mineral preparations, and the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. Erasmus Winslow's Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

The Season of Exhaustion.

No matter how vigorous by nature the system and the constitution may be, they must necessarily suffer more or less from the depleting effects of the temperature of midsummer, unless strengthened and sustained by wholesome tonic treatment. The extra pressure upon the vital forces must be met and counterbalanced by an extra resistant power; the unusual and rapid consumption of the animal fluids by profuse perspiration, must be compensated for by the digestion and assimilation of food taken into the stomach, from which both the fluids and the solids of the body are derived.

Otherwise the physical strength declines, and the mind, sympathizing with the machinery through which it acts, becomes depressed and enervated. A STIMULANT is therefore absolutely required at this season; not a violent one, calculated to produce febrile excitement, but something which will recruit and reinforce the whole organization in proportion to the extraordinary drain to which the torrid heat subjects it.

This desideratum is supplied in a palatable and efficient form in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which the people of this country, after a trial more than twenty-five years of experience have accepted and endorsed as the best tonic, alterative and antibilious preparation which medical chemistry has yet succeeded in obtaining from the strength-sustaining, healing and purifying products of the vegetable kingdom.

Every ingredient of this famous compound has its own specific virtue, and the result of their combination is the most genial invigorant, aperient, and regulated medicine ever administered, either as a preventive or remedy for the disorders most common in our variable climate. Among these may be enumerated dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, fever and ague, nervous debility, and all the ailments proceeding from imperfect digestion.

A course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is the best possible safeguard against the dangers which menace persons of both sexes, and all ages, during the heated term. jy1

Holloway's Pills.—BOWEL COMPLAINTS. The entire pipes of the system—which, like the sewers of a great city, are intended to carry off all refuse matter—must be kept unobstructed, otherwise disease is certain to ensue. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS effect this object. Gently, but swiftly and surely, they carry off all impediments from these impoverishing channels when clogged with impurity, and restore their natural tone and natural action. Sold by all Druggists. je30

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the form and practice of purgation, pills which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of a similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and physicians considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. The tape, carework and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took twenty-four boxes. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" and the "Medical Gazette," more than thirty varieties have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

and Professor Chilton, over his own signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. Try it.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d23

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of the "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Cuts, Wire Cuts, Old Galls, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

Thousands on thousands are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in First bottles, One Dollar. The genuine has signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is unsurpassed for cure, and we do not doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates,

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digested and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the diseases and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has no pain in the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder; the bile starts freely, and the liver is made healthy; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use) that will act with great care; then will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which is the preparation for the gastric juice in the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they use medicine to stop the cough, to stop the chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerous Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, phlegm, ulceration of the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are diseased, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to make Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in health, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption, and it is sure.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He then took to the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.

He is professionally at No. 32 Hanover Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. Advice is given free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1m4

SEASIDE HOUSE,

RYE BEACH, N. H.

By THOS. H. PHILBRICK.

The Subscriber having greatly enlarged and improved the Seaside Boarding House, which is situated a few rods from the Ocean House at Rye, and nearer the Sea than any other House in this vicinity, and in full view of the Bathing House and the great Riding Beach,—will be ready for permanent or transient company about July 1st.

The terms at the Seaside House will be as reasonable as good accommodations can be afforded.

While acknowledging the liberal patronage bestowed on this, the pioneer Boarding House of Rye, for more than thirty years, the subscriber would hope a continuance and increase, with his enlarged and now excellent accommodations.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

CITY COUNCIL.—In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening it, was voted to lay a common sewer in Vaughan street, and a stone sewer in Bridge street, below Hanover.

The profile, &c., of the Highway from Middle St. to Lincoln Avenue, made by A. M. Hoyt, Esq., was accepted, and the subject was postponed until after the Court decides the land damages.

Alderman Nowell was authorized to hire the Portsmouth Cornet Band to play on Market Square on the evening of July 5th.

Voted not to concur with Common Council in amending Ordinance No. 105 so as to exempt hotels from the operation of the Sunday Ordinance.

In Convention, Messrs. George E. Hodgdon, Calvin Page and James D. Butler were elected Fence Viewers.

McDonough St. was accepted.

Adjourned for four weeks.

ANTIQUES AND HORRIBLES.—This noble band of ragamuffins, just imported, will have a grand parade and torch-light procession, preceded by Gideon's Band and organized by His Honor W. I. Trafton of glorious memory, at 7 o'clock on the morning of July 5th. Sweet music may be expected, the company having so much "brass" in their faces that none was left to make bugles of. Members of the order are requested to be on hand on their feet, early; residents along the line of march are desired to desecrate their houses; and it is hoped that ladies will refrain from waving handkerchiefs to or throwing orange peel at the procession, and will keep all children under two years of age out of the streets. The route is to be through Middle, Congress, Walker, Hanover, High, Deer, Vaughan, Elm, N. Prospect, Dennett, N. Elm, (thro' depot Avenue,) Deer, Bridge, Islington, Anthony, Middle, Court, Water, State, Summer, Islington, Congress, Fleet, Court, Pleasant, Water and Daniel streets to Market Square, where the assembly will be dismissed with the Rogue's March,—spectators invited to join in. Per order of the Q. Q. J.

S. TICKINTHEMUD, Chief Marshal.

☞ Our citizens are to have an opportunity shortly, to hear the celebrated and effective singer of Sacred Melodies, Philip Phillips, whose performance elsewhere has met with high commendation from distinguished sources. See advertisement of Concert at North Church.

☞ The office of Paymaster Edwin Putnam, Purchasing Paymaster at this Naval Station, has been removed to the rooms formerly occupied by Mr. J. C. Butler, over the store of C. E. Shedd & Co., 25 1-2 Congress Street.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ Two missing umbrellas have been restored to this office—but the particular one we so urgently call for is as yet non est. Will the person who has it please loan it to the owner?

☞ Rev. H. H. Baker, of Orange, Mass., is to preach at the Universalist Church, to-morrow.

☞ Ten marines have deserted from the U. S. S. Penobscot since her arrival here. The vessel is now at quarantine.

☞ The dead body of a marine was picked up in the river near Badger's Island on Friday afternoon.

☞ The Band gave their fourth Concert on Market Square, Friday evening, a large audience being in attendance.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Jacob H. Ela, M. C. for this District, was in town on Friday.

☞ Mrs. Arabella A. Mansfield has been admitted to the bar in Iowa. The examining committee report:

That Mrs. Mansfield has passed a most eminently satisfactory examination, giving the very best evidence of a long and careful study, of excellent application, and a thorough acquaintance with the elementary principles of law. She is about twenty-four years of age, and her husband was admitted at the same time. Perhaps they may form a business partnership.

☞ Rev. Mr. McKeown is the Methodist Minister in Roxbury, Mass., who recently preached in the Universalist Church there, as noticed in the Chronicle of Friday. Our error in the name arose from pencil writing, not very plain.

☞ A few days since potatoes were sold at St. John, N. B., by auction, for fourteen cents a bushel, and they are now worth but seventeen cents on P. E. Island.

From the Journal.

ENFORCING THE ORDINANCES.—Agreeably to the order of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, passed on Tuesday evening of last week, the Police, under direction of the Mayor as chief, last Saturday evening enforced the closing of all saloons and places of refreshment at 11 o'clock, and prohibited the opening of any bar-rooms on Sunday, which created considerable sensation among those interested. Only one arrest was made for violation of the Sunday ordinance, Mr. Albert Pierce, of the American House on Vaughan street, who was examined before Judge Bufford on Monday, and fined $5.00 and costs. It was not proved that he sold any liquor, but that his bar-room, which is in the office of the main entrance to his hotel, was open, contrary to the ordinance. He appealed, and gave bonds for his appearance for trial at the next term of the S. J. Court. The Mayor's brewery was in operation all day without molestation from the police.

Mr. Editor:—In your notice of the Engine and Machinery of the U. S. Steamer Nantasket, which sailed a few days since from this Naval Station for Boston, I notice an omission of the name of one gentleman which should be added to the list of those who had charge of the construction of that Machinery; one to whom this Naval Station is more indebted for that work than to any other, and that is Chief Engineer R. M. Bartleman. It was through his influence, and his alone, that the Chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering ordered the building of Engines and Machinery for two Steamers—then contemplated to be constructed, and named Alert and Epervier.

I think that justice to Mr. R. demands this notice—not doing any injustice to the Chiefs named in the article referred to. CCCCCC

NAVAL.—U. S. Steamer Penobscot arrived in our harbor on Tuesday. She was detained at quarantine on account of sickness on board, and the diseased men conveyed to the new hospital on Wood Island. This hospital, just erected by government, comprises a main building 132 by 18 feet, divided into three rooms, and in connection therewith is a cook-room 25 by 15 feet, furnished with all modern improvements. There are also two buildings for officers' quarters, 22 feet square, each having two rooms on the lower and one on the second story; and watchmen's quarters 10 feet square.

BANK DIVIDENDS.—Semi-annual dividends are now payable at the Rockingham National and the New Hampshire National Banks of this city—the former 6 per cent. and the latter 5. Those of the First National and the National Mechanics & Traders were paid in May, the one 4 and the other 5 per cent.

CUBAN WAR MAP.—We are in receipt of a newly published colored War Map embracing the Island of Cuba, together with another map of the entire group of the West Indies, from Messrs. Colton & Co. 172 William st. N. Y.

WASHINGTON, June 30.

Messrs. Editors:—Thinking that you and your numerous readers might be interested in a communication from a "Son of Portsmouth" residing temporarily at the Capital of the nation; and who, notwithstanding the many attractions and novelties to be found within its limits and in the pleasant country which surrounds it, still feels himself a stranger in the land of strangers; and whose thoughts more or less daily and nightly revert to the home of his youth, to that quiet and pleasant and venerable town in the "Old Granite State," by the blue Piscataqua's shore,—where dwell so many of the friends and associates of his youth; and whose graveyards contain the dear remains of the loved ones gone before us,—let us hope to the "spirit land," where we shall eventually be reanited, "where the hope of our souls shall have no blight, our love no broken ties,"—I send you a few items.

One who has never been in W. can have but a slight conception of its appearance and magnitude. I have heard it called "the city of disappointed hopes and magnificent distances." As to the former I can say little or nothing, but I have been made acquainted with its "magnificent distances" upon more than one occasion. I have, as yet, never seen its actual boundaries, but judging from the long walks I have performed in every direction, from its center toward its circumference, I infer that it is of great extent. The public streets are parallel to each other in the direction from east to west, and are crossed in the same manner by streets in the opposite direction. They are very wide as compared with the streets of your city, I should say three times as wide; and the sidewalks generally, I should judge, from twenty to twenty-five feet. The streets — but few of which are paved — as compared with yours, are in poor condition, and being mostly nearly or quite level, are not and cannot be properly drained; consequently, after heavy rains, the mud, which is of a very plastic and sticky nature, is all the way from one inch to six or eight inches deep,—and in a dry time, which occurs in from one to three days after the rain, there will be about the same depth of dust, at which time, if the air be moved by even a slight wind, the dust fills the air; and when an ordinary summer breeze springs up it is suffocating, completely filling the air, and settling down upon your clothing as the dust in a grist mill does upon the clothes of the miller. The people here appear to be but slightly incommoded by it, but to us it is an intolerable nuisance. Its effect upon the lungs, it strikes me, must be decidedly bad.

The sidewalks are generally paved with brick, but owing to the nature of the soil, are apt to be very uneven, and require constant repairs,—which, however, according to my observation, are made but seldom. The pedestrian finds it necessary to exercise constant vigilance in order to prevent his stumbling by stepping into the innumerable gutters made across the sidewalks, and varying from three to twelve inches in depth.

I have noticed in my travels about the city many new houses, mostly brick, and some of them very large and handsome; and considerable building going on, particularly at the "west end." That fashionable and aristocratic West End may be found, I believe, in every city in the country. I am told that these buildings now in progress of erection, as a general thing are the productions of Northern enterprise; and yet, strange as it may seem to you, they —those who have made and are making this large outlay of money, and adding so much for the business and prosperity of the city,—are regarded by the "Secesh element," which is still prevalent here to a more or less degree, as interlopers, and with feelings of suspicion and jealousy, and even hatred! Now and then portions of the press give vent to this feeling of ill will, by sneeringly alluding to the "hordes from the North who have come here to prey upon the people," likening them to the "lice from Egypt," &c. Can anything be more true than the sentiment of Senator Sumner, that the system of slavery leads to a "low state of barbarism?"

I regard this as one of the best farming sections in the country, so far as the climate is concerned. The markets furnish abundant proof of what may be done in the farming line. The vegetables and fruits are large and of excellent quality. Cabbages that will weigh from one to six pounds, and all kinds of early produce, are brought to market in cart-loads. The market here is so far advanced as yours will be some two months hence. All sorts of berries are abundant,—the strawberry season, however, is about over. Recently a large number of watermelons of the largest size have arrived; these I suppose were grown farther south. The crop of peaches I hear will be large, and will begin to appear in the market about the latter part of July. I often observe small droves of fat cattle and sheep being driven through the City, which shows that the feed is good and abundant. Lands are quite cheap hereabouts, and I am convinced that Yankee skill and energy would be well rewarded.

Yours, ***.

—The board of supervisors of a western county was lately asked to audit and allow the following bill, but a negative answer was returned:

"Madison County to——, Dr., $19.
For making a wedding for —— and getting her married, and clearing the county of any further charge on her account, and placing her on a good moral and religious foundation."

—An Englishman was telling the late Col. Isaac O. Barnes of the great rate the cars run in England. 'Why, Colonel, in my country they go seventy-five miles the hour.' 'They do,' says the Colonel; 'they could not run long at that rate, or they would run off the little d——d island.'

—Two blind people in Iowa heard a harper harping with his harp on the opposite side of the street, recognized him by his touch of the instrument, crossed over and shook hands with him. The three, all blind, were old friends who had not met before for years.

—At a country town in New Jersey, a little boy, who was jumping about, and brawling loudly, was asked why he wept. The following reply touched all hearts. "I want my mammy; that's what's the matter. I told the darn thing she'd lose me."

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other parts, can be seen; prove other Paints might be great; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Orange Co., SENEC NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,

No. 118 WATER STREET,

PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:

Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you an advertisement for one of your Lists of Newspapers. We have kept it ever since; time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time after we were waited upon by one of your city side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists had proved satisfactory to those to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe the system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order adding another List of One Hundred papers, making the number now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The more we deal with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have accomplished more in a year than we would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Resp'ctfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:

Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we first commenced your Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, backed up with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent better than any other way. Respectfully,

THE MONOCYCLE.

Would you attain velocity,
Yet keep your perpendicular?
Avoid that dire monstrosity
Yclept the monocycular!

For should you lack ability
In novel equitation,
Or Hermann-like agility,
Of prestidigitation;

In vain the possibility
Of perpendicularity,
To add to your humility
The juvenile hilarity,

Which worketh your confusion,
Doth good you to insanity,
Evoking a profusion,
Of elegant profanity.

Why mount the queer orbicular?
Begin with moderation,
And ponder in particular
The force of gravitation,

Perchance the swift rotation
Overcomes the force centripetal—
Some fine aerostation—
Crack goes your occiputal!

And sudden luminosity
Pervadeth all immensity,
And dazzling nebulosity
In hundred-fold intensity.

And then your curiosity
To try this mode vehicular
Doth change into ferocity
Against the monocycular!

Merry's Museum for July, has An Old Fashioned Girl, No 1, by Louisa M. Alcott.

The Coach Makers' Journal for July, has engravings of modern carriages, tools, &c. Published in Philadelphia.

Life and Epistles of St. Paul.—R. W. Bliss & Co., of Hartford, Conn., have recently published, a good edition of Conybeare & Howson's "Life and Epistles of St. Paul," a standard English work of great value. It contains over 1100 pages; and is an unabridged reprint, in improved form, of the English People's edition, with additional engravings from new plates, and an eloquent introduction from a personal friend of the authors, Rev. James McCosh, D. D., LL. D., President of Princeton College, N. J., who has traveled through the cities and countries which they so graphically describe. It is sold by subscription at $3.50 in cloth, and $4 in leather. Agents are wanted by the publishers.

GRASS THE ESSENTIAL.—In this section of the country, where stock must be fed on hay and grain for six months in the year, it is important to secure the requisite amount of grass and other fodder for such demands. There is little danger of making a too liberal provision in this respect. It is impossible to anticipate how long and how cold a winter may be, nor how much a stock of cattle will consume.

The better class of farmers are adopting new plans to secure a greater and longer continued crop of grass. The best method seems to be to put soil into good heart by a judicious system of cultivation, and after seeding, keep up the strength of the soil by repeated top dressings either of fine manure, phosphate, or guano, or well dried muck and lime in some form. This is evidently the most economical arrangement, when the nature of the soil is sufficiently well understood to enable the occupant to apply the needed fertilizing element. It saves labor both of man and beast, and returns an immediate paying harvest better than vegetables or grain.

But there are other considerations besides the producing of grass. It must be properly cured and housed. To do this, the farmer should be provided with the necessary machinery to drive his haying and secure his crop much earlier than is usual, and before the rain of August blackens it and drenches out its vitality. It is no longer a question whether grass should be cut early, when in the blossom or even before that stage, or when the stalk is dry and the seed fully matured if not ripened.

Having produced a heavy growth and been fortunate in securing it, let care and prudence be exercised in feeding it out to the stock, and especially in drawing it to the market. Tons may be saved by early cutting, properly curing and judicious feeding. Cutting, securing, mixing with meal are processes all worthy of consideration. But whatever plan is adopted, let there be no waste. Taking even the hints given here and acting accordingly, farmers may save a large per cent. of hay that is now wasted.—Manchester Mirror.

—At St. Albans, Vt., on Tuesday, the price of butter ranged from 35 to 38 cents. The shipments were 2049 tubs.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give me relief. I cannot able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue to use it, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [jel5 5w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NOTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT,
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks when my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women.
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels, applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less time than seven minutes every particle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep when another person came to me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the inside of her mouth. Yesterday I met a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint. Complicated with a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but gave her little or no relief. Yesterday, I was surprised the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and PAIN KILLER, and in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness; and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his office. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstown a few days and will write you again more particular. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him rub PAIN PAINT. In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.

Sworn and subscribed before me the 5th of May, 1869.
L. B. HARVEY, Justice of the Peace, Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 183 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore, do not be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

MONDAY, JULY 5, 1869.

IMMORTALITY.—At the recent dedication of the Soldiers' Monument at Gettysburg, Senator O. P. Morton of Indiana delivered the Oration, opening with the following eloquent, impressive and suggestive apostrophe.

At the conclusion of Gen. Meade's opening remarks, a passage was cleared fronting the platform leading to the base of the monument, and, assisted by Secretary of War Rawlings, the veil that shielded the front of the Mouument was dropped, and the first full view of all its beauties was met with enthusiastic applause, mingled with the music of the band and the firing of a salute. Mr. Morton then addressed the audinence. He said:

"When the monument we are about to dedicate shall have crumbled into dust, when the last vestige of this cemetery shall have been obliterated by the hand of time; when there shall be nothing left of all we see now but the hills, the valleys, the streams and the distant mountains, the great battle which here took place, with its far reaching consequences, will still live in history.

Nations have their birth, maturity, old age and death, and ours, though we call it eternal and our Constitution immortal, will be no exception. But though nations must pass away and all physical evidence of their existence be lost, yet may they live through all time in the brightness of their examples, in the glory of their deeds and in the beneficence of their institutions. These are the inheritances they may leave to the far coming centuries.

When the pyramids of Egypt shall have sunk to the level of the Nile, when the last monument of Grecian architecture, the last inscribed block of marble shall have perished, men will still read of Moses and the pass of Thermopylæ. Monuments, after all, are but for the present, and may only instruct a few generations; but a glorious deed is a joy forever.

He thus recounted eloquently the battle of Gettysburg, saying: It resulted in destroying the prestige of the rebel army, never to be recovered. By our victories at Gettysburg and Vicksburg the rebellion lost its prestige in Europe and all hopes of foreign intervention.

SUNDAY was one of the warmest days of the season, the mercury rising to 83, in the shade. It was the most quiet Fourth-of-July-day ever seen in this city. The police force were about town cautioning the boys to be quiet, and the youngsters took good advice and went to bed early, so as to lay up an extra modicum of sleep until midnight, when the glorious Fifth opened with a grand illumination on Market Square and the banging of fire-arms. A party of excursionists from Dover came down in the steamer "Fairy," and were disgusted to find no liquor for sale at the hotels. They didn't stop to celebrate!

☞ Our old and liberal friend Pearson, the Baker, of Newburyport, has sent us a barrel of his excellent and favorite Cream Biscuit, to help us celebrate the Fourth. Pearson's bread is so far above that of any of his imitators, as the Fourth of July is better than April Fool day.

☞ This is the 93d anniversary of the Independence of the United States from British dominion and slavery, and the 6th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, which secured us independence from Southern slavery and oligarchical thraldom.

☞ Have the Fenians anything to do with it, that the Fourth o' July occurs on the Fifth this year?

☞ The Band stand needs re-painting—if this morning's bon-fire has not dissolved it to flame, smoke and ashes.

☞ This being the real Fourth of July (day,) of course there will be no Chronicle issued on Tuesday.

The News.

Settlers are arriving in Kansas at the rate of 1000 per day.

The reports of Gen. Warren and Hon. James F. Wilson on the Pacific Railroad are more favorable than that of Hon. I. N. Morris.

Arizona advices state that Colonel Sanford's command has returned to Camp McDowell. They killed twenty-two Indians and captured four during the expedition. Colonel Price's command killed three Indians and destroyed a great amount of property during the late raid through Wallapat County. The mining news from Arizona is encouraging.

The New York Round Table is to be united with the Citizen.

The recent floods in Kansas were the most destructive ever known in that State. The damage to property is very great, and between thirty and forty lives are reported lost.

General Francis A. Osborne of Massachusetts has been appointed internal revenue supervisor for the district of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. He was formerly Naval Officer at Boston.

A fearful disaster occurred at Carnarvon, Wales, during the cartage of some packages of nitro-glycerine from the harbor to the quarries. The material exploded on the way and the cart, horses and men attending were blown to atoms. The railway station, near the scene of the explosion, was torn to pieces; and a village a quarter of a mile distant was much damaged by the shock, which caused great consternation among the inhabitants. Four men were killed by the explosion.

A Telegraph cable has been successfully laid between Peterhead, Scotland, and the coast of Norway.

Newburyport on Tuesday voted to aid the Newburyport city railroad—yeas, 710; nays, 177. The vote on the question of aid to the Exeter and Salisbury road stood—yeas, 690; nays, 171.

At Cincinnati, on Thursday, four thousand people greeted the Cincinnati Base Ball Club. A large procession escorted them to the Gibson House, where they dined. In the afternoon the Club played a picked nine and were victorious by a score of 53 to 11. The total score made during their tour was 703 runs to 211 of their opponents.

BANKS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—By the Annual Report of the Bank Commissioners, we learn that the old State Discount Banks have repaid to stockholders most of their original stock, except the Salmon Falls and Valley Banks; the former still doing business in private banking on its original capital ($50,000) and paying dividends of 10 per cent. during the year, besides holding a surplus of $10,368; the latter continued with its original capital until May 1, 1869, when it transferred its resources and liabilities to the new National Bank of Hillsborough.

The existing capital of all the old State banks is $114,480; deposits, $11,750.54; loans, $122,422; specie, none; circulation $17,587. No State bank is now or has been for the past four years issuing bills, and most of the small circulation yet outstanding will probably never be heard from. Ten years since, there were fifty-two of these banks with a capital of over $5,000,000; loans nearly $9,000,000; and circulation exceeding $3,790,000. A few years more will witness the complete extinction of a system, which for a long time enjoyed the confidence of the people and proved profitable to its managers.

The number of Savings Institutions in the State is thirty-eight. The total amount of their resources is $17,267,780.36; an increase during the year of $3,015,810.05; due depositors, $16,379,857.09; an increase of $2,838,522.13; temporary indebtedness, $65,053.81; surplus, $822,869.46. In the returns, the resources consisting in large proportion of stocks, bonds, &c., are entered at par, while their market value is much greater, and the real surplus is probably $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The whole number of depositors is 62,031—increase for the year 7,713. The amount of U. S. securities held is $4,880,557.04.

The popularity these institutions have attained during the past twenty years, and particularly within the last ten, is shown by the great increase in their deposits, viz:

1849—	Banks,	10;	Deposits. $1,564,540.95
1859—	"	23;	" 4,136,822.40
1869—	"	38;	" 16,379,857.09

The tax now levied upon the deposits in these institutions is three fourths of one per cent. and the amount for the past year was $99,917.58; of which $86,302.60 was distributed to towns and $13,614.98 to Literary Fund. The estimate for the current year's tax at the same rate is $122,000. An increase of the rate to one per cent. has been urged, but this the Commissioners deprecate as injurious, to public disadvantage, and it will hardly be done. They conclude their report by the declaration that these banks are managed by a class of gentlemen of financial ability and experience, who make them a credit to our State and people.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—My Wheeler & Wilson has been in almost daily use, Sabbaths excepted, for over ten years, doing the work, both coarse and fine, for a family which, for more than seven years, consisted of more than forty persons. During the whole ten years it has needed no repairs of any kind, and its condition is so good now that I would not exchange it for a new machine. So perfect is its running order that it has not required a second needle in over three years. MRS. WM. OBERTON.

A TOTAL ECLIPSE is caused by SPEER'S WINE BITTERS suspending every other tonic. Speer's Native Wine, with Peruvian Bark, and Herbs and Roots, with aromatics such as anised, make them pleasant for children, and make children healthy and robust. They are performing wonderful cures in Europe and America. If you want to drink Whisky, under the guise of medicine, don't buy them. If you want a most valuable strengthening Tonic and Appetiser that eclipses everything else, get Speer's Standard Wine Bitters of most any Druggist. Don't be shoved off with anything else.

—A highly intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. This was attended with the most intolerable pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh. 23

TWENTY DOLLARS A YEAR is a small sum to pay for a sense of security against loss by fire or theft of those valuables so large a proportion of mankind possess, such as bonds, deeds, mortgages, plate, laces, jewelry, diamonds, &c., and yet that sum will rent a safe in the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, which are as perfect as human ingenuity can devise. Larger safes range from $25 to $100 a year. The managers also receive at low rates, for safe keeping, valuable paintings, rare books, choice works of art, family plate, town records, &c. The Manager, Henry Lee, will furnish circulars with full information.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfected by chemistry in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and finally bury general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than one thousand testimonials of remarkable cures were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the medical pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

The Season of Exhaustion.

No matter how vigorous by nature the system and the constitution may be, they must necessarily suffer more or less from depleting influences of the temperature of midsummer, unless strengthened and sustained by wholesome tonic treatment. The extra pressure upon the vital forces must be met and counterbalanced by an extra resistant power; the unusual and rapid consumption of the animal fluids by profuse perspiration, must be compensated for by the digestion and assimilation of food taken into the stomach, from which both the fluids and the solids of the body are derived.

Otherwise the physical strength declines, and the mind, sympathizing with the machinery through which it acts, becomes depressed and enervated. A STIMULANT is therefore absolutely required at this season: not a violent one, calculated to produce febrile excitement, but something which will recruit and reinforce the whole organization in proportion to the extraordinary drain to which the torrid heat subjects it.

This desideratum is supplied in a palatable and efficient form in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which the people of this country, after more than twenty-five years of experience, have accepted and endorsed as the best tonic, alterative and antibilious preparation which modern chemistry has yet succeeded in obtaining from the strength-sustaining, healing and purifying products of the vegetable kingdom.

Every ingredient of this famous compound has its own specific virtue, and the result of their combination is the most genial invigorant, aperient, and regulated medicine ever administered, either as a preventive or cure of the disorders most common in our variable climate. Among these may be enumerated dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, fever and ague, nervous debility, and all the ailments proceeding from imperfect digestion.

A course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is the best possible safeguard against the dangers which menace persons of both sexes, and all ages, during the heated term. jy1

Holloway's Pills.—BOWEL COMPLAINTS. The waste pipes of the system—which, like the sewers of a great city, are intended to carry off all refuse matter—must be kept in perfect order, otherwise health is out of the question. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS effect this object. Gently, but swiftly and surely, they carry off impurities, biliousness, constipation, impurities, and restore the natural tone and vigor. Sold by all Druggists. je30

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chelic followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when administered by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

T. L. Cook, Publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. This cancerous and unhappy one looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—The worm died away, and she lost

THE FOURTH OF JULY passes without any general celebration in this city. The Fantastics will go about the streets in the morning at 7 o'clock, and the trots at the Fair Grounds will draw the crowds in the afternoon. The steamer Appledore will make a trip down the harbor at 4 o'clock, P.M., returning before dark. The Band will play on Market Square in the evening and the people can then go to bed.

☞ Among the "festivities of the day" will be the first public apperance of the newly elected Fence Viewers, this (Monday) morning at an early hour, to estimate whether or no any damage can be assessed on account of the lowering of the fences by "the boys" after midnight of Sunday. We hear that there is quite a contest for the position of Judge Advocate of the Board, between the three lawyers just chosen.

☞ The present possessor of our umbrella could not celebrate the glorious Fifth in any more becoming manner than by making that day the occasion for the return of the parapluie to its owner, especially as "the day we celebrate" is the day we are most forgiving!

☞ The U. S. Steamer Pawnee, now at New York has been ordered to this Naval Station, where the crew will be paid and discharged.

AN INDUSTRIAL ESTABLISHMENT in which Portsmouth takes special and pardonable pride is the boot and shoe factory of T. S. Nowell. He has carried on his business 16 years with increasing success. He makes gentleman's fine goods of calf, glove calf, goat, &c., and serge goods for the home trade. Of the former alone he turns out 75 cases per week, which are sent to all parts of the country. His name is a guaranty of the best stock and workmanship, and no goods have a better reputation in all the markets of the Union than his. He uses only the Merritt patent leathers, which is worked up for the Southern trade.

At present he employs 100 hands, in the busy season, but will soon double this force. To the old factory, which is 60 by 60 feet and three stories, he is about to add a new building 60 by 24 and 4 stories, which will be furnished with a steam engine.—Boston Com. Bulletin.

☞ For amusement to-day, those who choose the water have the very best accommodations in Steamer Appledore. Those who like a horse-trot, (and almost everybody does, whether they know or will own it or not,) can scarcely fail to be satisfied with the arrangements to-day. The Piscataqua Fair Grounds are the most beautiful of any trotting course we ever saw, and the walk or ride thereto one of the most pleasant to be found anywhere—and a special Railroad train will run to accommodate visitors.

The races will no doubt furnish good sport. For the 3 minutes purse, there are four entries, two of which at least are good ones; and to see the dashing little trotter Nellie Locke, the splendid Belle of Portsmouth, and the game Mountain Maid, will be worth double the price of admission.

A Lawrence cricket club arrived here Saturday evening, and will play a game with the Rockingham cricket club at the Plains, commencing this forenoon.

The Mutual base ball club of this city go to Newburyport this morning in the 8.30 train, to play a friendly game with the Independents of that city. The game is to be commenced at 10 o'clock, and will probably end in season for the Portsmouth nine and their friends to arrive home at 2.30 P. M.

I. O. OF O. F.—At a regular meeting of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term, viz; Allen A. Rand, N. G.; Edwin H. Leslie, V. G.; Fred C. Akerman, R. Sec; Horace E. Frye, Treas. Jos. H. Gardiner, P. Sec.

☞ Fifteen years ago to-day, occurred the greatest and grandest Celebration Portsmouth ever saw — the triumphal Reception of the Sons home — in 1853. It was proposed then to try it over again every ten years, but fifteen have now passed without it. Another five years, and the roll-call of the absentees from this sphere will certainly be larger than those to respond.

THE LAKE SHORE RAILROAD bill, now before the Legislature, is assigned for Wednesday, July 7, at 10.30 A. M., when it behooves the Portsmouth members to be on hand promptly, to represent their constituents. The bill should include the Portsmouth and Dover branch, and the support of the delegations from this vicinity is needed to secure the charter.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, June 30.

An accident, by which a small boy had one of his arms broken, occurred during the performance of the Cantata "The Flower Queen," this evening. The boy, whose name is James Dwyer, with several others, was amusing himself by sliding on the balustrade on the stairs leading from the vestibule of the Town Hall to the court room, when he lost his balance and fell a distance of several feet, with the above result, Dr. Carroll was called, and subsequently Dr. Perry.

The little fellow seems to have a penchant for accidents at show times. Last October, during the open air concert by Morris Bros. brass band, he managed to get run over, and severely injured.

The practice of sliding on the balustrade is very dangerous, and should be stopped. Last year a bright, active boy was killed by falling in the place, only he fell a much greater distance.

The Flower Queen was witnessed by a good audience, and gave excellent satisfaction.

The tide of travel to the seaside has commenced. Quite a large number of people have already passed through our village, en route for Hampton Beach, and, of course, bound for the Boars Head House.

Mine host Dumas, having secured the Granite House for a term of years, it is to be hoped will not so frequently cause a look of disappointment to pervade the countenances of his would-be patrons, by the discouraging reply, "All full!" in answer to inquiries as to accommodations. Why, he sent me—just think of it, even me, he sent to sleep out of the Boar's Head, one night last summer, and just because his house was crammed when I arrived!

Phillip Yeaton, Esq., proprietor of the Ocean House, went to Hampton Beach to-day, with no end of "help" in his train.

The popular coach line of C. D. Towle & Co. will commence regular trips from the B. & M. depot to Hampton Beach, to-morrow. This company run a fine "Concord coach," with four spanking horses. Wood. Berry handles the ribbons, which is sufficient guarantee that passengers will receive any attention.

We are to have no celebration of the 4th of July here. If the day proves as warm as last year, we can get along well without one. I have heard several signify their intention to be present at the sport on the 5th, at the Park in your city.

We are told that J. B. Adams, Esq., of your city, has been selected as one of the officiais at Lougee's Ocean View House, Rye Beach. I need not say that the news is gladly received by Mr. Adams' numerous friends in this town.

Yours, H.

NOTICE.—For the Trot this Afternoon, the Trustees of the Park have authorized the Secretary to issue Two Tickets for each Share of Stock,—which can be procured by proprietors or their representatives, of the Secretary, or at the Ticket Office at the Park.

Per Order.

THE BIRDS.

One day in the bloom of summer weather,
Sketching under a whispering oak,
I heard five bobolinks laughing together
Over some ornithological joke.

What the fun was, I couldn't discover—
Language of birds is a riddle on earth;
What could they find in white-weed and clover
To split their sides with such musical mirth?

Was it some prank of the prodigal summer—
Face in the cloud or voice in the breeze—
Querulous cat-bird — wood-pecker, drummer—
Cawing of crows high over the trees?

Was it some chip-munk's chatter—or weasel;
Under the stone wall stealthy and sly?
Or was the joke about me at my easel,
Trying to catch the tints of the sky?

Still they flew tipsily, shaking all over,
Bubbling with jollity, brimful of glee—
While I sat listening deep in the clover
Wondering what their jargon could be.

'Twas but a voice of a morning the brightest
That ever dawned over you shadowy hills;
'Twas but the song of all joy that is lightest—
Sunshine breaking in laughter and trills.

Vain to conjecture the words they are singing,
Only by tones can we follow the tune;
In the full heart of the vanish'd fields ringing,
Ringing the rhythmical glad song of June.

—The Washington correspondent of the Worcester Spy says of Chief Justic Chase, now in Richmond: "He is certainly counseling with the rebel-conservative leaders, and daily using whatever influence he yet possesses to break down the loyal men."

☞ The London Star thinks the escape of the Cuban expedition from New York is a parallel to the escape of the pirate Alabama from Liverpool.

—It is said that the territory covering the marble quarries of Rutland was sold within the memory of men now living, for one old mare and colt. The property is now valued at millions.

☞ Rabbits are so numerous in Victoria that they are a nuisance. One farmer employed 100 men nine months in killing two million of them.

—Some of the New York detectives think that the recent robbery of the Ocean Bank was effected through the connivance of some of the bank's employees.

—The New York hotel waiters spent over $5000 during their recent strike. The "Union" now has 450 members and $1000 in the treasury.

AMERICAN
BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND— SEWING MACHINE!
H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, ruffling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.
2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)
3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine does this.)
4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)
5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against abogus advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction Books and Silk free of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for useful ness by this application.

Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness!

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL,
MANUFACTURERS OF
Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c.,
No. 118 WATER STREET,
PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave you our advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more lists of One Hundred papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were inquired of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," remarks to that effect from all parts had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.

The year has now nearly gone by, we cannot but believe your system of advertising by "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we desired, and we say forward the next order still adding one more List of One Hundred papers, making the number now allogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The manner we talk with newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising, "Lists" we have accomplished in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully,
LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW:
Gentlemen:—Little more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and we can now say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and thro' nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully, LINCOLN'S ORATION AT GETTYSBURG.—The recent dedication of the Gettysburg monument, in the presence of a vast assembly, with all the pomp of military display, the solemnity of prayer and the dignity of oratory, in a time of profound peace, recalls in vivid contrast the first dedication of the cemetery six years ago, while the war was still raging. The monument was unveiled the other day, on the anniversary of the first battle, in the hush and quiet of summer, when one could almost hear the grass growing above the silent graves.

The cemetery was dedicated in 1863, on a bleak November day, while the traces of the great struggle were still visible throughout the valley and along the heights which a few months before had been swept by fire and covered with the dead and dying. It was at such a time, with the fate of the nation still undecided and the heavy responsibilies of his office resting upon him, that the President delivered on that memorable spot the singularly concise and beautiful oration which will never be forgotten and which we reproduce entire:

Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that Government of the people by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.

AMERICAN
BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND— SEWING MACHINE!
H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.
The Reasons Why
This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.
1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.
2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)
3. Because it will work a beautiful cyclet-stitch. (No other machine can.)
4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. ("Not done on any other Machine.)
5. Because it can do "overcast seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)
Caution!
We would hereby warn the Public against alleged bogus advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.
This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.
N.B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED BY REMEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of my recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on my account. [je15 8w] Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir: Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was crazed
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always made her worse. The Bottle which accompanied the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in the five minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a little more PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particular. I conclude close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him rub PAIN PAINT in less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from pain. I shall go to see any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 5, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before
me this 5th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVY, Justice of the Peace,
Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and the ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $1 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 6.

Dear Chronicle:—I am almost tired of dating from this, to me, very pleasant city, but certainly mis-named Concord,—for I know of no place where there has always been more discord, whether in personal, political, religious or business matters,—not to mention newspapers and editors. That, however, has nothing to do with my present desire to leave this good capital, for I have always found only friends and good fellows here—but I think the Great and General Court of New Hampshire ought in all conscience to have adjourned by this time, and most of the Members are anxious to be at their own private affairs, too.

And still the Session is to continue through another week, after the 4th of July,—for the first time for six years, I believe. There has been a large amount of business, and considerable is unfinished yet, although the Committees have worked very hard of late. But the real explanation of the rising of the Legislature again without adjourning, I think, was the want of firmness and pluck on the part of the House, to enforce the ten-minute speech rule, passed a few days ago to this very end. It was on the military question, and John Bedel, chief Copperhead, had the floor.

There has been great complaint of the cost of the State Militia, and the Adjutant-General's office, and the character of the Encampments. The Governor and State Treasurer, in their Reports, recommended a reduction; and a bill was introduced to abrogate and discontinue the Military establishment altogether, and turn the records of the Adjt. Gen. over to the Secretary of State. But though nearly all were willing to reduce, but few would consent to this.

So another, compromise plan, was offered, and finally adopted by the House on Friday, after long debate, in Committee and session. This simply provides Armories for the 19 Companies in the State, at not to exceed $100 each, and suspends the operation of the Militia law for five years—so there will be no enrollment, and no trainings paid for; but the uniforms, &c., will be retained, and the system can be resumed at any time the State desires. The Adjutant-General's office is allowed but $800 in all, for salaries and clerk hire, per year; and the whole military establishment will now cost but $4000, instead of $15,000 as last year.

Well, in answer to general complaint, and in reply to the Governor and Treasurer, Gen. Natt Head was allowed to appear before the House, present his case and defend his cause,—the value and necessity of his office, to the State and the soldiers in the late war. He argues, and we believe, that the former heavy expense of his Department, including the voluminous reports and the military history of the State, has proved a judicious and remunerative outlay, which should not be grudged, as it had paid well even in dollars and cents, as his books show. But the expenses would now be much lessened, as there were no more costly reports to collect or print; and his plan was to make the Militia almost self-sustaining, by collecting of each enrolled man who did not train, a half a dollar yearly, to pay those who did muster.

So, when the matter was brought up in the House, Mr. Bedel,—General, not Governor Bedel,—was the appointed spokesman of the Opposition, and he bored the House for more than an hour, with an abusive and outrageous attack on Gen. Head, his management and his party, including Ex-Gov. Harriman. Bedel undoubtedly thinks he is a big gun, but we have not found anybody else who thinks so. He talks considerable, but neither convinces nor convicts any, that we can see,—except himself of being the veriest partisan. We presume the Senate will concur with the House in the Military matters, even to the very small appropriation for the Adj. Gen's office, where it is claimed there is more work done than in all the other offices of State.

When Gen. Bedel commenced, he stated that modesty was at a discount in the House, and he hoped if he required more than his ten minutes, the House would grant it. One member, a particular friend of ours, replied that he hoped not, and when his time was up, called him to order; but the House voted to suspend the rules, and let the blackguard go on with his rhodomontade, till he tired all his hearers out, and finally himself. The members were loud before that, in protesting great desire to stop long speeches, and close the session; but when they came to vote, acted otherwise. They were sick enough of their bargain afterward, but of course having suspended the rules and given him permission to start, could only stop his clacker by adjourning. Even Maj. George Marston, who moved for leave for him to go on, said he would not have done it had he not believed his statement that he only wished a few minutes. At the close of his tirade, Mr. Ray accused Bedel of taking against time to prevent adjournment, and it really looked like it.

The House deserved all they got, for their lack of firmness in enforcing a very proper rule, but the party does not deserve to shoulder the extra and needless load of $10,000 to carry through the next Election, if they can, nor ought the State to have been put to this expense for nothing. We feel sure that but for this speech, and Mr. Reding's motion to reconsider the Agricultural College, the Session would have closed on the 3d; but this last speech was a stopper.

However, if the people are satisfied to pay a round ten thousand dollars, we shall try to endure it. But we have reckoned that these Legislative addresses cost vastly more than Henry Ward Beecher's or any other lyceum lectures, and are not half so interesting or informatory.

The Speaker has stated probably a hundred times this session, that the noise made by visitors on the floor and in the gallery, must be stopped, as members in the rear could not hear the business going on; but when a member,—that same friend of ours,—moved to do what the Speaker had repeatedly threatened, and have all not members removed from the floor, it was not sustained by the House, and even the Speaker took it all back, and said the friends were welcome, if only they would keep quiet,—which of course they would not, did not, and never will do: they don't go there for that purpose.

The truth is, the enforcement of law or order in this country is never popular, and rarely designed or desired,—whether it be pound or snow ordinance, fugitive slave law, liquor law, or what not. Any offender or even criminal, the moment he seems likely to be forced to do as he should, or suffer due penalty, that moment receives the sympathy if not the support of many who claim to be and think they are friends of law and order.

With the remark that we shall of course expect the Copperheads to charge the Republicans with waste in extending the Session, after having caused it themselves, we shall bid you good bye for now. F.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The House on Tuesday postponed Mr. Reding's bill, relating to the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, to next Session.

In the Senate, the Usury bill was indefinitely postponed.

PEARSON'S CREAM BISCUIT.—These exceedingly delicate, palatable and remarkably nutritous Biscuit, being free from the objection urged against pastry and cake, commend themselves for the use of invalids and children, as a safe article of diet, and to the healthy as a substantial food, being made up of the very material, and containing a very large proportion of eggs. They have had many flattering notices from the Press, and are receiving the approval of Physicians. They are a welcome contribution to the table,—just the thing for a Picnic; for the use of travellers they have no equal; convenient, light, clean, pleasant to the taste; and because of their highly nutritious quality, will, in a great degree, meet the want which is often felt by travellers, of stimulating and solid food.

Call for Pearson's Cream Biscuit, and be sure that they are Pearson's, as there are imitations in the market. Orders addressed to John Pearson, Jr., Pearson's wharf, Newburyport, Mass. For sale by grocers.

—Our correspondent at Portland writes that there is quite an excitement in that city over the case of Rev. E. R. Keyes, late of the Chestnut street Methodist Episcopal Church, who has recently renounced his former religious views and become a convert to Swedenborgianism. Mr. Keyes preached to a large audience at the New Jerusalem Church on Sunday.—Star.

—A physician says: "Hell is full of dyspeptics, and dyspeptics are full of hell. When good Christians learn that there is an intimate relation and sympathy existing between the mucous surface of a man's stomach and his soul, they will take more care of their stomachs, and by so doing they may improve men rapidly in many of the Christian graces—virtue and patience, for instance."

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to mucous surfaces. Morbid matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This popular proprietary medicine has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depraving influence is at work, sapping the vitality of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent to the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the city—hanging scenes of the city, the powers of the body too long suffered to give sent to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the malady is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptoms indicate weakening of the Kidneys, and the change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for her victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excessive or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dim Eyes, Languor, Pain in the Back, Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Face, Dizziness of the Head, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Symptoms of Costiveness, Dim Sense of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Marriage, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually modest and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obtained. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

THE DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S
LIVER AND STOMACH LOZENGE

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous one enters as the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to the present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative companions has been completely hidden, and, for all their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feelier sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more efficacious than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. Erasmus Winslow's Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

The Season of Exhaustion.

No matter how vigorous by nature the system and the constitution may be, they must necessarily suffer more or less from depleting effects in the temperate summer, unless strength, benefaction and sustained by wholesome tonic treatment. The extra pressure upon the vital forces must be met and counteracted by an extra resistant power; the unusual and rapid consumption of the animal fluids by profuse perspiration, must be compensated for by the digestion and assimilation of food taken into the stomach, from which both the fluids and the solids of the body are derived.

Otherwise the physical strength declines, and the mind, sympathizing with the machinery through which it acts, becomes depressed and enervated. A STIMULANT is therefore absolutely required at this season: not a violent one, calculated to produce febrile excitement, but something which will recruit and invigorate the whole organization in proportion to the extraordinary drain to which the torrid heat subjects it.

This desideratum is supplied in a palatable and efficient form in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which the people of this country, after more than twenty-five years of experience, have proved and endorsed as the best tonic, alterative and antibilious preparation which medical chemistry has yet succeeded in obtaining from the strength-sustaining, healing and purifying products of the vegetable kingdom.

Every ingredient of this famous compound has its specific function in the work of health, and the combination is the most genial invigorant, aperient, and regulated medicine ever administered, either as a preventive or cure of the disorders most common in our variable climate. Among these may be enumerated dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, fever and ague, nervous debility, and all the ailments proceeding from imperfect digestion.

A course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is the best possible safeguard against the dangers which attend changes of temperature, and all ages, during the heated term. jy1

Holloway's Pills,—BOWEL COMPLAINTS.

These pipes of the vascular system—which, like sewers of a great city, are intended to carry off all refuse matter—must be kept unobstructed, otherwise health is out of the question. Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a cholic followed by slimy, bilious stools. There is no doubt but the vacuation—which, like a natural guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cole, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but he was cured of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred feet of tape-worm, and at length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. je17

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting horse" was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which are some of the fastest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by all Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and universal FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskillful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, it is by PAIN KILLER by considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates. je19

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show when the liver is doing its work; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to take even with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they damage the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of themselves accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are in a state of decay, producing ulcerating. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body; the stomach and liver are diseased, and unfer to make blood out of Food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone of health, and the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be address.

He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday, when and where he will be prepared to give advice in relation with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1m4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements To-Day.

Dental Instruments Lost,—Dr. Stevens.
Meeting of Piscataqua Fair Association.
A Column of New Advertisements from G. P. Rowell & Co. New York.

THE GLORIOUS FIFTH passed of quietly and without any serious accident, hereabouts, to mar its pleasure. In addition to the racing at the Trotting Park there were other amusements offered, all of which attracted a full share of attention. The boys had their early celebration, the memory of the first of which reacheth back to those beyond the present generation who originally lighted tar barrels and fired off queen's arms. The juveniles never seem to let their enthusiasm cool on Fourth of July, and at prompt 12, midnight, they ushered in the day they celebrated with a volley of pistol, gun, and cannon shots, cannon crackers and all kinds of noisy explosives. They wound their horns till every inhabitant not hard of hearing or exhausted awoke and—blessed them. Old Market Square once more put on its brightest garb and the big and small boys visited every dry goods store yard and every other yard where inflammable matter could be found to feed the huge bon-fire.

Heroes of former days, "old" boys who led the invincible ransackers a score of years ago, were tempted from their beds and wished themselves boys again as they listened to the whoop of the youngsters as they trotted up Market Street in single file, each boy loaded with a box, board, barrel or stick of wood, which were used to keep the flames rising high until the dawn of day.

At 7 o'clock, the Fantastics made their grand parade. Their costumes were decidedly unique, but there seemed to be no especial point to the caricatures. The lunatic Band which led off the procession were transported on an illustrated chariot. They deserve to be transported for life on account of the fearful music they made. The "pageant" hardly equalled the expectations of the multitude, notwithstanding there was an evident muchness of preparation.

The horse trot drew a crowd to the Park in the afternoon; the Lawrence cricketers won the match at the Plains with their Portsmouth competitors easily; a select party of about 150 availed themselves of an excursion to the Shoals in the steamer Appledore; and the Mutuals (juniors) who went to Newburyport got warmed in a game of base ball lasting 3 hours and 20 minutes,—64 to 27.

In the evening the Band played to a multitude on Market Square, and patriotic individuals indulged in sky rockets, blue lights and confectionery.

☞ A writer in the Savannah Ga. Republican says of the late Chaplain T. B. Bartow lately deceased; He was as man of undeviating integrity, high-toned and conscientious, and won the respect of all. As a man of unaffected kindness, with a large hearted benevolence which sought to do good upon every side, he is affectionately remembered. During his minority upon St. Simon's Island, imitating the example of his Divine Master in preaching the Gospel and caring for the sick, he was prompt at every call, by night or by day, and thus laid the foundation for the illness which compelled him to leave his parish. Warmly attached to the church of his choice, he was faithful in his allegiance to her doctrines and spirit. His example will remain.

☞ The mode of Assessing Taxes in the South (Unitarian) Parish in this city, is unlike that of any other Society we know of. One half the amount by tax upon the pews, and the other half of voted sum by a poll tax of two dollars, and an assessment of the estates for the balance; And the Wardens are instructed, in making taxes, to assess on the estates according to their discretion on what they think a person is worth, taking the town books as a guide—that is, "to tax a person on what they think he is worth."

The Wardens sometimes estimating estates higher than the City Assessors has occasioned complaints, and refusals to pay the Parish taxes, in several instances.

ON THE FIFTH, at the Trotting Park, we saw an elegant top buggy built by the Brothers Came of this city, which took the shine off everything in that line, thereabouts. The carriage was a beauty and the enterprising young firm will not wait long for customers for such complete specimens of workmanship. We learn that the success of the Messrs. Came has been greater than they originally expected.

☞ The Fifth Band Concert comes off this evening at Haymarket Square at 8 o'clock.

☞ We are obliged to omit our long report of the trotting on Monday at the Fair Grounds, but shall insert it to-morrow. The first race was won by Eldredge's Belle of Portsmouth—Mountain Maid getting one heat. Nellie Locke was ruled out on account of foul driving by her owner. Time, 3.03, 2.52, 2.52, 2.52.

In the second race, Frank Jones' br. g. Brown George won first money; Wood. Locke's r. g. Yankee Locke, second; M. Eldredge's br. g. Bill Kearney, third; True Jones' g. g. Yankee Locke, being no-where. Time, 3.03, 3.02, 3.03.

The Velocipede prize was won by E. J. G. Ladd, of Kittery, in 3.03—half mile.

One Navy Yard Correspondence.

July 6.

The U. S. Steamer Penobscot has arrived and anchored in the stream near the yard, from quarantine.

Old Kittery celebrated the 5th in the usual noisy style (but no whiskey) from midnight until daylight; but later in the day in a more rational way, with Picnics throughout the town, and that of the M. E. Sabbath Schools, at Fernald's Grove.

☞ Carpenter Wm. F. Laighton, of the U. S. S. Pawnee, called on us on Monday. Mr. Laighton is looking well, and has had a very pleasant cruise, having been out thirty months. The Pawnee has been ordered to this Station, where she is to be re-fitted; and we are assured by Mr. Laighton that the rumor that she has yellow fever aboard is not true. She has had no sickness of any kind during the entire cruise.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

LEWISTON, ME., July 2.

Messrs. Editors:—Commencement Exercises at Bates College, and the Anniversary exercises of the Maine State Seminary, have absorbed the attention of our citizens during the last two weeks. The programme was appropriately carried out, and was very interesting, especially among old graduates, who delight to revisit the scenes and revive the memories of youth. Year after year as these institutions thrive, there will be these annual gatherings from all parts of our state, to witness the launching of a new class on the literary voyage of life. Prof. Angell of the College has been granted a year's leave of absence to visit Europe for study. There were eight graduates this year, including one lady, the first from a New England College. The next Freshmen class will doubtless number 40; 26 of whom have already passed a satisfactory examination. Among prominent visitors at the commencement dinner on Wednesday was Hon. James G. Blaine, who received the degree of L. L. D.

Frank A. White of this city has been examined and passed satisfactorily, and will be appointed by Congressman Morrill to the Military Academy.

Mr. A. Garcelon of this city, who was the defeated Congressman in this district last fall, came very near having a greater defeat by allowing his name to be used as a Democratic candidate for Governor. Dr. G. was once a prominent Republican, but the desire for office has undoubtedly produced a weak spot somewhere, and he will have to continue in the administration of physic a short time longer.

Valuation of real estate in this city for the current year, $5,461,220; personal, $588,728; rate of taxation 27 mills; amount of taxes committed $170,052.46. No. of polls 2523. The increase of valuation over last year is about $400,000. The State tax of this city is $16,996.79; County $6,485.34. H.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peal off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, from the pure white upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON,
Agent for Chemical Paint Company,

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even in those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured in its timely use while suffering from severe coughs, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

THE DAYS OF '76.

Seizure of Arms and Powder at Port William and Mary. The finale of the Provincial Government in New Hampshire.

BY HON. JOHN WENTWORTH, L. L. D.

The letter of Hon. Woodbury Langdon, published in the July number of the Register for 1868, makes of interest the following extracts from the unpublished letters of Gov. John Wentworth, descriptive of the events of 1774 and 1775. It will be seen that Gov. Wentworth attributes all his troubles in New Hampshire to the interference of the Boston leaders. These extracts present to the American public, for the first time, "the other side of the question."

LETTERS OF GOV. WENTWORTH.

To the most Noble, the Marquis of Rockingham: Portsmouth, N. H., 9th Nov. 1774.

May it please your Lordship:

Having had the honor to write your Lordship 24th Oct. by the Fox mast ship, I have only to beg leave to inclose the printed proceedings of the Mass. congress; According to the resolves therein, the people are generally dismissing their militia Officers, appointed and commissioned by the Governor, and electing other Officers from amongst them. They are also selecting the 1-4 part recommended (which they call minute men) and are to form a Provincial army which will easily be led to whatever their popular Directory may command. I tremble lest the zeal and indiscretion of such persons should issue in violence, for which this continent seems but too ripe.

The spirit of liberty, like other flames, has consumed itself; and left an universal spirit of outrage, and disposition to withdraw from all subordination. This of course exhibits itself in acts of violence throughout New England. It is much to be wished that some effectual measures could be fallen upon and steadily pursued, to restore the powers of Government, which are in America too fatally annihilated. This Province, at last, has caught the infection; but I think it has passed the crisis without much mischief, though with more folly. Through Mr. Livius' * few adherents, the contagion has been spread.

Your lordship is sensible, that, in such disordered times, flames are more easily dispersed than suppressed; and, unfortunately, Livius nomination to be Chief Justice carried such an air of his being in favor as to give more weight to the attempts of his party; who, to a man, are the most violently engaged in the most violent measures; and the Governor, having neither power nor rewards to punish or suppress their pursuits, and encourage those that are steady to the Laws. Hence hath proceeded the Resolves enclosed; which Mr. Woodbury Langdon, John Langdon and Supply Clap, were chosen a committee to compose, and are said to be the sole production of the former; who is and has been Mr. Livius' steady friend and assistant in the whole of his plans, and now stands recommended by Mr. Livius and Mr. Lane to be of the Council. This publication excited a temporary rage in many places, which now subsides without doing any of the intended evil, and leaves only a true delineation of the principles from whence it flowed.

They artfully prevailed on my weak, good uncle † to sign it. The old Gent is now 78 years old, and lately exceedingly impaired in his mind, by Epileptic Fits. Whence he is easily led to things his sound judgment would avoid.

I have also enclosed the resolves of the Continental Congress. I believe they will be strictly adhered to for some time. Should Great Britain add to the non importation a Prohibition of Cotton to this Continent, also Rum from the Islands, by lowering the duty in England 1d. on a gallon, it would probably have a powerful effect on American measures. At the same time some care should be taken of the New England distilleries to keep them on a par with Rum imported. Those would probably make an earlier return to British Commerce. But it is almost impossible to judge what will be best to be done.

The Blankets mentioned in my last are safe arrived to the army and much wanted. Yesterday, I was desired to procure 200 thousand feet of boards for which the army is in great distress to fit up their Houses. Had this service been earlier communicated, I would have accomplished it. At present it's almost impossible. The whole being already bought by the West India merchants to load above fifty sail of New Ships which are in the harbour. If the Eastern coasters should meet a storm (as is very common) and put into this harbour, I have taken measures to accommodate the General. And it is the only chance left.

The desertion from the army I have formed a plan to remedy through the aid of a militia officer who has a large estate in the country. He hires all deserters. They soon grow tired of hard labor; and, through the means of one who is in the secret, they are prevailed upon to return to their colours, and receive full pardon. Many have thus joined their Regiments; and with such ideas of the country as will effectually deter others or themselves from repeating the experiment.

I have just heard that the Populace (about 24 miles hence) have convened at Mr. Austin's, who was my Agent (though he did not know it at the time) to collect the Carpenters sent to Gen. Gage. They compelled him to acknowledge and sign more than was true of himself, and on his knees ask their pardon. After which, they dismissed him in peace, without other injury. This folly was occasioned solely by the Portsmouth publication or resolves aforementioned. It is probable this will terminate all the trouble about that affair. As any events arise that may be interesting, I shall be careful to transmit them by the earliest opportunities; as it is likely American affairs will be the subject of much speculation. If these communications should be acceptable, it will give me very great happiness; as my utmost desire in this world is, in all things, to approve myself with the utmost zeal and fidelity. My Lord, your Lordship's most dutiful and obliged humble servant. JOHN WENTWORTH.

P. S. By the inclosed Newspapers, your Lordship will find that the people have actually burned a Brig, and 2320 lbs. bohea tea imported in her.

There is a Letter from the Continental Congress to Gen. Gage. And another from the Mass. Provincial congress expressed in pretty high terms.

—The last undergraduate joke at York College was the transfer, by midnight, of a florist's sign—"New Haven Nurseries"—to a conspicuous position on a flourishing young ladies' seminary.

—Iron shoes on sleds last a life time. They are really cheaper in the end than wooden ones.

—Replace all the bars where you pass often, by strong gates, and then wonder that you didn't do so before.

—A borrowed tool, if broken, should be replaced by a new one. A nice sense of honor in such matters is much to be commended.

—A western paper irreverently styles a woman's rights' convention a meeting of Q Clackers.

—Dr. Holland says, "There are 5000 Roman Catholic priests in Naples and 300 churches, and a better dressed, better looking set of ecclesiastics than one sees in Naples, he will not see anywhere else."

—The Wesleyans of England contributed last year £146,072 for mission purposes, an average of over £150 (currency) each? Our Methodists give about 60 cents each for the same objects.

[The Methodist Contribution in the U. S. may probably be correct, sixty cents average, being a fair average.—But the other statement is too big a figure for belief. Some few persons may be able to give £150 a year; but the average would not be a tenth of it. Possibly it would be a hundredth part of it:—not more.]

* Peter Livius was one of the state council, also at this time, was the leader of the party opposed to Gov. Wentworth, and was then in England trying to get the governor removed.

† Hunking Wentworth.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR:

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness!

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE ATTENTION OF

INVALIDS

is invited to the following testimonial concerning TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT in the cure of INDIGESTION and its concomitants?

BECAUSE

it tones the membrane of the stomach and promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, the solvent which converts the food into a life-sustaining agent; and also because it relieves the bowels without weakening them, and moderately stimulates the bile-producing organ.

WHY

is it recommended for obstructions in the kidneys and other renal diseases, and for dropsy?

BECAUSE

it combines the properties of a mild diuretic saudoric with those of a local and general invigorant, and by promoting prespiration relieves the blood of a large amount of morbid matter which would otherwise vitiate the secretions.

WHY

is it prescribed for rheumatism, and claimed to be eminently beneficial in all the varieties of that disease?

BECAUSE

rheumatism is caused by the inflammatory action of the blood on the tissues, membranes and ligaments; and the salines of the Seltzer Aperient being absorbed into the veinous system tend to neutralize the vitiating principle.

WHY

is it given by the faculty in all disorders of a febrile character?

BECAUSE

it opens the pores, reduces the temperature of the body, calms the nerves, and acts as a moderate stimulant, refreshing rest and invigorating the whole system. Of all fever drinks it is the most cooling and delightful.

In the brief summary of the virtues of Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient nothing is set forth which is not justified by testimony of competent medical men.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 7.

Dear Chronicle:—A bill to incorporate the N. H. Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Manchester, passed the House last week. John S. Harvey, Esq., of Portsmouth, is one of the Trustees, I believe.

The Senate and House not agreeing on the Usury or Interest law, appointed a joint Committee of conference on the subject, at the request of the House, of which Senator Bailey was a member. But the Senate indefinitely postponed the bill reported by that Committee, and the probability is that no actual change will be made in the present old 6 per cent law. And this is perhaps the best plan, under all the circumstances; though on general grounds, why money should not be as free as any other commodity, it is hard to show. And it is especially funny, to see free trade politicians and editors going in for a high tariff on money,—though to some of the latter, who pay neither principal nor interest, I see not what difference it can make, except as a party war-cry.

If at any time you catch your correspondent in false prophecy, please remember that politics and politicians, like white men, are very uncertain.

The House has passed the bill to tax Insurance Companies. It taxes all Companies not located in the State 1 per cent. on all business, and each Agent must pay $100 for a license. It passed by a very large majority, and will go through the Senate.

The bill concerning the increase of passenger and freight rates on the C. & P. R. R. has been defeated. The complaint was that the tariff of 1855 has been largely increased, contrary to the law which permitted the change of track to Manchester. The defence (and it is a good one) is that it was done to make the rates uniform, and that the new arrangement is better for the public.

I am glad Warden Mayo was reelected to the State Prison, for he is a good and true man, was a brave soldier, and now wears an empty sleeve. His competitor was Samuel L. Blaisdell of East Kingston. Vote, 118 to 174.

The House refused to appropriate $500 for an Armory at Reed's Ferry Military Academy.

The House has I believe passed a bill providing that weirs, stakes or set-nets for the catching of fish in the Piscataqua or its branches, shall be at least one mile from each other, measuring in the middle of the channel of said river.

Some members think we shall adjourn Thursday morning,—I don't; but as I lost a hat on the election of Speaker, and a pair of boots on the non-adjournment last week, I don't propose to predict or bet on this occasion.

The Lake Shore Railroad, Boston & Maine Road over-issue of stock, and the Agricultural College bill to-day. I will telegraph results. Yours, F.

☞ Permission has been given to citizens of Concord, to place in Doric Hall in the capitol, a portrait of the late Maj. Edward E. Sturtevant, of Concord, who was the first to enroll himself in the Volunteer roster of New Hampshire and who fell at Petersburg. As good and gallant a fellow as ever lived to bless or died to save his country! A portion of his personal history is a little singular.

When we were employed in the office of the Concord Statesman, twenty years ago or so, we found there a compositor called Captain Crane, and for months never heard of any other name. But one day we were astonished to learn that his real name was Sturtevant, and he was titled Captain on account of his Militia connection, and called Crane from his very long neck and tall slim figure. We saw him little for many years, but he came to public notice, as first in war, on the part of New Hampshire, and was among the earliest to fall; but the name he won will never die while the Granite hills endure.

We also met with a similar case of change of name of a printer, in the Portsmouth Journal office, earlier in life. Ichabod N. Fernald, now one of the publishers of the Boston True Flag, (and whose name thus appeared at the head of that paper,) was always called John, and it was only by chance that we learned, after a long time, that his real name was anything else.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [je15 8w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To Dr. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.

She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. Two Bottles of your compound cured the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here is Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittsburgh a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back. In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 8, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before
me this 6th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVY, Justice of the Peace,
Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. E. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Chills and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w

THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 7.

The House was the scene of a heated debate on the Lake Shore Railroad bill, on Wednesday. The Dover people, finding that defeat was sure if they did not secure the Rockingham delegation, yielded to the pressure and consented to amend the bill so as to include the Portsmouth and Dover Road. The Committee on Railroads, or a majority of them, reported against the bill, but the House, after a protracted debate, took up the minority report, which favored the bill. Mr. Robinson of Portsmouth moved to amend so as to include the P. & D. branch, and the Representatives from Rockingham, Strafford and Carroll Counties united in its support. The Concord and Montreal R. R. opposed the bill, and nearly every lawyer in the House from the central and upper counties is employed in fighting it. The debate was a warm one, and on adjournment 4 o'clock, P. M. was assigned for the renewal of the fight.

By Telegraph.

CONCORD, 7th, 8 P. M.

House re-passed Agricultural College bill, by a very large majority.

The Lake Shore Railroad was discussed, but did not arrive at a vote.

The Legislature will not adjourn before Friday, if then. F.

The News.

The Eons of Portland remain the base ball champions of Maine.

Walter Brown won the scull race at Boston on Monday, beating Hamill, McKeel and Doyle among others, easily. The Harvards won the four-oared race.

An Irish National Republican Convention met at Chicago on Tuesday.

A special to the Boston Traveller says that great excitement prevails in Lee, N. H., in consequence of a terrible murder that was committed there on Tuesday. A Mr. Crawford, a storekeeper at Wadleigh's Falls in that place, became involved in a quarrel with his son. Losing all control over himself, he struck his son with an axe, and the son seized a gun and shot his father. The wound was fatal, and the unfortunate man died a short time after. The family has always stood well in the community.

Walker, conservative Republican, was elected Governor of Virginia by 40,000 majority on Tuesday.

PHILIP PHILLIPS, who did so much for the Christian Commission by his "Evenings of Sacred Song," who when in England last year sang in the Crystal Palace, Spurgeon's Tabernacle, and the largest churches and halls in the principal cities of the British Empire, gives a benefit to the Methodist Church, (now undergoing repairs,) Saturday evening, July 10th, at the North Church. Everybody will confer upon themselves a great benefit by bearing this in mind and going to hear him. The remembrance of his songs is a joy to thousands. That the following one of many references by the press, both religious and secular, to his power, is not overdrawn, we have the assurance of Rev. Mr. Kelsey. See advertisement.

—That Philip Phillips has a most powerful hold upon the hearts of the people, the large audience at Town St. Church last night proves beyond question. The church has the largest audience room of any in the city, and it was filled. People go to hear Philip Phillips sing with hearts full of sacredness. Under the influence of his soft melody of eloquence, speaking in tone, in expression, as well as in music, they nestle down into their seats and hold their breath, when, did another music sing, they would clap their hands and stamp their feet. So it was last night. The concert can certainly be pronounced a success.—Ohio State Journal.

A FEARFUL POSITION.—On Wednesday Mr. L. V. Newell was left in charge of a large and spirited horse, and while turning the team one of the hold-backs became detached, which threw the wagon against the horse's heels and sent the whole team flying up Market Street and down Congress Street, railroad and grass-hopper style. But by cool and shrewd management our friend steered clear of the crowds of carriages, hacks, wagons and milk-carts in the streets at the time, shouting out "whoa—get out of the way there," the teams scattering right and left at the word of command. When arriving near Middle Street, by the kindly and timely assistance of Messrs. John S. and A. J. Sides, one of whom caught hold of the back of the wagon, and the other the horses' bits, the team came to a sudden halt, safe and nearly sound—thanks to all Sides.

☞ Mr. Henry Peyser broke his leg a day or two since while securing a calf.

DOWN THE RIVER.—It seems strange to me, with such a fine river for boating as the Piscataqua, such beautiful scenery as there is along both banks above the bridge, and such splendid places for chowder and fried-fish parties, fishing and picnicing, at its mouth, that there should be so little water-excursionizing here by parties in pursuit of pleasure. The bridge is probably the main objection to a sail up river, but that will not harm those who take care not to hit it, and there is a perfectly safe passage for boats, near our shore. Above the bridge there is no danger, if you steer clear of the dangerous places. Boiling Rock and The Rapids make noise enough to warn a deaf man, and there is plenty of room without troubling either of them.

Down the river, however, I like best. I have a weakness for fried "cunners," when anybody else will skin and cook them; and to be enjoyed in perfection they must be eaten on some of the rocky islands at the Piscataqua's mouth. If there happens to be a long, lazy ground swell rolling in, you have only to stop in the boat as she lays at anchor while the fish are being caught and old black pipes are being smoked, to enjoy all the pleasures of sea-sickness with none of the perils of a voyage at sea. Therefore I like down river best.

The Fourth of July was too warm for comfort ashore, so I thought I would go on the water,—especially as I had met several gentlemen of my acquaintance going towards the river, laden with numerous shawls, cloaks and big baskets, indicative of a party in which the feminine element was not to be omitted. My friend "Rashe" and I concluded to make up a "gander party," so we got Jim and Bill, and off we went, down to the islands, and commenced fishing. By the time we got hungry we had caught sixty cunners, and we then ran ashore on an island where we (quite unexpectedly) found the other party, just ready to attack a glorious dinner, including fried fish. They invited us to join them, of course, and of course we did so; we could not be so unmannerly as to refuse.

That is the best way to go pleasuring. When you see some party that you know going down, follow along after awhile, yourself, and accidentally join them. In this way you will enjoy the ladies' society, and have none of the responsibility of taking care of them. If you capsize your boat, and drown yourself only, it is nobody's business; but should any accident happen to a lady while in your care, just think how you would be talked about. Besides, the ladies are sure to carry lots of good things, and as sure to ask you to eat some of them; and any man who allows a false modesty to interfere with the rights of his appetite, has no business down river at all. Our party was not troubled with any scruples,—we calmly ate up about all the other folks had. After dinner we sailed about, with the ladies in our boat, until it was time to start for home, when we returned them with thanks, and made sail up the river.

On the way up we concluded to clean our cunners. They have to be skinned, and it's a terrible job. Bill guessed he didn't want any of them, and Jim was sailing the boat, so Rashe and I were to fix the whole lot. We picked out a big one to start on, and I commenced operations by cutting off his head and tail; but I was unable to hold him while I pulled off his skin, so Rashe came to my assistance. He was a little afraid of finspines, so he wrapped a handkerchief with "Jessie" embroidered in the corner, round his hand.—I got a good hold, and we braced ourselves for a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull both together. We gave that pull; but just before the skin came off, my hand slipped, and we flew in opposite directions, Rashe waving the cunner triumphantly over his head as he went. I sat down softly on the pile of fish in the stern sheets, and Rashe landed without injury; but his elbow hit Bill in the pit of the stomach, knocking the derision with which he had been treating us all out of him, and he didn't speak another word till we got up to the wharf. After that we took turns at cleaning the fish, relieving each other every few minutes. Rashe has a habit of running his fingers through his hair when he's vexed, and by the time we landed, more than half that fish was stuck, in little pieces, all over the top of his head. He won't need any more hair-oil for six months,—he smelt like a fish-flake, going up street. I cut a large hole in my trowsers, stuck the knife in my hand, and found a back fin fast to my shirt bosom when I got home. But we had determined to skin that cunner or perish in the attempt,—and we did it. By the time we got through struggling with him he was the skinnedest cunner that ever left the Piscataqua; all there was left of him was his backbone.

When we looked for another one to practise on, we found that Jim had dressed the fifty-nine others himself. It seemed that he could do it better than we could, somehow, though none of his fish looked like ours, at all. Rashe and I divided them between us, and voted that Bill had shown marked genius in declining to have anything to do with them, and that, consequently, he should henceforth be called William.

Going down river is sport indeed, but skinning cunners is an excellent imitation of hard work; I wish I knew of some place where I could catch them ready skinned. Persons going on chowder-parties, who desire to take a fisherman along with them, need not apply to me unless they are willing to pay $200 per dozen for cleaning cunners. That's little enough. PAKEHA.

Our Navy Yard Correspondence.

July 7.

Several strangers were seen coming out of Love Lane, Tuesday afternoon, two or three beaten nearly to a jelly and eyes nearly closed. Was it a prize fight?

The following conversation occurred on the B. & M. R. R. while stopping for the down train at Newton, recently. A man deformed in body but not in soul was standing in the door of the saloon in the car, and a fellow deformed with whiskey came and said "Get in out of the way and folks won't know you are a fool." The other coolly replied "They will know you are whether you get in or out." There was some loud smiling on the train, and drunkard vamosed.

☞ A Marine named Charles Williams was missing from the Navy Yard, about six weeks ago, and was supposed to have deserted;—but it now appears that he was drowned. His body was found on Friday, July 2, taken to the Navy Yard, and buried with military honors. He belonged in Kentucky; and his age was 28.

☞ Naval Constructor Samuel M. Pook has been detached from the Boston Navy Yard and ordered to the Portsmouth Yard, and Naval Constructor Isaiah Hanscom is detached from Portsmouth and ordered to Boston.

☞ A Washington dispatch says the Pawnee is to be immediately refitted at the Portsmouth yard, for the Cuban waters.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2, per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ By their advertisement it will be seen that the Morris Brothers give one of their concerts here next Tuesday evening.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. Sold by all Druggists. my13eod3m

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in the few years now often called young, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence.—It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depredator within is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent to the Invigorator, where all suffering from indigestion. Removed from ordinary diversions of the great—hanging scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give rise to healthful, manly exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the monster is hailed for weeks in anxiety, in the first hope in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the blush of health. Alas! the hectic flush, which has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period of the body and mind undergoes fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and anxious she gives a wide waiting for the relative.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Labor of Power, Loss of Memory, Confusion, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Nervous Irritability, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite, Pimples upon the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness in the Eyeballs, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society, and a more decided aversion to Companions than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Paralysis, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is entirely sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguil."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the disease. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the languid and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been labouring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary jelly, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the fairer sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Conclusive Evidence in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

W. H. REESE, a leading druggist in Monticello, Ill., in a letter of June 6, 1868, writes to this effect: "Having sold Hostetter's Bitters for the past four years, I cannot but speak of the article as being the best tonic and appetizer extant. During the ague season of 1865—6, I could not keep a sufficient stock on hand to supply my customers. In fact your Bitters was as staple as quinine. I learn that physicians prescribe it all over the western country. Indeed, a great many families think they are not safe without your invaluable tonic."

J. K. WITHERSPOON, a magistrate of Kershaw county, S. C., states, under date April 13, 1868, that he has used the Bitters constantly in his own family for the previous two years. He first tried the preparation when suffering from exhaustion produced by a severe attack of fever. Before the first bottle was finished he experienced a remarkable change for the better. He had tried brandy at the outset, but found that did him more harm than good. In one month from the time he commenced using the Bitters his health, strength and appetite were restored. He had recommended the article to others in like circumstances, and never known to fail, and he found it a perfect specific for chills and fever.

MR. SAMUEL KEYSER, of Clarion, Pa., under date April 6, 1868, certifies that he was completely cured of "one of the most distressing attacks of dyspepsia that ever afflicted any mortal," by three bottles of the Bitters, after "various other remedies had proved powerless." Restored to perfect health, he thanks "that excellent preparation for the result."

Dr. G. M. SPENCER, of Brush Creek, Perry Co., Ala., writing thence Feb. 8, 1868, says:—"I have used your Stomach Bitters for several years in my practice, and find them superior to most of the Bitters now prescribed by the profession generally." jy1

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—SCROFULOUS SORES.—These unsightly ulcers, even when hereditary, may be cured. There is no ulcerous disease that can resist the healing properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. As a vegetable ingredient are a perfect antidote to external irritation arising from a scrofulous taint, and in order to expel the taint itself from the whole circulation, it is advisable to purify the elements of the blood by a course of HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Sold by all Druggists. jy7

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chole followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends are also convinced that the discovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she gained twenty pounds. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. jel7

A Great Political Revolution

was accomplished by the election of Grant, and a revolution of immense social importance has been effected by the general substitution of that pure and harmless preparation,

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,

for the deadly compound of lead and brimstone of which, according to the "Journal of Chemistry" (Philadelphia) "Medical Gazette," more than thirty varieties have been foisted upon the public! Cristadoro's Dye is the only one that and Professor Chandler, whose name is signature, declared that it is perfectly wholesome.

HAS BEEN ANALYZED;

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, sets like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. Try it.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which each year are the finest racers in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Price, in Pint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this popular and celebrated FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skilful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the native, as well as European residents in those climates, je19

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter rises in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be taken to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, regulate the secretions, clear the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented equal to calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to digest the food, enables the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Ganglers, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decay. Now, how can any one say what matter is coming? It may only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power or they make blood all right. There is only one chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to eat with relish, digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Wanted, an American Girl.

THE TROTTING at the Rockingham Park on the Fourth (5th) of July, as we anticipated, afforded some good sport. A lovelier day never dawned on this earth, than Monday; and a large and highly respectable company, including many gally-dressed ladies, and families, filled the seats and occupied a long string of carriages, all about the beautiful Piscataqua Fair Grounds, which is the most beautiful enclosure of the sort we ever saw.

The track from having been recently graded, was very soft and loose, which of course prevented faster time, and doubtless caused the accident which threw the swiftest horse in the field out of the race at the start, and caused horses and riders to be fearfully pitched about for a minute or two. But beyond laming Mountain Maid a little, and perhaps slowing her so as to lose a heat or two she otherwise might have won, there was no great harm done.

And although the record shows no swift time, yet both the races were very closely contested and quite interesting—the horses being evenly matched, so that it was impossible to name the winner in one race, or who would take second money in the other.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnished capital music, and a plenty of it, to enliven the occasion; and on the other hand, there was the usual amount, and it seemed more than that, of the vexatious but probably inevitable delay, in getting the horses started for almost every heat.

The judges for the afternoon were Chas. E. Smith of South Newmarket, Wm. H. Laws of Portsmouth, and W. W. Kelman. For the first trot, Purse $175; open to all horses,—$100 to first, $50 to second, $25 to third,—there were three entries, and all came to the score:

M. Eldredge, black mare "Bells of Portsmouth," former name "Lady Palmer." Woodbury Locke, g m . . . Nellie Locke.
Frank Jones, b m . . . . . Mountain Maid.

Mr. Geo. H. Shannon, who has Mr. Eldredge's beautiful mare in training, drove her on this occasion; Mr. Locke drove Nellie, and John McGlew as usual held the ribbons in good style over the Maid. Nellie drew the outside, we believe, and the Maid had the pole; but they had scarcely made the first turn, when in Mr. Locke's trying to head McGlew and take the pole, Nellie made a miss-step in the soft gravel, and the Maid's wheel caught in one of Locke's—throwing Locke out, and afterwards McGlew, and when Mr. L. attempted to remount, his mare was so rash and excited that he was thrown out at the back of his sulky again.

However, both men held on, and actualy got into their seats again, and drove through the heat—although coming in a long way in the rear of the Belle, when Mr. Shannon had kept urging all the while. There was no distance in force except for foul driving, or both the ground and lofty tumbling fellows would have been ruled out—but the judges decided, after consultation among themselves, that Nellie should be shut out from the heat and race for foul driving, (this making no difference, whether accidental or otherwise,) and she was seen no more. The Belle's time for the heat was 3:08.

The second heat was taken by Mountain Maid in 2:59; and the third and fourth each in the same time, by the Belle, which gave her the first purse, and the Maid second money. This time on this track, in present condition, must be as good or better than '40 on the Mystic. All the heats were struggled for from end to end, and the horses alternately passed each other in each several times. The Maid is more experienced, and quicker, and of shorter gait, and can beat the Belle in scoring, and is handier at the turns; but the Belle out-footed her on the straight of the back and home stretches in each heat, and came in a handsome winner. We congratulate Mr. Eldredge, and his trainer and driver, on their success over so good and game a horse as the Mountain Maid.

SUMMARY.

ROCKINGHAM TROTTING PARK, Portsmouth, N. H., July 5. Purse 175: Open to All Horses: $100 to first, $50 to second, and $25 to third. Mile heats, best three in five, to harness.

Time; 3:03, 2:59, 3:08, 2:59.

Between these heats, the other race was trotted. This was for a purse of $100, for Horses that never beat 3 minutes—$60 to first, $30 to second, and $20 to third. And the following horses came to the scratch:

Frank Jones,	names	b g	Brown George.
M. Eldredge,	"	b g	Bill Kearney.
W. Locke,	"	r g	Yankee Locke.
True W. Jones,	"	g g	Yankee Locke.

Mr. McGlew drove for Mr. Jones, Mr. Eldredge handled his own horse, and Mr. Locke his, and Mr. J. H. Ferguson drove for Mr. T. W. Jones, the white or gray Yankee Locke. Mr. F. Jones' fine large brown horse George had it all his own way, and won handily in three straight heats, in 3:05, 3:02, 3:03, at his ease, and could have done much better if needed. Mr. Eldredge was second in first heat, but Mr. Locke's brown or foan colt proved himself a good footer for a green one, and took second money. The old fleabitten gray was nowhere, and was drawn after second heat.

SUMMARY.

Time 3:05, 3:02, 3:03.

There was also a Velocipede race of half a mile, between two boys, for an elegant silver, gold-lined Goblet of $15 value. Won by F. J. G. Ladd of Kittery, in 3:03—Wm. H. Berry, his only competitor, being close up, and only defeated for lack of getting the inside at the start. There were several more contestants ready, but these two only were sent off by mistake, or there would have been more fun. Col. M. T. Betton had this department in charge.

THE EXHIBITION of Mr. Samuel Lamprey's dancing class at Congress Hall, Tuesday evening, was attended by all who could obtain the much desired tickets of admission. The Exhibition was a miniature ball, at which the juvenile dancers appeared arrayed as elaborately and tastefully as do their elders at our most fashionable gatherings. To picture such a scene faithfully and appropriately is one of the most difficult of tasks, and if an enthusiastic "Jenkins" could have been present he would have found his best attempts at description tame when compared with the reality.

The little ones varied in age from six years to "sweet sixteen" (we are not so very sure about the latter being correct,) and they seemed to have attained a wonderful proficiency in the delightful art of dancing, under the excellent teaching of Mr. Lamprey, who presided over the graceful little fairies in his usual careful manner. The grand march, the galops, redowas and waltzes were all gone through with to the manifest delight of the audience, and the children seemed as well versed in "the German" as the others. If Mr. Lamprey, the urbane teacher of the terpsichorean art, (whose name is a household word in this section of New England,) was not pleased and proud of the result of his faithful teachings he is the most modest man we know.

Now that it is conceded that one of the necessary adjuncts of a finished education is a proper knowledge of dancing, by which the learner, old or young, forgets awkwardness and acquires a grace and address which in no other way can be obtained, it isn't at all to be wondered at that Mr. Lamprey is so popular, and that his efforts are more and more appreciated. Hundreds (we might not be in error should we say thousands) of the youth of both sexes, and many of maturer years, look to him with gratitude and respect for the knowledge he has so patiently aided them in acquiring, and the young ladies and gentlemen who daintily tripped through the mazes of the dances at this Exhibition will remember it as one of the most beautiful of scenes and the most pleasant of times when they shall have become spectators, and with paternal and maternal pride look fondly on the fairy-like movements of little ones as petite as they are now. May Mr. Lamprey live to teach many other hundreds, and may his popularity never wane!

THE DAYS OF '76.

Seizure of Arms and Powder at Fort William and Mary. The finale of the Provincial Government in New Hampshire.

In a letter of 14th Nov., 1774, to Lord Rockingham, Gov. Wentworth says that Mr. Livius "has indisputably excited all the opposition to Govt. that is in this province." He also mentions that he (the Governor himself) was introduced to his Majesty's service through Lord R.'s patronage. In a letter to the Earl of Dartmouth, dated "Portsmouth, 20th Dec., 1774," he says:

On Tuesday, the 13th instant, in the afternoon, one Paul Revere arrived express with letters from some of the leaders in Boston to Mr. Samuel Cutts, merchant of this town. Reports were soon circulated that the Fort at Rhode Island had been dismantled, and the Gunpowder and other military stores removed up to Providence, and an Extract of the circular letter directing the seizure of gunpowder was printed in a Boston Newspaper of the 12th in consequence, as I have been informed, of the said letters having been communicated to the House of Assembly at Rhode Island. And it was also falsely given out that Troops were embarking at Boston to come and take possession of William and Mary Castle in this Harbour. These rumors soon raised an alarm in the town; and, although I did not expect that the people would be so audacious as to make any attack on the castle, yet I sent orders to the captain at the Fort to be upon his guard.

On Wednesday, the 14th, about 12 o'clock, news was brought to me that a Drum was beating about the town to collect the Populace together in order to go and take away the Gunpowder and dismantle the Fort. I immediately sent the Chief Justice of the Province to warn them from engaging in such an attempt. He went to them where they were collected in the centre of the town, near the townhouse, explained to them the nature of the offence they proposed to commit, told them it was not short of Rebellion and intreated them to desist from it and disperse. But all to no purpose. They went to the Island; and, being joined there by the inhabitants of the towns of Newcastle and Rye, formed in all a body of about four hundred men, and the Castle being in too weak a condition for defence (as I have in former letters explained to your Lordship) they forced their entrance, in spite of Captain Cochran; who defended it as long as he could; but, having only the assistance of five men, their numbers overpowered him. After they entered the Fort, they seized upon the Captain, triumphantly gave three Huzzas, and hauled down the King's Colours. They then put the captain and men under confinment, broke open the Gunpowder Magazine, and carried off about 100 Barrels of Gunpowder, but discharged the Captain and men from their confinement before their departure.

On Thursday, the 15th, in the morning, a Party of men came from the country accompanied by Mr. [Gen. John] Sullivan, one of the New-Hampshire Delegates to the Congress, to take away the Cannon from the Fort also. Mr. Sullivan declared that he had taken pains to prevail upon them to return home again; and said, as there was no certain intelligence of troops being coming to take possession of the Castle, he would still use his utmost endeavours to disperse them.

While the town was thus full of men, a committee from them came to me to solicit for pardon or a suspension of prosecution against the persons that took away the Gunpowder. I told them I would not promise them any such thing; but, if they dispersed and restored the Gunpowder, which I earnestly exhorted them to do, I said I hoped His Majesty may be thereby induced to consider it an alleviation of the offence. They parted from me, in appearance, perfectly disposed to follow the advice I had given them; and, having proceeded directly to the rest of their associates, they all publickly voted, about five o'clock in the afternoon, near the Town House, to return home; which it was thought they would have done, and it also was further expected that the gunpowder would have been restored by the morning.

But the people, instead of dispersing, went to the Castle in the night, headed by Mr. Sullivan, and took away sixteen pieces of cannon, about sixty muskets and other military stores, and brought them to the out Borders of the Town.

On Friday morning, the 16th, Mr. Folsom, the other delegate, came to town that morning, with a great number of armed men, who remained in Town as a guard till the flow of the tide in the evening, when the cannon were sent in Gondolas up the River into the country, and they all dispersed without having done any personal injury to any body in the town.

They threatened to return again in order to dismantle the fort entirely, and to carry off or destroy the remaining heavy cannon (about seventy pieces), and also to seize upon the Province Treasury, all of which there was resonable ground to fear they would do, after what they had already done; but, on the Gunpowder's being taken away, I wrote to General Gage and Admiral Graves for assistance to restrain the boisterous temper of the people; upon which the Admiral ordered the armed ships Cancesux and Scarborough here, and they arrived (the former the 17th and the latter on the 19th) in time to prevent the further dismantling of the Fort."

Further on, Gov. Wentworth says the government has no power to bring the offenders to punishment.

No jail would hold them long and no jury would find them guilty; for, by the false alarm that has been raised throughout the country, it is considered by the weak and ignorant, who have the rule in these times, an act of self-preservation.

Again he says:

I tried to dissuade them by the civil authority, sheriff, magistrates, &c., and did all I could to get the militia raised, but to no purpose.

He had assembled the Council at the beginning of the tumult, but it was of no avail. In his letter to Lord Dartmouth, dated 28 Dec., 1774, he says; "It is with the greatest concern I perceive the unlimited influence that the popular leaders in Boston obtain in this Province, especially since the outrage of the 14th instant. Insomuch, that I think the people here are disposed to attempt any measure required by those few men; and, in consequence thereof, are arming and exercising men as if for an immediate war.

Concluded To-morrow.

New Publications.

American Horological Journal, for July, 1869, No. 1. In the present number will be found an article on Astronomy in its Relations to Horology. Another, on Jewelling, and Pinions, both practical, written by practical mechanics. The first of a series of articles on Clocks and Clock Making, from the pen of one the best and most experienced, as well as most intelligent clock makers in the country, is also presented, and will probably extend throughout the first volume at least. The "American Horological Journal" will be published on the first of each month, containing thirty-two pages, at $2.50 per year, payable in advance. G. B. Miller, Publisher, 229 Broadway, N. Y.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.
Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.
Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.
Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.
Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE ATTENTION OF
REFLECTING INVALIDS is invited to the following observations. The questions are such as the sick would be likely to ask; the replies are simple, brief, and clothed in language that everybody can understand.
WHY
is TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT adapted to the cure of INDIGESTION and its concomitants?
BECAUSE
it tones the membranes of the stomach and promotes the secretion of the gastic juice, the solvent which converts the food into a life-sustaining aliment; and simultaneously it relieves the bowels without weakening them, and moderately stimulates the bile-producing organ.
WHY is it recommended for obstructions in the kidneys and other renal diseases, and for dropsy?
BECAUSE
it combines the properties of a mild diuretic saline with those of a local and general invigorant, and by promoting perspiration relieves the blood of a large proportion of morbid matter which would otherwise vitiate the secretions.
WHY is it prescribed for rheumatism, and claimed to be eminently beneficial in all the varieties of that disease?
BECAUSE
rheumatism is caused by the inflammatory action of an acid in the blood upon the fibres, membranes and ligaments; and the saline of the Seltzer Aperient being absorbed into the vascular system tend to neutralize the vitiating principle.
WHY
is it given by the faculty in all disorders of a febrile character?
BECAUSE
it opens the pores, reduces the temperature of the body, calms the nerves and acts as a moderate evacuant, and has a refreshing effect upon the whole system. All fever drinks it is the most cooling and delightful.
In this brief summary of the virtues of Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient nothing is set forth which is not unquestioned by testimony of competent medical men.

CULTURE IN THE FARM-HOUSE.—Glancing idly this rainy morning at one of our city dailies, my attention is attracted by a line under the well-known head of "Hints to Farmers." "Don't buy a piano for your daughters, while your sons need a plow."

Now, being a Yankee, I shall venture to "guess," as if I were of the masculine gender, I should certainly "bet," and that right heavily, that the man who wrote those "Hints" had neither sons nor daughters. Furthermore, he had no money to invest in either plows pianos, and he knew nothing of farming except what he had read about it. Neither was he writing in the country amid the songs of the birds and the hum of a myriad forms of happy life. No, he was a poor, miserable, cynical old batchelor, who was condemned for his sins to get up a proper variety for a city newspaper, at so much per column, and didn't get well paid for it. As he sat striving for ideas in the fifth story of a third-rate boarding-house, his landlady's daughter was thrumming an old rickety piano below, and, not daring to vent his spleen on her, he cowardly took to abusing the unconscious piano.

Don't you pay any attention to such "hints," farmers! They are all written to sell, and don't you be sold by them. You know the wants of your sons and daughters better than an old seedy scribbler can tell you. If your daughters, or sons, have a taste for music, cultivate it as liberally as your means will allow, and never fear it will not pay you back as well as your finest field of wheat! It will not hinder the plow! Never fear that. The plow-boy's whistle is proverbial, and don't we all know he plows the faster for his whisting? His horses are enlivened by it, and speed the faster through the field. His own fatigue, and the heat of the day, are disregarded and unfelt.

If the spring work drives, let your daughters help. They can ride on the corn-planter as easily and gracefully as in an elegant carriage, and far more usefully. Then, when they are through the spring work, and everything is growing without their aid, let them in the pleasant eventide gather around the piano, sons and daughters both, and be sure that the piano is a good one! You would not use a poor old plow.—From "Piano vs. Plow" in July Phren. Jour.

SUGAR FROM PUMPKINS.—During late years several more or less successful attempts have been made to introduce into the United States sugar producing plants to replace the cane. The beet root and sorgum are among the number, but one of the most valuable which is cultivated in every cornfield in the Middle States, has been quite neglected. This plant is no other than the common pumpkin, the cucurbita pepo of botanists. Its period of harvesting lasts longer than that of the beet, it is easier preserved and its refuse is just as valuable for the feeding of stock. Pumpkins weigh from fifty to sixty pounds; they furnish about four per cent. of sugar; the contents in juice is eighty per cent. This juice indicates from ten to eleven on Baume's areometer. The sugar obtained from pumpkins is of good grain and color. Before refining, it has a slight flavor of melon. The syrup is of a very dark green color, nearly black, and tastes like cane sugar. In Hungary, since the year 1837, several manufactories for making sugar from pumpkins have been in operation. The treatment of this fruit is perfectly identical with that of the beet root, and the machinery used for the purpose is the same.

—Reports of great social immorality having reached the ears of the grand jury at Dubuque, Iowa, subpœnas were issued to almost every male inhabitant who had reached years of discretion.

—The life of a lady in a New York town was saved the other day by her chignon. A horse kicked her twice, but striking his foot on that capital appendage injured her not at all.

—The harbor of Michigan City, Indiana, has been so enlarged and deepened that lake vessels of the largest size now enter it, but the work is not yet wholly completed.

—Women are scarce in Sioux City, Iowa, and a paper of that place advertises proposals for fifteen hundred New England girls of industrious habits.

—Notwithstanding the high tariffs of the Pacific railroad, Montana is already rejoicing in a downfall in the price of goods transported by this route.

—In the recent Saxon elections the liberals obtained a majority of eight over all others, including those of doubtful opinions.

—The West generally has been shaken by a sizeable earthquake.

—Heavy rains have drowned out the potato bugs in Wisconsin.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [je15 5w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.

She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than sixteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Doctors that contained the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particularly. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him apply PAIN PAINT. In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.

DR. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 at each order. Therefore there need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 7.

Dear Chronicle:—I will give you a few items, of some general interest, perhaps, of affairs in the Legislature and out.

Hon. John R. Reding of Portsmouth is, we believe, the only member of the House who ever sat in Congress—and it did not suit him very well to have the young men raise points of order on him the other day, on one of his motions and notions. When he moved to re-consider the Agr. Col. bill, which had passed both the House and Senate,—on the ground that it was hastily passed, and slipped by almost unknown to him and the House generally,—Mr. Pickering of Greenland, (misunderstanding Mr. Reding to say that he was not present when the bill passed,) inquired of the Speaker whether Mr. Reding could, by the rules, move to reconsider, as he was not in the house when it passed? Mr. Reding said he knew his duty as well as the gentleman from Greenland. He was in the House, (laughter,) and in his seat at the time. Mr. Miller of Portsmouth inquired of the Speaker whether his colleague voted for the bill, and if he must not so vote, in order to be able to move a reconsideration? Mr. Reding replied that he did not vote in the affirmative, nor were there ten members who voted on the bill at all. And the Chair ruled that on questions which are carried without a division of the House, every member present is supposed to have voted in the affirmative, and any one may move a reconsideration.

The Constitutional Convention bill passed by the House last week, provides that the question whether one shall be held, shall be submitted to the people at the next Election,—and that the only subjects for action shall be to reduce the House, to increase the Senate, not to exceed 35 members, and to abolish the religious test in the Constitution. The change in the Legislature has always seemed desirable, but an old member, who has learned the number and power of the third House, says he is now opposed to any reduction of the House, as the more members, the less danger of corruption.

I think two other changes are also desirable,—one that the name of the General Court ought to be in law as well as fact, Legislature; and that it should take one-fifth of this House, as in Congress, to call the yeas and nays, instead of one member being able to do it—as Mr. Reding did on Tuesday, after all his talk of retrenchment, when it was moved to postpone his C. & P. R. R. complaint (in which nobody that we heard of sustained him) to the next Session, and which was thus kicked out, 146 to 100.

The Convention, if agreed to by the Senate, and the people, can only draw pay for six days' work, and mileage the same as the Legislature.

The Committee on Military Accounts, to whom was referred the bill of Wm. O. Sides, of $110, approved it, and it will be paid. On Com. Gen. Brown's bill of $190, the Committee recommended to pay $50.20, for all services, and money paid out, and this will be done. They report

That at the time the Commissary General was elected in 1868, although he was relieved from active duties, he was entitled to an annual salary of $10, which was not to be taken into account for any services rendered by him at the request of the Adjutant General in taking charge of any public property in his care. But this section of the law, (the 17th section of Chap. 91 of the General Statutes,) was repealed last year, so that he is not entitled to any salary at the present time.

And upon investigation, it was shown that the Adjutant General did not give him any directions to do anything.

It appears to your Committee that under the law he is not entitled to any pay for his services. But it was shown that he gave bonds to the State in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the proper care of the property entrusted to him, and his bond was approved by the Governor and Council, so that he was under obligation to take care of the property in his charge; and we think, in justice, he should have fair pay for necessary work. But your Committee do not think it for the interest of the State to pay $80 for cleaning 60 old guns and a few knapsacks, or to pay $2 a week for opening and airing the Arsenal at Portsmouth. And we trust we shall be pardoned for suggesting to this House the propriety of having the public property removed, and the Arsenal closed.

The bill abolishing School Districts, introduced by petition from Dover, was indefinitely postponed, on account of its alleged injustice to the rural districts in large cities sparsely populated. There is a general disposition, I think, to grant special bills of the kind for large cities that desire it.

The petition of 800 citizens of different sections of the State, asking for female suffrage, was indefinitely postponed.

We are glad the bill to tax Insurance peddlers passed; and wish that book, stationery, printing, and all other kinds of peddling, could be taxed out of existence. What reason is there for tolerating the nuisance of these peripatetic traders, to the vital injury of local dealers who pay taxes and store-rent, and spend their money in the communities where they receive it?

Governor Stearns often invites a few members of the Legislature to meet socially round the festive board of his elegant mansion on Main Street,—the hospitalities of which he and his lady so well know how to dispense. These occasions are very pleasant, being entirely informal, and lead to many agreeable acquaintances.

Hon. Geo. G. Fogg gave a complimentary Levee to a large and brilliant party of citizens and visitors, last week, at his residence on Main Street—which is also a fine mansion, large, handsomely furnished and well appointed,—with the single exception of the most important and indispensable requisite to any real home,—for Br. Fogg is yet a bachelor. There were many distinguished men and beautiful women present; cut flowers were presented in profusion; and the hospitalities of the occasion were successfully dispensed, notwithstanding the lack I refer to above.

Col. Peter Sanborn, State Treasurer, also received a few of his many friends at home on Tuesday evening—and yours truly did not feel at all flattered that a charming young lady whom he never saw before, came up to him, and offering her hand, saluted him as General Beckit! No, I thank you, ma'am; not even your fresh beauty can reconcile me to that sad and strange mistake.

Yours truly, R.

CONCORD, July 8.

The petition for the Lake Shore Railroad occupied Thursday forenoon. It was defeated by 113 yeas to 191 nays—Rockingham County we believe giving 22 yes to 23 no—the Portsmouth delegation of ten being divided; Wilson, Robinson, Vaughan, Henderson, Miller, Langdon, Reding, 7, voting yes; one, Jones, no; and Coffin and Hackett absent.

This is a great gain for the project, the vote last year being 228 no, to only 71 yes. One more pull, and a pull all together—ay, there's the rub—will do it. We shall give the whole history of the affair when a little less hurried, and will only say now, that it was only by union of the friends of the Portsmouth & Dover Road, with the Dover people, that gained a single vote to the Lake Shore project—which interests, if it was now understood, were and are to be united. Had this been done before the Railroad Committee, as it was on the floor of the House, we think a report might have been made in favor of the united Roads from Portsmouth to the Weirs, and that the House would have granted it. F.

New Hampshire Items.

George Neal, of Tuftonborough, whose sudden death, about a week ago, has been attributed to his eating red peppermints, is now said to have died of an overdose of "Fowler's Solution." He has been known to take the latter stuff for the purpose of improving his complexion.

A New Post Office has recently been established at Moultonville (Ossipee), John D. Moulton, postmaster.

Elijah Hodsdon of Effingham died very suddenly recently at the residence of his brother in Ossipee. He was an aged and worthy citizen, noted in his youth as being one of the few post boys in this section. His route extended from Portsmouth to Plymouth. He brought news of peace at the close of the war of 1812, riding the entire route without rest, other than to change horses.

Mr. James Libbey, of Manchester, died in that city on Sunday evening, of aneurism of the aorta, the great blood vessel leading from the heart. He had been diseased for a long time, but the end was a sudden bursting of the vessel, with a torrent of blood, and speedy death.

☞ The New York World reports that at a private meeting of the directors of the Philharmonic Society, the project of having a musical jubilee in that city was discussed, and a resolution in favor of the plan was unanimously adopted. It is designed that the affair shall outstrip the Boston jubilee, but it is decided at the outset that there shall be neither anvils nor guns in it. It is projected upon a magnificent scale and is to furnish musical entertainment of a week's duration. The proceeds of the jubilee are to be devoted to the building of a music hall which shall be a credit to the city.

The News.

The New York World reports an effort in progress to bring out Mr. Boutwell as a candidate for President, and attributes to Mr. Thomas L. Tullock the origin and the leadership of the project.

Secretary Robeson has sent orders to Admiral Hoff, of the South Atlantic squadron, to proceed at once to San Domingo and investigate the recent alleged outrages on American citizens there.

Havana and Matanzas have been declared infected ports.

A negro boy named Jeremiah Baltimore has been sent into the Washington navy yard as an apprentice in the machinist's department. He wishes to become an engineer in the navy, and is admitted on the same footing as white boys.

"Another Thespian impleasantness," to use the euphemism of the New York Tribune, has occurred in that city. Mr. Tayleure, manager of the Grand Opera House, formerly discharged from the theatre of which he had charge one Mlle. Fiddes, properly Mrs. Murray, Mr. Dominick Murray, then playing in London, took umbrage at the discharge of his wife, threw up his engagement in England, and sailed the seas over for Mr. Tayleure. The latter heard of his purpose, saved him the trouble of seeking his victim, but went himself to the Metropolitan Hotel where Mr. Murray was lodging, gave him battle and worsted him in one round.

New York rejoices at the fall of opera bouffe and the reaction which will lead back the legitimate drama to its desecrated temples.

The first annual re-union of the Burnside Expedition and 9th army corps took place at Rocky Point, Rhode Island, on Wednesday.

1700 miles of the French Atlantic Cable have been laid.

Gen. W. S. Rosecrans has received the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio.

Protestantism is increasing in Mexico.

The Captain-General of Cuba has issued a proclamation declaring that the revolution has been sufficiently reduced to justify a partial restoration of civil law. The newspapers have also been granted greater liberties.

At Newmarket, the agent of the mills has commenced to clear the narrows of rocks. When the tide is near its lowest ebb, the stones weighing fifteen or twenty tons, are fastened to a gondola, so that when the tide rises the stones are drifted to the harbor to widen the wharves. William P. Channel is the engineer of this improvement.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Manhood.

IN the young and rising generation the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to study, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the success is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonder-fitted-to which body and mind indurgo so fascinating a change in woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from early indiscretion, is recommended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Sight, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushings of Heat, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back; Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Weak Stomach, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Nervous Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one Conception to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these statements. In lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth nor Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used, and prescribed it.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere.—Price $1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medicine.

The great difficulty which physicians have been labouring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than Five Thousand Cases have been tried and were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feeble sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. Erasmus Winslow's Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Conclusive Evidence in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

W. H. REEER, a leading druggist in Mottiello, Ill., in a letter of June 6, 1868, writes to this effect: "Having sold Hostetter's Bitters for the past four years, I cannot but speak of the article as being the best tonic and invigorant on the market. During the ague season of 1865—6, I could not keep a sufficient stock on hand to supply my customers. In fact, your Bitters was as efficacious as quinine. I learn that physicians prescribe it all over the western country. Indeed, a great many families think they are not safe without your invaluable tonic."

J. K. WITHERSPOON, a magistrate of Kershaw county, S. C., states, under date April 13, 1868, that he has used the Bitters constantly in his own family for the previous two years. He first tried the preparation when suffering from exhaustion produced by a severe attack of fever. Before the first bottle was finished he experienced a remarkable change for the better. He had been already at the point of death, but found that the medicine had turned the tide, and had done him more harm than good. In one month from the time he commenced using the Bitters his health, strength and appetite were restored. He had recommended the articles to others in like circumstances, and never known to fail, and he found it a perfect specific for chills and fever.

MR. SAMUEL YOUNG, of Clarion, Pa., under date April 6, 1868, certifies that he was completely cured of "one of the most distressing attacks of dyspepsia that ever afflicted any mortal," by three bottles of the Bitters, after "various other remedies had proved powerless." Restored to perfect health, he thanks "that excellent preparation for the result."

Dr. G. M. SPENCER, of Brush Creek, Perry Co., Ala., writing thence on Feb. 8, 1868, says—"I have used your Stomach Bitters for several years in my practice, and find them superior to most of the bitters now prescribed by the profession in every rally."

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chill followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, was a benefit, usually proved by the same persons disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

L. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. This, prevented and nourishment, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—She brought no more coiling to her mother's relation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. jel7

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Its wonderful cures will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give. jy2

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that THIS LINIMENT will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

Prices, in Flint bottles, One Dollar. The genuine is signed S. I. Tobias on the outside wrapper. For sale by the Druggists, Saddlers and Storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. je17

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to the long established and well known

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has withstood the test more successfully than all other various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives as well as European residents in those climates. je19

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in health; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, or when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon in healthy action. The pills will show what the pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, unlocks the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood, without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial tubes, inflammation, pleurisy, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but its the whole body. The stomach and liver have ceased to work, or to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was asked away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all advice is given free, but if examined. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday, when He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 32 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1a4

☞ The base ball players of the Mutual Club of this city speak in terms of praise of their treatment by the Independents of Newburyport, who celebrated Independence Day by winning a game with the Mutuals, 55 to 27, the latter being outbatted, though their fielding was as good as that of their opponents. The old Rockinghams were victorious in a game with the Essex Club of Newburyport on the 4th of July, 1867, winning by a score of 52 to 10 in five innings, the game being stopped by the rain.

The Independents are doubtless well satisfied that they have so handsomely reversed affairs, and the Mutuals, a new organization, hope to play them a closer game in this city at no distant day. The I.'s tendered them a substantial dinner after their defeat and courteously escorted them about the city while they remained there. The Umpire, Mr. Jas. B. Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

RYE, July 6.

The "Horse Marines" under the command of "Capt Jinks" had a very successful parade on the morning of the 5th. All the members, except the Captain and 1st Lieutenant, preferred riding in some very elegant vehicles which looked as though they were erected for this occasion only. The officers were mounted on fiery steeds and the sword attached to the commander was a marvel in its way, and worthy of a place in some museum of modern designs. The company which numbered about 50, and who were luxuriously reclining in about twenty of the above mentioned carriages, started from the centre about six o'clock and before they were disbanded they gave the inhabitants of the whole town, a chance to witness their magnificent display. At the various hotels they met a warm reception and were refreshed at each by invitation of the landlords.

It was in fact a very ludicrous display and no attempt at a description would do it justice. It was one of those things which has to be seen, to be appreciated.

Business at the beaches is beginning to be lively and there is double the company here now that there was at this time last year. There were about 50 arrivals at the Farragut and Atlantic Houses on the 5th, and probably the registers of the other houses show an equal display of names. Everything is ready and in good order for the reception of company, and doubtless the full capacity of every house will be tested in about two weeks.

Haying is occupying the attention of the farmers, and with good weather, mowing machines, tedders and horse rakes, it will not take them many weeks to get the crop in their barns.

Colored help predominates at the Hotels this season, and their advent in such usual numbers into this old fashioned democratic town, where there are a good many folks who never saw one of the colored population, naturally causes some little sensation and talk, and some of the good people do say, that their hens have, since the colored influx, gone to roost all of an hour earlier than has been their habit heretofore.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for the City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects by any other Paint.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; adheres firmly to surfaces with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many thousands of those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upward.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

THE DAYS OF '76.

Concluded.

In a letter to George Erving, Esq., dated Portsmouth, 5th January, 1776, referring to the 14th of Dec., when the Castle was seized, he says:

The powers of magistracy have been faithfully and repeatedly tried. Governor, Council, Chief Justice, Sheriff and Justices of the Peace personally appeared; Proclamations made according to law for all to desist and disperse; the militia ordered out; drums beat, &c.; yet all to no avail. Not one man appeared to assist in executing the law. And it was impossible for me, with four councillors, two Justices, one Sheriff, Mr. Macdonough and Mr. Benning Wentworth, to subdue such multitudes, for not one other man would come forth, not even the Revenue officers. All chose to shrink in safety from the storm and suffered me to remain exposed to the folly and madness of an enraged multitude, daily and hourly increasing in numbers and delusion.

He says Captain Cochran and his five men defended

A ruinous Castle with the walls in many places down, at length knocked down, their arms broken and taken from them by above one hundred to one, the Captain was confined and at last would not nor did not give up the keys notwithstanding every menace they could invent; finally they broke the doors with axes and crowbars.

In a letter to General Gage, dated "Fort William and Mary, 15 June, 1775," he says—

—— The ferment in this province has become very general, and the government hath been very much agitated and disturbed since the affair of the 19th of April last. Two thousand men are already enlisted, two-thirds of whom I am informed are destined to join the insurgents in your province, and the remainder are to be stationed along the coast in different parts between Portsmouth and Newbury.

The spirit of outrage runs so high that on Tuesday last my house was beset by great bodies of armed men who proceeded to such a length of violence as to bring a cannon directly before my house, and point it at my door, threatening fire and destruction unless Mr. Fenton (a member of the assembly then sitting) who happened to call upon me, and against whom they had taken up such resentment as occasioned him some days before to retire on board the man-of-war in the Harbour out of their way, should instantly deliver himself up to them, and notwithstanding every effort to produce effectual assistance to disperse the multitude, Mr. Fenton was obliged to surrender himself, and they have carried him to Exeter about fifteen miles from Portsmouth, where he is, as I am informed, kept in confinment.

Seeing every idea of the respect due to his Majesty's Commission so far lost in the frantic rage and fury of the people as to find them to proceed to such daring violence against the Person of his Representative, I found myself under the necessity of immediately withdrawing to Fort William and Mary, both to prevent as much as may be a Repetition of the like insults and to provide for my own security.

I think it exceedingly for the King's service to remain as long as possible at the Fort, where I now am with my family in a small incommodious House without any other prospect of safety, if the prevailing madness of the people should follow me hither, than the hope of retreating on board his Majesty's ship Scarborough, if it should be in my power. This Fort, although containing upwards of sixty pieces of Cannon, is without men or ammunition.

In a letter to Paul Wentworth, † dated at Fort William and Mary, 29 June, 1775, he says:

—— Admiral Graves has sent a transport under convoy of the Falcon, Sloop-of-war, and entirely dismantled this unguarrisoned Castle of all the ordnance, stores, &c.

—— Besides the inconvenience of being crowded into this miserable house, confined for room and neither wind or water tight, I am inevitably obliged to incur some extra expence for my safety and existence even here. Being of necessity compelled to make some small repairs to render it habitable and to employ six men as watches to prevent my being suprised and made prisoner. These, with my three servants, and Mr. Benning Wentworth, and Captain Cochran, are divided into three guards of four hours each; by which means I have some security of getting on board the Scarborough. The six men are at the expense of Twelve dollars per month each, including their dieting, allowance of Rum, &c.; under which expence no trusty man can possibly be had for so unpopular a service in this time of general opposition to Government. The repairs will not exceed fifty guineas.

In a letter to Lord Dartmouth, dated at Fort William and Mary, 17 July, 1775, he says: "From five to eight men have been usually kept in this Fort in time of Peace."

The latest letters dating from Fort William and Mary are those addressed, 17 August, 1775, to Hon. Theo. Atkinson, of Portsmouth, N. H.; and 18 August, 1775, to the Earl of Dartmouth, London.

In Sept. 1775, from the Isle of Shoals, he dates his last official paper in New-Hampshire, proroguing the General Assembly, which was to meet that month, to the next April.

* This Benning Wentworth was son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Deering) Wentworth, a brother to Gov. John Wentworth's wife. He was born at Boston 16th of March, 1737, graduated at Oxford, England, and died at Halifax, 18 Feb., 1808, whilst secretary to Gov. Wentworth. He has no descendants living in the male line.

† This Paul Wentworth was a native of one of the West India Islands; but had passed some time at Portsmouth, N. H. He was agent for the Province of New-Hampshire at London, and had been appointed a councillor whilst at London, but had not returned to be sworn in when the revolution broke out. Dartmouth conferred the degree of LL.D. upon him in 1780. He died at Barizan in December, 1793.

New Publications.

The Life of Jefferson Davis, with the secret history of the southern Confederacy, gathered "Behind the Scenes in Richmond." By Edward A. Pollard, Author of "The Lost Cause," etc., etc.—This is a vol. of 544 pages. 8 vo., just issued by the National Publishing Co., Philadelphia, which will not be for sale in the bookstores, but sold by subscription only; and an Agent in every County, is desired by the publishers. It is really a valuable contribution to the History of the Country and the times, written by the most able of the Confederate Writers, and giving a view of the rebellion and civil war from a rebel stand point. It will command a great sale, ; our readers may remember some choice extracts that we made from the advance sheet.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR!

FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.]

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

MISS FLORENCE A. BOWLES Gives INSTRUCTION on the PIANO-FORTE. Terms, $10.00 per quarter. RESIDENCE No. 21 MIDDLE STREET. ☞ The best of reference given if required.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE ATTENTION OF

REFLECTING INVALIDS is invited to the following observations. The question is asked, as the sick would be likely to ask, the replies are simple facts clothed in language that everybody can understand.

WHY

is TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT adapted to the cure of INDIGESTION and its concomitants?

BECAUSE

it tones the membranes of the stomach and promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, the solvent which converts the food into a substance fitting agent; and also because it relieves the bowels without weakening them, and moderately stimulates the bile-producing organ.

WHY

is it recommended for obstructions in the kidneys and other renal diseases, and for dropsy?

BECAUSE

it combines the properties of a mild diuretic su-diuretic with those of a local and general invigorant, and by promoting a proportion relieves the blood of a large amount of morbid matter which would otherwise vitiate the secretions.

WHY

is it prescribed for rheumatism, and claimed to be eminently beneficial in all the varieties of that disease?

BECAUSE

rheumatism is caused by the inflammatory action of an acid in the blood upon the fibres, membranes and ligaments, and its action is counteracted by an Aperient being absorbed into the venous system and tend to neutralize the vitiating principle.

WHY

is it given by the faculty in all disorders of a febrile character?

BECAUSE

it opens the pores, reduces the temperature of the body, calms the nerves and acts as a moderate purgative, thus a refreshing effect is upon the whole system. Of all fever drinks it is the most cooling and delightful.

In this brief summary of the virtues of Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient nothing is set forth which is not justified by testimony or competent medical men.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

EXETER, July 7.

A fire occurred about 11 A. M., on the 5th, in a dwelling house occupied by John Weeks near the depot, which was totally destroyed, with a portion of its contents; it is said for lack of water for the fire engines. The building was owned by Cyrus E. Morse. Insured for $300; loss about $700. Mr. Weeks' loss was not large, but will be severely felt by him.

The members of the Methodist Society and Sabbath School observed the 5th by a picnic in a fine grove which was generously placed at their disposal by Mr. J. D. Smith. The Exeter Cornet Band was present, and a very pleasing order of exercises was carried out to the satisfaction of all present. A most interesting feature was well-timed addresses to the children, by the venerable Father Norris, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Rev. H. B. Copp. The presiding elder, Rev. J. Pike, was also present.

Mr. Smith and family are deserving of great credit and the thanks of all present, for the beautiful supply of the various delicacies of the season, of which all partook with appetites sharpened by the exercise, the bracing air, and the verdurous surroundings.

A band, compared of young men from the Perkins Institute for the Blind, Boston, gave a very excellent musical entertainment on the evening of the 5th, before a large and respectable audience. The proceeds are applied in aiding blind children to enter the Institute.

Mr. Joseph B. Silver of Boston, formerly of this town, has leased the Eagle Hotel at Hampton Beach. Mr. S. is favorably known throughout this State and Mass., and will prove a popular landlord.

The Morris Brothers—all three of them—announce an amusing entertainment on Friday, 9th inst. The company embraces the leading talent of the two former troupes, and an attractive bill is presented. Yours, H.

On Monday, July 6, Rev. Pliny B. Day, D. D., of Hollis, died of paralysis of the brain. He was a graduate of Amherst College, and at the time of his death a trustee of Dartmouth College. He was 63 years of age; and was highly esteemed by his brethren.

Hon. Richard Fletcher of Boston, whose decease was recently announced, has left a residuary legacy to Dartmouth College, his Alma Mater, estimated at $100,000. It is to be invested as a permanent fund, and the income used at the discretion of the trustees.

A lad named James Reed, aged about 14 years, was drowned in the cove at Dover on Wednesday afternoon last. He was bathing, got in where it was deep, could not swim, and was drowned. The body was recovered.

The First Congregational Church in Dover has unanimously voted an invitation to Rev. Geo. Spaulding to become the pastor.

A severe hail storm passed over the southwestern part of Dover, in the District known as Knox Marsh, on Wednesday of last week. Vegetation was cut and beaten to pieces, trees and fences blown down, glass broken and other damage done.

L. D. Sinclair of Ossipee has held the ribbons on a stage coach for forty-three years.

The Fair of the Strafford County Agricultural Society will be held in Great Falls on the 14, 15, and 16, of Sept.

—The owners of property on the piers at Albany, destroyed by the freshet last winter, have determined to bring suits against the city for damages. The aggregate amount of the claims is between $175,000 and $200,000.

—It is the custom of delegates to party conventions in California to ask those who wish to be nominated as candidates to pay their expenses to the place of meeting.

—Statistics from about one third of Finland show that during 1868 there were 53,103 deaths, chiefly from famine, and that during the same time only 13,856 children were born. In some districts the mortality was from thirteen to sixteen per cent. of the population.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the back, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [jel5 3w] Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her;
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had be n confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who had been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of CATARRH. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always just her master. The Medicine they prescribed the Drugs she had swallowed would fill a large tub. Her room was filled with PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in a louder breathe than she had done in many months. She bought a bottle of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed. A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstown a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for, with great pain. It was difficult I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back. In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked as usual to the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the time of application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and walk as soon any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.

Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 167 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any similar M. D. in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, sickness, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Nervous Neuralgia, sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $1 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1869.

Editorial Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 9.

Dear Chronicle:—On Wednesday the bill allowing the County Commissioners $3 per day and 10 cts. mileage when on duty; and authorizing the County Convention to elect one to three Auditors of the Commissioners' accounts, was passed by the House, but was rejected by the Senate.

The State Agricultural Society bill, which provides that the Annual Meeting shall be held on the evening of the second day of the Fair; and that no more than one officer shall be elected from the same County, was also passed in the House—but rejected by the Senate.

The bill organizing a Board of Agriculture was also brought forth in the House and killed in the Senate.

On the C. & P. Railroad complaint of Mr. Reding, —Messrs. Hackett, Robinson and Miller spoke in favor of the management of the Road, (which we are sure gives general satisfaction in our city and all along the route.) It is understood that of all the world, only Mr. J. H. Pearson of Concord, and his mouthpiece in this instance, Mr. Reding, have any fault to find in the matter. It is shown very clearly that the whole people, and especially Portsmouth and this section, are great gainers by the changes and improvements of late years, not only in accommodations, but actually in the aggregate fares, both of passengers and freight.

Mr. Pickering of Greenland also made a telling speech in favor of the Road, and has on this and other occasions proved himself a ready and able debater, for a new member.

As I telegraphed you, the Agricultural College bill passed the House again Wednesday afternoon, by a vote almost unanimous. The only opposition to it was on account of professed economy, and the plea that the farmers did not desire it, and that it would not benefit them. But Mr. Hills of Windham, a farmer, who followed Mr. Hackett in advocating the bill, after speaking very ably himself, expressed a belief that the farmers did favor the College and the bill, and moved that the farmers in the House be allowed the next half hour to express their views on the subject. This was given them, and a dozen or more spoke, and well too, all but one supporting it, and he objecting only because the Professors would not be practical farmers.—Here is another of Mr. Reding's pet schemes gone by the board.

His chief aim all through seemed to be, how not to do anything or to let anybody else,—except the Portsmouth & Ogdensburg Railroad, which we will give him credit for advocating for years. Well, who would expect anything but negative and two-cent legislation, from a man who ceases all active business and work while yet in the prime of life, and who, but for this very parsimonious spirit, might have really accomplished something in life?

No member contributes more to the general good nature of the House, than Mr. Patrick Quinn of South Newmarket,—an Irishman, a Catholic, a sensible man, ready debater, staunch Republican, and withal a right down good fellow. He goes in for all the Railroads, Colleges and other improvements. We have heard of him before, and are glad to meet him. Years ago, when we bought the Concord Pheuix newspaper, Quinn's name was on the Newmarket list; but he soon asked leave to withdraw, on account of our strictures on Popery. Afterwards, when we bought the N. H. Gazette, we found him on that list; but he soon flew off from that also,—and now we find him here, a good and useful Representative, and here we almost always agree.

Mr. Quinn has the ready wit of his race, and is always good-natured. On Wednesday, when farmer Hills, in his exordium for the College, urged as a reason that unless better encouraged and better educated, the Yankee farmers' boys would give way to the Irishman and the Frenchman, to own and till New Hampshire for us,—Quinn took him up directly, and in the most pleasant manner, assured Mr. Hills that the Irishmen are ere long to own a good many farms and exert much influence in the State,—though for the present they are willing to do the hard work and let the Yankees have the management. Mr. Quinn is an able business man, and clerk, we believe, at the Swamscott Machine Company's extensive works at South Newmarket. We wish all his countrymen were like him,—as good natured, intelligent and of as good "intentions." There is no member the House would welcome back more cordially next year. Yours, F.

The News.

New Yorkers are contemplating building a ship canal from that city to Newark.

Thomas Marsden, a lad ten years of age, while playing with his little sister around a marble monument in his father's lot in Greenwood Cemetery, on Wednesday, was crushed to death by the monument falling upon him. Both his father and mother were standing within a few feet of the boy when the accident occurred.

Advices from Porto Rico announced that a revolution against Spain has broken out in that island. The city of Ponce has been set on fire by the insurgents and nearly burned to the ground. Circulars have been distributed ordering the negroes and the natives to burn all houses marked with blood. Some of the most prominent were killed after the fire. During the confusion several soldiers were also killed, and the authorities did not attempt to mantain order. Most of the rich families have left for the United States. Many poor people have fled to the mountains. The overseers of the neighboring plantations and the white laborers have been conscripted by the authorities. A general uprising was momentarily expected. The soldiers were mostly new recruits from Spain, and were rapidly dying of yellow fever. The negroes have of late displayed much dissatisfaction, and many have left their masters and escaped to the mountains, where the revolutionists are fast congregating in large numbers.

There was a heavy rain and freshet at Utica, N. Y., on Thursday.

☞ The fifth of July was very much enjoyed by the citizens of South Seabrook, and by a procession of Sunday School children, nearly all dressed in white, who left the meeting house and paraded through the neighborhood. There were over a hundred in the line bearing American flags. They afterwards proceeded with neighbors and friends to Morrill's plains, just over the Massachusetts State line, a distance of half a mile from the neighborhood, and held a picnic; prayer was offered, followed by remarks from Dr. Jonathan Dearborn and Rev. A. B. Peabody of Seabrook, and the services concluded with singing. Excellent order was preserved. A detail of three State Constables were on the ground by the kindness of Major Jones, and their interest in the peaceful wants of the people was manifested in a most gentlemanly manner.

At five o'clock the children formed and marched homeward, pleasing all who witnessed by their excellent marching and countermarching, &c. In the evening there was an exhibition of fire works on the ground in front of the church, lasting till 11 o'clock, after which the company met in the vestry and sang patriotic songs, closing with three cheers for the glorious 4th.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—My Wheeler & Wilson has been in almost daily use, Sabbaths excepted, for over ten years, doing the work, both coarse and fine, for a family which, for more than seven years, consisted of more than forty persons. A TOTAL ECLIPSE is caused by SPEER'S WINE BITTERS suspending every other tonic. Speer's Native Wine, with Peruvian Bark, and Herbs and Roots, with aromatics such as aniseed, make them pleasant for children, and make children healthy and robust. They are performing wonderful cures in Europe and America. If you want to drink Whisky, under the guise of medicine, don't buy them. If you want a valuable strengthening tonic and appetizer that eclipses everything else, get Speer's Standard Wine Bitters of most any Druggist. Don't be shoved off with anything else.

—A highly intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., says that she was afflicted nearly a year, periodically, with derangement of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh. 23

TWENTY DOLLARS A YEAR is a small sum to pay for a sense of security against loss by fire or theft of those valuables so large a proportion of mankind possess, such as bonds, deeds, mortgages, plate, laces, jewelry, diamonds, &c., and yet that sum will rent a safe in the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, which are as perfect as human ingenuity can devise. Larger safes range from $25 to $100 a year. The managers also receive at low rates, for safe keeping, valuable paintings, rare books, choice works of art, family plate, town records, &c. The Manager, Henry Lee, will furnish circulars with full information.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years, and a wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and combined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excipient is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Heartburn, Dropsy and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the nauseous and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal. Other drugs advertised as preparations of the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Conclusive Evidence in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

W. H. REESE, a leading druggist in Monticello, Ill., in a letter of June 6, 1868, writes to this effect: "Having sold Hostetter's Bitters for the past four years, I cannot but speak of the article as being the best tonic and appetizer extant. During the ague season of 1865—6, I could not keep a sufficient stock on hand to supply my customers. In fact your Bitters was as staple as quinine. I learn that physicians prescribe it all over the western country. Indeed, a great many families think they are not safe without your invaluable tonic."

J. K. WITHERSPOON, a magistrate of Kershaw county, S. C., states, under date April 13, 1868, that he has used the Bitters constantly in his own family for the previous two years. He first tried the preparation when suffering from exhaustion produced by a severe attack of fever. Before the first bottle was finished he experienced a remarkable change for the better. He had taken brandy at the outset, but found that did him more harm than good. In one month from the time he commenced using the Bitters his health, strength and appetite were restored. He had recommended the articles to others in like circumstances, and never known to fail, and he found it a perfect specific for chills and fever.

MR. SAMUEL YOUNG, of Clarion, Pa., under date April 6, 1868, certifies that he was completely cured of "one of the most distressing attacks of dyspepsia that ever afflicted any mortal," by three bottles of the Bitters, after "various other remedies had proved powerless." Restored to perfect health, he thanks "that excellent preparation for the result."

Dr. G. M. SPENCER, of Brush Creek, Perry Co., Ala., writing thence Feb. 3, 1868, says:—"I have used your Stomach Bitters for several years in my practice, and find them superior to most of the offers now prescribed by the profession generally." 1yr

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a chole followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and doctors considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. Thin, careworn and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes. They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length she left her, she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. Je17

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value. Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," says he never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bean, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Corks, Wind Galls, Colds, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Heating, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an all, not certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates,

A SURE REMEDY.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, and then throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the tonic will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show a dark bilious color; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use even with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop fever, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Relieve these symptoms and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura inflammation, the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not enough to stop the cough, stop fever, fill up the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption. Je17 1yr

☞ On the Lake Shore Railroad question, the Portsmouth delegation in the House of Representatives voted 7 Yea to 2 No,—Mr. Hackett coming in after the vote was declared, and on being challenged, voting No. Mr. Coffin was absent, sick.

The Rockingham County delegation finally gave 24 Yeas to 23 Nays, one or two votes being added after the declaration. Strafford County was but one vote short of being unanimous for it,—and he opposed it only because he voted against it last year, under very different circumstances! This consideration also doubtless influenced others,—but it was regarded by outsiders as a little singular, that the only measure of the session which especially concerned Portsmouth, should fail to receive on any plea, the undivided support of her Representatives,—though doubtless the dissenting gentlemen have their own sufficient reasons for so doing, and perhaps are wiser in the matter than the others, after all.

A Beautiful Sight. — Six young gentlemen standing at the corner of the street; six pair of hands in their pants pockets—six mouths squirting tobacco juice in every direction—six pair of eyes looking impudently at every woman and girl passing by; and six tongues surpassing each other in indecent remarks.—Newburyport Herald.

One would think, on reading the above that it was descriptive of a scene on the corner of Merchant's Row, and Center street in Rutland. — Rutland Herald.

Multiply the number given by six and a certain section of Central Square in Keene would be the faithfully described.—Keene Sentinel.

Make it half-a-dozen dozen, and Market Square and the vicinity of Congress Block and the gas-lights would be instantly brought to mind.

☞ The interesting article from the pen of Hon. John Wentworth, which we have copied into the Chronicle and Gazette, should have been credited to the N. E. Historical and Genealogical Register, in the columns of which it first appeared. This quarterly is always well filled with matter nowhere else to be found,—much of it of general interest, and not a little relating especially to this city and State. It ought to have at least a score of subscribers in Portsmouth.

☞ U. S. S. Pawnee arrived at the Quarantine Ground in this harbor, on Friday, July 9.

☞ The Law Officers of the Counties and Towns say that the Temperance men complain that the Liquor Law is not executed, and ask for State Constables to do it; but that unless provided with a search and seizure clause like the Maine and Massachusetts laws, the New Hampshire statute must always be comparatively inoperative, because it is so difficult to obtain any evidence from actual drinkers to convict any seller, as is now required by our State law.

☞ Mr. Crawford of Lee, who was shot by his son a few days ago and died Thursday night, before his death signed a written statement that, in shooting, his son acted entirely in self-defence, and was to be exonerated from all blame.

☞ A boy named John Brown, was badly hurt by a Locomotive Engine, at Manchester on Wednesday. He had been riding, like other foolish boys, on a passing freight train, and jumped off just in time to be hit by an engine on another track. He may recover, but it is doubtful.

The New Hampshire Legislature adjourned sine die, Friday morning. The most important acts passed during session were;—

Joint resolution ratifying the Fifteenth Amendment to Constitution of the United States.

Bill relating to savings banks—taxing deposits one per cent.

Bill suspending, for five years, all appropriations for annual muster and parade of militia.

Bill granting charters to Rochester & Concord and Peterborough & Hillsborough railroads.

Joint resolution recommending that surviving soldiers of the war of 1812 be placed on United States pension rolls.

Bill raising rate of board at Reform School from $1 a week to $2.

The Concord Statesman estimates that the increase of the tax on deposits in savings banks, from 3-4 of one per cent. to one per cent. will add about $70,000 to the revenues of the State.

From the Journal.

Business Change.—Among the remaining few of those who have long been established in business on Market street, none can bear a better name than the veteran of the apothecary business, Dr. David Kimball.—He commenced business in this city May 4, 1824, and has for the forty-five years, with but few occasions of absence, continually been at his post to supply the wants of the sick and the demands of the healthy, with all the carefulness and accuracy needed in a medical dispensary. Last Monday was the 45th anniversary of Independence through which he has remained at his store. Sign after sign of names familiar to him in the earlier stages of his business has come down new ones that took their places have long since been removed, and the only familiar name left on the street is that of Stephen H. Simes. The fire has once removed him and twice has he from that and other causes otherwise changed his location, but in all the period he has had no partner in the business until last week, when he associated with him Mr. N. Dana Whipple, who has for a number of years been connected with the store, and who will, we think, find many friends and patrons in his new position.

Counterfeit Fractional Currency.—Detective Kent informs us that new counterfeit issues of twenty-five cent script have recently been circulated here in large quantities. In one issue a black mark is apparent under the eye in the portrait of Senator Fessenden which embellishes the note, while in the other a typographical inaccuracy appears in the substitution of an n for a u in the word "Treasurer." As these are but artful dodges of the counterfeiters, to be corrected as soon as the public have learned thereby to detect them, the counterfeits are of dangerous character. Traders should inspect carefully and reject all such spurious scrip, and not encourage rascality by assisting in its circulation.

Lively Times anticipated at the Navy Yard.—We learn from an official whose information is direct from headquarters, that probably some 1200 men will within two weeks be added to the force at present employed, to finish and fit for sea all the vessels at present at this naval station. It is supposed by many that the movement is indicative of operations in Cuban waters; but we presume it means merely that President Grant to secure us peace, intends to be prepared for war.

MARRIAGES.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with Colds, Coughs, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is of importance, step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. Masta's Pulmonic Balsam possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids: simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

THE DARKENED NURSERY.

There's room enough in the nursery now,
'Twas crowded a little before;
For when the crib in the corner sat,
The rockers came close to the door;
But the light was sweet and the air was soft,
And the room was filled with cheer;
For we all were charmed to the chosen spot,
By the voice of the baby dear.

Where is the sunshine!
Where is the noise!
Where are the playthings gone?
What shall I do with my empty arms!
Sitting alone, alone!
What shall I do with the vacant crib!
Where shall I set his chair?
Must the little one's clothes come down?
O let me leave them there!

Fold the little garments,
Lay them softly by;
Put away the playthings,
Check the choking sigh.

Turn thee to thy duties,
Take up life again,
Newly consecrated
By this precious pain.

Work—thy face full heavenward;
Give thy life to God;
His sweet peace shall keep thee,
If thou "kiss the rod." [Evangelist.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

MANCHESTER, July 6.

Chancing to be in this enterprising city yesterday, P. M., I attended the races at the Manchester Riding Park. There were four in number, for purses varying from $30 to $150.

The sport opened with a trot for $150. Putney and Hopkins named s. m. Mountain Girl, and Keyes g. m. Messenger Girl. The race was best 3 in 5, mile heats, and was decided in three heats: Mountain Girl being declared the winner in 2:49, 2:46, 2:41. She had the best of the race from the start, her opponent evidently being greatly over-matched.

Next in order was a trot between Lane and Davis ch g Blucher and J. Alexander's blk g Black Joe, half mile heats, 3 in 5, for a purse of $100. The first and second heats were closely contested, and were equally divided; Blucher taking the first in 1:30, and Joe the second in 1:28. The third was very even, so far as space between the horses was concerned, they being scarce a length apart from the start; but the man who handled Joe showed some of the foulest driving it was ever my lot to witness, running his horse most of the way, and, on the home stretch, crowding his opponent against the fence, and fouling his sulky with almost sufficient force to capsize it. A more righteous judgment never was declared than when the judges announced Black Joe distanced for foul driving. Time, 1:22 1-2.

The trotting closed with a fine race between gentlemen's horses, for a purse of $75, half mile heats, 2 in 3. For this purse three horses came to the score; ch g Phil Sheridan, blk m Nellie, and blk g Little Frank; entered respectively by A. Wyman, N. S. Clark and S. A. Cowan. This race, although soon decided, proved a very interesting one, the two first named horses being very evenly matched. Two heats, however, proved Phil Sheridan the victor, in 1:28, 1:27 1-2; Nellie losing the second by a neck, and that only in consequence of a break near the score. Nellie took second money.

The afternoon sport closed with a velocipede race, half miles, 2 in 3, for a purse of $30. Fred. McCullough won, making 2:15 in the first heat. I did not hear the time of the second.

The attendance was quite large, the grand stand, which will seat 2000, being nearly full, while those on the ground and in carriages swelled the number to at least 3500.

In the evening a brilliant display of fireworks was made on the Park grounds.

Much credit is due the proprietors of the Park and the police, for the invariable good order maintained throughout the entertainment, the enjoyment being marred by no rows, nor did I observe a single man intoxicated. H.

THE UNKNOWN DEAD.—At the Gettysburg Monument, Senator Morton said:

At the foot of this monument sleep the heroes of the battle. Here lie the father, the husband, the brother and the only son. In far off homes among the hills of New England, on the shores of the lakes and in the valleys and plains of the West, the widow, the orphan and the aged parent are weeping for these beloved dead.

Many of the tombs are marked "unknown," but they will be recognized on the morning of the resurrection. The unknown dead left behind them kindred, friends and breaking hearts. None die so humble but leave some one to mourn.

There perished at Gettysburg in defence of their country, 979 men of whose names, homes or lineage there is no trace left on earth. Doubtless the Recording Angel has preserved the record, and when the books are opened, at the last day, their names will be found in letters of living light on the immortal page of heroes who died that their country might live.

FURIOUS FELINES.—On a pine wood shed, in an alley dark, where scattered moonbeams sifting through a row of tottering chimneys, and awning torn and drooping fell, strode back and forth, with stiff and tense drawn muscle and peculiar tread a cat.

His name was Norval; on yonder neighboring shed his father caught the cats that came in squads from streets beyond Bridge, in search of food and strange adventure.

Grim war he courted; and his twisted tail and spine upheaving in fantastic curve, and claws distended, and ears flatly pressed against a head thrown back defiantly, told of impending strife.

With eyes agleam, and screeching blasts of war, and steps as silent as the falling dew, young Norval crept along the splintered edge, and gazed a moment through the darkness down, with tail awag triumphantly.

Then with an imprecation and a growl, perhaps an oath in direct vengeance hissed, he started back, and crooked in body like a letter S, or rather a U inverted, stood in fierce expectancy.

'Twas well. With eyeballs glaring and ears all aslant, and opened mouth, in which two rows of fangs stood forth in sharp and dread conformity, slow up a post from out the dark below a head appeared.

A dreadful tocsin of determined strife young Norval uttered; then, with face unblanched, and mustache standing straight before his nose, and tail flung wildly to the breeze, stepped back in cautious invitation to the foe.

Approaching the other and with preparations dire, each cat surveyed the vantage of the field. Around they walked, with tails uplifted and backs high in air, while from their mouths, in accents hissing with consuming rage, dropped brief but awful sentences of hate.

Thrice round the roof they went in circle, each with eye upon the foe intently bent; then sidewise moving, as is wont with cats, gave one long-drawn, terrific, savage yaw and buckled in.

The fur flew. A mist of hair hung o'er the battle field. High 'bove the din of passing wagons rose the dreadful tumult of the struggling cats. So gleamed their eyes in frenzy, that to me, who saw the conflict from a window near, naught else was plain but fiery stars that moved in orbits most eccentric.

An hour they struggled in tempestuous night, then faint and fainter grew the squall of war, until all sound was hushed. Then went I forth with lantern and the field surveyed. What saw I?

Six claws, one set of teeth perhaps a handful, and, save fur, naught else except a solitary tail. That tail was Norval's—by a ring I knew't. The war was—but we'll let the matter pass. That tale will do without the ear.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND— SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will make a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against abuse advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off, covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of the city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,
Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON,
Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE ATTENTION OF REFLECTING INVALIDS is invited to the following observations. The questions are such as the sick would be likely to ask; the replies are simple facts clothed in language that everybody can understand.

WHY

is TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT adapted to the cure of INDIGESTION and its concomitants?

BECAUSE

it tones the membranes of the stomach and promotes the secretion of the gastic juice, the solvent which converts the food into a life-sustaining agent; and because it operates on the bowels without weakening them, and moderately stimulates the bile-producing organ.

WHY

is it recommended for obstructions in the kidneys and other renal diseases, and for dropsy?

BECAUSE

it combines the properties of a mild diuretic saline with those of a local and general invigorant, and by promoting perspiration relieves the blood of a large amount of morbid matter which would otherwise vitiate the secretions.

WHY

is it prescribed for rheumatism, and claimed to be eminently beneficial in all the varieties of that disease?

BECAUSE

rheumatism is caused by the inflammatory action of an acid in the blood upon the fibres, membranes and ligaments; and the saline of the Seltzer Aperient being absorbed into the veinous system tend to neutralize the vitiating principle.

WHY

is it given by the faculty in all disorders of a febrile character?

BECAUSE

it opens the pores, reduces the temperature of the body, calms the nerves, and acts as a moderate evacuant, and has a refreshing effort upon the whole system. Of all fever drinks it is the most cooling and delightful.

In this brief summary of the virtues of Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient nothing is set forth which is not justified by testimony of competent medial men.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

The Chronicle.

THE LEE TRAGEDY.—It appears that the elder Crawford had issued a manifesto to the boys of his neighborhood, warning them against burning any powder about his premises until Sunday (the 4th) was over, and saying that some of them would get hurt unless they looked out. He was so far in earnest that he got a gun and loaded it, putting in a charge of peas instead of shot. The boys did come round before the time was up, and Crawford fired into them, but without doing any especial damage.

He is represented to have been in a high state of excitement all day Sunday and Monday. On Monday he refused to allow young Crawford to leave the house, and he actually remained at home all day. We are informed that a letter was received in Manchester about that time in which the writer said that the old man (Crawford) "acted as if the very devil was in him."

On Tuesday morning at the breakfast table the quarrel which had evidently been brewing between father and son for some time, culminated. Some sharp words passed, when Crawford became furious and seizing a chair he broke it over young Crawford's head. The old man then started up stairs for his gun, but was caught and held by his wife.

He broke away from her, however, and seized an axe with which he struck several murderous blows at his son. One blow took effect in his shouider and might have proved fatal, had it not been partially parried by a Dr. Edgerly, who happened to be present. The enraged parent continuing to follow with the axe in his hand; young Crawford at length drew his revolver and fired, the ball striking his father in the breast, but glancing from the bone without inflicting serious injury. As he continued to advance the boy fired again, the ball this time taking effect in the abdomen. Crawford fell, and the wound was mortal.

The wounded man admitted he was in the wrong, asked the forgiveness of his son, and, before witnesses, entirely acquitted him of blame. The neighbors and friends of the family generally exonerate young Crawford, and believe that he acted purely in self defence. He had carried the revolver and slept with it under his pillow from the time his father had procured the gun, anticipating that he would proceed to extremities.

The elder Crawford has long been known as a violent, passionate man, and has been often cautioned by his friends not to allow his temper to run away with him. One or two of the children were noted for violent temper while attending school in Manchester. John Maynard Crawford, however, the one who did the shooting, was accounted to have a good disposition and was very well thought of by those who knew him.

☞ We receive and read the new paper "Hearth and Home" regularly. No. 30, is we think, an especially fine number, both in the variety and excellence of its matter and the beauty and value of its illustrations. The very interesting story, "The Romance of a Rich Young Girl," which is begun in this No. is by the author of "The Romance of a poor Young Man," and the illustrations for it were made in Paris expressly for the publishers, Pettengill, Bates & Co., New York. Donald G. Mitchell and Mrs. H. B. Stowe are the editors.

☞ The Missisquoi Springs, Vermont, whose waters have, within the past few years, acquired an unprecedented reputation for the cure of the most painful and obstinate diseases to which humanity is liable, are henceforth to be ranked amongst the attractive watering-places. A magnificent hotel has been erected there. See advertisement of the Spring water.

NO BUSINESS THERE.—Two servants girls were given tickets to go a theatre. Returning in a short time, their mistress asked them why they did not stay. They answered that they sat in the place till the curtain was rolled up, and some ladies and gentleman began talking about family matters, when, thinking they had no business there, they left.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue the use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [jel5 5w] Very truly, MRS. L. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in Whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone.—Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Every Physician in this town has practiced on her, and always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Liver she had swallowed would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her house I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners, that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed.
A Baptist Clergyman living in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonin a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a sworn affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday, May 3, Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Bristol House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the fruit and confectionary store on Public Street, near the public square.
SAMUEL BUZINE.
WILKESBARRE, PENN., May 5, 1869.
Sworn and subscribed before me this 6th of May, 1869.
E. B. HARVY, Justice of the Peace.
Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Street, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing, and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. This Pain Paint for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $6 at each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. Jel5 4w

Editorial Correspondence.

AT HOME, July 10.

Dear Chronicle:—Thursday was practically the close of the Legislative Session, although there was a brief meeting Friday morning, to settle the routine details of business.

The temperance men in the House gained another victory, Thursday afternoon. The State Police bill which was passed last week by the House, provided to submit the question to the people at a special election in November. The Senate amended, by placing it at the regular March election,—and the House refused by 156 to 114 yeas and nays to concur in the amendment. It would seem that the only way to test the will of the people would be to let them vote on the matter independently, on its own merits, regardless of party altogether—and the fact that all the Opposition spoke and voted against the separate election, shows significantly that they are afraid of the bill, and wished to use it as an instrument against the Republican party, (as of course they would,) which the temperance men did not desire or intend to allow. The Senate receded from their amendment, so the State Police bill goes before the people in November.

Mr. Reding again shew his tuppenny character, by opposing a resolution introduced by Mr. Whitney of Rindge, chairman of the Committee on Education, in favor of allowing the Daily papers in the State the same (paltry) sum as is now paid the Weeklies per year for publishing the Laws. Mr. Reding, himself once a printer, or part of one, and who knows, or ought to know, that the amount paid for the laws barely covers the price of setting the type,—had the stupid meanness to oppose the motion, and on account of the press of closing business of the session, defeated it. There are but seven Dailies in the State, about equally divided in politics; and it will be hard to show why their readers should not be legally informed of the Laws, as well as subscribers to Weekly papers. The only excuse we can make for him is, that besides being a half century behind the world in politics, he is also unaware, as are a few other fossilized old women, that Daily papers are fast taking the place of Weeklies, wherever their publication is practicable.

The Senate amended the bill which forbade the placing traps for fish nearer than one mile from each other, in the Piscataqua river and its branches, so that it now applies only to the Swamscott river, as passed. The penalty is $20 for each offence.

The Senate refused to pass the House bill authorizing County Conventions to appoint one or more Auditors of accounts of County Commissioners. So their accounts will continue to be audited by the Judges of the S. J. Court.

The House postponed the State Normal School (which it is proposed to substitute in place of the present Teachers' Institutes) to next Session.

Mr. Quinn moved a resolution that a Committee of five be appointed by the Speaker, to report at the next session, with power to send for persons and papers, to ascertain what sums had been paid by Railroads, and to whom, to influence the action of the House. The resolution passed, and the Speaker appointed the committee; but the lawyer members made such a towse about it, and were so virtuously indignant, that Mr. Quinn finally withdrew his resolution, which had been brought before the House again on a motion to recon sider and amend it so as to include other bribery or lobbying besides that of Railroads. So the illegal third house still goes unwhipt of justice, or even of censure or exposure, or attempt at it.

The session has been a very pleasant one, and if no great good has been accomplished, an unusually large number of bills and measures have been examined and acted on, and a vast amount of hard work done. And this is just what the Legislature is for,—to consider any business the people may send there.

The usual complimentary farewell proceedings were had,—Mr. Hackett in the Chair,—thanks to the Speaker and other officers, &c.; and the Opposition leaders very freely and frankly testified to Mr. Wheeler's uniform courtesy and impartiality—to which he replied in a few feeling and pertinent remarks.

There was a brief evening session; and the usual Mock Session, when Mr. Quinn was elected to the Chair, where he made fun enough, and from which position he was driven by a shower of paper pellets, as usual.

Friday morning, a committee of ten, chosen by the House for the purpose, headed by Maj. D. J. Vaughan, their chairman, waited on the Governor, and informed him that the Legislature was ready to adjourn,—and at 8 o'clock the Great and General Court of New Hampshire for 1869 adjourned sine die. And no member is more rejoiced to get through, than Yours truly, F.

The News.

The small-pox in New York is rapidly disappearing.

The Harvard College base ball club beat the Athletics of Philadelphia Friday—35 to 21.

The National Republican party of Mississippi has decided to run Judge Dent, a brother-in-law of the President, for governor. The new party supports the administration, and favors the enforcement of the reconstruction acts. President Grant has decided that the election in Mississippi shall take place on the 30th of November, and in Texas on the same day.

The resignation of the French Ministry is announced.

1977 miles of the French Atlantic Cable have been laid.

New Hampshire Items.

The operation of tracheotomy, or opening the windpipe, was performed upon Mrs. Daniel Wood, of Concord, to take therefrom a tooth which had lodged there. It was not found, and a subsequent examination by the physicians convinced them that it is not now in the windpipe or lungs. It is supposed to have been thrown upon the floor during the coughing and vomiting which followed the operation, or it may have been swallowed when she was partially unconscious. The woman is perfectly comfortable.

Fourteen years ago, a gentleman in Rochester village, purchased one acre of land in the suburbs for $100. He has recently sold one ninth part of it for $300, which was just 27 times the cost of the same 14 years before. We learn that he has refused even more than that: this shows the great advance of real estate in the village during the last dozen years; and prosperity, and enterprise have advanced as rapidly as the price of real estate has.

On the evening of the 5th, a little daughter of George Taylor of Boscawen, aged five years, went to her chamber with her sisters. She sat upon the window-sill, and the blinds being closed leaned back against them, when they flew open and she fell backward out of the window to the ground, twelve or fourteen feet. She struck on her head upon an earthen flower-pot, within six inches of the stone door step, cutting a severe gash in her scalp. Dr. Webster was called and applied the proper remedies, and the next day she was about again, "as bright as a dollar." It was a very narrow escape.

THE FAMOUS BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.—At a hearing in the case of Miss Craig, who had received a verdict of $100,000 in a suit for breach of promise brought by her against a venerable lover named Sprague, which took place at Wheaton, Illinois, last Saturday, the Court decided against the reasons advanced by defendant for a new trial, but ordered a remission of $60,000 of the sum awarded plaintiff by the jury. Miss Craig's council stated that she would not appeal against this decision; so she comes out of Court with $40,000, minus her lawyers' fees.

—Nearly the whole press of the State, of both parties, has spoken against the repeal or modification of the usury law. We have not yet noticed one State paper that has taken ground squarely for it. If any have done so, it has escaped our notice.—Lebanon Free Press.

It is perfectly well understood, however, that money commands more than six per cent.,—and that much higher rates are paid and received, notwithstanding the Statute.

☞ The live citizens of Great Falls have recently built and completed a beautiful half-mile Track, and will open the grounds with several good trots on Thursday and Friday next. Several horses from this city, Boston and elsewhere are entered—and there will be good sport no doubt.

☞ Frank Blair distinguished himself at the late Army and Navy Reunion, by making a speech laudatory of Lee and Stonewall Jackson! It caused great uproar, and Admiral Farragut, who presided, was forced to call him to order! Poor Frank!

☞ The U. S. Steamer Narragansett arrived at quarantine, Portsmouth harbor, Friday night. During the passage from Key West, Lieut. Comdr. R. R. Dyer and a seaman died of yellow fever, and there are six cases now under treatment.

—The valuation of New York city for 1869 amounts to $969,100,597, an increase of $55,664,279 from last year. The real estate amounts to $684,140,758, an increase of $60,902,413, and the personal estate to $279,909,829, a decrease of $5,239,943.

—There was only one man in this country who ever understood the Schleswig-Holstein question, and he died of it. We therefore give up the Cuban business, which seems to be equally complicated, as a hopeless conundrum.—N. Y. Atlas.

A SLIGHT MISAPPREHENSION.—Under this head, our waggish friends of the Manchester Mirror state that when the Rockingham Representatives in the Legislature visited the new County Farm recently,

As they passed by farm-houses on the route, they were objects of great curiosity, and caused many a housewife to leave dinner preparation, and many a field laborer to drop his hoe, for a sight of the strangers, who were generally mistaken for the first detachment of county paupers on their way to the new quarters. Some parties followed, it is said, to the County Almshouse, to gratify their curiosity, making comments which were more pleasant to the lovers of fun than to the members of the great and honorable General Court. The universal conclusion of the Brentwood people was, that the party was as well able to work as any body; and that if they stayed at the farm they couldn't wear "them store clothes" a great while.

Now although we like a good joke, and can perhaps even partially appreciate one at our own expense—still we cannot in justice to the citizens of Brentwood, allow the above to pass as correct—for the delegation were treated with respect and courtesy by all concerned; and the only "misapprehension" in the matter, has been on the part of our friends of the Mirror.

NORMAL MUSIC SCHOOL.—The Normal Music School, to be held at Dover, commences on Monday, July 12th. Prof. W. O. Perkins, the Principal, is one of the most successful teachers and composers in the country, and has had a large experience in conducting such schools. Mr. J. E. Perkins, who has just returned from Italy, where he is engaged as Primo Basso in Italian operas for the fall, is also a highly successful teacher. Mr. Cobb and Miss Brackett are well fitted for their respective positions. This is an excellent opportunity for those who wish to improve themselves in music at a moderate expense.

Cattle Market at Brighton.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING WEDNESDAY, JULY 7.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Lamb Skins 50c; sheared Sheep Skins 25c each; Calf Skins 20 @ 23c ℔ lb.

The supply from the West was not so large as that of last week and the quality of the Beeves not so good. A large number of the best Cattle were taken at a commission. Prices have not changed materially from last week. The trade has been active. There were but few Cattle from the North and none from the East. There will probably be more Cattle from those sections after this month. During the hot weather there are but few Beeves brought from the North, the supply being principally from the West.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $18 @ $22; two year olds $30 @ 45; three year olds $45 @ 65 ℔ head. Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are sold for Beef.

Working Oxen—The supply is light and there is not much call for them. We quote sales at $165 @ $200.

Milch Cows—Prices, extra $85 @ $115; ordinary $50 @ $80; Store Cows $45 @ 55 ℔ head. — Sales of the Cows in market are of an ordinary grade.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply from the West was large, but there was hardly any of them for sale, mostly on commission. Lambs being from $5 to $8 ℔ head; Sheep at 2.50, $3, $3.50, @ $4 ℔ head; Most of the Northern Sheep and Lambs were taken at a commission.

Swine—Store Pigs wholesale 12 @ 13c ℔ lb;—retail 13 @ 13c ℔ lb. Extra spring Pigs 18 @ 20c ℔ lb. Fat Hogs—5300 at market; prices 10¼ @ 11c ℔ lb.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I have used a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine in my shop for eight years, on an average of eight hours a day, making garments from the heaviest material to muslin, and have taught at least twenty different persons to run it, and you know beginners do not improve a machine. It has never been out of repair, and is good for ten years more if used properly.

MRS. A. F. STRICKLAND,
Ware, Mass. Dress and Cloak Maker.

—A highly intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., says that she was afflicted nearly a year, periodically, with derangement of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh. 23

TWENTY DOLLARS A YEAR is a small sum to pay for a sense of security against loss by fire or theft of those valuables so large a proportion of mankind possess, such as bonds, deeds, mortgages, plate, laces, jewelry, diamonds, &c., and yet that sum will rent a safe in the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, which are as perfect as human ingenuity can devise. Larger safes range from $25 to $100 a year. The managers also receive at low rates, for safe keeping, valuable paintings, rare books, choice works of art, family plate, town records, &c. The Manager, Henry Lee, will furnish circulars with full information.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in the pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous constituent is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by a chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more efficacious than any of the nauseous and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal of the among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Conclusive Evidence in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

W. H. REESE, a leading druggist in Monticello, Ill., in a letter of June 6, 1868, writes to this effect:"Having sold Hostetter's Bitters for the past four years, I cannot but express my surprise as being the best tonic and appetizer extant. During the ague season of 1865–6, I could not keep a sufficient stock on hand to supply my customers. In fact your Bitters was as staple as quinine. I learn that physicians prescribe it all over the western country. Indeed, a great many families think they are not safe without your invaluable tonic."

J. K. WITHERSPOON, a magistrate of Kershaw county, S. C., states, under date April 13, 1868, that he has used the Bitters constantly in his own family for the previous two years. He first tried the preparation when suffering from exhaustion produced by a severe attack of fever. Before the first bottle was finished he experienced a remarkable change for the better. He had tried brandy at the outset, but found that did him more harm than good. In one month from the time he commenced using the Bitters his health, strength and appetite were restored. He had recommended the articles to others in like circumstances, and never known to fail, and he finds it a perfect specific for chills and fever.

MR. SAMUEL YOUNG, of Clarion, Pa., under date April 6, 1868, certifies that he was completely cured of "one of the most distressing attacks of dyspepsia that ever afflicted any mortal," by three bottles of the Bitters, after "various other remedies had proved powerless." Restored to perfect health, he thanks "that excellent preparation for the result."

Dr. G. M. SPENCER, of Brush Creek, Perry Co., Ala., writing thence Feb. 8, 1868, says:—"I have used your Stomach Bitters for several years in my practice, and find them superior to most of the bitters now prescribed by the profession generally." 1yr

Important Fact.

We see that persons of strong constitutions, and young, suffer for days with pains of the limbs, loss of appetite and fever, who suddenly get well after a choice followed by slimy, bilious stools. The relief produced by these evacuations were the original guide to the idea and practice of purgation, and which, when enforced by Brandreth's Pills, always benefits, usually cures, and often prevents disease, especially Scarlet Fever and diseases of similar character.

I. L. Cook, publisher of the "State Banner," Bennington, Vt., says Brandreth's Pills cured him of Dyspepsia, after being afflicted with it over five years. His friends and relatives considered his recovery impossible; but six boxes of Brandreth's Pills restored his health perfectly.

A young lady of Mount Pleasant was sorely troubled with Tape-worm. All advice and medicine failed to help her. She had no rest. This, together and unhappy, she looked the picture of misery. At last she concluded to try Brandreth's Pills. In one year she took seventy-two boxes.—They brought away, according to her computation, over two hundred yards of tape-worm. At length all her bad symptoms left her; she slept and ate naturally, and her health became fully restored. 1eI7

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents, or of the medicine is for sale. d25

"A Word to Horsemen."

DR. TOBIAS' CELEBRATED VENETIAN HORSE LINIMENT has been tested by the first Horsemen in the country, and proved to be superior to any other. The late Hiram Woodruff, of "trotting fame," was never without a bottle in his stable. It is also used by Col. Bush, of the Jerome Park Course, at Fordham, N. Y., who has over twenty running horses under his care, among which rank some of the finest stock in America.—It is warranted to cure Lameness, Sprains, Bruises, Scratches, Galls, Cuts, Wind Galls, Colic, Sore Throat, Nail in the Foot, and Over Reaching, when used according to the directions.

All who own or employ Horses are assured that this Liniment will do all, if not more, in curing the above named complaints. No horse need die of Colic, if, when first taken, the Liniment is used according to directions. Always have a bottle in your stable.

PAIN KILLER.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this long celebrated and unrivalled

FAMILY MEDICINE.

The PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for Pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskilful hands.

For Summer Complaint,

Or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has without the doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of

CHOLERA,

Than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates,

A SURE REMEDY. je10

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs,—the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, regulate the liver, stimulate the liver, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do when the liver has been sluggish; enough calomel is deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care, that will unlock the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, heat fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

Dyspepsia has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of tubercles, which make the chest of the patient bulge out like a pigeon breast.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. Consumption has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of tubercles, which make the chest of the patient bulge out like a pigeon breast.

Is such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their powers to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to fill out the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Hanover St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

DO THE VANQUISHED DESERVE THE SPOILS?—We commend to the Republican politicians of this vicinity (on both sides of the Piscataqua) the candid editorial on our fourth page, from the Biddeford Journal—"To the Victors belong the Spoils." Br. Butler forcibly puts the case as it is, as it seems that nothing short of plain talk can be understood by those who control appointments and the employment of workmen at the Navy Yard and elsewhere.

It has long been an axiom that the Democrats "know how to take care of their friends"—a piece of political wisdom that has been but half-learned by their opponents. During the rebellion a conciliatory policy was adopted by the Republican master-workmen at the Navy Yard, and we have known men employed permanently who never could be relied on to support the Lincoln administration in the time of need, while faithful Republicans, hard workers who never flinched and were always to be relied on for the cause of loyalty and right, were repeatedly refused employment. The only excuse offered was that the votes of the "doubtful" men must be secured at all hazards. The policy worked well in fair weather, but when the dark days of 1862 brought disaster and doubt, when Geo. B. McClellan led the Potomac army on the Peninsula almost to destruction, the time-servers, who had been employed for the sake of their votes, deserted to the copperheads, and the true Union men, who supported the administration from principle, and could not obtain work because it was not necessary to bribe them to vote right, remained firm. Their position was never in doubt,—no one ever feared that they would prove traitors to party fealty—for they acted on principle, though it was not policy for them to do so. Some of them obtained employment afterwards, and others were forced to leave for better opportunities abroad.

A change came at last, and Andrew Johnson commenced "making treason odious" by appointing the most notorious rebels and rebel sympathizers to office. It was not to be lamented that some of the leading men, who rewarded their enemies and neglected their friends, were guillotined without mercy. In those days it paid men to support Andrew Johnson, and a few recreants were found who were willing to sell their principles (if ever they had any) for office. Some of those men are to-day holding responsible positions at the Navy Yard, and there are others there (having charge of scores of workmen,) who supported the rebel cause throughout.

The changes since the Fourth of March have been tediously slow. Had Seymour been chosen President not a Republican or any one suspected to have any friendship for Republican principles would have remained at the Yard, and now we find the most bitter copperheads retained. It is the same old policy, which could be afforded from '61 to '65, but cannot be self-sustaining now!

We know of one case of a Maine soldier, discharged from a lucrative clerkship that a political opponent might be employed. His offense consisted in warmly supporting a Republican Congressman for re-election. The Congressman was re-elected, his soldier constituent was ignored, another Republican was promoted to the clerkship and it was proposed to offer an inferior position to the soldier! It was only proposed, however, for the appointment was given to a copperhead, whose former position had given him the best opportunities for proscribing Republican workmen.

Another case is that of a master workman, a Republican, ousted by Andrew Johnson to make room for one of his supporters. The Republican has been lately re-appointed, but by an order from Washington is obliged to retain the man who had him removed, as Quarterman.

Another case is that of a soldier who was made the particular object of political persecution by the copperhead Johnsonites, and was finally discharged from the Yard through their instrumentality. He was rewarded by promises of one place and another, never fulfilled, and to day is unemployed. Do the victors deserve the spoils?

We cite these cases which among others come to our notice, as examples. We have no especial interest in the welfare of the Republican party, except as it best represents the loyal sentiment of the country. Those most interested are the leaders, and to them we especially dedicate these few remarks, hoping that more wisdom will prevail in their councils.

Workingmen are not to be idly used and then thrown away until the next convenient opportunity for making them useful. Repeated neglect to do justice is liable to make the most faithful hesitate (except in a dangerous crisis) to blindly endorse a policy which is as lacking in common sense as it is suicidal. The best test of a man's principle is his willingness and eagerness to support the right when it costs something to do so! Fair weather sailors are not to be relied on in storms, always, and it will be well to heed the murmurs of discontent ere mutiny arises!

That discontent has resulted from the truckling policy thus far adopted, is well known, but it is probable that its full extent is unknown to those in authority. We have been repeatedly urged to publicly condemn the action which tends so evidently to the demoralization of the Republican party hereabouts, in the hope that a little plain talk will convince those most interested that every Republican voter expects and insists that every man in the party, high or low, shall contribute to the success of the whole, now that opportunities offer. A neglect to do so will be certainly followed by a demonstration at the polls which will astonish the natives!

WONDERFUL SUBMISSION.—The Free Trade League, whose headquarters are at New York, have had large blue and white posters stuck about town, on the show boards, here and elsewhere. In these posters they say, that the League holds a number of things, some of which are truisms, and some of them fallacies: and toward the close they add:—

"The Free Trade League submits to Taxation and Duties to meet the necessities of Government."

This, we suppose, must be taken as great condescension;—but really the Free Trade Leaguers, who are mostly the agents or dependents of Foreign Manufacturing or Commercial Houses, submit to duties, chiefly for the same reason that made the rebel armies submit to Gen. Grant and his command, viz., because they could not help it.

☞ It is understood that George H. Knowlton, Esq., of Biddeford, formerly of Portsmouth, has purchased an interest in the Portland Press, the leading paper of Maine, and will assume the editorial management of it in a short time.

— An Irishman lately fought a duel with his intimate friend, because he jocosely asserted that he was born without a shirt to his back.

☞ Our life-long friend and good brother Brewster of the Journal, does us brown in the following paragraph—all which, as we personally had not been at home for nearly a week when it was published, we can freely endorse, and shall venture to publish for the sake of the Concrete men, whom we regard as public benefactors. F.

From the Journal.

CONCRETE WALKS.—Our attention has been called to a very nice, and probably durable job just completed at the elegant suburban residence of Frank W. Miller, Esq. of the Chronicle. By the way, there are few if any locations more desirable at this season of the year than this same Lincoln Hill, with its sightly prospect, delightful air, quiet repose, artificial adornments, and we might add its amiable household. The concrete walks of which we more particularly speak are laid in tar and gravel mixture by Messrs. Young & Berry — garden walks of about three hundred yards. Besides the neatness of these walks is the comfort of freedom from weeds and other obnoxious intruders; and their beauty is greatly enhanced by the white sea sand with which they are covered. Little or no tar smell arises even now, and it is said that there is no liability to damage from the frost.

A VETERAN MECHANIC. — Last week the people of North Portsmouth daily met an elderly carpenter, Mr. James Dennett, going to and from work with a firm and steady step quite inconsistent with his burden of years.

We have already heretofore mentioned him, and now as he has just left Portsmouth to reside with his son at Somerville, we take occasion to speak of his job at house-shingling, which he has just accomplished at the age of 87½ years, working six whole days, and keeping pace with the man of half his years who assisted him.

"TO THE VICTORS BELONG THE SPOILS."

A few weeks since we spoke of the need of politicians to direct and manage political affairs. Our first theorem, which really was an axiom, was, that the success of principles required the support of a combination of men who should constitute a majority, and this combination we styled party. Since, then, we must have a "party" to secure victory, it follows that we must manage the affairs of that party just as a wise man manages his business affairs. In that management he selects that man who knows most of the business he is to manage, and because he has at his disposal a master blacksmith who excels in his branch of industry, however upright and honest he may be, he does not select him to control his cotton factory, nor will he recommend the cordwainer or tallow chandler as his medical attendants. It is fashionable to indiscriminately lay all disasters or bad nominations to the work of politicians, and the desire is often expressed to get rid of that class of men and take up some one who has never mingled in the political world, for the sake of a pure administration. By and by they find they have but repeated the story of the frogs who desired another king. For, supposing that there are one hundred administrative offices, and you put in them one hundred clergymen for the sake of a "pure administration";—your success is certain, for then you have made sure that the State will be run by a clique!

System in execution is absolutely necessary for success, and the rewards of labor must be discriminately bestowed. In many instances it is fashionable to cry out that the whole trouble in politics comes of that baneful rule laid down by Andrew Jackson, that to the victors belong the spoils. When you hear a person arguing from that standpoint, you may write him down for just what he is worth—a hypocrite in politics, or one whose piety far exceeds his intelligence. That political axiom of Jackson is but another phrase of expressing the truth that those who labor for, and secure success, are entitled to enjoy the fruits of that success, and when the rule is ignored demoralization in the ranks, and defeat justly ensue.

There are hundreds and thousands of voters who nobly rejoice at their party successes, and who earnestly pray for that result, who have not the remotest idea of the labor necessary to bring about that result, or the manner in which it was secured. Good easy souls they imagine that victory forced us to allow itself to perch upon our banners, and that all those who loved our principles voluntarily and spontaneously rallied to their support. They have heard of money being used in elections, which seems to them to be nothing but bribery, and they set their faces against it. Let us look at some of the necessary uses of money in our elections:

To say nothing of the unpaid labor, the election in Maine cannot be energetically accomplished without costing somebody in cash $50,000. This item of expense consists in providing speakers; some (the most noted) require $100 for each appointment and expenses. Generally, however, $50 is the extent. Associated with this are the printing bills. As another large item of expense we may reckon the getting home of absent voters. This will average for the ordinary sized towns at least $50, while in Biddeford we never find it cost us less than $200 whenever we secure our absent voters. The simple cost for ballots in York county each year, is $40, and while the expenses named are the principal ones, they by no means express all the items. * * * *

A small portion of this money comes from those holding lucrative offices, say $6000; the remainder is the voluntary subscription of men who discharge thereby a necessary, honorable and patriotic duty, with no other motive than to secure the success of patriotic principles. We have said nothing about the labor essential to an election, which is more than the money, and an item which all the gold of California cannot buy.

Now, what are you going to do when two men equally qualified present themselves to you for assistance to office, one of whom has simply voted as nine-tenths of any party do, while the other has contributed freely in time, labor and money? If you have any doubts as to what you ought to do in the case, make up your little mind that you are too good for this world and can do it no such good service as by leaving it. Or, take another view of the subject: Here are offices to be filled within the gift of the government, employment to be given, and this employment is a favor to the employed. Do you hesitate as to your duty in disposing of that employment when a friend of the government and an enemy of the government both apply for the same position? If you do not, you admit the truth of the tersely expressed Jacksonian theory, that to the victors belong the spoils; if you do, you hesitate about the propriety of rewarding your enemies and punishing your friends!

But we do not care to further discuss self-evident truths of duty. If it made or makes no difference whether the government employed or employs rebels or loyal men to administer it, there never was enough difference between patriotism and treason to warrant the war against rebellion. There is no need to encourage office seeking which is carried to too great an extent for the good of the seekers. But we do want to have it properly recognized that no man will be allowed to hold gifts at his disposal, who does not hold to the idea that friends are to be rewarded in preference to enemies, and the friends of the government are the only persons who have a right to administer it. We do not hold that a man has a claim to office in the sense that one man has a claim superior to all other men; but there are political claims just as there are business claims. You reward that one among your number of clerks whom by integrity and devotion to your interests you promote to the chief position.

There is a screw loose somewhere in certain directions. It must be remedied or the party must suffer. There is a man employed upon the Navy Yard, who at the time of the raid of the rebel pirates was one of a guard stationed on a vessel at the mouth of the river. When asked what he would have done had a pirate approached, he replied, "I should have obeyed orders, but before snapping my musket I would have been careful to take off the cap." He is a rebel, and there are many more like him who are given employment while Republicans as capable are ignored Gov. Chamberlain set an example of his desire to disorganize the Republican party in his appointment in this county. Fessenden retains as a pet in the best office in the State of Maine, a man who was so strong a rebel during the war that he would not vote with his party on the ground that it (the democratic party in this State) was too much in favor of the government!

There must be a change, if we would preserve the efficiency of the Republican party, and that quickly. Men will not consent to be doomed to the task of rolling a stone up hill only to see it escape to the bottom, and they will justly feel a disinclination to preserve to the party offices to be filled by bummers and copperheads.—Bid. Journal.

—The Boston Post has recently removed to new and commodious quarters, concerning which the Journal remarks:

"'Junior' thinks there is a strange defect in the Post's new building. There is no chicken coop in which to keep its 'roosters.' He forgets that the Post sold out its stock last fall, and not expecting to have use for any more during the present generation, he has made no provision for keeping them."

True to itself the Post is ready with the following reparee:

"We have lost our old birds—one of the brood was cooked for Grant's dinner, and out of gratitude he has appointed all the rest to office."

—Religious papers are now attacking "smoking cars" on railways. And well they may.

—A writer in the Revolution demands for wives equal pay with wet nurses.

AMERICAN

BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND—

SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a most elegant and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against allegations of Button-Hole Attachment, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Inflamma, Whooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE ATTENTION OF
REFLECTING INVALIDS is invited to the following observations. The questions are such as the sick would be likely to ask; the replies are simple facts clothed in language that everybody can understand.

WHAT
IS TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT adapted to the cure of INDIGESTION and its concomitants?

BECAUSE
it tones the membranes of the stomach and promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, the solvent which converts the food into a homogeneous mass; and also because it relaxes the bowels without weakening them, and moderately stimulates the bile-producing organ.

WHY is it recommended for obstructions in the kidneys and other renal diseases, and like dropsy?

BECAUSE it combines the properties of a mild diuretic salt with those of a local and general laxative, and by promoting perspiration relieves the blood of a large amount of morbid matter which would otherwise vitiate the secretions.

WHY
is it prescribed for rheumatism, and claimed to be eminently beneficial in all the varieties of that disease?

BECAUSE
rheumatism is caused by the inflammatory action of uric acid on the muscular fibres, tendinous sheaths and ligaments; and the salines of the Seltzer Aperient being absorbed into the velnous system tend to neutralize the vitiating principle.

WHY is it given by the faculty in all disorders of a febrile character?

BECAUSE
it opens the pores, reduces the temperature of the body, calms the nerves, and acts as a moderate evacuant, and thus diminishes the vigor of the whole system. Of all fever drinks it is the most cooling and delightful.

In this brief summary of the virtues of Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient nothing is set forth which is not justified by testimony of competent medical men.

A bull fight came off in Goffstown, on the 7th. Two farmers matched their bulls, and the fight was witnessed by quite a crowd. When one had whipped the other, a fresh bull was trotted out and the fight went on till it was thought best to separate the animals. [If whipping posts were in fashion, it would have been fit to whip the farmers and most of the spectators of the brutal Spanish folly.]

A fire at Fisherville on the 9th, destroyed three stores, (a wooden block,) and goods; total loss $10,000; insured $6000.

Up to this time, the Farmington Bank has paid 97 cents on a dollar, and there are outstanding debts due it, which, if paid will enable it to pay from 25 to 30 per cent. more.

The Patriot says it is understood that there is a citizen of Concord, who not only offers to take $10,000 worth of stock in the Concord & Rochester Railroad, but says he will show five other men who will do the same. They also understand that there is a citizen of Rochester who offered the same amount and he will induce others to "come down" liberally in forwarding the project.

The Strafford Conference, including the Congregational churches in Strafford, Belknap and Carroll counties, met at Wakefield, June 15th and 16th. Not more than half these thirty churches can be regarded as vigorous and growing, and four or five are so weak as to be generally without Congregational preaching. In many places preaching can be constantly secured and made effective only by the union of different denominations.

BRAN AS FOOD FOR FOWLS.—Wheat bran contains a large amount of nutritious matter, and those who have simply examined the analysis of good samples of bran have praised it highly as an article of food for most animals. It contains 14 per cent. of flesh-forming material; nearly 4 per cent. of fat or oil and over 5 per cent. of mineral matter. In all these it is richer than the pure wheat itself. But unfortunately bran forms a striking example of the fact that the mere analysis of the chemist, unaccompanied with any explanations, cannot give us a correct knowledge of the nutritive value of a given article of food. All the essential nutritive matters are present in bran, but unfortunately they are so locked up that to most animals they are of little avail.

The dog derives but little nutriment from bran. Fed on wheat bran, first washed to remove the flour and then cooked, he falls away rapidly in flesh and the bran passes through him almost unaltered. The cow, if fed on warm slop made of bran, increases in her flow of milk and thrives better. But here the benefit derived is largely due to the warm drink and the flour which adheres to all bran. The bran itself can be washed out of her excrements almost unaltered. The same is true of the pig. Careful examination has fully convinced us of these facts.

But there is one animal that seems to have the power of utilizing even bran. That is the chicken. Its powerful digestive organs reduce it to a form in which it is no longer recognizable, and we have every reason for believing that during this process much of the nutritious matter present is appropriated. In preparing bran as food for fowls the best plan is to make it into a stiff mush or porridge, as otherwise the fowls cannot readily pick it up. And for the purpose of making it more tenacious we generally add a little corn or buckwheat meal and boil the whole thoroughly together. So prepared, the bran can be fed without material waste.

When so fed, the birds require abundance of good sharp gravel. But we feel perfectly confident in saying, from our own experience, that it will pay well to cook bran and corn meal as a food for fowls.—Country Gentleman.

—"Why do you set your cup of coffee upon the chair, Mr. J.?" asked a worthy landlady, one morning at breakfast. "It is so very weak, ma'am," replied Mr. J. demuredly, "that I thought I would let it take a rest."

—The Rural New Yorker for July 3, publishes a full-page illustration of President Grant's stable of horses. According to this picture, President Grant's stable consists of four horses and three ponies.

—It is not the sharpest people who succeed the best. Many an instrument is so keen that it cuts those who handle it the worst of all.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.
NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.
REMEMBERED FRIEND:
I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve. I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entire recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. [Je15 5w] Very truly, MRS. I. S. NUTE.

A LETTER
FROM DR. CONNACHER
To DR. WOLCOTT.
Dear Sir: A Man
Called on me last night
To visit a sick woman,
Who was not expected
To live till morning.
Several physicians
Had attended her,
And yesterday the Priest
Visited her for the last time.
She had been confined
Five weeks before my visit.
I found the room
Where she lay crowded
With Men and Women,
Watching for her to die.
She was so low
She could not speak
Only in whispers,
And very weak.
She had severe inflammation of the Bowels. I applied PAIN PAINT freely, and in less than fifteen minutes every particle of Pain was gone. Another TRIUMPH for your PAIN PAINT. Her flesh was nearly raw from repeated applications of Mustard Plasters. They purchased a $5 bottle of PAIN PAINT, and she is doing well, and out of Danger. I had just got home, and nearly asleep, when another person came after me, wanting relief for his wife, who had toothache. She was cured instantly by applying PAIN PAINT freely to the outside of her face. Last Monday night a gentleman who keeps a Livery Stable here called for me to visit his Wife, who has been suffering a long time with Liver complaint, Cough, and a host of troubles, the result of Catarrh. Keep Physician in this town has practiced on her, but always left her worse. The Bottles that contained the Drugs she had received would fill a large Dry Goods Box. In her case I used both PAIN PAINT and the ANNIHILATOR; in a few minutes she was entirely relieved of all pain, and could talk in longer breaths than she had done in many months. She bought a pint of PAIN PAINT and a pint of the ANNIHILATOR, and is recovering her health rapidly. I could send you a hundred cases where I have used your Remedies for Pain, Sickness, and Diseases, which had baffled all the skill of Medical Practitioners; that have fully recovered by your simple and harmless Remedies, by my recommendations, and for whom I have prescribed. A Baptist Clergyman here in Hyde Park is an enthusiastic admirer of PAIN PAINT, and wants to get one of your Charts to hang up in his library. He thinks PAIN PAINT is the greatest thing ever known. I shall go to Pittstonfin a few days and will write you again more particulars. I cannot close without sending you a recent affidavit, handed to me by a gentleman residing in Wilkesbarre, Penn., to whom I applied PAIN PAINT with astonishing success. DR. J. CONNACHER.
SCRANTON, PA., May 12th, 1869.
On Friday, April 30, I was suddenly taken with rheumatism in my back, so that I was unable to leave my bed. On Monday morning Dr. Connacher was sent for; with great pain and difficulty I turned over in bed to have him Paint my back.—In less than three minutes I arose and dressed myself and went down stairs. I felt no more pain and but little soreness; I walked all around the public square and to the Court House in less than twenty minutes from the first application of Pain Paint. I am now free from all pain, and can be seen any day at the Grocery and confectionary store on Main Street, near the public square.

Wilkesbarre, Penn.
Dr. R. L. WOLCOTT, of 181 Chatham Square, N. Y., has more patients than any Hospital in the world. He discards all dosing and removes pain, free of cost, at his office. His PAIN PAINT for Pain, and ANNIHILATOR for Catarrh and Weak Nerves, is sold at all Drug Stores. He charges nothing for advice, and sends to any person his Remedies, free of express charges, on receipt of $5 each order. Therefore none need be deceived by counterfeits. He uses only White Wrappers. je15 4w
